—A German paper expresses uneasiness at the decreasing population of Prussia proper. Between 1861 and 1864 there was an increase of 8,409, but between 1864 and 1867 there was a decrease of 12,922, and between 1867 and 1871 one of 56,440. Allowing for the loss of life in the last two wars, and for the Prussian soldiers quartered in France at the time of the census, the loss of population in ten years amounts to 52,200. Not improbably the new marriage law which came into force two or three years ago has had a bearing on this. Hitherto a boy might be married at 16 and a girl at 14, but now the marriageable age is 20 for males and 18 for females. The decline seems to be in the rural districts, for the great cities have throughout Germany shown a remarkable increase. In 1867 Berlin had a population of 702,437, and in 1873 820,000.

—Rev. Horace Stebbens will carry one of the Chicago wards by a handsome majority. He will marry Miss Ward, and carry her to San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1855.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
IN THE
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1855 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years in affairs every presided over by Dr. Lispenard Tellner, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only their attending physician, avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial comfort, seclusion and entirely private.

Young men, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichoit's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

DR. QUAIN'S
MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Feel Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and twenty pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS, and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no purpose. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they deserve have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried the patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mabie, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy, and Headache.

LACONIA, N.H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. F. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Cordial he could prescribe, after; dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia. In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it. 35 Cents Per Package. Closed for Returns.

At eight o'clock yesterday morning the proprietor of a small saloon on Beaubien street put down the curtains, locked the door, and was walking off when he was hailed by a policeman. The saloonist crossed the street to the officer and said:

"Dot blace is glosed up for von week."

"What's the matter?" asked the officer.

"Well, I gan't stand such foolings around. In de first blace a man comes in and says: 'Well, Dilden is elected,' and he kicks ofer the chairs. Pooty soon comes anudder man in and he says: 'Hooray! Hayes has got 'em now!' and he kicks ofer a dable. Anodder mans in a leedle vhile comes in and galls out: 'Nopody is elected any more!' und he preaks some glasses. Shust like do has it been for a week, and I am glean discouraged. If somepody says Dilden is eleeted, I pelief dot; if somepody says Hayes is elected, I pelief dot; if somepody says nopody is eleeted I feels like dis gountry vhas going to some dogs right away."

"Yes, it does bother one!" consoled the officer.

"Tell all der poys dot I have glosed up for returns, and dot somepody gan't get in," replied the man, and he turned his face homeward.—Detroit Free Press.

A Short-Sighted Generation.

The number of eye-glasses worn by the pupils of our High School, and in fact by so large a proportion of young persons, frequently excites remark and deserves attention. This youthful short-sightedness is not confined to Providence, but is spread over the New England States, and in particular the Boston school girl is typified with a bundle of big books and eye-glasses; but we believe no extended examination has been made of the number or per cent. of school children affected with myopia or other weakness of the eye, or to give practical suggestions founded upon observations of the methods or places of study.

At a recent meeting of the Maine Medical Association, a paper was read by Dr. James A. Spaulding, giving an account of an examination of the scholars of the grammar and primary schools of Portland, with some practical recommendations resulting therefrom. In the grammar schools, about twenty per cent. of the pupils were found to have defective eyesight, and in the primary schools eight and a half per cent., the greater proportion being affected with shortness of sight. The largest proportion was found in school rooms which were badly arranged for light, either from insufficient windows or with the light coming with a strong glare in front, or falling directly upon the back, so as to cause a shadow on the desk.

The suggestions include first of course, the proper lighting of the school rooms. Teachers should place children known to have defective sight at desks most advantageous for them; there should be a rest every half hour, if only for a minute, from reading, and more particularly from writing and drawing, the pursuit of which for a steady hour, is wearisome enough to a pract ced eye, and much more so to young beginners, who strain at each point in a line, to make it as near like the copy as possible. Fine handwriting should be discountenanced, and fine print in books prohibited.

The schools, however, are far from being entirely to blame for this youthful short-sightedness, and the real place to teach children not to abuse their eyes is at home. There are some plain and simple rules that should be taught to all. The light should always come from the side or over the shoulder; the book should be held up and never in the lap; there should always be a shade on a lamp standing on a level with the eyes, especially if it is necessary to face the light as in writing; and all reading by twilight or with sunlight pouring over the book is very harmful to the eyes. One great injury is pronounced to be the use of too strong glasses by weak-sighted persons, for they require too much exertion for the eye; glasses should be the weakest possible compatible with distinct sight.

This report and suggestions have come none too soon to excite attention, for it seemed as though with the advance of education, we were about to become a short-sighted people, and transmit an hereditary weakness to coming generations.—Providence Journal.

—Ask no woman her age. Never joke with a policeman. Do not play at chess with a widow. Never contradict a man who stutters. Be civil to rich uncles and aunts. Your oldest hat, of course, for an evening party. Always sit next the carver, if you can, at dinner. Keep your own secrets. Tell no human being you dye your whiskers. Wind up your conduct, like your watch, once every day, minutely examining whether you are fast or slow. Make friends with the steward on board a steamer—there is no knowing how soon you may be in his power.

—The good old days are dead and gone; the rich coloring has faded out of the warp and woof of the past, and yet we rejoice that it is still true that a pretty woman cannot ride by her lover's side through a tunnel without emerging in a hat that looks as if it had been struck by lightning.

—The following is a true copy of a letter received by a schoolmaster in New Jersey: "Sur as you are a man of noledge I intend to inter my son in your skull."

Election Notes.

Democrats now claim Texas.

It is refreshing to find one prominent democrat who has not lost his head. Congressman Sayler of Cincinnati was asked if he apprehended trouble as a result of the presidential complication. He answered, wisely and promptly: "I do not. I have too much faith in the sober second thought of the American people. There are too many people who have property, own bonds, and are the fathers of children. We cannot afford to convert the United States into a second Mexico. In my judgment whoever is fairly elected, without taint or fraud, will be inaugurated peacefully, by the common consent of both parties."

Wanted—One electoral vote. Apply to S. J. Tilden.

We clip the following: "A wicked critic of democratic torch-light processions tried an experiment on one, during the week before election. He rushed suddenly into the very midst of it, and raising up his voice shouted, 'Mike! Mike!' Whereupon the whole procession stopped and answered, 'What?'"

The Independent party, it seems, did accomplish something in the late campaign. According to Congressman Lane, of Oregon, "the Peter Cooper ticket injured Tilden seriously" in that State. In Indiana the republican leaders charge that the Peter Cooper vote was drawn from their ranks and consequently was the means of giving Tilden the electoral vote of that State.

The Vermont Board of Canvassers met on the 21st, decided that under the State law their powers were ministerial only, and certified to the Governor the election of the five candidates on the republican electoral ticket. The vote was as follows: highest republican vote, 44,091; lowest 44,076; highest democratic vote, 20,254; lowest, 20,169; republican majority, 23,837.

Governor Ingersoll, of Connecticut, one of the democratic electors, is Commissioner of the U. S. Circuit Court; and Gen. Wm. B. Franklin, another democratic elector, is one of a special commission to examine the new Chicago Post-office. Both these gentlemen are therefore ineligible as electors, so if there is anything in the democratic argument two of the Hayes electors must be admitted to vote in the Connecticut Electoral College.

The Graphic's Washington special says that Assistant Solicitor Robinson of the Treasury Department has been examining into the status of the Electors of both tickets, in the several States, and finds at least six of those on the democratic ticket in the South have never had their political disabilities removed.

Tilden seems willing to sneak into the White House by the back door, crawl up through the cellar-way, come down the chimney, or break in with a crow-bar. Any way to get in.—Indianapolis Journal.

Mr. Blaine says very emphatically that he could not be President of the Senate if he would, and that he certainly would not, under the present circumstances, if he could.

The New York Herald's Columbia (S. C.) dispatch says the following is the vote in the Congressional districts as ascertained by the State Board of Canvassers from the face of official returns:

First District—Joseph H. Rainey, rep., 18,180; John S. Richardson, dem., 16,666; republican majority, 151.

Second District—R. H. Cain, rep., 21,385; M. P. O'Connor, dem., 13,028; republican majority, 8357.

Fifth District—Robert Smalls, rep., 19,308; J. D. Tillman, dem., 15,510; republican majority, 1438.

Out of the five thousand men who clambered down on the democratic side of the political fence on Wednesday morning, the 8th instant, four thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine are perched back again, each with one leg thrown nervously to the Hayes side.

Now that five democrats are to witness the counting of the vote in Louisiana, wouldn't it be just as well for the democratic press to stop yelling fraud until their witnesses discover a little? The representatives of the party in New Orleans can be depended upon to make audible mention of any irregularities which may happen to be committed.

The Nevada (Cal.) Transcript records the following: Major Downie, the old pioneer, (the founder of Downieville,) travelled 250 miles to get to his precinct to vote, and was afterward congratulating himself on the fact that his precinct—Washington—went three republican majority. A number of old liners even went a distance of 500 miles so as to vote for Hayes and Wheeler.

There has been a good deal of Scripture quoted on Gov. Tilden during the campaign, but no quotation has fitted better than the following, from the third chapter of First Samuel: "And Samuel arose and went to Eli and said, 'Here am I, for thou didst call me.' And he answered, 'I called not, my son; lie down again.' * * * So Samuel went and lay down in his place."

Every newspaper in the country has had "no change" in glaring capitals, at the head of its news column, for a week or two. We are a little short of change ourselves, but don't see the necessity of blazing it all over the country that way.—Bridgeport Standard.

Both parties in Louisiana have practically come to an agreement as to the difficulty concerning the five republican electors whose names were omitted from the ticket. If the result shows that there is no election the three remaining electors will fill the vacancy. It is not certain whether an elector requires a majority or whether a plurality is sufficient. The case is not clear. Lawyers doubt.

Indiana was generous enough to give Cooper 10,000 votes.

The following dispatch is from a democrat at Charlestown, S. C.: The Hayes and Wheeler electors are certainly elected.

The decision of the Supreme Court of South Carolina gives the democrats the legislature by one majority.

Senator Patterson is advised from South Carolina that the democrats will not be able to count Hampton in as governor, but that Chamberlain, who received a majority of all the legal votes cast, will be declared elected.

Astonishing, isn't it, the extent to which the Tildenites have simmered since election night?

News and Notes.

While one is about it, a man might as well find fault with everything.

The "Daniel Deronda" bonnet has appeared.

Music, heavenly maid, will have to wash the hands that never will be clean, for there has been murder most foul at Kerwin, Kansas, and the girls will go this winter, as a rule, alone to singing-school. Nov. 9th was the fatal night. The young people had met at the school-house to sing hymns, and young Riddle, whose musical zeal was as untimely as Dick Swiveller's, made much noise with a small French harp. David Frazier appealed to him to give the company a rest. They went out into the yard to fight it out, and the critic was stabbed to the heart.

American schooners Thomas H. Twooney and Annie Verden, both of Philadelphia, were wrecked at the Bahamas in the great gale of October 30th. The former was loaded with coal and gunpowder and bound for New Orleans, and the latter with coal and bound for Galveston. The crew and most of the cargoes were saved by Bahama wreckers.

The State debt of Massachusetts on the 21st of November was $33,556,464.

The main beam of a small schooner, and an arch board with the name "Taglioni" on it, were picked up at Stony Beach, near Hull, Mass., on the 21st. About fifty barrels of apples, grapes and cranberries were also picked up, but no bodies, whence it is inferred the wrecked vessel was abandoned by her crew before she went ashore.

Numerous minor disasters to vessels are reported as a result of the gale of the 19th, 20th and 21st.

Mr. John Kelly, the Tammany "Boss," was married on the 21st to Miss Teresa Mullen, a niece of Cardinal McCloskey. The ceremony was a very quiet and unostentatious affair, and immediately after the wedding the bridal party started for Boston, taking rooms at the Revere House on their arrival.

Miss Kate Field seems to have turned her attention from the drama to music, and recently appeared at the Westminster Aquarium, London, as a vocalist. The London Figaro says of her singing: "In a Spanish Muleteer song, in a laughing song and a drinking song in French, the fair lady completely carried her audience with her. That she made a decided hit is conclusively shown by many offers of engagements."

A pilot, who was cruising about the bay yesterday morning, brings tidings of a most appalling disaster in the loss of a Philadelphia steam collier, which foundered, it is supposed, off Minot's Light soon after daybreak, and all on board, some seventeen souls, were lost. His story is that he first discerned the steamer, apparently in great distress, laboring heavily in the gale. He was able to make out her number—10—when she suddenly disappeared and is supposed to have foundered with all on board. Though in the vicinity for some time afterward the pilot was unable to find any trace of the vessel or crew, and the inevitable conclusion is that they were lost in sight of home and friends. The vessel was one of the well-known steam packet line plying between this port and Philadelphia in the coasting trade, and the usual complement of men on board this class of vessels is seventeen. Definite information as to the truth of the pilot's story will probably come to hand to-day.—Boston Globe, 22d.

Mrs. Cora Tappan, the trance medium, has just married her fourth husband at London.

The entire receipts from the Centennial Exhibition from all sources amounted to $4,808,735.24—a very handsome sum.

The tone and temper of the remarks made by our prominent merchants on 'change, by our retired capitalists, and in the parlors of our banking houses and insurance offices, indicates every thing but a fear of the future, growing out of the existing political complications. There is an abiding faith among "the solid men of Boston," that the right is to be maintained, that cannot be shaken. There is not a tittle of a show that business, or anticipated transactions, are affected by the failure to receive the election returns from the Southern States that remain doubtful. The scare that has been attempted has signally failed here, and there is no reason to doubt that the great interests of the country, as represented in the chief commercial communities, respond to the sentiment of the people of Boston.—Traveller.

Lady Godiva on Foot.

Among the many singular banterings, bettings, wagers or by whatever name they may be termed, is the following made by two frolicsome lasses of Lansingburg, Rensselaer county. When we tell this story it is with no intention of reflecting upon the character of either of these willful maidens, who, in a spirit of fun, while heated with a discussion of the chances of their various favorites (one of them being an admirer of Hayes, and the other a devoted adherent of Tilden and Reform), had made a very foolish and somewhat unmaidenly resolution, for the characters of both are above reproach, and when the language was used neither expected to be called upon to perform the task. One of them, whom we will call Jane, to more strongly express the doubt of Tilden's election, said that if he was elected President, she would walk from her residence to the Rensselaer Park gate clad only in her chemise. The banter was taken immediately by her fair opponent, who promised to perform the feat in case of the final success of Hayes. And now the fair pair have pledged themselves to the faithful performance of this remarkable achievement, and they are anxiously awaiting the result, that they may know which of the pair will be called upon to pay forfeit. Boys need not watch for the event to come off, as the loser will choose her own time, which will, of course, be in the hours of night when least expected. No one is to know when the event transpires except the two girls, and we can tell nothing more at present save that the distance to be travelled by the loser is quite considerable.—Poughkeepsie Press.

Comfort for Uneasy Stomachs.

That incomparable anti-dyspeptic cordial-carminative and appetizer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, yields comfort to the uneasy stomach with a degree of promptitude most gratifying to the victim of indigestion. The eradication of dyspepsia by the Bitters, is, of course, accompanied by the disappearance of every one of its multifarious and puzzling symptoms, among which may be mentioned as the most prominent, heartburn, flatulence, abdominal oppression after eating, and sinking at other times, palpitations of the heart, water brash, vertigo, sick headache and nausea. Hostetter's Bitters tone and regulate the various organs which assist in the processes of assimilation, secretion and evacuation, fortify the system against malarious fevers, and develop in the enfeebled system fresh stores of vitality. In efficacy, as in popularity, they surpass any tonic or regulating medicine of the age.

IF THERE IS ANY VICTIM OF an eruptive malady who despairs of relief, let him abandon his despondency. So long as it is possible for him to obtain GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP he need entertain no doubts respecting the possibility of his being cured.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtf1277

THE CANTATA OF "ESTHER."

On the evening of the opening performance, notwithstanding the rain storm, quite a large audience assembled at the Temple to witness the debut of Mrs. Charles A. Sinclair in the role of "Queen Esther," Miss Alice Hanscom presiding at the piano. The Cantata was put upon the stage with more than ordinary carefulness, and although not running more smoothly than is usual with first presentations, was most creditably brought out with the help of a fine chorus of twenty persons, among whom was quite a sprinkling of new faces and good voices. The audience was somewhat lethargic and did not respond to the efforts of the singers to the extent that they deserved. Mrs. Sinclair was encored and received several elegant bouquets during the evening. Her voice is sweet in tone and her execution showed a thorough study of the character she assumed. The lady has evidently been in the hands of competent teachers, and her first appearance in public was a decided success. The characters assumed by the other members of the company were well taken, and we were especially pleased with the singing of Miss Abbie Thompson. Mr. W. N. Ilsley's assumption of the character of the High Priest was noticeable for its dignity, while his deep bass voice had ample range in several solos sung with effect. Mr. J. C. Butler as King Ahasueras, Dr. E. B. Goodall as Haman, Mr. L. S. Butler as Mordecai and Mr. L. V. Lewell as the Prophet, were all well up in their parts, while the choruses were generally well rendered, some very impressively. Zeresh's solo was finely sung, Mrs. Bennett's voice being clear and powerful. The dancing by little Misses Newell and Stokell so delighted the audience that an encore was insisted on. Dr. Goodall may well be satisfied with the chorus he has so efficiently drilled, and with the Cantata's presentation. There was a noticeable want of sympathy between the pianist and the chorus in one or two instances, which occasioned some difficulty in time. The Cantata ran more smoothly, however, on its second representation.

JOTTINGS.

On the afternoon and evening of Thanksgiving day the play of "Tattered Tom" will be presented at the Temple. See advertisement.

Thieves on Monday night raided on the schooner Pilgrim, owned by the Messrs. Laighton of Appledore, and laid up for the winter at Noble's island, and stole all the ropes and other movables they could get hold of, including all but one of her mooring lines. Any person possessed of information tending to convict the thieves will find it for his interest to confer on the subject with Capt. Wm. Robinson. On the same night a schooner owned by Mr. Littlefield and lying near the Pilgrim, was stripped, no doubt by the same gang of river pirates; and we are informed that some of Mr. Doane's vessels have also been despoiled in the same way.

The captain, Doull, and officers of the bark Daring, at Newburyport from Liverpool, were arrested on the 20th for alleged cruelty to their seamen. A seaman, name unknown, residing near this city, jumped overboad on the passage to escape brutal treatment, and was drowned.

The loss by the burning of Mr. Clarence B. Mason's house was about $5000; insured $3000 in the German American and Commercial Union. The furniture and piano, $1200. The fire caught from a furnace.

Rev. James DeNormandie begins this evening a course of lectures on Palestine, its Places, its Lives and its Lessons. These lectures are entirely free, and all are invited who are interested in the study of the Scriptures. At the Chapel on Court street, at half past seven o'clock.

At a meeting of the Dartmouth Navy, held Wednesday afternoon, Messrs. E. C. Carrigan of the Senior Class and Nathaniel Niles of the Junior Class were elected delegates to the Convention to be held in Worcester on the 22d, for the formation of a New England Rowing Association. The delegates were instructed to vote for New London as the place for holding the regatta.

The adjourned hearing in the case of Hitchings & Lynch vs. the Nashua and Rochester Railroad was resumed at Nashua on the 21st. The suit involves $80,000, claimed by the plaintiffs to be due them on account of extra labor performed and materials furnished by them for the defendants' corporation in the construction of their road. The hearing will consume several days.

The Manchester Woman's Aid Society met Tuesday and elected Mrs. W. Brown President, Olive Rand Secretary and Mrs. A. Blood Treasurer. Committees were appointed to hunt up objects of charity and distribute the necessary relief. A hard winter is anticipated, and they appeal to the public for aid in the work.

Leavitt Felch, who was arrested two months ago for stealing harnesses in Manchester, and released on $500 bail, was arrested again recently in Pepperell, Mass., for stealing two robes from Colonel Arthur M. Eastman, in Manchester, three years ago. The missing robes were found last week in possession of a brother of Felch, who lives in Tamworth.

In Manchester, on the afternoon of the 21st, as six horses were standing on the floor of the stable of Gideon Flanders, being unharnessed, one of the main cross timbers of the floor gave way, precipitating five of the horses and a man named John Nelson into the cellar below. Fortunately there was a large pile of manure in the cellar, and the effect of the fall was broken to such an extent that neither the man nor the horses received the slightest injury.

The annual meeting of the Monadnock Railroad was held at Peterboro on the 21st. The income of the past year after paying all taxes, salaries and expenses, is $4103.-32. The report of the Treasurer shows that the debt has been reduced the last year from $102,800 to $95,000, a reduction of $7800. The rental of the road to the Boston, Barre and Gardner road for ninety-nine years was an advantageous movement for the interests of the company. October 1st, the first two years of the lease expired and the second rate of rental, $15,000 per year, began. After re-electing the old Board of Directors a vote was taken authorizing the Directors to take the sum of $10.-000 in stock and $10,000 in bonds of the Peterboro gratuity, to aid in the construction of the Peterboro and Hillsboro Railroad. Also voted to declare a dividend of two per cent. semi-annually, payable in January and July, 1877. At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, Hon. Jonas Livingston was chosen President and William G. Livingston Clerk and Treasurer.

The trial of Hiram Doolittle of Hinsdale, and Ellen Boorne of Winchester, for the murder of their illegitimate child, was commenced in the Supreme Court at Keene on the 21st, Justice Foster presiding.

The State tax of Manchester is $86,428. The amount the State owes the city for insurance tax is $796.78; for railroad tax, $12,194.54; for savings bank tax, $34,751.-56; for literary fund, $1583.55; which makes a total of $49,326.63. Subtracting from this $36,428, the amount of tax due the State, it will leave a balance of $12,-898.53 in favor of the city.

Friendly Discussion.

Yesterday, in the forenoon, ex-Governor J. W. Palmer and ex-Senator Lyman Trumbull, of Illinois; Senator J. W. Stevenson, of Kentucky; ex-Senator J. R. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, and quite a number of other prominent friends and supporters of Governor Tilden waited upon Governor Kellogg at his office and had a long and pleasant interview.

In the course of the conversation allusion was made by several of these gentlemen to the findings of the Returning Board in 1874, and to the condemnation, as they considered it, which had been placed upon those returns by the decision of the arbitrators on whose award the so-called Wheeler adjustment was based.

Governor Kellogg very neatly captured this gun and turned it upon his interrogators. He spoke of the prompt acquiescence which the republicans had yielded to the Wheeler award, though it unseated a number of republican members whom they believed had been fairly elected, and deprived them of a majority in the lower house. He then quietly called attention to the curious fact that in every parish where a republican had been unseated and a democrat seated in 1874 by the Wheeler award, republican members had been elected at this election, and in most of them a large majority had been given to the republican ticket. He instanced Rapides parish, where three republican members had been unseated and three democrats seated, which this year had elected the whole republican ticket. Avoyelles parish, returning two members, where one republican had been unseated and one democrat seated, which this year had returned two republicans; Assumption parish, where two republican had been unseated and two democrats seated, which this year returned two republicans, and Terrebonne parish the same; while the parish of St. Martin, which the Returning Board in 1874 returned democratic by a small majority, had this year gone republican; and in St. Landry parish, never heretofore known to go otherwise than democratic by a large majority, three republican members had been elected to the Legislature this year. This little statement of facts seemed to make quite a marked impression.—N. O. Republican, 16th.

Bank Clerks.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin says that the bank clerks of Boston are as capable, industrious, and faithful a set of bank officers as can be found in any city in the world. But after all, it states, the place to find an extensive army of well trained bank clerks is in the Bank of England. This institution, with its capital of ninety millions of dollars and dating back to 1694, today employs 900 clerks. The building in which these clerks do their work covers five acres of ground. It has not a single window upon the street, the light of day being admitted only through open courts. It has a clock in the centre of the bank with fifty dials. The Bank of England is situated in the center of London; but it has one branch at the west end of the city, and many branches in the provinces. Though the Bank of England employs a very heavy force of clerks, it would seem, from a glance at its business, that it ought to keep them well employed and fairly remunerate them. Its sole work in its issue department is to give out notes to the public. The profit the bank derives from its issue department is in the interest received upon the $70,000,000 government debt and securities, which, at the rate of 3 per cent. is $2,100,000 a year. By its dealing in coin and bullion, it has the reputation of making $150,000 a year. The amount of Bank of England notes afloat generally averages $100,000,000, and has lately reached $165,000,000. The deposits in the Bank of England, out of which it of course makes a great deal of money, range from $60,000,000 to nearly twice that sum.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T his Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeneied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses.

RILEY SICKLES.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame neck of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Daily Chronicle.

—A menagerie was sold by auction in San Francisco recently. A laughing hyena brought $5, and a big elephant $4000. The auctioneer made a great hit with the parrot. "Now, gents, here is one of the finest parrots on the American continent, swears like a Barbary coast pirate, knows the whole first Testament and can sing the tral-la-loo like Jenny Lind—how much 'moffered-fr'm five cents guess you don't know what y'r buyin', gents, ten do I hear it he talks better'n some of your Congressmen two bits 'moffered why gents he knows Tennyson all by heart and 'll out-swear any man in the crowd just the thing for children 'nonly two bits bid." Hear he stopped to take breath and look reproachfully upon the crowd. The accomplished bird was finally knocked down to a Methodist preacher who came in just in time to hear that the parrot could sing all of Watts' hymns. The old gentleman started out highly elated with his prize; but when the disreputable bird told him to pull down his vest and go to —— he went back to the auctioneer and wanted to swap for a camel or something that didn't talk.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
IN THE
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that genuine German, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting he Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All orders must be addressed to

CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 22d, and now, as you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I commenced took four pills at a dose, weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come. My
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

EAST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a day free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mills, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Murrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious trying climate of New England,

PULMOCIDE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.
BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.
Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.
In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc., and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

A Remarkable Silver Story.

The Portland (Oregon) Bee has the following story: "Rumors are rife on the streets concerning a most remarkable discovery of silver in Wasco County. The stories floating about tell of nothing less than acres of boiling springs, which, instead of water, flow streams of chloride of silver. Ship loads of precious metal are represented to be in sight, in the shape of a soapy gray substance somewhat resembling quicksilver. The molten masses bubble and boil with escaping gases. The substance is so heavy that a stone will not sink in it, but a stick or crowbar may be forced down into the pools of wealth several feet, when the immense gravity of the mass will throw it back into the air like an arrow shot from an Indian's bow. At leas 160 acres are covered with these springs, ranging from a few feet to a hundred yards across. Each one is surrounded with a rim of crystallized silver. The depth has not yet been imagined, but the vast wealth in sight is enough to make every man in Oregon a bonanza king. All you have to do is to back a cart up to the edge of your spring and load it with money. Some people may think we are drawing on our own imagination for these statements, but such is not the case. We merely tell what we hear. Some of the silver amalgam, said to be from these fabulous springs, has positively been assayed by a gentleman in this city, and pronounced to be precipitated chloride of silver, worth $9000 per ton. If this should be true the Comstock lode would not be worth working. Nevada would be deserted, and the silver springs of Oregon become the wonder of the world. The original discoverers are said to have been in the city purchasing supplies, and to have departed by the Dalles boat this morning, while a rival party has been fitted out by others, who claim to know the whereabouts of the 'find,' who go by way of Albany and the Minto Pass, to get in ahead of the others."

The Election of Congressmen.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Journal sharply criticises the prominent republican members of the Legislature because they neglected to secure passage of an act last June changing the time for the election of Congressmen in this State from March to November. The criticism may be deserved, but it is only fair that all the facts should be known. The writer of this drew a bill and gave notice of its introduction the first week of the session. The bill was handed to Mr. Cummings of Exeter, who had also given notice of a similar bill, and to avoid confusion he was requested to present the bill or his own. In a few days Mr. Cummings presented a bill agreeably to his own notice. The bill took the usual course, and went to the committee on the judiciary. It might as well have been sent to the tomb of the Capulets. for it never reappeared. The chairman of the judiciary committee was frequently urged to report the bill, and the irresolution regarding it proved fatal. At a late day a bill was passed by the Senate and came down to the House. It went to the committee on the judiciary and was reported back to the House. It was now so late in the session however, that the bill could only be passed under a suspension of the rules. The democrats, under the lead of Mr. Sinclair, opposed a suspension of the rules, desiring to defeat the bill. On the last morning of the session the motion to suspend was renewed, but Mr. Sinclair had called back his departing associates, and the motion to suspend was denied the requisite two-thirds. In his exultation, Mr. Sinclair immediately telegraphed Mr. Jones, M. C., that the bill was defeated.

We regret the defeat of the movement before the Legislature, but what boots it? The democrats will find that they won a very barren victory. The true reasons for the passage of the bill were not partisan. The Representatives from New Hampshire labor under a great disadvantage sometimes in not being present in the House at the beginning of a session. For the same reason, also, they labor under a similar disadvantage in the construction of the committees. A member is often immediately called from his election to his duties at Washington, and necessarily he has no time for preparation. Our method is all wrong in this matter, and there were only two shallowest and weakest partisan reasons on the part of the democrats for opposing a change. They thought they would be less exposed to defeat in all the districts in the spring than in the fall. It will make no difference. They would have been overwhelmingly defeated on the first Tuesday of November. They will be overwhelmingly defeated on the second Tuesday of March. The election of Representatives was not needed to get out a full republican vote at the Presidential election. It will insure a full vote and a sure victory at the March election. But for the interest with which the election of Representatives will invest the next campaign in this State, the republicans would be in danger of losing the State by default, as they have lost it once or twice already. Now that danger is passed. A vigorous and successful campaign is insured.—Nashua Telegraph.

—Florian's, the great cafe of Venice, on the piazza of St. Mark, has never been closed, night or day, for so much as a minute, in nearly 150 years. Probably no other establishment in the world could say as much, without lying.

And Now Florida!!

A special despatch to the National Republican headquarters says an official count decides that Florida has gone republican by 763.

Election Notes.

The New York Commercial Advertiser's Washington special says that according to the latest reliable information the next House will stand, when first called to order, 148 republicans and 145 democrats, and that by the time elections and contested seats are settled the republican majority in the House will be increased to twenty-three.

The republicans have a majority of 51 on joint ballot in the Pennsylvania Legislature; 12 in the Senate and 39 in the House.

Four hundred negroes were killed in Louisiana during the campaign—preliminary to a "fair count."

The vote of Illinois for President was as follows: Hayes, 276,360; Tilden, 258,347; Cooper, 16,122; total, 550,929. Hayes, plurality, 18,013.

Several of the democratic watchers who have returned to Washington from South Carolina report that they were greatly surprised at the indifference of the democrats in that State to Tilden. They seemed to care nothing whatever for him in comparison to Hampton. They cherish bitter feelings toward Northern democrats for conspiring with them to accomplish secession, and then giving them no aid whatever when their move resulted in war. These gentlemen say that Southern democrats have no idea of doing the least thing looking to another war. They and their people have had enough of that, and leaders among them speak in great derision of utterances from Northern democratic sources which smack of war. They say it was just so with their Northern friends before, up to the time when their assistance was wanted in the field.

The South will be thoroughly reconstructed when a republican can vote as he pleases in any part of it.

There will be more joy in Congress over the return of Ben Butler, than over ninety and nine defeated democrats.—New Orleans Republican.

The rebellious South gives 119 votes to Tilden and 19 to Hayes. The loyal North gives 166 votes to Hayes and 65 to Tilden.

Chief Justice Cartter, who went to South Carolina at the request of the President, has returned. He says that the State has gone for Hayes and Hampton, and that it will be utterly impossible to reverse the result so far as Hayes is concerned. He is, moreover, confident that the democrats do not wish to reverse it. He gives a somewhat different view of the situation from that which reaches the North in the ordinary press dispatches. He says the democrats made a Hayes and Hampton canvass. Their stake was the State. Judge Mackey, a republican, and a very able man, spoke from the same stump with Hampton throughout the canvass. He says to his knowledge Hampton made but one allusion to national issues. This was that so far as he was concerned personally he could vote for Hayes and Wheeler with great pleasure. Judge Cartter does not believe the result will be reversed as to Hampton, who has received about the same majority as Hayes—eleven hundred. It is a fact that many negroes voted for Hampton, and it is also a fact that intimidation prevailed in many counties.

If the Southern Rifle Clubs, which boast a strength of over 260,000 men, attempt to march on Washington, they will learn a very interesting fact in American history, the exact difference between Buchanan and Grant. It is very considerable.—Providence Journal.

It has been discovered that the laws of North Carolina provide that the names for Presidential electors shall be "written" on the ballots. The ballots were all printed at the late election, and now some technically-inclined people down there are contending that there has really been no choice of electors, because the provisions of the law were not complied with.

Gov. Chamberlain's friends are concerned about his life. Judge Cartter shares this apprehension, but he says that a pistol would not be drawn in the State for Tilden. The stake of the democrats was alone the State. Judge Cartter found no democrats in South Carolina who doubted the election of Hayes, and he found many who were glad of it. Judge Cartter says that the count was perfectly free and fair.

Florida is a State which stood fast to its republicanism in 1874, when the democrats carried Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and gave a republican majority three times as large, proportionately, as that of Michigan; and yet the democrats have the impudence to claim that Florida must have gone for Tilden, and that only fraud can give it to the republicans.

The Tribune says the average democratic editor must live on nitro-glycerine and drink Jersey lightning. He is a regular infernal machine, exploding at the slightest provocation. If the effect were at all commensurate with the noise, the destruction would be awful. The only possible purpose for this empty uproar is that, like the bass drum in a country band, it may cover a multitude of sins.

During the early part of the Presidential canvass, a six-pounder gun was sold by the State of New York for $175—about one-third price—to go to a democratic club or committee in Mississippi. The assertion is made that Gov. Tilden himself put the valuation on the gun.

A large indignation meeting was held in the Third Missouri Congressional district, which was composed about equally of republicans and democrats, and at which the action of the canvassing board and the counting of votes for Mr. Frost, the democratic candidate for Congress, which, evidently were not cast for him, was denounced in unmeasured terms by both democratic and republican speakers. Resolutions were adopted to the same effect, and demanding that the person who changed the returns should be ferreted out and punished. The democratic candidate, who was so shamelessly counted in, has made to his republican opponent the modest proposition that neither of them shall accept a certificate of election, so that a new election may be held; in other words, Mr. Frost confesses that he is aware that he is not entitled to a seat in Congress, but is willing to profit by an acknowledged fraud in hope that next time he may be legally chosen. An honorable man would simply have refused to accept a certificate gained through fraud.

Nearly all the parties who had election bets at Morrissey's gambling rooms have withdrawn them, Morrissey retaining his commission.

Democrats must go by the Board.—N. O. Republican.

The Albany Journal says: "One of the democratic dispatches claiming Louisiana by 10,000 is appropriately signed 'Kennard.'"

Unless the counting of the electoral votes in Congress is finished sixteen secular days before March 4, it will no longer be in the power of either House of Congress to decide who is President, and the presiding officer of the Senate will act as President until a new President is elected. The new election would occur in the following December.

Iowa gave a larger majority for Hayes than all the democratic States in the North did for Tilden.

It is a perfectly reasonable presumption that if the disputed States had not been needed by the democratic party they never would have been claimed.

"Pop, is God everywhere?" asked a youthful son of his democratic sire. "Yes, my boy." "Is He in the Louisiana Returning Board?" And then the old man saw the danger of allowing a boy to fool around the newspaper offices.—Brooklyn Argus.

Having terrorized several of the Southern States, thereby reducing the republican vote at least 200,000, and carrying Texas and New York city by equal majorities, the democracy attach great importance to the popular vote. They did not do so in 1844, when Clay had a majority of the popular vote over Polk, nothwithstanding the Sidell and Ryanders frauds in Louisiana and New York.—Cincinnati Commercial.

The Washington Star says that a prominent republican Senator from the South says that, for one, he intends to urge the inauguration of Gov. Hayes (in case he is declared elected) at noon on Sunday, March 4, when President Grant's term expires. He takes the view that in the present excited state of the public mind it will not do to have an interregnum of even twenty-four hours when the country would be without a President.

"Hang it, we've lost the game for sixteen years, but now it's so close we don't propose to be beaten by an ace. We'll have blood first."—Democratic Exchange.

In '61 we believe you had it from the veins of the gallant Ellsworth first. It poured a stream for four years. It is said that over a half million of gallons ebbed away. You need a lump of ice now more than you need anybody else's blood. You need it on the top of your head.—Washington Republican.

Official returns for Minnesota show a majority for Hayes of 24,008. Three republican Congressmen were elected by following majorities: Dunnell, 8945; Strait, 4730; Stewart, 2040.

Dirt, Darkness and the Election.

Very few realize how largely our political majorities depend upon popular education. But for the votes of five or six counties almost wholly within sight from the spire of Trinity Church, Mr. Tilden would not have carried a single Northern State except Indiana. New York City gave him 20,000 more than his majority in this State; a few towns along the Sound gave him his majority in Connecticut, and Jersey City and its surroundings gave him the vote of New Jersey. Does any one imagine that the population of these localities is pre-eminent in education? Cut off the south-west corner of Indiana—Scott, Washington, Orange, Martin, Daviess, Sullivan, and the few democratic counties south of them—and you cut off 10,000 democratic majority, leaving the rest of the State securely republican. Is that the most intelligent part of Indiana? These few counties had 61,135 white male adults in 1870, of whom 8,697, or more than 14 in every 100, were unable to read and write. In these figures two republican counties, Vanderburg and Gibson, are not included. But in these and the rest of the State lying north of the line described there were 327,096 white male adults, of whom only 27,634 were unable to read and write—less than 9 in every 100. Naturally, the more intelligent body of the State gives 5,000 republican and the more ignorant corner 10,000 democratic majority. In this dark hole democracy found the electoral votes of one State; in the slums of New York, New Haven, Bridgeport, Jersey City, and a few other towns it found three more, and outside of these delectable localities it was beaten in every Northern State. Why not? Darkness did not reign. Set aside New York City, New Haven, Bridgeport, Jersey City and Fairfield Counties from Connecticut, Hudson County (including Jersey City) from New Jersey, and the counties in the dark hole from Indiana, and the proportion of white male adults who cannot read and write in each Northern State stands thus:

	White Male Adults.	Illiterate.	Per cent.
Maine	169,193	6,516	3
New Hampshire	90,854	3,361	3
Vermont	96,522	6,867	7
Massachusetts	394,081	30,920	7
Rhode Island	57,313	5,922	10
Connecticut (part)	87,854	6,514	7
New York (part)	894,175	58,214	6
New Jersey (part)	190,467	12,218	6
Pennsylvania	848,790	61,359	7
Ohio	625,176	41,439	6
Michigan	254,267	17,543	5
Indiana (part)	327,096	27,634	8
Illinois	617,435	49,891	6
Wisconsin	254,267	17,637	7
Minnesota	114,344	8,041	7
Iowa	289,163	14,782	5
Nebraska	38,782	956	2
Kansas	101,189	5,094	6
Nevada	34,243	474	3
Oregon	25,649	1,085	4
California	186,823	12,362	6
Colorado	18,083	2,505	14
Total	5,755,391	382,953	66.16

At the time of the census Colorado was a Territory. In all the Northern States then organized, save one, the proportion of white male adults who were unable to read and write was less than nine per cent.; in only two exceeding seven per cent. Accordingly majorities against democracy and darkness were recorded in every Northern State outside of the dark spots named. Now let us look into the sources of Mr. Tilden's strength. As yet we do not include the three disputed States in either list. To make the comparison entirely fair, we exclude colored adults altogether. The proportion of illiterate white male adults in the States carried by the democrats was:

	White Male Adults.	Illiterate.	Per cent.
Maryland	145,619	13,344	9
Delaware	24,811	3,466	14
Virginia	161,900	27,646	17
West Virginia	91,343	15,181	16
North Carolina	132,533	33,111	25
Georgia	129,067	21,860	17
Alabama	105,474	17,429	16
Mississippi	85,784	9,537	11
Tennessee	190,656	37,713	19
Kentucky	245,133	43,826	18
Missouri	383,314	34,799	9
Arkansas	77,195	13,610	17
Texas	132,350	17,565	13
Total	1,920,819	288,887	15

Adding the number of white male adults in the dark spots at the North, we find that Mr. Tilden's votes came from localities having 2,325,293 white male adults, of whom 317,313, or 13.6 per cent. were unable to read or write. But majorities for Mr. Hayes came from localities having 5,755,391 white male adults, of whom only 382,953, or 6 6 per cent, were unable to read or write. If the contrast is non delightful to Democrats, perhaps they may be interested on some other occasion to learn more about the source of their main strength at the North— the black spot on the map which defaces three Northern States, and has its center about the Five Points.—New York Tribune.

Comfort for Uneasy Stomachs.

That incomparable anti-dyspeptic cordial-carminative and appetizer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, yields comfort to the uneasy stomach with a degree of promptitude most gratifying to the victim of indigestion. The eradication of dyspepsia by the Bitters, is, of course, accompanied by the disappearance of every one of its multifarious and puzzling symptoms, among which may be mentioned as the most prominent, heartburn, flatulence, abdominal oppression after eating, and sinking at other times, palpitation of the heart, water brash, vertigo, sick headache and nausea. Hostetter's Bitters tone and regulate the various organs which assist in the processes of assimilation, secretion and evacuation, fortify the system against malarious fevers, and develop in the enfeebled system fresh stores of vitality. In efficacy, as in popularity, they surpass any tonic or regulating medicine of the age.

IF THERE IS ANY VICTIM of an eruptive malady who despairs of relief, let him abandon his despondency. So long as it is possible for him to obtain GLEN'S SULPHUR SOAP he need entertain no doubts respecting the possibility of his being cured.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 250 elegantly furnished rooms. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

JOTTINGS.

Coroner's Jury of citizens on Portsmouth & Dover Railroad this evening at Franklin Hall, at seven o'clock.

Concerning the Hillmans, who are to play at the Temple on Thanksgiving day, and their drama, "Tattered Tom," the Boston Sunday Herald of Oct. 22d says: "Our citizens were highly entertained by the little Hillmans, Maud and May, in their new drama written expressly for them. The acting was fine, and the drama is destined to become popular and enjoy a long run."

Mrs. J. Frank Giles, with a full company of artists, will appear at the Temple on Tuesday evening next and afford our citizens an opportunity of listening to their rendering of Vessie's new and sparkling English Opera of "The Waif Blanch." Reserved seats can be secured at Preston's, at 50 cents each.

Mr. Clarence B. Mason's house caught fire from a defect in the chimney, in one of the upper stories, and not from a furnace, as published. With a furnace properly put up there is no possibility of such an accident.

The Mechanics Association during the past year paid $1000 on the debt, thereby reducing it to $8600. The following are the officers for the ensuing year; President, Lewis G. Davis; Vice President, Daniel J. Vaughan; Trustees, (for three years) Michael J. Vaughan, Oliver H. Locke; Secretary, Joseph R. Curtis; Deputy Secretary, Edward J. Moulton.

We regret to learn that George W. Guppy, Esq., of the Times, is again confined to his home from the effects of the accident by which his shoulder-blade was broken some time ago. Bro. Guppy's desire to personally superintend the details of his business caused him to go to his office sooner than was prudent after the accident; but we won't say "we thought it would be so," now that he has had this unfortunate relapse, but instead will express our earnest hope that his recovery may be speedy and entire.

The Supreme Court is engaged on the case of Benson vs. Tilton, action brought on a mortgage.

The coming fair under the direction of the ladies of the Methodist society promises to be quite an event. Among the attractions is to be a prize baby show for which many "darling" entries are expected. There are to be other equally meritorious features.—Times.

News and Notes.

The Direction of the Bureau Veritas has just published the following statistics of marine disasters, reported during the month of September, 1876, concerning all flags—Sailing vessels reported lost; 40 English, 17 French, 11 American, 9 German, 8 Norwegian, 6 Dutch, 6 Swedish, 3 Spanish, 2 Danish, 2 Austrian, 2 Italian, 1 Brazilian, 1 Greek, 1 Russian, and 10 of which the nationality is unknown; total, 119. In this number are included 3 vessels reported missing. Steamers reported lost—5 English, 2 American, 2 Spanish, 1 Italian, and 1 of which the nationality is unknown; total, 11.

Brig Francis Lewey, of New York, has been sunk off the China coast by collision. Part of crew saved.

J. B. Brown, of Keyesville, Mo., on Monday evening shot a young lady named Emma Jared for dismissing him, and then blew the top of his own head off.

By the wrecking of the ship Prince Waldemar near Calcutta, recently, twenty-nine persons out of thirty-three on board were drowned. Four of the persons lost belonged in St. John, N. B., and four in Nova Scotia. The captain's wife and daughter were among the lost, the four persons saved being all sailors.

The scalp of Yellow Hand, the Sioux warrior killed by Buffalo Bill, is hung up over the entrance to the Bowery Theatre in New York to attract an audience to witness a performance in which the mock killing of Indians is the chief attraction. The mutilation of their dead enemies by the red-skinned savages is abhorrent to the nobler white race.

John Hanson, a Swedish sailor, shot himself in the head in a street in Salem, Mass., Wednesday night, and died soon after.

Dennis Desmond and Edward Buckley of Beverley, Mass., were gathering rockweed on the Salem shore Wednesday afternoon, and having overloaded the scow that they were using, sunk it. The two men went down with her, and Desmond was drowned. Buckley, being a good swimmer, reached the shore. He made an effort to save his companion, but failed to do so. Desmond was about eighteen.

The steam collier reported as lost off Minot's Ledge on the morning of the 21st, by a Boston pilot, was not the "No. 10," or Perkiomen, that vessel and the Centipede (No. 2) having put into New York on Tuesday night for a harbor. It is feared the lost vessel (if one was really lost) is the Harrisburg, bound from Philadelphia for Salem.

An auction sale of the islands on the coast of Maine belonging to the State, by the land agent, took place at Rockland on the 21st. Sixty-two were sold, only one on the advertised list being withdrawn. The amount of the sales was a little over $1500. Many of the islands are in possession of persons claiming titles, and in most cases such were bid off to the parties interested. If the titles are proved by the claimants in any case the purchase money will be refunded.

The New York correspondent of the Detroit Tribune says weddings are once more becoming numerous, and our fashionable belles and beaux glides slowly and gracefully through trois-temps. It is the old-fashioned value redivivus, except that now, instead of being danced on the ends of the toes with much swaying of the figure, the foot is scarcely raised from the ground, and it becomes little more than a circumvolent walk. A gliding motion, and the body held easily, but never swaying, are the requisites in this dance.

Work at all the navy yards except that at Brooklyn will be immediately suspended, and all persons except ship-keepers discharged, as the appropriations are expended.

Fish Walking on Dry Land.

If in this country one met a troop of fish walking along a dusty road he would perhaps be justified in thinking that the age of fairy tales had come again, when frogs wooed king's daughters and birds held sage conversation on every tree. In some foreign lands, however, walking-fish are common enough. There is a fish found in the seas around Ceylon, of so grotesque an appearance that its picture looks more like a wild dream of some artist than a representation of a living object. This singular creature is one of a group in which the carpus form arms that support the pectoral fins, and thus enable the fish to walk along the ground almost like a quadruped. On the rocks of Ceylon, washed by the surf, there are other little walking fish which run up the wet stones with the utmost ease and rapidity. By the aid of the pectoral and ventral fins and gill-cases, they move over the damp sand, ascend the roots of the mangroves, and climb up the smooth face of the rocks in search of flies. Many of the fresh-water fish of the same island possess the power of leaving their native element and returning to it again after long pilgrimages on dry land. When the pools they inhabit get low in the summer season they start off, and, led by an as yet unexplained instinct, shape their course through the grass to the nearest considerable body of water. The fish most often seen on these excursions is a species of perch. It grows to about six inches in length, the head is round and covered with scales, and the edges of the gill covers are strongly denticulated. Aided by an admirable apparatus fitted by nature to its head the little creature issues boldly from its native haunts and proceeds on a toilsome march to a new habitation. The expedition is made generally at night or early in the morning, whilst the grass is wet with dew. In its distress, however, it is sometimes compelled to move by day, and Mr. E. L. Layard records that on one occasion he met a number of them travelling along a dusty road under a broiling sun.—Cassell's Magazine.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract the serpens, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatics, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeuied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Furriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Mercerville, Columbiana Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS.—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. P ease send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Foil-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame neas of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria costs the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

For Hayes or Tilden spoke he?
How voted each true southern clan

ESTABLISHED IN 1855.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1855 by Dr Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accomodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Young's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—120 pages—[illegible] of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to DR. S. V. R. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y

CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS to be good, they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no purpose. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an hour from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEYARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I have got so not know how many medicines, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious trying climate of New England,
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

THE SITUATION.

"In this year 101 of the States, the news travels slow:
Flashing over the telegraph, electric and mighty it comes, but also in ways slower and possibly not so sure.
Mules and canal boats, revenue cutters, canoes, are bringing in the returns,
And they travel so slow, I, Walt, believe that they come in a hearse.

Clerical Humanity.

The following letter to Henry Bergh, President of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, is published in Our Dumb Animals:

"Dear Sir:—A little while ago that excellent and true hearted woman, the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, came out with a letter that tingled the blood with horror as we read of the cruelty to the little birds, which were destroyed for the sake of their plumage, in a very barbarous manner. I have just been reading a book entitled "Starboard and Port," by Rev. George H. Hepworth, presumably a leading member of one of the "yacht clubs" of New York. During the cruise, he appears to have not only permitted but participated in some acts of wanton cruelty that should never be sanctioned again by the commanders of these pleasure-vessels. On pages 29 and 30 he speaks of shooting "medrakes" for "their wings;" and on page 80, after the reading of the Sunday services, etc., he says: "The birds—loons, ducks, and gulls—seemed to be aware of the character of those on board, and with a defiant kind of persistency settled within easy range;" but, however tempted to kill or wound these poor creatures, they were restrained by some feeling of decency, although one of them could hardly resist the temptation, and actually aimed at them; finally checking himself, and muttering, "No, I won't shoot to-day, but if you show your heads to-morrow, woe be unto you!" showing the murderous instinct with great difficulty restrained. They next day came near shipwreck, and of course had other matters to think of. On page 198 he writes of the "Rocky Cliffs," where thousands of gannets, medrakes, and cormorants build their houses. They then fired their guns, and there arose flocks of birds so numerous that they were startled. "Now for sport," (?) said one, "we'll run into Perce and have such a day's shooting as those birds never heard tell of." And accordingly the next day (page 202), after a description of the great "arched rock," inhabited by these nameless creatures of God's creation, and after saying "they cannot be frightened by the discharge of a gun, for they are exceedingly loyal in their parental love; nor can they be beaten off with clubs," yet after a few discharges of their guns they did manage to scare a great number of them, and after "patiently waiting" for their return to their young, Mr. Hepworth coolly says, "We managed to drop a few of the medrakes, whose wings seemed to be in demand, and one or two of the immense gray gulls," while regretting that the "cormorants kept out of range!" Now, sir, fancy these poor, harmless (and useless to mankind) creatures, either shot wantonly, for "sport," or being left to die lingeringly with broken wings, and, of course, this being the breeding season, leaving their young to starve to death! Please do something—say something—that will cause, from shame itself, no educated man to in future sanction such acts which a true sportsman and real gentleman would shudder at."

Mr. Bergh comments on the letter as follows:

"The sentiments of the writer of the foregoing letter are doubtless shared by a large portion of the readers of the book in question, and it would afford the undersigned a profound satisfaction to listen to a sermon by its reverend and learned author on the subject of 'Cruelty to Animals.'"

The Lincoln Tomb Violatation.

Two of the alleged perpetrators of the outrage upon the remains of Lincoln have been arrested in Chicago. Their names are Jack Mullins, who keeps a thieves' saloon called the "Hub," and Jack Hughes, a notorious counterfeiter. The discovery of the plot was made by a United States detective named Swegles, who was employed to cultivate the acquaintance of supposed counterfeiters in Chicago, and was by them supposed to be a horse thief. Swegles enjoyed the confidence of Hughes, and was taken into the plot, which was for the purpose of not only obtaining a ransom estimated at $200,000 to $300,000, but for the release of Burr Boyd, a leader of the gang of counterfeiters, from the Joliet penitentiary. The detective gave the alarm to the police authorities, and accompanied the grave robbers to Springfield. Their escape by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hand of one of the officers on the watch has already been detailed. The secret that they were suspected was well kept, and after a time they returned to their old quarters in Chicago, where they were arrested. One or two other persons are suspected of being concerned in the plot, but there is no evidence to fix a crime upon them. There is no doubt but that the guilty parties have been secured, but the laws of Illinois provide but a very inadequate punishment for their crime, the penalty for robbing a grave being a fine of $500 and imprisonment for not more than one year. The pos-ings of humanity should lead to the enactment of a sufficiently severe penalty in all States which are the guardians of hallowed bones.

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1876

Keep Cool.

Pending the decision of the question as to who is President-elect, there is considerable talk among certain classes of the democracy about overthrowing that decision by force unless it is favorable to their candidate. "Tilden or blood," yells the St. Louis Times; and the threat is repeated in one shape or another by half the democratic papers of the country, the more respectable ones transforming it into a warning to the republicans as to what "the people" will do if Tilden does not get votes enough from the three "disputed" States to seat him in the Presidential chair,—each of the three disputed States (only one—Louisiana—being now in dispute, however,) being as undeniably republican on a fair vote as Mississippi, Vermont or Rhode Island.

The republicans take matters more quietly. Not a republican paper of any grade, so far as we know, has even hinted at anything but acquiescence in the final decision of the authorities who have lawful power to decide the question, should that decision be adverse to Gov. Hayes; yet every republican is aware that if Tilden receives enough electoral votes to make him President, he will owe his election to fraud and trickery in the North, and fraud and violence (not stopping short of wholesale murder) in the South. The republicans have little more doubt that the electoral vote of New York was carried by fraud this year, than that it was carried for Seymour in 1868 by fraud acquiesced in if not engineered by Tilden; they know that the election in Mississippi was a farce, and they have good reason to believe the election in North Carolina was a gigantic fraud; they know that in South Carolina and Louisiana the Tildenites by force of arms drove thousands of republicans from the polls, and fraudulently polled thousands of democratic votes; and they are fully satisfied that in spite of the disreputable tactics of the Tilden reformers the republicans carried South Carolina, Louisiana and Florida, and that such will be the verdict unless the partisan "managers" sent South by Tilden and Abe Hewitt to "fix things" can by trickery defeat the expressed will of the voters of those States. Yet in spite of all this, should the men lawfully authorized to canvass the vote of those States decide that Tilden shall receive the electoral vote of all or any one of them, the republican party will acquiesce in the decision; at least, no hint of resistance or factious opposition has been made to our knowledge.

All the talk of armed resistance, bloodshed, our man or civil war, etc., comes from the democrats; and though some of it is very loud and threatening we believe it is all very cheap talk,—bluster and bounce, and nothing more. Of two things we are assured: If Tilden is declared elected he will be inaugurated without opposition from the republicans, however much aggrieved they may feel at the frauds to which he will owe his election; if Hayes is declared elected, he will be inaugurated in spite of all opposition. And we don't anticipate any civil war over it, either.

South Carolina.

The democratic press seems somewhat exercised in its mind because the South Carolina Returning Board certified the election of the Hayes electors, and threw out the vote of the terrorized counties of Laurens and Edgefield, by which the State legislature is given to the republicans, notwithstanding the strenuous endeavors of the Supreme Court, in the face of the statutes and every principle of equity and justice, to give to the democrats a victory which they did not win by ballots.

Wade Hampton is also displeased, and is out in a card in which he compliments the South Carolina democracy on their peaceful and law-abiding character, mourns their martyrdom, denounces the Returning Board for the "high-handed outrage" of declining to allow the Supreme Court to make said Returning Board its mere clerk in defiance of the law, and says the Supreme Court is "composed of three judges belonging to the republican party." Wade Hampton is a "chivalry," but he can lie easily enough for all that, and he does lie when he says the Supreme Court of South Carolina is composed of three republican judges. The chief justice, Moses, is father of the "scoundrel governor" of that name whose administration was overthrown by Gov. Chamberlain, who also refused the infamous ex-governor a commission as judge; and his conduct all along has been all that the most bitterly partisan democrat could desire. Willard, the second judge, has been a supporter of Hampton and Tilden throughout the campaign; and the only republican judge of the three is a colored man.

This Supreme Court, in its eagerness to serve the democrats, showed itself to be a mere partisan machine, ready to prostitute its high powers to the basest political ends. Every possible obstacle the democratic judges or managers could think of was thrown in the way of the Returning Board, to delay its work and so limit its powers that the murderous proceedings of "Butler's cavalry" should really decide the political complexion of the State. The last move in this direction was the issuing of an order to the Board to count all votes as returned by the county officials, without enquiry as to their correctness, no matter what evidence might be offered; but before the mandamus could be served the Board had completed its work according to the law, and adjourned. On this subject the Boston Journal says:

"The South Carolina statutes creating the Board of Canvassers distinctly empowered them to investigate cases where there was protest or contest; and they also set a limit to the time given for canvassing votes. Until the recent proceedings before the Supreme Court the constitutionality of these statutes has not been questioned. The time alloted for the count expired on Wednesday; and the Board, having completed its canvass, issued certificates to the candidates elected as members of the Legislature, State officers, and Presidential Electors, and adjourned sine die, at the very moment when the Supreme Court, under democratic manipulation, was concocting measures for reversing the whole result. A nefarious scheme was never more neatly checkmated. The Court cannot call together again the Canvassing Board, and even if it could, the Board would have no power to act, after its limitation of time had expired. It has no further legal existence as a Board. It will puzzle Chief Justice Moses and his democratic colleagues on the bench to find, in the Constitution or elsewhere, authority for constituting themselves a Returning Board and furnishing certificates to the defeated democratic candidates. Such an attempt at usurpation would be wild and farcical."

Had the Board of Canvassers counted the vote of the two counties they threw out it would have been a gross outrage, even had it not altered the status of a single member of the State legislature, for the frauds were even more barefaced than the Tweed-Tilden swindle which gave New York to Seymour in 1868. Laurens county, by the last census, has a colored population of 12,632, and a white population of 9904; in 1872 the republican vote was 2153, the opposition vote 935; in 1874 Chamberlain had over 1000 majority; yet the returns this year are made to give Hampton and Tilden a heavy majority. Edgefield county (in which is situated Hamburg, the scene of "Gen." Butler's massacre of colored republicans,) by the last census has a colored population of 25,417, and a white population of 17,040; in 1874 the republican majority on Congressman was over 500; but this year the democrats claim more than three thousand majority, and return a pretended vote exceeding by over 2200 the entire voting population of the county! No honest man will pretend that such returns as those from these two counties should be unquestioningly accepted by a Board of Canvassers expressly empowered by law to investigate alleged cases of fraud; but that was just what Judge Moses and his instigators sought to compel the South Carolina Returning Board to do, and just what the Returning Board would not do.

Election Votes.

The official vote of Iowa is as follows: Hayes 171,327; Tilden 112,099; Cooper 9001; Hayes majority. 50,327; plurality, 59,228.

The majority for the republican ticket in Wisconsin is 6141.

The official canvass of the vote in Connecticut shows a total of 122,156 for President, and 121,824 for Governor. The vote for President was: Tilden, 61,934; Hayes, 59,034; Cooper, 774; Smith, 378. Tilden's plurality, 2900; majority, 1748.

Pachecho, republican, is elected to Congress by one majority in the 4th California district.

Tilden's plurality in Missouri is 58,289.

They are now talking of Conkling, Sherman, Edmunds and Sargent as candidates for President of the Senate.

The Graphic's Washington special says, as was predicted, the Returning Board in South Carolina has acted on its own responsibility, independent of the Court. There is plenty of evidence to show that the Court was corrupted, and it will be produced in time. The movement is of course commented on variously, but the political pulse is very low, and nothing less than actual bloodshed would create a stir. It is the opinion here, however, that there will be two State Governments in South Carolina, and no end of complications.

News and Notes.

At Faribault, Minn., on the 22d, the Younger brothers, known as the Northfield Bank robbers, pleaded guilty to the murder of Cashier Heywood, and were sentenced to imprisonment for life. Under the law of Minnesota a murderer who pleads guilty on his trial can have no heavier sentence.

Fred. Lovett of Point Village, Cape Elizabeth, Me., was shot through the arm, beaten and robbed by two men in that village on Wednesday night.

Boss Tweed is back again in Ludlow street street jail, in New York city. On being admitted to his cell by Warden Watson he remarked: "I thought I would come and see you again."

A bold attempt was made on Wednesday night to rob a bank at Waterville, Me., by four thieves who captured and bound the bank watchman. A private watchman named Vigue discovered them and gave the alarm.

During the past season the "American," of Boston, has added many conveniences for the additional comfort of its guests. Running water has been introduced into 150 rooms of the north and east wings, many of the apartments have been remodeled and refurnished, its public drawing rooms and dining saloon newly frescoed, and though the hotel has always been kept scrupulously clean, it now looks brighter and cleaner than ever. Every comfort and convenience is assured to the patrons of the American House.

Information received at the War Department from General Mills, says he had a conference with Sitting Bull under a flag of truce. Sitting Bull proposed to return to the Agency on condition that his people be permitted to keep their ponies and arms. General Mills replied that the terms could not be accepted; that the only conditions that could be allowed were the same as those granted to other hostiles—an unconditional surrender. He also informed Sitting Bull that in case he did not surrender at once, he would make an immediate attack. Sitting Bull declined to surrender, on the ground that by doing so under such conditions, he would lose all the prestige he had gained since the war began. After this conference Sitting Bull was permitted to return to his command. General Mills, after allowing him sufficient time for that purpose made an attack upon the savage chief's camp, and after a brisk engagement completely routed the Indians, capturing their entire camp, with a number of ponies. At the War Office it is the opinion that the capture of Sitting Bull and his warriors will speedily follow, as General Mills is in hot pursuit, with Hazen in his front, at old Fort Pick.

Hon. Edward McPherson, long Clerk of the House of Representatives, and author of the invaluable political compends which have for years been the indispensable handbooks of every politician, has undertaken the editorship of the Tribune Almanac, in place of the late John F. Cleveland. Mr. McPherson's peculiar fitness for the task is known to politicians of either party, and we are fully warranted in assuming that under his scrupulous care the Almanac will be, even more than it has been in the past, the standard manual of election returns and political intelligence. Its election returns this year will possess a peculiar interest, and every effort will be made to have them absolutely accurate according to the latest official figures.—Tribune.

Comfort for Uneasy Stomachs.

That incomparable anti-dyspeptic cordial-carminative and appetizer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, yields comfort to the uneasy stomach with a degree of promptitude most gratifying to the victim of indigestion. The eradication of dyspepsia by the Bitters, is, of course, accompanied by the disappearance of every one of its multifarious and puzzling symptoms, among which may be mentioned as the most prominent, heartburn, flatulence, abdominal oppression after eating, and sinking at other times, palpitations of the heart, water brash, vertigo, sick headache and nausea. Hostetter's Bitters tone and regulate the various organs which assist in the processes of assimilation, secretion and evacuation, fortify the system against malarious fevers, and develop in the enfeebled system fresh stores of vitality. In efficacy, as in popularity, they surpass any tonic or regulating medicine of the age.

IF THERE IS ANY VICTIM of an eruptive malady who despairs of relief, let him abandon his despondency. So long as it is possible for him to obtain GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP he need entertain no doubts respecting the possibility of his being cured.

THE P. & D. RAILROAD.

The Dover Democrat publishes the ordinance now pending in the City Councils of Portsmouth instructing Mayor Broughton to subscribe on behalf of the city for $44,000 worth of the new issue of Portsmouth & Dover Railroad stock, as soon as "the city of Dover shall have determined by proper ordinance to subscribe for its proportion of said new stock," and comments as follows:

"There is considerable opposition among certain people of Portsmouth to the passage of this ordinance, but we understand that nearly or quite all who oppose it are those who have opposed the road from the beginning and all the way along. And now after that city has invested $300,000 these people are willing and seem to be determined to run the imminent risk of losing the whole of it rather than to save it clear by aiding to pay the debt. We are aware of no such foolishness here in Dover. This Portsmouth ordinance, if adopted, is, it seems, in its effect, contingent upon the action of our Dover Councils, which is unnecessary because there is no doubt that our authorities will vote to take the proportion of new stock required to pay the debt. It is the only thing that can be done to save what has already been taken. So Portsmouth had better go ahead and Dover will follow."

CITY AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Nov. 23d, the following communication was received from William H. Hackett, Chairman of the Board of School Committee:

To His Honor the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen:

By the direction of the Board of School Committee, I have to communicate to your Board the fact that the sum appropriated for the support of schools is insufficient for the amount estimated to be needed for that purpose the current year by the sum of thirty-five hundred dollars. I will add that the Committee endeavored to retrench the expenditures, but are unable at this late period of the year to make any considerable reduction in either the matter of Salaries, fuel or contingent expenses; but the subject of these expenditures for the coming year is receiving the attention of the Board.

The joint committee on finance reported a bill authorizing a temporary loan of $3500 for the support of schools, which was passed under suspension of rules and sent to the Common Council.

The claim of Susan B. Webster for additional compensation for land taken to widen Middle and Lafayette roads was referred to the committee on claims. The original award was $150.

E. H. Leslie was appointed special police without pay for the custom house and grounds.

Leave was granted W. W. Cotton to open Jefferson street to lay a drain.

Petition of Thomas Wiggin for repairs on culvert on Greenland road was referred to the surveyor of that district.

Communication from H. W. Mason asking for the appointment of a committee to confer with him relative to the purchase of a portion of the City Farm, was referred to a committee consisting of the Mayor and Ald. Yeaton, Marcy and Hoyt, the Council adding Messrs. Knight, Barnabee and Buzzell. [Mr. Mason desires to purchase fields No. 8 and 9 on the plan of the City Farm, having about 700 feet frontage on Creek road, and containing the old farm house and orchard and about twenty-two acres of land. It is understood that he wishes to erect a fine private residence there.]

Petition of Frank W. Miller for the acceptance of that part of Union street between Hawthorne and South streets was referred to the committee on streets with the Mayor added.

Notice was received from the City Clerk that the appropriation for the repairs and rent of schoolhouses was exhausted.

An ordinance was received from the Common Council, providing for a temporary loan of $9000 for deficiences in the following appropriations: Fire Department $2700, Health $500, Police $600, Printing 150, Streets $4000, Street lights $500, Watch $5.50. The ordinance was passed in concurrence.

A hearing was appointed on the petition of George Rogers and others for a new highway from North street to land of George Rogers.

In Convention of the two Boards, Hon. John R. Reding read the report of the agents appointed by the city to examine the accounts of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad.

Adjourned to Friday evening, Dec. 1st.

POLICE COURT.

Friday forenoon a batch of tramps appeared, and each received a sentence of three months in Brentwood and $6.90 costs. Their names are Thomas Carroll, Charles Henderson, William Paine, James Harris, John Burns and John McCloskey.

No first-class library should be without a complete set of the works of John Weiss. A volume of 428 pages, entitled "Wit, Humor, and Shakspeare," is just issued by Roberts Brothers, Boston, and may be had at the new bookstore of Mercer Goodrich, in the City Building. There are twelve essays, viz.; The Cause of Laughter; Wit, Irony, Humor; Dogberry, Malvolio, Trolius and Cressida (Ajax), Bottom, Touchstone; Falstaff—His Companions; Americanisms; Hamlet; The Porter in "Macbeth," the Clown in "Twelfth Night," the Fool in "Lear;" Women and Men; Maria, Helena, Imogen, Constance; Lord Bacon and the Plays, Shakspeare's Women, Love in Shakspeare; Portia; Helena—Opbelia; Macbeth; Blonde Women; Lady Macbeth.

The yacht Annie Pendleton, stolen from Rockland, Me., three weeks ago, has turned up at Hampton, where the thieves had left her for the winter.

The death of Mr. Mark Caswell, at the advanced age of 83, calls to mind the services of the privateersmen in the war of 1812. Mr. Caswell lived at Kittery, and early in the war entered as a seaman on board the U. S. cutter "New Hampshire," then commanded by Capt. Nathaniel Kennard, the ancestor and namesake of the present Secretary of the Young Men's Tilden Club in this city. The "New Hampshire" was in an engagement off Portsmouth harbor with a privateer, and in company with a gun boat under Capt. Clements, captured her. Mr. Caswell served for three years in this vessel, and though engaged in actual battle with an armed force of the enemy and on board of a U. S. vessel, was denied even a bounty land warrant, on the technical ground that there was no record of his service at Washington.—Journal.

At a special meeting of the proprietors of Newcastle Bridge, held on the 20th, it was voted to authorize the directors to lease the bridge and franchise in accordance with a proposition from David Urch, and upon such terms and restrictions as they may judge expedient.

The creditors of J. C. Carr, bankrupt, met at the office of Hon. J. S. H. Frink on Friday, C. H. Coffin, President of the First National Bank of Newburyport, presiding. Alfred F. Howard, Esq., was appointed assignee.

The Heavy Artillery was inspected on Thursday evening by Col. John J. Dillon, who expressed himself in most complimentary terms regarding the company.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth Washington T. A. Society takes place at the office of the Secretary, A. P. Craig, at half past seven o'clock this evening.

Simon P. Hanscomb, formerly of this city, and who was once connected with the Boston Bee, died a few days since in Washington, D. C.

The Journal says "prominent democrats are figuring upon the chances of overcoming the republican majority in the first senatorial district. Candidates in case Tilden is called, are Messrs. Charles A. Sinclair or Marcellus Eldredge; in case it is Hayes and no patronage to bestow, Nathan H. Robie of Hampton Falls, or G. Harris on Jenness, of Rye."

SUPREME COURT.

Friday, November 24th.

In case Benson vs. Tilton the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

John E. Rider vs. Frank T. Pickering, tried on Friday, was an action to recover for money paid by Rider for the expense of obtaining certain copies at Demarara, to be used in Pickering's behalf, in a trial of his action against F. W. DeRochemont of Newington. The price charged was resisted as being excessive. Plaintiff contended the payment was made in good faith. Argued by defendant's attorney.

The Boston Post's local correspondent on Friday said: "The court will probably adjourn on Wednesday next, until the 1st of January, at which time, if it meets, it will sit here until the term commences at Exeter on the third Tuesday of January. There will be nearly 700 cases on the docket at the commencement of the term at Exeter. It would not be surprising if the term in that town continued until the time for the meeting of the court here again in April."

Correspondence.

YORK CORNER, Nov. 23.

Messrs. Editors: Your "political conundrum" I think may be properly solved in a legal sense as follows: "If the law requires a majority of votes to elect, George Washington and Thomas Jefferson, each having 401 votes (and over) must be declared chosen, with no choice for the third candidate, and a new election must be held, or some other method employed to fill the vacancy. If a plurality only is necessary, George Washington and Thomas Jefferson only are elected, and a tie being apparent as to the others, or a part of them, there is of course no choice, and a new election must be held, or the vacancy filled in some manner provided by law.

Diphtheria is raging at a fearful rate at Cape Neddick. Dr. Putnam informs your correspondent that he has had fourteen cases within ten days, and that in the cases where death has ensued he was called too late, after the disease had become seated, at which time there is no reasonable hope, as the disease here prevailing is of the most malignant character. P.

Odd Fellow's Hall in Rochester was dedicated Thursday night by the Grand Officers of the State and other distinguished Odd Fellows. Those present taking part in the services were Grand Master A. F. Craig of Portsmouth; acting Deputy Grand Master Wm. H. Barnes of New York; Grand Warden Thomas Brown of Rochester; Grand Secretary Joel Taylor of Manchester; Grand Treasurer Robt. C. Fernald of Salmon Falls; Grand Chaplain Jos. Kidder of Manchester; Grand Marshal A. P. Hendricks of Nashua; Grand Herald Wm. Kennedy of Portsmouth. Speeches were made by Messrs. Craig, Barnes, Hendricks and others. Delegations of Odd Fellows were present from Dover, Milton, Farmington, Manchester, Nashua, Great Falls and other places. Matilina Lodge of Odd Fellows have just completed a large three-story brick building, known as Odd Fellows' block, and in the third story is the new hall, 46 by 53 feet, finished and furnished with taste and elegance, the furniture alone costing above $2000. A large banquet hall and kitchen are attached. The lodge is in good working order and excellent financial condition, and numbers nearly 400 members.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extinct soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the most from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a miracle."

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeney, Ring-bone and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have testimonials upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and do know of great value. I cease send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Swell-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame neck of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Teeter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Beefsteak.

Everybody except cannibals and the Ashantee consumers of steaks from the living kine, prefers well-prepared food to the other kind. There is no farmer's boy who eats a greasy lump of shoe leather fried in a pan, called a beefsteak, who would not prefer a well-broiled porter-house from the hand of a good cook. Here then, dear madame, is a point of departure. Well-cooked food is not only more toothsome, but it is more nutritious. Your grandmother would have scorned a fried steak. Pork fried in its own juice is another thing. Yet the American beefsteak, the national dish for breakfast, is generally fried. It is often of a pale, measly complexion. Its dry and hard surface is vainly irrigated with lukewarm grease, in which lumps of soft butter float—pardon, madame, the unsavory details which imperious truth imposes. Is that proper food for a human being? Yet the average American human being is subjected to it in the great multitude of honest homes. Can you do nothing about it?

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years his affairs were controlled over by that gentleman, but for the past 9 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and who I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and what they do, I have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partial relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they also advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mills, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mr. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LECONIA, N.H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England;

PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cunce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy elief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1876

The Situation.

The New York Times of Saturday sums up the situation as follows: "Our dispatches from Louisiana are entirely favorable. The impartial action of the Returning Board is exterting, even from its enemies, the confession that it has acted fairly and justly throughout. The returns from the uncontested parishes show a large majority for the republican Electoral ticket. The hearing of evidence in the contested cases will commence on Monday, the returns from East Baton Rouge being taken up first. This is one of the terrorized parishes, and the democrats acknowledge that if the republicans can prove their charges the vote should be thrown out. These charges, our dispatch states, will be proved conclusively. * * * In Florida, the democrats appear to be fighting a shadow. * * * The returns from nearly all the counties are now in, and everything gives assurance that Gov. HAYES will be our next President, beyond the shadow of a doubt."

The dispatch from New Orleans to the Times says: "The question of what disposition would be made by the State Canvassers of the tickets which bear only the names of part of the Hayes Electors, has been finally decided. They will count only those votes which were actually cast. They will not assume, as they were advised to do, that a ticket bearing the names of Hayes and Wheeler and the two Electors at large should be counted for the district Electors whose names were omitted from it. By this wise and just decision they have spiked another democratic gun, and forced from a number of prominent Northern democrats here a confession that all their proceedings thus far have been perfectly fair and honest. Regarding the Natchitoches tickets, from which it was first believed that the names of two of the Hayes Electors had been omitted, it was discovered this morning that the tickets had been accurately printed, and bore the name of all the Electors, but that the Supervisors of the polls had made a mistake in their returns. To prove this error, the Natchitoches case was reopened this morning, and it was decided to send to the parish to produce the ballots in evidence. If the tickets were properly printed, as is now stated, and the mistake in the count was made by the Supervisors, the majority for Hayes will be increased about 400 votes. The affidavits in the East Baton Rouge case tell of the most inhuman cruelty practiced by the democrats upon republican negroes. All the Northern visitors join in the statement that if the republicans can prove these charges, the vote of the parish must be thrown out. The charges will be proved."

The dispatch from Tallahassee to the Times says: "The evidence of fraud, bribery and violence on the part of the democrats in a large number of counties is accumulating. The details are startling in many instances, and will show to the country when revealed, how cruel and how perfect a machinery of injustice the democrats put in motion. It is believed that returns from all counties will be in by the first of next (this) week. Leading democrats here now do not claim the State for Tilden with much earnestness. The present hope is to carry the State ticket at most, and trust to some democratic providence in the Electoral College for Tilden's last chance. A telegram just received from Gainesville states that the republican messengers to the Southern counties were driven back by democratic "reformers" by force and violence. There is much excitement in consequence."

The Chicago Journal's special telegraphs that the republican majority in the uncontested parishes in Louisiana is 2274.

Official Vote of New Hampshire.

The Governor and Council met at the Executive Chamber, Nov. 23, for the purpose of counting the votes for Electors of President and Vice President, which resulted as follows;

Zimri S. Wallingford	41,518

John F. Choteaux	38,449
Samuel K. Mason	38,448
Edson Hill	38,444
John W. Sanborn	38,449

And scattering votes of from 1 to 76 each for 23 candidates.

No return of votes was received from the town of Benton.

THE VOTE BY COUNCILOR DISTRICTS.

The following is the result of the Presidential vote in this State by Councilor Districts:

THE VOTE BY COUNTIES.

Grafton	4,745	3,931	2

Total	41,525	36,440	76

Benton has not been returned, and consequently the vote cannot enter into the official count.

News and Notes.

On the 21st of March, 1874, William Glover was convicted of being an accessory before the fact in the robbery of Boylston Bank, at Boston, and sentenced to State Prison for twelve years. On Friday afternoon Glover was pardoned by the Governor and Council, it is said on account of his innocence being established. Two lady friends of the convict visited the prison at noon and waited till about 1:30, when Glover stepped from the north wing into the octagon and was cordially welcomed by his two female friends, who have been instrumental in obtaining his pardon. Judson, who was the principal in the robbery, is still a convict in the prison.

General Crook's command reached Fort Reno, November 18, in good condition, and was paid off by Major Stanton. The weather is severe, but the troops are well prepared for a winter campaign. One hundred Snake and Shoshone Indians joined the command there, making nearly 400 Indian allies in all, and the total strength of the command is 2000. Hostile Indians, according to the best information, are scattered on both sides of the Big Horn mountain, and a campaign on each side may be necessary before completing the work. Meantime Crazy Horse, with about 400 lodges, is encamped on the Rosebud, near the scene of the June fight, for which point a cavalry command, under Gen. Mackenzie, moved from Reno on the 22d, and would have to march about six days before reaching it. The cavalry are in excellent condition, and if this movement is successful the heaviest work of the winter will have been accomplished.

Six burglars made a raid on the summer residence of Mr. Bodine at New Hamburg, N. Y., early Friday morning. One of them was shot by Mr. McKitterich, the man in charge, and his comrades bore him away. None of them were arrested.

The reported loss of a steam-collier off Minots' Ledge Light, last week, is not confirmed, and was probably only a pilots' yarn.

Frederick Veazie, butcher, well known in Brighton and Biddeford, while intoxicated Friday night, wandered to the Eastern Railroad track, near Saco station, and next morning was found lying dead inside the rails, both legs and one arm being cut off. At least four trains passed over his body. He had a bottle in his pocket when last seen, and was much intoxicated.

David L. Magoon, the Raymond wife-murderer, who was taken from jail here to State Prison in Concord on the 7th inst., committed suicide on Sunday. He told Sheriff Kent when he left Portsmouth that he was thankful he did not get his neck stretched.

Election Notes.

The South Carolina Supreme Court has entered judgment of $1500 fine each, and commitment of all members of the Board of Canvassers to jail until released by order of the court.

The New York Graphic says that from information in its possession it is enabled to state that the electoral vote of both Florida and Louisiana will be cast for Rutherford B. Hayes, and it reiterates its claim of 185 votes for Hayes against 184 for Tilden.

It is said that the dispatch from Florida which stated that the official returns show a majority of 763 for Hayes, is correct, and that the dispatch was sent in cipher, but for some reason the National Republican Committee has not cared to acknowledge the receipt of it or to have the fact published.

Private citizens of Charleston and elsewhere have been sending a rush of orders to New York for Winchester Henry repeating rifles for the last ten days, in view of the probability of trouble at any hour. A gentleman from Washington says that the Cabinet on Friday decided to increase the troops in South Carolina to a very large extent within forty-eight hours.

Senator West has received a dispatch from what he says is a thoroughly reliable source stating that Louisiana beyond doubt has gone republican.

A table of the next House as it stands under the latest and most reliable returns, has just been completed by the best republican authority who has access to all information regarding the result in each district yet received by the National Committee. He gives the democrats 149 and the republicans 141. New Hampshire at the worst for the republicans is certain to give them two to one democrat in the March elections, which will make 150 democrats to 143 republicans. This calculation gives nearly all the districts yet classed as doubtful to the democrats. The republicans may have two more than have been estimated in the above count from Illinois, two more from Pennsylvania and two more from Louisiana. On the other hand the republicans may lose one in Florida, one in Missouri and one in Virginia. A careful study of all information at hand regarding districts not yet officially announced convinces the authority compiling the table that it is quite possible, though not very probable, that the apparent democratic majority may be entirely overcome, but that at the worst the democrats will not have over three or four majority.

The vote in the Sixth Congressional District of Massachusetts, as counted by the Executive Council, is: George B. Loring of Salem, 12,319; Charles P. Thompson of Gloucester, 11,171; scattering, 25.

The New York Mail pertinently suggests that under the second section of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution, which provides that when the right to vote at any election of President or Representative to Congress is denied to any of the male inhabitants of any State, the basis of representation in Congress shall be reduced the proportion which the number thus excluded bears to the whole number in the State, that one-half of the democratic members of six States should be rejected because the colored voters in those States have been deprived of the right to vote. The point is well known.

Gen. Butler takes the ground that it is competent for either House of Congress to object to the reception of the electoral vote of a State, and that in counting and determining the electoral vote, concurrent action of both Houses is required.

PROPOSED AID TO THE P. & D. RAILROAD.

"I have become convinced," remarked an estimable citizen of Portsmouth on Friday evening, "that steam is not an annihilator of distance only, but is an annihilator of capital also. Which reminds me of the statement of a friend who declares that 'every corporation hereabouts seems doomed except the Aqueduct Company, and that might have gone the way of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, the Eastern, the Eastern in New Hampshire, the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth, the Rockingham Mills, the Portsmouth Steam Factory and other enterprises, were it not for the fact that nature furnishes the material.'" There is food for thought in these reflections, which are certainly based on well-known facts.

"Shall we pay from the city treasury $44,000 more for the benefit of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad?" has been a much mooted problem which has aroused considerable opposition from property holders, and an adjourned meeting having the matter in hand for consideration was held at Franklin Hall on Friday evening, Hon. Marcellus Bufford presiding, with Jos. Hiller Foster, Esq., as secretary. Less than one-tenth of the whole number of legal voters in the city were present, but it was evident that considerable log-rolling like unto that which packs caucuses for selfish purposes had been done by those most interested in obtaining the desired aid for the Road. The assemblage was larger than its predecessors, including many of our most substantial citizens, whose hoary heads bore a marked contrast to the unkempt "voters" who evidently went there under instructions. The latter showed their animus by attempts to prevent free speech, and though they could understand the questions sufficiently to vote in favor of the proposed aid to the Road, every time, their non-appreciation of some of the best points made by the speakers with whom they were in sympathy, showed that they were "all at sea" when argument came to the fore. "It is curious to notice," said one citizen to another, "how eager men who have no property are to vote away the property of their neighbors." "Yes," was the reply, "it is an indication of a spirit worthy the Commune!" Among men of property present there was a fair division of opinion, however, those having no interest in securing the aid having evidently considered the interests of the city identical with their own, while they differed as to the best methods of arriving at the same results. The advocates of the policy that it would be far better to lose the original investment of $300,000 in the P. & D. R. R. now, rather than risk $44,000 more, and possibly lose all in a year or two, were outspoken in favor of defeating any further appropriation, while those whose reflections had led them to believe that the original investment was not wholly lost, and that the city treasury might be "cured by a hair of the dog that bit it," were equally strenuous in the maintenance of their views. The arguments on both sides were able, and considerable information was evolved from the discussion, each speaker showing that he was on ground which he deemed secure and tenable. With the facts as presented there was good reason for the differences of opinion which divided the meeting, and so undecided were many when a vote on the pending proposition was called for, that a majority of those present actually declined to express themselves for or against the measure.

A. J. Penhallow, Esq., was given the floor, but yielded to a motion that the report of the committee of investigation of the accounts of the P. & D. R. R. be first read. The following report was then read by Hon. J. R. Reding:

Items showing the estimated cost of the road before its commencement, taken from papers on file in the city clerk's office:

Piscataqua Bridge	$110,400 00

The actual cost of the road was as follows:

Office expenses	$	591 95
Piscataqua bridge		140,476 49

There was a contract made with Washington Hayes, to construct depots at Dover Point and at Sawyer's station. He received $1800 for each of these buildings,—twelve hundred dollars in cash and six hundred dollars in stock of the road.

The following is a memorandum of the debts of the road:

Merchants Bank	$15,000 00
" "	18,000 00
Suffolk Bank	15,000 00
" "	15,000 00
Stephen Paul	330 00

Total	$100,000 00

Two of the notes mentioned above under the head of bills payable, became due on the 21st of the present month, and the other two will be due on the 21st of December.

The following is where the losses have occurred:

Land damages (above estimated)	$26,091 73
Piscataqua Bridge, including ballasting	30,476 49
Loss on Bonds	49,797 31
Interest account	23,468 28
Commissions	1,019 47
Total	$130,853 28

Much time was spent in examining vouchers, and every account was sufficiently vouched with the exception of one where three vouchers were missing. They had been inadvertently destroyed or mislaid.

The book shows that there is cash on hand to the amount of $2,813.77, which will be absorbed by the dividends due and unpaid, together with unpaid bills.

To pay the indebtedness of the road and complete depots, the company have no means on hand save the stock of the road. In building the depot at Dover, should there be any attempt to rival the Boston and Maine structure, it will require a much greater amount of money than is estimated above to successfully do it.

The agents, Messrs John R. Reding and Charles W. Bailey, received valuable assistance from the officers of the road, especially the book-keeper, Mr. A. J. Penhallow, thereby greatly lessening their labors.

The report stated that President Jones had not accepted any salary or expenses for his services or time and did not intend to.

Mark H. Wentworth, Esq., called for reading of his preamble and resolutions, which were to the effect that unless the city can obtain a renewed guarantee of the payment of the interest on the lease of the road from the new management of the E. R. R. it was inexpedient to advance more money.

The question was on the adoption of the amendment said to have been offered at a previous meeting by some "hanger-on" of the P. & D. R. R., declaring it to be the sense of the meeting that the City Councils should appropriate $44,000 as the city's share toward the payment of the construction debts of the Road. Mr. Wentworth was the first speaker, and said he appeared in self defence, having at the previous meeting been accused of misapprehending the facts by one gentleman (Mr. Emery) and of falsifying them by another person. He would simply say that he was still of the opinion that he did not misapprehend the facts. In regard to the charge of falsifying he would only say that it but dishonored the person who uttered it. [Applause.] Mr. Wentworth then read documents to prove that he had not misinterpreted the facts, the contract with the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire being the principal. He claimed that the Eastern Railroad was an actual party to the lease by the Eastern in New Hampshire of the Dover Road, receiving all the income and paying the running expenses. Since the lease was signed the Eastern had passed from the control of its stockholders and was now in the hands of the bondholders. At the previous meeting he had noticed that half of the Rockingham Bar was present to uphold the interests of the Dover Road, the lease of which to the Eastern in New Hampshire was never valid, and there would be nothing tangible in case of default of interest by the Eastern in New Hampshire on which the Dover Road could levy. The Eastern in New Hampshire had sold its whole birthright for a mess of pottage, leasing itself to the Eastern for ninety-nine years for the privilege of receiving dividends similar to those received by the stockholders of the Eastern. Mr. Wentworth didn't think that lease liable to be broken by the Eastern, as things now look. The lease of the Dover Road is not worth the paper it is printed on. The Eastern in New Hampshire is worthless. The report of the President of the Eastern shows that the expenses of running the Dover Road exceed the receipts. The time is coming when the bridge at Dover Point must be rebuilt. Time and the tide will make it a necessity. Will the Eastern railroad assume the cost of rebuilding, $100,000? The Treasurer of the Dover Road had said that the stockholders had been more than ordinarily protected by the provision by which they were to be paid individually rather than collectively their regular dividends, which reminded him of the old saying reversed that "a bundle of sticks is stronger than any of its component parts." If the Treasurer's statement were true each stick must be stronger than the whole bundle. In case of default of interest, he (Mr. W.) would like to see an individual stockholder undertaking to make the Treasurer pay a dividend.

Mr. Penhallow arose to say that Mr. Wentworth's original resolution did not entirely cover the ground. He wished to know whether the city is a party to the contract, or stockholders. The city should protect itself from damage, and now is the time to do so before becoming involved in lawsuits. [Here the brain-heelers in the rear of the hall interrupted the speaker by ill-meant applause, and Mr. P. gave way to the reading of the contract at the request of Mr. Ches. W. Bailey.]

Hon. James W. Emery called for the reading of the preamble and first resolution offered by Mr. Wentworth in order that there be no mistake. He agreed, he said, with Mr. Wentworth in everything but the statement that the Eastern had passed out of the control of its stockholders. He said this was not true so long as the interest should be paid. [Mr. W. asked him how many directors were elected by the stockholders, and it was stated that six were chosen by the bondholders and three by the stockholders. "Isn't that proof of my statement," asked Mr. Wentworth, "that the stockholders no longer control it? Now, will you tell me why the directors representing the bondholders chose a President in opposition to the desire of the directors representing the stockholders?" Mr. Emery replied that he knew of no reason.]

Mr. Emery went on to say that the Eastern is a party to the lease. They had agreed to carry out all the agreements of the Eastern in N. H., and must do so. The agreement made by the old management was amply sufficient, and no other agreement could be had. The Eastern guaranteed to keep the contract of the Eastern in N.H.; should it fail to do so then the remedy was in the law. An action at law should be commenced and a bill in equity filed against the Eastern and the Eastern in N. H., praying that the income of those Roads be set aside for payment of the interest due the P. & D. The Eastern must lose its connecting line with Maine and the East or pay the rent. It cannot afford to lose the connection, and must pay the rent. They had much better pay the $40,000 than lose this connection. More than one-half the income of the Eastern comes from beyond its own line ending at Newburyport. If this city refuses the $44,000 asked for, it repudiates the contract it made to help pay all the original cost of constructing the Dover Road, and our claim for rent is gone.

Mr. Emery was asked if the increase of the capital stock of the P. & D., which had happened twice since the contract was made, was, according to the terms of the contract, done by the mutual consent of all parties to the contract. A negative answer being given, another question was asked: "Would the Eastern in N. H. feel obliged to pay interest on the increase?" To this, Mr. Emery replied that the Road could hardly refuse, and would make a ridiculous showing in court by refusing after it had already paid interest on the increase thus far.

Mr. Emery proceeded to say that if the sum needed were voted by the cities of Portsmouth and Dover and the Eastern in N. H. should then refuse to sanction the increase, a mandamus from the court would compel them to. This city is in a position where it must in any event pay $18,000 a year for interest on the P. & D. bonds for twenty years. If the Eastern pays its interest for only three years the city will get back more than the $44,000 asked for. ["But suppose it doesn't pay any more interest?" inquired a citizen.] The probabilities are that the Eastern will pay—it must pay 3 1-2 per cent. on its debt, and its rents also. Mr. Emery had conversed with several directors of the Eastern and had been assured that there is no question that the net earnings this year will pay 3 1-2 per cent. and rents. It is prudence to advance the $44,000 needed. The fact that the Dover Road cost more than the estimate does not enter into this matter. Part of the construction debt is unpaid and the stockholders are bound. Whether the debt has been improperly caused or not, it must be paid. In all his experience, the speaker never had known any railroad built within the estimate of its probable cost.

Hon. William H. Y. Hackett followed. He declared that no suggestion which was not sound should be heeded. There seems to be a party which favors the immediate assumption of the payment of $18,000 annually, and eventually $300,000. There were some citizens who were impatient of delay in assuming this debt, and were equally indignant at any suggestion tending to save our citizens the trouble attending the forfeiture of the city's interest in the Road. Shall we throw or give away our stock and let the remainder depreciate? Individuals took stock in the Road to help the city! The Eastern Railroad is now in the hands of pretty able men, who intend to protect the interests of bondholders and stockholders alike. If the city breaks its part of the contract, the Eastern will sue the Dover Road and eventually own it. The Eastern could then control it and get a Road worth a half million dollars by paying the present outstanding debt. The action of this city in refusing to fulfill its contract to pay its share of the original construction cost of the P. & D. R. R. would reduce the amount the Eastern might otherwise be called on to pay, to the extent of $18,000 per annum for twenty years.

Gideon H. Rundlett, Esq., said that his sentiments were so well known that he would not take up the time of the meeting by a long speech, but would only say that there would be time enough to protect the interests of the city when attachments were really put on the road as threatened; and that in spite of the entire legality of the lease and all the proceedings as vouched for by the gentlemen of the bar, he would venture the prediction that as soon as the E. R. R. was ready it would find some way to break it or nullify it, and that it would not be long before it would be done. When the city voted $300,000 aid to the Dover Road it was under a law of the State allowing towns to appropriate amounts not exceeding five per cent. of each town's valuation for the aid of railroads. The amount then voted was just five per cent. of the valuation of Portsmouth, and the City Councils made a special provision that the $300,000 should not be paid until enough outside subscriptions should be obtained to secure with the city's subscription the construction of the Road without extra cost. It is a question whether the Road or the individuals who contracted the debt are responsible for its payment. This subject was an important one and had been shut off at one of the Eastern Railroad meetings on the ground that the meeting was called for a different purpose. He thought the case one which under the old personal liberty law could have been fully settled. Continuing, Mr. Rundlett asked, when the bridge at Dover Point gives way, as it assuredly must finally, as its age increases and the torrent of water pouring through daily weakens it sufficiently, does any sane man think the Eastern Railroad will or can rebuild it? In regard to the possible default of the Eastern, it must be remembered that when the Road was hard pressed last Summer, one of the first methods of reputation was this very thing, and it is evident that the interest would not have been paid then but for the personal efforts of some one in the interest of the P. & D. He moved to amend the amendment by inserting the word "not" before the word "expedient."

Mr. Penhallow arose to speak and was again interrupted by the stamping of feet. Judge Bufford requested that he be heard, and Mr. B. succeeded in saying that he deemed the meeting advisory only. Persons favoring the increased aid to the Road had a definite plan, while those opposed had none to meet the exigencies of the case. When a ship at sea was dismasted the most feasible plan to clear the wreck of its hampering—[Here the opponents of free speech began their "tramp" again, and Mr. P. on being asked by the President if he wished to appeal to the meeting for liberty to be heard, replied "No, sir, I do not wish to appeal to the meeting," and sat down.

Mr. Rundlett's motion to insert the word "not" before "expedient" was rejected by a rising vote, 39 to 72, and the substitute offered for the original resolution was carried by a vote of 71 to 40. It reads as follows:

"Resolved, That it is expedient for the city to appropriate $44,000 in further aid of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad."

The meeting then adjourned sine die. It is probable that the subject will be brought up for decision at the meeting of the City Councils next Friday evening.

SUPREME COURT.

Saturday, November 25th.

In the case of Rider vs. Pickering, the argument for the plaintiff was made by Mr. Hatch on Saturday morning. This, it was said, was the third trial of this case, it having been once tried before a referee. A verdict of a jury was once before given to the plaintiff.

The case was this time on a review. It appeared that Pickering had a law suit founded on a claim in the right of his wife against F. W. DeRochemont of Newington. Upon the trial of this case, it became necessary to have copies from the public records concerning C. B. DeWitt's estate in Demarara, South America, where Mrs. Pickering many years ago resided. Pickering happened into Mr. Rider's store, and seeing the name "Demarara" on a hogshead, stated he desired to send there for the copies. Rider said he could get the copies through a business acquaintance in Boston; and this suit is to recover for disbursements and services by Rider in conferring with correspondents of Demarara people and obtaining the copies required. The papers were received through Stearns & Co., and delivered to Pickering's attorney at the Court House while the case was on trial. Rider says he paid $195 for these papers. This was in 1869; and the case has been on the docket since the January term, 1873. The case was given to the jury at eleven o'clock, A. M., and at half-past four o'clock they came in, and the foreman, Mr. Wm. P. Bennett, stated that they could not agree, and they were discharged. It was stated that they stood eight for the defendant to four for Rider. Hatch and Page for Rider; Small for Pickering.

The jurors were all discharged for the term.

This (Monday) forenoon the Court comes in to hear motions.

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, November 24th.

James Patterson, Edward Everett, James Bentley, Joseph Esemring and John Butler, tramps, were sent to Brentwood for three months; costs $6.90 each.

George W. Brown, drunk, $9.90, fine and costs.

John McCarthy, drunk, fine and costs $9.90. Same, obstructing police officer in the execution of his duty, bound over in $100 for trial at a higher court; committed to jail in default of bail.

Horace and William Tetherly, two young fellows from Eliot, Me., were charged with stealing rigging from three of Valentine Doane's schooners. Case continued to Monday.

JOTTINGS.

Now, if just enough cold weather would come to give us skating on Thanksgiving Day! The Rink has been thoroughly prepared for the approaching season, and is in fine working order—all but the ice, which somewhat essential ingredient has not yet been provided to the extent desired. The surface of the pond will be constantly kept smooth, and snow promptly removed, so that the skating population will have a splendid opportunity of healthful enjoyment this winter. We congratulate the boys and girls on the opening of the Rink: parents will congratulate themselves that they can send their children to this safe and agreeable resort, instead of having them periodically drowned in the mill ponds. Tickets as usual,—at Preston's Drug Store.

Messrs. Morse & Ilsley sold by auction on Saturday ten shares in Rockingham National Bank at $67.25 per share (par $50); Mechanics and Traders' Bank stock brought $111.50 per share; Portsmouth Trust and Guarantee Company, $100 per share.

Miss Blanche Rousseau, who is well remembered in this city, was lately married in London to Lieutenant N. E. Niles, United States navy.

The Kearsarge Mills on Saturday shut down for a week.

The Boston Globe in a notice of Mrs. J. Frank Giles' English Opera Company says "they gave the first representation, in this vicinity, of George A. Veazie, Jr.'s new Opera, called "The Waif, Blanche." The work is of a pleasing composition, and the text is fresh and pure, as well as humorous. The performance last night deserves high praise. Mrs. Giles won much favor by her rendering of the music of her part, especially in the song, "No home can be dearer," and the duet with Mr. Elwood, "Rosy apples, crimson peaches," etc. The trio, "Good-night," by Messrs. Elwood, Howard and Anson, also, was deservedly applauded, and the audience generally appreciated the performance highly."

Centaur
Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will cause soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and cure the worst form Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment
is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

THE Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies HAD failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SHARLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Sweeney or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. It regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
—IN THE—
UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 39 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accomodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.00.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected in Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and from that you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have no fear I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure all aches and pains, caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. Physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure pain they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1876.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they are used. I shall recommend those to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. F. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," now is the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. EDMUND BURKE, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Election Notes.

And now Wade Hampton, who led the rebel forces in the field, and who appropriately heeded the democratic ticket in the election, comes out with a proclamation, advising his adherents to orderly conduct, to patience, to submission to the laws. He pathetically advises the men who fired on defenceless negroes at Hamburg not to attack the United States troops at Charleston and Columbia. We do not think they will at present. They may be bad enough; they are not yet strong enough for that. Even with the numbers and discipline of the rifle clubs, and with the New York State arms supplied to them by Gov. Tilden at what the shopkeepers call "an enormous sacrifice," will hardly make such a movement prudent at this time.—Providence Journal.

It is astonishing that, in all the discussion upon this subject, it has not been observed that the Constitution itself makes the Senate of the United States the sole and final judge in all conceivable disputes as to an election of President. For no person can discharge the Executive duties without recognition by that body which, with the President, is constitutionally vested with a share of Executive power. The President (see Article II., SECTION 2) cannot make a treaty with a foreign power without the consent of the Senate; he cannot appoint, without the consent of that body, any ambassador, other public minister or consul, judge of the Supreme Court, or any other officer of the United States. He cannot even appoint a member of the Cabinet, unless the Senate recognizes his right to do so, and approves his selection. In event of any dispute between the two Houses, a person claiming to be President of the United States could not begin to exercise any executive functions whatever unless recognized by the Senate as the rightful President. The House has no such power. The Senate alone, sharing the Executive power, and being a permanent body, must make the final decision whether a person claiming to be President has been duly elected, and is actually entitled to that position.—N. Y. Tribune.

As a gentleman living in the Bristow neighborhood, in this county, was coming to Bowling Green on Wednesday last, he met an aged negro on the pike, with a blanket and musket on his shoulder, who seemed to have the air of an emigrant about him. He accosted the darkey with, "Which way, uncle; where are you going?" The old man looked at him and said: "Well, Tilden is elected, and they are gwine to put us back into slavery. I'se gwine to Ohio."—Bowling Green (Ky.) Democrat.

Ex-Gov. Palmer of Illinois does not anticipate anything like a civil war, notwithstanding the gory attitude of the democratic press. He says either party in the North will submit to injustice and to be cheated out of the Presidency before it will fight. Mr. Palmer has evidently been long enough in the democratic party to understand that its bark is immensely more terrible than its bite.

The Chicago Journal makes a good hit when it says "this is a canvas-back election."

Ohio has not yet seen the last of the inflation mania. A report comes from Columbus that the banner of the rag baby is to be raised once more there next year. A tripartite agreement is said to have been made by Mr. John G. Thompson, General Ewing, and ex-Speaker Converse, whereby the democratic campaign is to be run in the interest of Gen. Ewing for U. S. Senator in place of Senator Sherman, Mr. Thompson for Gen. Ewing's seat in Congress, and Mr. Converse for Governor.

A Washington dispatch to the Boston Journal says: "Jorgensen, the republican candidate in the Fourth Virginia District, is here. It is evident that he had a majority of five thousand, and that the Virginia democrats have determined to count him out. This was done by a system of most ingenious and desperate rascality. There are some sixty-eight precincts in the district. In twelve of these precincts the democratic Court Judges appointed what they called twelve republican Inspectors of Elections. In other districts the Inspectors were all democrats. The republicans themselves say that they never knew that these twelve even were republicans. The majority of five thousand was overcome by throwing out the votes of four entire counties upon the idlest pretence of irregularity in the returns. The case is still pending before an appellate returning board. The republican Committee will send Counsel Shellabarger, of Ohio, to assist Jorgensen. Counsel will also be sent to aid McComas in Maryland. The committee hope to have the House." The Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald, referring to this case, says: "Probably the grossest frauds in the whole South are perpetrated in this Virginia district by the democrats."

The democrats should not be so venomous toward the returning Board of Louisiana, which is not an outgrowth of the war, as many suppose, but a democratic institution created years before the rebellion. The eyes of the whole country were turned to it during the Know Nothing excitement of 1854, as it is now, in the election of President. The Returning Board existed then, as it does now, the child of democratic parents, enacted among the old laws of the State of Louisiana.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1876

Action of the President.

On Sunday, President Grant issued the following order to the Secretary of War:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, November 26.

To the Hon. J. D. Cameron, Secretary of War:

SIR: D. H. Chamberlain is now Governor of the State of South Carolina, beyond all controversy, and remains so until a new Governor shall be duly and legally inaugurated under the Constitution. The Government has been called upon to aid with the military and naval forces of the United States to maintain a republican government in the State, against resistance too formidable to be overcome by State authority. You are therefore directed to sustain Governor Chamberlain in his authority against domestic violence, until otherwise directed.

U. S. GRANT.

In accordance with the above order, the following was issued to

Gen. Thomas H. Ruger, or Col. H. M. Black, Columbia, S. C.:

In obeying these instructions you will advise with the Government and dispose of your troops in such a manner as may be deemed best, in order to carry out the spirit of the above order of the President. Acknowledge receipt.

J. D. CAMERON, Secretary of War.

Democratic Claims vs. Facts.

On the 12th of November, "Governor" McEnery, of Louisiana, telegraphed a detailed statement of the vote by parishes, as claimed by the democrats. The three parishes of Ascension, Assumption and Avoyelles were put down by him as follows:

Ascension, republican majority	844
Assumption, do.	23
Avoyelles, democratic majority	230
Net republican majority	637

Now we have the official report of the canvass by the Returning Board, and we are told the figures are accepted by the democrats as accurately and honestly made up. The majorities are as follows:

Ascension, republican majority	1,074
Assumption, do.	5
Avoyelles, do.	34
Net republican majority	1,113

The gain in these three counties over the claim made by Governor McEnery is 476. The democratic majority claimed by McEnery in the State was 7,859. There will not be much left after the Returning Board gets through. The democratic figures melt away too fast.

Electric Telephony.

The experiments in electric telephony, which Prof. A. Graham Bell has been conducting for several years past, have resulted in the development of apparatus by means of which the human voice, as ordinarily used in speaking, can be transmitted with certainty and ease to an indefinite distance—assuredly hundreds of miles. The contrivance is exceedingly simple, and the expense is considerably less than the cost of an ordinary Morse sounder. The application of this discovery promises to completely revolutionize the business of transmitting messages by electricity between distant points.

The latest experiments with the telephone were made Sunday, over the wires of the Eastern Railroad, that day being selected because the trials would not then be interrupted by the ordinary business of the line. Prof. Bell, President Rockwell of the Eastern road and wife, Miss Stearns, Mr. Morrison and Mr. Hubbard, besides two telegraph operators, were the occupants of the Boston office. The instruments were arranged for about a twenty-mile test, consequently Salem, about sixteen miles away, was the point at which a second telephone was fixed. Mr. Thomas A. Watson, assisted by the Salem operator, was in charge there. All those at the Boston end of the line held free and easy conversation with the Salem office, even a whisper or a loud breath being distinctly heard at either end when given at the other. A remarkable instance of the extreme delicacy and faithfulness of the instrument was shown in the fact that when Mr. Hubbard first addressed the listener at the Salem end of the line, Mr. Watson instantly recognized his voice and called him by name before replying. Instead of grounding the wire at Salem that office was made a way station, the through line extending to North Conway, 143 miles away. To give a more exacting test the Boston instrument was then attached to the Portland wire and the circuit made complete from Boston, through that city, to Salem, a distance of about 200 miles. The voice could be heard with considerable clearness after having passed over this great distance, but owing to the unfit construction of the telephones for the duty required of them (they being arranged for about twenty miles), a distinctness was not attained which would allow a conversation to be carried on. Prof. Bell is continually improving his invention, and he doubts not that he will ultimately be able to chat pleasantly with friends in Europe while sitting comfortably in his Boston home.—Post.

South Carolina.

The Supreme Court declined to issue an order giving a certificate to members of the Legislature from Edgefield and Laurens counties, refused by the Board, but stated that such members could obtain a copy of the record from the Clerk of the Court, which would be equivalent to a certificate. The five members of the Board of Canvassers, who were constructively arrested Saturday morning, reported at the jail in the evening, where they are now confined. Their names are F. L. Cardoza, Treasurer; T. C. Dunn, Comptroller-General, William Stone, Attorney-General; H. E. Hayne, Secretary of State; and H. W. Purvis, ex-Adjutant and Inspector-General.

Chief Justice Cartter, of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, who visited South Carolina at the request of the President, has returned to Washington. He expresses the opinion that the action of the Supreme Court of South Carolina in its interference with the Returning Board of that State is entirely illegal, the Court being without jurisdiction. Judge Cartter contends that the powers of the Returning Board are entirely political and not judicial.

A Columbia (S. C.) dispatch to the N. Y. Herald says the fines of the Board of Canvassers have been paid by republicans, and they are liberally supplied with all luxuries while in jail.

On Monday the Board of Canvassers were brought into court on writs, and were transferred from the custody of the Sheriff to the United States Marshal, who will probably release them on parole.

News and Notes.

A pork-packing establishment in New Haven was burned Sunday. Loss $200,000; insurance $180,000.

The wreck of the schooner Atta of Annapolis, N. S., was recently seen drifting about in mid ocean. Her bow was entirely submerged and her stern was above the surface. Her foremast was broken off near the deck. No trace of the fate of her crew could be discovered, and they no doubt have been lost. The Atta sailed from St. Martin's, W. I., on or about the 10th of July last, with a small quantity of salt for Annapolis. The wreck was in the latitude of Bermuda.

Within ten days, about 300,000 barrels of refined petroleum, worth about three and a half millions dollars, have been exported from this country to Europe.

Rev. John S. C. Abbott is slowly wasting away. He is in a very feeble state, occasionally walking about his house and sitting by the window on a fine day.

Gen. Sheridan has left New Orleans for Chicago with his staff.

Election Notes.

When the Louisiana Canvassing Board opened the returns from De Soto parish, on Saturday, it was found that the papers had been tampered with, one included being sworn to and dated Nov. 25th while the sealed registered Post-office package bore date of Nov. 18th as the time when it was received.

The official vote of Arkansas is as follows: Tilden, 58,083; Hayes, 38,669; Cooper, 211. Tilden's plurality 19,414.

Tilden's official majority in Georgia is 81,481.

The official count in Florida began on Monday, all the returns being in. The result will hardly be reached before Dec. 6th, when certificates to the Electors must be issued.

There is no sense in yelling fire before there is any smoke. The trouble just now is to find anything to make even smoke out of. No intelligent man has doubted from the first that the honest vote of each of the so-called doubtful States was republican. In spite of all the clamoring and screaming of the democrats the canvass of the vote actually cast has shown majorities for Hayes in both Florida and South Carolina. The old-fashioned frauds on both sides, which have vitiated every election in Louisiana for the past ten years, make the case there more complicated; but the existence of a legitimate republican majority in the State is hardly questioned by honest men who join intelligence to their candor.—New York Tribune.

The Providence Journal gives the following account of the performances at a democratic ward meeting in that city. "The tenth ward meeting was lively and interesting, and the interest was intensified by a little exhibition of ballot-stuffing, of which even Tweed need not have been ashamed. In voting for a candidate for Alderman, a checklist was ordered. Two hundred and one names were checked, and four hundred and five ballots were taken out of the hat, some of them en masse as they were stuffed in before the voting commenced. One candidate had fifty-one votes more than the whole number of the names checked. After this exhibition of skill, the hat and checklist were discarded, and the nominations were made by acclamation." What chance have the republicans got to beat such fellows as those?

The National republican committee have private dispatches from Florida, saying that there is no longer any doubt as to the result in that State, and that the republicans will carry the State on the face of the returns by a small majority, without throwing out any fraudulent votes.

The official vote in all the Congressional districts of New York elects seventeen republicans and sixteen democrats to Congress. The assembly consists of 70 republicans and 58 democrats. Robinson dem., has 519,848 votes for Governor; Morgan, repub., 489,385; Robinson's maj., 30,463. There is a majority of 349,964 in favor of the constitutional amendments. Tilden received 522,518 votes for President, and Hayes 489,547. Tilden's plurality 32,971.

The New York Tribune thus discourses of the action of the South Carolina Supreme Court: "On the face of the returns, there was a majority for republican electors, for democratic minor State officers, and for democratic members of the Legislature, by whom the votes for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor are canvassed. The Supreme Court, having elicited this information, manifested its intention to order, in most extraordinary disregard of legal rules or common sense, that the Canvassing Board had no power whatever to go behind the returns as to members of the Legislature and State officers, but must go behind the returns as to electors. If the board possesses judicial powers at all, as the law of South Carolina and the practice for years lead us to suppose, it possesses those powers alike as to members of the Legislature and Presidential electors. It was the belief of the board, based upon evidence officially brought before it according to law, that there had been no legal election in two counties, and it had so reported to the court. Omitting returns from those counties gave a majority to the republicans, not only for electors but for State officers and members of the Legislature. The court therefore could serve democratic purposes in one way only—by denying to the board any judicial power hitherto exercised in respect to returns for legislators, and at the same time asserting that the board had power, and that it was its duty, in respect to electors, to examine the correctness of the county returns, but not to consider whether there had been a legal election in any county. This position, all fair men must admit, seems on its face not only inconsistent and untenable, but so flagrantly unreasonable as to afford strong proof of a partisan purpose."

A meeting of the grantees of the Manchester and Ashburnham Railroad was held Saturday in Manchester, Hon. Moody Currier in the chair, but owing to the absence of ex-Governor Straw no business was transacted. The object of the road is to break up the monopoly of the Concord Railroad.

David L. Magoon, the Raymond wife poisoner, who was committed to the State Prison Nov. 7th, on a sentence of thirty years by the Supreme Court, committed suicide Sunday morning. During his stay in jail at Portsmouth he feigned sickness, but in about a week after his committal to the State Prison he begged permission to go into the shop to work with the other convicts. This was granted, and he performed his regular work, exhibiting no signs of illness till Saturday morning last, when he failed to appear in line as the convicts were marching out at 7 o'clock in the morning. He was then found lying on the floor of his cell on his face, unconscious. He was taken to the hospital, where he remained in a comatose condition till ten o'clock at night. During unconsciousness, his pulse and heart beat perfectly regular, and his apparent sickness amounted to nothing. He remained in the hospital, taking the regular European supper. Nothing was heard from him during the night. At eight o'clock next morning he ate the regular Sunday morning breakfast of baked beans and brown bread with a voracious appetite. At five minutes before 9 o'clock, a portion of the prisoners in the hospital were taken out to attend the chapel service, leaving Magoon on his bed all right; at ten minutes past 9 o'clock the watchman found him with his body lying across the bed, his hands on the floor on either side of his night bucket, which was partially filled with water. His head was in the bucket, submerged in the water, and when taken out he was dead. It is thought that his unconsciousness on Saturday morning resulted from an attempt to kill himself. He was 61 years old. His remains were sent home.

SPECULATION IN LEATHER.

On Saturday evening, shortly before six o'clock, two bipeds of the genus tramp alias sneak thief cast their optics on a number of pairs of boots hanging outside of Fay's store on Congress street, and concluded to purchase what they wanted without troubling the owner. One of the gents overhauled the boots until he found a pair bearing the number he wanted, and then made way for his fellow, who immediately followed suit, the enterprising pair then walking off down street, each with his "purchase" tucked under his arm. When opposite Hanson's Drug Store they started to run, and one of them was immediately gobbled by John Lewis, one of the democratic ex-policemen, who suspected something was wrong when he first saw the fellows each with a new pair of boots, and knew something was wrong when they started to run. Mr. Lewis took his worthless prize to the police station, followed by the usual crowd, among whom was the other tramp, who had thrown away his pair of boots and appeared interested only to see what would be done with his mate. The two usufructuaries were locked up, and gave their names as Michael Conley and John Barrett. The remainder of this thrilling tale will be found in the New York Ledger—we mean in the court reports.

FREE EVENING SCHOOL.

The Directors of the Young People's Union propose, if a sufficient number of pupils shall apply, to open an Evening School, to be held twice a week during the Winter. The school will be divided into classes of five or six pupils, with a teacher to each class. Reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic and geography will be taught. No one will be received as a pupil who is under fifteen years of age, and no one who either does or can attend the public schools. Young men and women, who would like to become regular pupils in such a school, are invited to report themselves at the Union Rooms, corner of Congress and Vaughan streets, on Friday or Saturday evening, (Dec. 1st and 2d,) between eight and nine o'clock.

POLICE COURT.

Monday, November 27th.

Horace and Henry M. Tetherly were brought up on a charge (continued from Saturday) of stealing rigging from vessels owned by Mr. Valentine Doane. Horace was bound over in the sum of $500 to appear at a higher court, and the other was discharged.

John Tobin and William Barry, charged with drunkenness, were discharged.

Michael Conley and John Barrett, for stealing boots from the front of a store, were sent to jail for four months and ordered to pay $9.18 each.

TRAPPED AT LAST.

On the day of the Jubilee ball at the Coliseum, in Boston, in October, 1872, a man passed a counterfeit $20 bill for a ball ticket to William P. Comee, then clerk at the Revere House. In December of the same year considerable counterfeit money was passed in New Hampshire by one William Johnson, and he was traced to Boston, where he passed in part payment for a horse which he had purchased of William Dodge of New Boston, in this State, a counterfeit $100 bill. William Johnson was at this time arrested and brought to New Hampshire, where he was held for passing counterfeit money, and furnished bail, his brother, one Milledge W. Johnson, then keeping a milk depot on Cambridge street, Boston, obtaining parties to furnish the bonds.

This Milledge W. Johnson was then arrested on suspicion of being the man who passed the bad bill on Comee, was fully identified and turned over to the United States authorities, by whom he was indicted, and gave bail in the sum of $5000, which bail he forfeited, and fled, the bonds being subsequently found to be worthless. In the meantime his brother, William Johnson, had fled and forfeited his bail in New Hampshire. One of his bondsmen, however, Woodbury M. Locke, of this city, pursued him, and, after a severe struggle, caused his arrest in Nova Scotia and his extradition. He was subsequently tried in New Hampshire, convicted and sent to Concord State Prison, where he now remains.

Col. J. Horace Kent took charge of the United States Secret Service for the New England District, in 1874, and among other duties was especially charged with hunting up and bringing to trial Milledge W. Johnson. Mr. Kent learned that Johnson came from Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, and also learned that he had passed counterfeit money in that dominion, for which offence he was wanted there. Believing that he would not go there, he turned his attention in another direction. Johnson was traced through various cities South and West, and arrested in Chicago in April, 1875, upon a telegram of Mr. Kent's. He then gave the name of Wade to the arresting officer, but was subsequently fully identified as the needed man. He had only two weeks before been married to a respectable lady of wealth. Johnson was taken from Chicago to Pittsburg, where he was identified as having "laid down" an altered United States registered bond for $1000. His wife, then believing in his innocence, employed able counsel, and his case was not reached until February of this year. Mr. Kent was sent for, and proceeded to Pittsburg, when Johnson was tried and convicted, the case occupying several days. His counsel did not desert him, for, in time, the verdict was set aside on a technicality.

Officer Kent then made a request of the authorities at Washington that Johnson should be removed to Massachusetts for trial in the case of the $20 bill which he had passed to Comee, and on another charge of passing a counterfeit $100 bill. In May last he was brought to Boston and has remained in jail since. He was placed on trial Tuesday, the 21st, before Judge Clark, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. It is claimed by the Government officers and city detectives that Johnson has been a leading spirit among a class of confidence men, swindlers and counterfeiters, both in New England and elsewhere, and that most of his former associates have "settled" for various offences, and that he now follows them. It is reported that Johnson once procured a forged certificate setting forth that he was dead and buried, upon which certificate and affidavit he escaped a trial in Halifax for counterfeiting. He was sentenced to five years in Massachusetts State Prison, and $500 fine.

SUPREME COURT.

Monday, November 27th.

Levi F. Harlow, convicted of arson, was sentenced to seven years confinement in the State's prison.

The Court was engaged during the day, in disposing of cases on the docket. The numbers of cases assigned for the first week in January are 82, 42, 49, 85, 86, 89, 91, 93, 94, 96, 104, 105, 107, 109, and 115. For the second week, 127, 128, 129, 131, 135, 139, 144, 153, 182, 183, 185, 191, 201, etc.

At a quarter past four o'clock in the afternoon the Judge ordered Sheriff Kent to adjourn the Court to the first Tuesday of January, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon. The Sheriff made the usual proclamation with a hearty "God save the State."

A reduction of engineers' wages on the Concord Railroad is talked of.

We are requested to correct a slight error in our report of the meeting to discuss the P. & D. R. R. affair. In reference to the report of Messrs. Reding and Bailey, it was said: "The report stated that President Jones had not accepted any salary or expenses for his services or time and did not intend to." What the report did say was that Mr. Jones had not accepted any payment for his services up to this time, and did not intend to,—expenses not being mentioned.

This evening, at the Temple, Mrs. J. Frank Giles' English Opera Company will give Veazie's new Comic Opera, "The Waif Blanche." The Times speaks of a "cracked" sportsman in Ryo.

The earliest resident lawyer in Maine was Noah Emery, a native of Kittery, who commenced practice in that town in 1725 and continued nearly forty years almost the only lawyer in the State, enjoying a large practice. He was a cooper by trade, and although not educated for the Bar, was possessed of much legal acumen and accuracy. He was descended from Anthony Emery, who was a carpenter, and came to this country from Ramsey, England, with his brother John, in the spring of 1635, and settled in Kittery, where, and through Maine and New Hampshire, his descendents are numerous and many of them distinguished. Judge Nicholas Emery, for many years one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of Maine, and who died at Portland in 1848, was among his numerous descendents.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniments will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind, are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes: "For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The most three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says: "Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Swenied, Ring-bone and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in as age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which cured him. I cheerfully recommend it.

REV. G. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Mauerville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS.—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. I send send me two dollars worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Keeping Squashes.

They should be kept in a dry place. We prefer a cool one but we do know that they often keep a long time sound when they are kept in a warm place. The decayed ones should be removed, and not be allowed to come in contact with others. Farmers who grow them in quantity have a squash-house, a room set apart expressly for them, where they are as free from dampness as possible, and where a fire is kept to prevent their freezing. If only a few are to be preserved, they may be placed in closets, and elsewhere about the dwelling-house, but not in a cellar, or other damp place.—Congregationalist.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL IN THE UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman; but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him last the package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an hour since from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and I thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression now seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Spwill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP! For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who made use of it, but all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would urge every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

INCREASES THE QUANTITY IMPROVES THE QUALITY ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER. Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round. BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the latter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Fashionable Stationery.

The present styles in stationery follow English models. The paper and envelopes used for letters and notes are thick and substantial in preference to flimsy thin papers; if any ornamentation is used it is very slight; and the formula of invitations is simple English, instead of those wordy protestations interlarded with French phrases formerly in vogue. The heavy English-American papers may be either rough-finished or have a smooth surface; the former kind is called by dealers "cold-pressed" and the latter "hot-pressed." Cream white and grayish tints just off white are preferred to chalk white or blue-tinted papers. The shapes are medium and long sheets smaller than commercial note paper, and are known as ladies' letter sizes and note sheets. They open in the old-fashioned way, as the leaves of a book open, instead of being turned back from the end, and are much longer than their width, so that when folded once they fit the envelopes, which are of medium size and square shape, or else longer than they are broad. The fancy for purple and blue ink has passed away, and black is used again. The small, round-hand writing of copybooks and the indistinct running hand have had their day; the caprice now is for imitating the large angular writing of English women, and this, it is said, is taught in fashionable boarding schools. A simple and artistic monogram, or else a single initial, is placed in the left-hand corner at the top of the page.

Fashionable visiting cards are made of glaced Bristol board, and are small or of medium size. The name is engraved in small round script. Old English text is very little used, and few fac-similes of handwriting are seen on cards. The charge for engraving the plate for cards is $2. One hundred cards are furnished and printed from the plate for $1.50. Large octavo cards and square envelopes are the new stationery for short notes, regrets and notes of acceptance. They are cream or gray tinted, and have, the day of the week engraved diagonally in colored letters on the left upper corner. A box holding fifty of these cards, with envelopes to match, costs $1.50. Sometimes a small monogram is engraved in the right upper corner, or else the address is there. Small boys and girls have their visiting and birthday cards, and even for infants of a month old are tiny cards scarcely an inch long upon which doting grandmamma has had the name of Baby Belle engraved.

Invitation cards bear simple formulas containing the fewest words necessary. But, to be in good taste, all the words must be there, without abbreviations or contractions. When the hours are denoted, they must be written out, as "From nine until twelve," and the days of the month are also written; figures are used only for addresses. Instead of the initials R. S. V. P. at the end, the plain formula is now finished by the words "The favor of an answer is requested." Wedding cards consist of a small note sheet for the invitation, the bride's card, and a smaller card with the groom's name. In small script, on the cream-white note sheet, the formula runs, "Mr. and Mrs. John Jones request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter on Thursday, April tenth, at half-past twelve o'clock, at the Church of the Ascension." If a great many invitations are issued (4000 have just been ordered for an approaching wedding), a ceremony card for admittance to the church is added. If receptions are to be given by the newly married on certain days—as Tuesdays in November—an "At Home" card bearing that announcement is enclosed, making four cards and one note sheet in the small square envelope. The ends and sides of the envelope are beaded, or else they have a tape border, and this is the only ornament. There are no monograms and no initials on these simple and elegant invitations, and no white ribbons or silver cords for tying the cards together.

Punctuate to Suit.

The following can be used for either a friend or an enemy, according to the way you punctuate it:

He is an old and experienced man in vice and wickedness he is never found in opposing the works of iniquity he takes delight in the downfall of his neighbors he never rejoices in the prosperity of any of his fellow-creatures he is always ready to assist in destroying the peace of society he takes no pleasure in serving the Lord he is uncommonly diligent in sowing discord among his friends and acquaintances he takes no pride in laboring to promote the cause of Christianity he has not been negligent in endeavoring to stigmatize all public teachers he makes no efforts to subdue his evil passions he strives hard to build up Satan's kingdom he lends no aid to the support of the Gospel among the heathen he contributes largely to the evil adversary he pays great heed to the devil he will never go to heaven he must go where he will receive the just recompense of reward.

Treatment of a Bad Horse.

A beautiful and high-spirited horse would never allow a shoe to be put on his feet, or any person to handle his feet. In an attempt to shoe such an horse recently, he resisted every effort, kicked aside everything but an anvil, and nearly killed himself on that, and finally was brought back to the stable unshod. This defect was just on the eve of consigning him to the plough, where he might work barefoot, when an officer in our service lately returned from Mexico, took a cord about the size of a common bed-cord, and put into the mouth of the horse like a bit, tied it tightly on the animal's head, passing his left ear under the string, not painfully tight, but tight enough to keep the ear down and the cord in its place. This done, he patted the horse gently on the side of the head and commanded him to follow, and instantly the horse obeyed, perfectly subdued, and as gentle and obedient as a well-trained dog, suffering his feet to be handled with impunity, and acted in all respects like an old stager. This gentleman who thus furnished this exceedingly simple means of subduing a very dangerous propensity, intimated that it is practiced in Mexico and South America in the management of wild horses. *N. South Carolina.

The U. S. troops took possession of the State House at Columbia, S. C., on Monday at midnight.

A special on Tuesday, dated Columbia, 12:30, says that such excitement has not been known there since the war broke out. Twenty thousand people are in the vicinity of the State House, yelling and hooting every time the federal soldiers appear. Every white man is bearing arms secretly, and the smallest spark would start the conflagration. In their present temper the mob would fire on the federal troops. Hampton counsels moderation, and begs the people not to call down the wrath of the government and deprive the State of its rights.

The claimants for seats from Laurens and Edgefield districts were allowed to sit in the gallery only.

The democrats at Washington were greatly excited Tuesday over a telegram saying that the South Carolina legislature had been organized by the republicans, and that Chamberlain would be inaugurated Governor before adjourning.

News and Notes.

The democrats of Boston have nominated Hon. Frederick O. Prince for Mayor.

Gen. Wade Hampton's house at Columbia, S. C., was destroyed by fire on Friday. Loss total, with no insurance. Reported incendiary.

Dick Duncan, a notorious desperado of Louisiana, Mo., escaped from the jail there, where he was confined for committing two murders, on Saturday night. On the night of his escape he murdered another man and outraged a colored woman, and was captured and hung to a tree by a mob of whites and blacks. Duncan was a white man.

Congressmen Sayler, Abe Hewitt, Sunset Cox and Salary-grabber Randall are mentioned as after the Speakership of the House. Cox, Hewitt and Randall are each "Tilden's choice."

Four persons, two men and two women, were burned to death in Chicago on Sunday night. Four blocks of buildings were destroyed.

By the overflow of the Chagres river, on the Isthmus of Panama, the Panama Railroad was so much damaged that no trains ran from the 15th of November to the 18th. In some places the embankment was washed away for a quarter of a mile, leaving the rails high in the air. The water rose thirty feet. The damage to property is immense, but no lives are reported lost.

In the Supreme Court at Salem, Mass., on Saturday, Judge Ames presiding, the hearing on the petition of W. L. Foster for the custody of his child, his wife having petitioned for a divorce, was continued. S. B. Ives, Esq., was cross-examing Mrs. Foster, and finally brought her to the point of confessing that she had no objection to living with her husband, when she fainted. For a few moments there was intense excitement in the court room. Judge Ames then arose and told the parties that they had better go home and live together in peace. He requested the friends of both parties to keep away from them, and ordered them to appear in Court on Friday next when he would further consider their case. He advised them both to use a little common sense.

The Grand Central Hotel, a leading hotel in this city, proclaims war on high prices; it is taking permanent boarders at $10 per week.—N. Y. Evening Post.

Official advices received at Ottawa confirm the report that the most terrible outbreak of small-pox ever known in the history of the Northwest is desolating Gimbie, an Icelandic and Mennonite settlement of about seven thousand souls on the east side of Lake Winnipeg. The deaths average 180 daily. No medical men are on the spot, but the Manitoba government is endeavoring to send doctors. The settlement has been quarantined, and a detachment of militia sent from Fort Garry to enforce the law. The scourge is also raging with terrible fury on the west side of the lake. The Fort Alexander Indians have been decimated; hundreds have died in settlements on the Qu Appelle river. The Indians are fleeing south toward the boundary line. The fur trade is stopped throughout the Northwest by order of the authorities.

The President of the British Iron Trade Association states that a large proportion of the furnaces are out of blast, and a still larger proportion of the forges and mills for the production of malleable iron are closed. Thousands of workmen have been discharged, and the wages of those retained have been materially reduced. The distress is the greatest in the rail-making districts of South Wales and North of England; but it is also very great in Staffordshire, the midland counties and Scotland. The depression is not confined to England, but is felt on the Continent with almost equal severity. Germany and Belgium are the greatest sufferers. France is not so bad off, but even there trade is evidently in a critical and unsound condition.

Col. Robert G. Ingersoll says this country is "full of fellows who were invincible in peace and invisible in war."

Wonder of what nationality is the editor of the Pittsburg (Pa.) Catholic Journal? He says: "The Journal over two months ago entered upon the fourth year of its existance. Many subscribers owe for three years; still more for two, and we wish to remind our patrons that our terms are strictly in advance."

The schooner Henry W. West of Beverly, Thomas Peach, master, is in from Grand Banks with 600 quintals of fish. Captain Peach reports that he was obliged to come home, as he had lost nearly all his cable in consequence of a large whale becoming entangled in it. The vessel was at anchor, and it seems that by some means the whale got the end of the cable nearest the anchor twisted around his tail, and in his efforts to free himself became securely entangled. The crew had no intimation of the trouble till the vessel was suddenly towed through the water at the rate of ten or fifteen miles an hour for several miles. The whale lifted himself entirely out of the water several times, and at length broke the cable and freed himself. About 140 fathoms of cable were lost. Had the monster had the use of his tail he would probably have done serious damage to the vessel. This is one of most remarkable instances of the kind, as old fishermen who have been to the Banks all their lives, say that they never knew of such an adventure before.

"The ballot in the hands of the freedmen may yet preserve the jewel of liberty to the diadem of the Republic."—Abraham Lincoln.

Election Notes.

The official vote of Michigan is: Hayes, 166,534; Tilden, 141,095; Cooper 9060; Smith, Prohibition, 767; Hayes' majority over all, 15,612.

Why should not Tilden have a democratic count showing a large popular majority? East Feliciana, for instance, which has always been good for 1500 republican majority, this year can muster only three votes for Hayes. The equally strong republican county of Lowndes, in Mississippi, did not poll a single republican vote on the seventh inst.; the 2000 majority of Yazoo county is reduced to two votes, and another with a large colored majority returns but thirteen Hayes votes. It was the festive shotgun and bull whip which won S. Jones Tilden and reform these "popular majorities."—N. O. Republican.

What sort of a body the South Carolina Supreme Court is, is a question in which everybody just now is interested. What to think of Chief-Justice Moses most people know. The gallant fight which Gov. Chamberlain sustained against his notorious son, and the equally notorious Whipper, has not been forgotten. Judge Willard is less known. It is of interest, however, to remember that his brother is Mr. Edwin K. Willard of this city, who has been very lately sent to South Carolina by the democrats to "fix things." Mr. Edwin K. Willard was formerly the senior partner in the firm of Willard, Martin & Co. The special partners of that firm were Henry N. Smith and William M. Tweed. It has been reported that Judge Willard himself was formerly a partner of Peter B. Sweeney, but of this we are not so sure.—N. Y. Tribune.

There is evidence that the democrats have been tampering with ballots in several of the counties of Florida, to change the result; but the republicans are apprised of all their doings, and will counteract them. In face of the returns, the majority for Hayes is undoubted.

Col. Thomas B. Keogh, Chairman of the republican State Committee, has filed a protest with Gov. Brogden against the announcement of the vote of North Carolina for Presidential electors. He enumerates twenty-three counties to which he objects, on the ground of illegal returns. He claims that the throwing out of these counties will, with the omission of eight counties not heard from, give the State to Hayes.

California official returns give Hayes 78,608, Tilden 75,841.

The Empire State has justified its name. It polled for President more than one million votes.

Did you ever stop to think of it? By ignorance, crime and mob violence Tilden's majority in the South is 461,900, and Hayes' only 6,000. It takes a country bankrupt in educational facilities to roll up giant democratic majorities for reform.

In Louisville a gambler has just been sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and to pay a fine. We send our gamblers to the State Senate.—N. Y. Tribune.

Hayes' majority in the Northern States amounts to 308,432. Tilden's majority amounts to 50,412. If the National Government had obliterated State lines in the South after the rebellion, and established a territorial form of Government there for fifteen years, as was proposed by some of the Northern statesmen, Hayes' popular majority would have been 258,019 and his electoral vote 257.

Congressman Frye of Maine publishes a letter denying that the Congressional Committee of which he was a member with Messrs. Hoar and Wheeler condemned any of the findings of the Louisiana Returning Board in 1874. He says: "I think I can safely assert that Messrs. Wheeler, Hoar, and Frye never found any fraudulent acts or purposes on the part of these gentlemen, nor did they or either of them ever assert privately or publicly, in conversation or in the official report, that there was any want of personal or official integrity in the performance of their duty. On the contrary, I am confident that the evidence inspired them with a profound respect for the members of the board, and satisfied them that they did not err in their findings of fact. They made a mistake in their construction of the law, but to find them corrupt for this would equally condemn every judge of every court in the country. Gov. Wells, chairman of the board, was born in Louisiana, was an old Whig, a man of wealth, the owner of two large plantations, of 150 slaves, held socially as proud a position as any, opposed secession, was driven from his home, for a year and a half hid in the wood and swamps, was hunted by bloodhounds, his property all destroyed, his family scattered. In 1864 he was elected Lieutenant-Governor of Louisiana; in 1865 elected Governor by both republicans and democrats. He was a witness before our committee, and boldly said to the 200 rebels present, 'You called me a jayhawker when I was in the swamps, but I had rather be known forever as a jayhawker than a traitor.' He is a man of undaunted courage, of loyalty tried in the fire, of firm and determined purpose. I believe him to be a thoroughly honest man, and I know he cannot be tempted by democratic promises or driven by their threats."

By a change made Dartmouth College will hereafter have three terms, with a total of 37 weeks, in place of two terms with 39 weeks. By this arrangement the winter term of twelve weeks is again established, proving a convenience to such students as desire to teach.

Col. Whipple addressed the democracy of Lake Village at their head quarters, Saturday evening, Nov. 18th. It was in compliance with the following resolution, adopted at a meeting an evening or two previous: "Resolved, that Tom Whipple be invited to come up and give us one of his old histers Saturday evening." He did it.

The republican flag-staff in Colebrook has been twice cut down by some miserable scamp. If that scamp lived in Lousiana he would be shooting republican voters from some safe ambush.

In the Manchester Police Court, Monday, Henry House was arraigned for entering several residences and stealing considerable jeweiry, revolvers, etc. On each charge he was held in $500.

Mrs. Gale, who died in Manchester, Saturday, was the widow of the late Dr. Amos G. Gale, and a daughter of Richard H. Ayer, one of the most prominent men of Manchester, who died in 1853. She leaves property valued at over $100,000.

The trial of Hiram Doolittle and Helen Bourne for the murder of their illegitimate child was concluded at Keene on Monday, the woman being acquitted and the man found guilty of murder in the second degree. The evidence adduced on the trial showed the man to be of a most brutish character, and the woman a poor, feeble-minded creature.

The Dartmouth College boys are amusing themselves by blowing in the gas-pipes and extinguishing the lights in Dartmouth and Wentworth halls. A soph was caught in the act the other evening, and the Faculty decided to expel him publicly without a hearing, but reconsidered their vote and allowed him to remain on probation.

E. W. Major of Wilton, the condemned wife-murderer, has but about five weeks to live, unless the sentence of death should be commuted by the exercise of Executive elemency. It is said that Major has strong hopes of commutation, although no application has as yet been made to the Governor and Council for a hearing in his behalf.

Hon. Solomon H. Foye, republican, was elected Mayor of Dover on Tuesday by about 700 majority.

Comfort for Uneasy Stomachs.

That incomparable anti-dyspeptic cordial-carminative and appetizer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, yields comfort to the uneasy stomach with a degree of promptitude most gratifying to the victim of indigestion. The eradication of dyspepsia by the Bitters, is, of course, accompanied by the disappearance of every one of its multifarious and puzzling symptoms, among which may be mentioned as the most prominent, heartburn, flatulence, abdominal oppression after eating, and sinking at other times, palpitations of the heart, water brash, vertigo, sick headache and nausea. Hostetter's Bitters tone and regulate the various organs which assist in the processes of assimilation, secretion and evacuation, fortify the system against malarious fevers, and develop in the enfeebled system fresh stores of vitality. In efficacy, as in popularity, they surpass any tonic or regulating medicine of the age.

IF THERE IS ANY VICTIM of an eruptive malady who despairs of relief, let him abandon his despondency. So long as it is possible for him to obtain GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP he need entertain no doubts respecting the possibility of his being cured.

EXPLANATION NEEDED.

When the able report on the affairs of the P. & D. Railroad was read on Friday night at the citizens' meeting, it was noticed that a large sum—some thirty thousand dollars—appeared as charged against this city as loss on sale of the bonds issued to pay its subscription to the stock in the road. This called to mind the statement published at the time in all our papers (and never contradicted) that all of those bonds had been sold to the Portsmouth Guarantee and Trust Co. at par! And papers are found on file at the city's office confirmatory of that, and showing that the Trust & Guar. Co. "in consideration of receiving these bonds" agreed to pay all assessments on the city's stock as they became due.

Now it also appears, as will be seen by the annexed copies of the papers on file, that a large portion—presumably the whole—of these bonds were sold to the Trust Co., and it is difficult for plain people to see why the city is now called upon to make good the loss on sale of the bonds by the Trust Co. But to the papers:

Whereas the city of Portsmouth has subscribed to the stock of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, and to provide for the payment of said subscription has issued interest bearing bonds, and has sold and delivered to the Portsmouth Guarantee & Trust Co. a part of them of the par value of one hundred thousand dollars, and the said Trust Co. has agreed to pay the assessments on said subscription as they fall due to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars:

And whereas the E. R. R. in N. H. has agreed with the P. & D. R. R. to pay dividends on the said stock, from the time said P. & D. Railroad shall be completed, and the interest upon all money advanced, is also to be paid as part of the expenses of building said railroad:

Now the said P. & D. R. R. expressly promise and agree that they will pay all interest on said bonds, that should accrue up to the time that said E. R. R. should begin to pay dividends on said stock, and will indemnify and save harmless the said city from the payment of any coupons or interest on said bonds up to that time.

In witness whereof we have caused this instrument to be signed by the President and Treasurer of the corporation and the Seal of this Corporation to be affixed, this 19th day of March, 1873.

Portsmouth & Dover Railroad:

(Signed)

GEO. L. TREADWELL, Treas.

We hereby certify that the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Co. has received of the city of Portsmouth 100 bonds of said city, for the sum of $1000 each, bearing date Jan. 1, 1873, numbered from 221 to 320 and payable in 20 years from date, all with interest coupons attached; and in consideration thereof, we, being duly authorized by a vote of the directors of said Trust Co. a copy of which is hereunto annexed do hereby, in behalf of said Co. promise and agree with said city, that the said company will forthwith pay in advance to said Railroad the assessments ordered on the city's subscription to stock to amount of said sum of $100,000.

Dated this 19th day of March, 1873.

(Signed)

GEO. L. TREADWELL, President.
CHAS. H. ROLLINS, Treasurer.

Papers similar to the foregoing, excepting the word sold, are on file covering the balance of the $300,000. Now if these bonds (or any part of them) were sold—as appears to have been the case—to the Trust and Guarantee Company, and the Trust Co. had agreed (as it had) to pay for the city's stock, why should the city be now called upon to pay for the loss incurred by the Trust Co. on sale of the bonds? The bonds belonged to the Trust Co.; had it held them until now, it could have realized ten per cent. advance; would it in that case have paid the advance over to the city? Give us light. Would any intelligent citizen vote to pay additional money to make good the difference on these bonds without knowing if the city is liable? Another very interesting question may be put another time. W.

P. & D. RAILROAD.

Eds. Chronicle: In your very full and in general very correct account of the citizens' meeting on the subject of a further investment in aid of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, I am reported as saying:

"It is a question whether the road or the individuals who contracted the debt are responsible for its payment. This subject was an important one and had been shut off at one of the Eastern Railroad meetings on the ground that the meeting was called for a different purpose. He thought the case one which under the old personal liability law could have been fully settled."

I think I did not say just this. If I did the language does not clearly convey the ideas I intended to present. I meant to express a doubt that the city, having at the outset subscribed every dollar that it was allowed by the statute to invest in the undertaking, and having forbidden by resolution of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen that the stock should be paid for until sufficient subscriptions had been obtained from other sources to ensure completion of the work, could now be compelled to take a further amount of stock in the road or jeopardize its investment already made by refusing to do so. My allusion to the Eastern road in this connection was not to imply that this matter had been brought up in a meeting of that company, but only by way of illustration—to show that railroad managers may make contracts and expenditures which are not binding on the stockholders, and for which they (the managers) are personally and alone responsible. And in referring to the old individual-liability principle I said or intended to say that if the city is endangered in the manner claimed it was worse than a revival of that principle, long since abandoned, which made the stockholders in corporations responsible without limit for the debts incurred by their managers.

By publishing this correction you will oblige Yours, etc., G. H. RUNDLETT.

"TATTERED TOM."

Concerning this play, (which is to be given at the Temple on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, and again in the evening,) and the company that performs it, the Lynn Transcript of Oct. 14th says;

A large audience assembled at the Academy of Music to witness the first presentation of Mr. Lewis' dramatization of Horatio Alger's highly sensational novel bearing the above title. The story, which was intended for juvinile readers, is a strange melange of incidents, ranging from transpirations in the New York beggar's hovel to those of an up-town drawing room, interspersed with the comicalities of a jolly sea captain just returned from a voyage, and such a detective that to be appreciated must be seen. The action of the drama is good, and is so brisk as to keep up an unflagging interest on the part of an audience addicted to the sensational drama. The dialogue is fine, and in the hands of such artists, as Beattie, Christal, Donald, Hillman, Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs Hillman, it was distinctly understood and appreciated. The charming little Hillman children, for whom the play was dramatized, (two little girls, aged respectively ten and six,) captivated everyone by their fine acting. Their parts were those of two out-cast children,—one all tenderness and lovable, while the other had been so habituated to the street as to acquire not only the name but the manners of a rough but honest and kind-hearted boy. Maud developed surprising power and great naturalness, while May played the "Waif" with remarkable freedom from mannerisms; in fact it is doubtful if two such children can be found on the stage. They have acquired, at a very early age, what old professionals have worked all their lives to obtain, and they now rank among the brightest gems of the dramatic profession. "Tattered Tom" is destined to become a welcome visitor with all lovers of the drama.

JOTTINGS.

The Fourth Annual Ball of St. Mary's Benevolent Association takes place this evening in Congress Hall. Tickets $1 each. Good music and a good time will be there, and all are invited.

The charitable will be glad to learn that the ten-cent tickets for meals at the Seaman's Home will soon be for sale. Further notice will be given in a few days. In these hard times this will be pleasant news to a good many.

The first annual Ball of the Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, which is to be given in Franklin Hall on Monday evening, Dec. 11th, will be a first-class affair in every respect. The management is in competent hands, and they propose to make this the most notable Military Ball ever given in this city.

The city authorities, under the direction of Aldermen Yeaton and Bryant, are putting up a frame building, thirty-one feet by fifty, in the rear of the Court House, for general purposes. It will have eight stalls for the city horses, an office for the Street Commissioner, a harness room, and also a repair shop for the city teams. The cellar under the building is seven feet high.

In the catalogue of Dartmouth college for 1876-7 we find the following students hailing from this vicinity: Senior class, Oscar Joseph Pfeiffer; Scientific department, first class, George William Bartlett, both of this city; Scientific department, second class, George Frederic Wingate, Stratham; Junior class, John Edwin Young, Stratham; Medical department, lecture term, John Conant Stewart, York; Medical department, student, Warren Brown Maxwell, Wells.

St. Nicholas for December is the Christmas number this year, and is much larger than usual. It contains nearly one hundred pages, and more than fifty illustrations. The frontispiece, called "The Heart of Winter," is a superb engraving, representing some exquisite bits of winter scenery and life. It is one of Thomas Moran's finest drawings. J. T. Trowbridge, the great favorite of American boys, begins in this number his new serial, "His Own Master." William Cullen Bryant contributes an article entitled "The Boys of My Boyhood." Professor Richard A. Proctor, the eminent astronomer, is represented by an article entitled "A Clock in the Sky at Night." Besides the Christmas poems, the number contains a pretty poem by Celia Thaxter, and a lively and amusing one by Mrs. Dodge. It is impossible to even touch upon all the merits of the brilliant number, but those we have mentioned will show that its list of features and contributers is certainly a remarkable one.

—To amateur rhymists—A bad verse is a piece of poor try.

—The banns of marriage were recently published in Paris between the Marquis de Pregalec, aged eighty-five years, and Mlle. Valentine Herbert, aged seventeen.

—Burlington Hawkeye: The false alarm of fire on Columbia street, yesterday afternoon, was caused by a young lady, with cardinal red stockings, falling out of the back seat of an open wagon.

—The play of Western eccentric humor is shown in an anecdote that is taken from a La Crosse, Wis., paper. The proprietor of a saloon had a live turtle that was destined to give flavor to a free lunch. It was under the ice-box, and its powers of locomotion were supposed to be dormant. Two old topers were sitting by a table and mumbling over their glasses. Suddenly the turtle, which had waddled from the ice-box, encountered a mass of leather under the table, and not having time to go around the obstruction started to climb over it. The man within the boot looked down and turned pale. "Boys," he whispered, "take me home and send for a doctor. I've got 'em!"

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak-Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeneied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. I* can send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Livery men, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Getting Into a Box.

There is a story of a noble lord who gave his friend a golden snuff-box, on the cover of which an ass's head had been painted. Not much flattered by this present, and wishing to turn the tables upon the author of the joke, the recipient took out the ass and inserted the portrait of the lord. The next day at dinner, as if by accident, he put his box on the table. The lord, who wished to amuse his guests at the expense of his friend, made mention of the snuff-box and aroused the curiosity of those around him. A lady asked to see it. It was passed to her. She opened it and exclaimed, "Perfect! It is a striking likeness. Indeed, my lord, it is one of the best portraits of you that I have ever seen." The lord was naturally much embarassed at the joke which he thought was so hard upon him. While he was reflecting upon the offensiveness of it, the lady passed it to her neighbor, who made similar remarks about it. The box thus went around the table, each one expatiating upon the resemblance. The nobleman was much astonished at the course of things, but when it came his turn to look, he had to join in the laughter, and confess his friend had got the best of him.

—In Norway drunkards are compelled to sweep the streets. It is to their interest to keep the gutters clean.

—Miss Jean Ingelow is shortly described as a somewhat stout, a middle aged and agreeable woman, with a good and intelligent, but not a beautiful face.

Parsons of Gloucester, County and State of New York, Merchants, and owners of the Brig called the "Opera Sea," now lying in the Port of Portsmouth, Defendants.

In a plea of the case, to recover of said defendants the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, for divers goods, wares and merchandise before that time sold and delivered by plaintiffs to defendants and for said vessel, at their request—also, the further sum of one hundred and ninety-seven 83-100 dollars, according to the account annexed to plaintiffs' writ, dated November 30, 1875.

At this term the Plaintiffs move to amend their writ, by striking out the word "Samuel" in the fifth line of said writ, before the word "Bradford," and inserting the word "Leonard."

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d, that I was improving. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and eighty, but as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I tell the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or at any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him One Package Free of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from the Rheumatism Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I cured I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement I feel seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have free applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England!
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy elief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
—USE—
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a concentrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

Nasby's Sorrows.

Nasby is bowed down with despair. He writes to the Toledo Blade that the hearts of the citizens of the Corners are nearly broken, adding: "The iron hez entered all our soles. A nigger will be continuered in the post-offis, and I, wich am entitled to the place, will hev to live in a desultory manner all the remainder uv my life. I shel never be postmaster. Four more yeers out uv place will kill me. Before another eleckshen ther will be an unmarked grave at the Corners, and ef, perchance, there shel be a pine slab set up onto it, the inscription will be: 'Died uv a broken heart and unwarmed bowels.'" War was proposed with this result: "The war sperit lited up the face uv every man in the room with a demoniac glare. I never saw sich youninanimity nor sich a self-sacrificing sperit. 'War! war? agin the yoosurper!' wuz the cry uv every wun uv em, and ez if by one impulse they marched out uv Bascom's to the meetinhouse and organized a meetin. 'No compermise! No yeeldin?' shouted the entire meetin; 'we will die rite here, or anywhere, in defense of our rites.' 'Gentlemen,' sed I, in my capassity uv perpetyoal cheerman, 'is it your purpus to march to wunst onto Washinton, and lay down yer lives ther, or will yoo devastate the abilsha parts uv Injeany and Ohio, till sich time ez the dimocrisy uv the other States shel jine us?' 'To Washinton,' shouted Issaker; 'the Treasury is there?' 'Injeany and Ohio!' said McPelter; 'them States is rich in hosses and sich!' 'And in the suthern part uv em ther is distilleries!' sed Deekin Pogram, quietly but determinedly. Jist at this critikle moment Joe Bigler appeered at the door, and whispered to Square McGrath that hostilities mite commence to wunst, and a glorious beginnin mite be hed, for a Yoonited States Marshel, wich wuz in the visinnity iooking after some crookid whisky, hed heerd uv the proceedins, and wuz on his way ther to arrest the entire bilen for treasonable proceedins, and in a minnit the Intelligence wuz all over the house. The Avengers put their revolvers in their pokkits, and a distressin stillnis pervadid the meetin. Silence wuz broken by Issaker Gavitt. 'Parson,' sed he, 'woodent it be well enuff to destroy that roll?' I did it promptly. My presence uv mind don't often forsake me."

Spitz Dogs.

The social ravages of the Spitz dog are becoming so numerous and conspicuous, if all reports are true, that the pretty little nuisance, the pet of so many households, ought to be abated by banishment from the firesides, if not from the habitations of men. The Spitz is responsible for the invidious legislation that causes so much hardship to the canine race. He is treacherous and spiteful, and evidently poisonous by nature. Stroke his long buff coat the wrong way and the wicked little teeth are closed upon a finger with oftentimes serious consequences. It is not necessary that the dog itself should be a victim of rabies, for he is vengeful and vicious by nature. The unreasoning bull-dog or the zealous mastiff may be more successful than was Shylock in getting their pound of flesh from the unwary trespasser, and the wound will heal as readily as though the surgeon made it; but it needs no more than a scratch in the cuticle inflicted by the Spitz to excite the gravest apprehensions. These little animals are pretty, and so perhaps in some respects are asps and adders; but neither are the proper subjects upon which to lavish a surplus of human affection.—Boston Post.

—The century plant is a fraud. Instead of blooming but once in a hundred years, it is proved that it flowers when ten or twelve years of age, if cultivated.

—Harper's Bazar represents Mrs. Partington, just returned from the Centennial, and saying to an awe-stricken group, "But there! The Japanese department—I inspected it thoroughly. It suppressed my highest exhortations. Sich armistic brick a brick! Sich fans of uni—q design! Sich vases and gardeners! Sich rair articles of virtue! It beggars deception!"

—John Kay and Anna, his wife, of Cleveland, had a pet puppy, and when it died they had silk grave clothes made for it, put it in a regular casket and would have buried it in the cemetery, but the authorities objected, so the funeral ceremonies took place at their residence, during which beer and whisky were plentiful. The next day Mrs. Kay gave the mourners a chance by dying herself of beer and apoplexy.

—One of our most experienced poultry breeders, speaking of poultry in small yards, says, "A dozen fowls would do very well in a yard fifty feet square, with a little grass plot in one corner, as fowls must have grass. This space is as small as can be used for that number, and if one cannot give that space to them he had better buy his eggs and chickens, as fowls cannot be kept profitably without an area of yard room. A few fowls may be put into a smaller yard and they will lay well for a few weeks, but after a while, with the grass all destroyed, the hens will begin to lay fewer eggs and will be unprofitable. Of course, a large range is always best, but in a village one cannot do as he could on a farm. Don't forget to supply your fowls with gravel, old mortar, or ground or pounded oyster shells, as aids in the formation of eggs."—Exchange.

Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1876

South Carolina.

The South Carolina legislature organized Tuesday by the choice of E. W. M. Mackey as speaker of the house, and Gen. Swails as president pro. tem. of the senate.

The democrats of the house withdrew in a body, because of a refusal to admit the democratic members from Laurens and Edgefield. The republicans, having a quorum in the house, proceeded to business. The democratic senators remained, as the republicans had more than a majority without them, and nothing could be gained by withdrawing. The democrats subsequently convened in Carolina hall and were sworn into office by Judge Cook, and will claim recognition. Sixty-four democrats and two republicans participated in the proceedings. Each party will claim of the secretary of state the returns of the vote for governor. Articles of impeachment will be presented by the republicans against Judges Moses and Willard.

Florida.

The Florida Returning Board on Tuesday canvassed the returns from all the counties in the State with one exception, and the result appears to indicate the election of three democratic electors, two by five and one by three majority. One republican is chosen by a majority of one vote. There are several counties to be contested, which may entirely change the complexion of affairs from what the present returns seem to show.—Advertiser.

The Globe despatches say the State is close, but the face of the returns give Hayes 119 majority.

The Post's despatches give Hayes a majority of 42, but (of course) claim that "fraud did it."

The State Canvassers, of Florida, comprising the Secretary of State, the Comptroller, and the Attorney-General, are none of them Northern men, Secretary McLinn having been born in Tennessee, Comptroller Cowgill in Delaware, and Attorney-General Cocke in Cuba. Mr. McLinn and Mr. Cowgill have always borne the highest character for integrity and honor, and not a word can be said against them by any party in any relation of life. They represent the republicans on the Board. Mr. Cocke, the democratic member of the Board, was appointed to his present position as Attorney-General by the late Governor Hart out of sympathy, he being in reduced circumstances, and professing to be a republican. Very soon after his appointment his conduct was such that Governor Hart was compelled to request his resignation. Cocke intimated that he would comply if the request was put in writing. It was put in writing, and Cocke then asked that the Governor should give his reasons. These were given in full, and Cocke closed the correspondece by refusing to resign. After Governor Hart's death, and when Lieutenant-Governor Stearns succeeded to his office, all the other members of the Cabinet tendered their resignations, but Cocke hung on and still continues to cling to his office, although he and the Governor have not been on speaking terms for months.

A. Lee Apthorp, clerk of the Canvassing Board of Florida, has certified that the returns are all in except from the county of Dade, and that the result from the face of the returns aggregates as follows: Humphries, repub., 24,328, Holden, repub., 24,328, Pearce, repub., 24,324, Long, repub., 24,323, Call, dem., 24,285, Young, dem., 24,284, Hilton, dem., 24,283. Bullock, dem., 24,282. The highest democratic candidate lacks 39 votes of being chosen.

Louisiana.

A New Orleans special to the Globe says the Returning Board began taking testimony on the 28th in regard to the intimidation cases. The first witness was Eliza Pinkston of Ouachita Parish; she testified that her husband was taken out of bed by a body of armed men, who were not disguised, and all of whom she had identified and recognized. Her husband was shockingly mutilated and then shot to death for attending a republican meeting and cheering for Hayes and Wheeler. Her child was murdered while in her arms; she, the witness, was hamstrung and had her thigh ripped open, her throat cut, and she was shot. It seemed miraculous how she lived, but she had sought the protection of the Board and was brought hither under a guard.

The New York Times special says: During Mrs. Pinkston's pitiful recital of her wrongs, her husband emasculated and then killed before her eyes, of her babe whose throat was cut in her arms, of her own gashed breast and limbs, and finally the outrage of her person by two white democrats, Ex-Governor John M. Palmer of Illinois leaped from his chair, and said, in wrath, "If this story be false those who prepared it for this poor woman should be hanged; but if, as I firmly believe, it is true, the wretches who can perpetrate such atrocities should be executed without mercy. I will spend ten thousand dollars to ferret out this case. It looks true. This poor woman has certainly been cruelly wronged. The question is broader now than President making. It is one of humanity. If she has told the truth Gen. Sheridan should come back at once and hold with a grip of iron a people who can see such infamy without remonstrance, even in their public prints." Gov. Palmer was greatly excited while making these remarks, and astounded the Louisiana democrats, who tried in vain to pacify him. Gen. George B. Smith, of Missouri, also exhibited much excitement, and turning upon the local democrats said, "you have deceived us." Subsequently Lyman Trumbull, who was absent from the room during the woman's recital, flatly concurred with Gen. Palmer. The demoralization of the democrats here is complete; not only because of the facts disclosed, but because of the names of leading democrats who are exposed in detail as murderers and ravishers. Other witnesses, men and women, who have cruelly suffered, are yet to take the stand.

Election Notes.

A Washington special to the Graphic on the 28th announced that Gov. Kemper of Virginia had given a certificate of election to Jorgensen, republican candidate for Congress in the Fourth District.

The Rhode Island Legislature in special session on Friday will elect a Presidential Elector in the place of George H. Corliss, United States Centennial Commissioner, who is held by the Supreme Court of the State to be disqualified.

As the result of a partial investigation by a member of the National Republican Committee, six democratic Electors are found, in his opinion, to be disqualified; two of the number from Missouri, and Wycliffe of Louisiana, are disqualified because their disabilities have not been removed, they having participated in the rebellion; the other three are disqualified by holding Federal offices, unless they resign, and thus become eligible; of these three two are United States Commissioners, one in New Jersey and one in North Carolina, and the third is United States Commissioner for the Centennial Exhibition from Virginia.

New Jersey's official vote: Hayes 103,115; Tilden, 115,960; Tilden's majority, 11,945. A protest having been entered by the republicans against a certificate being issued to Williamson, one of the Tilden electors, on the ground that he is ineligible, the returning board decided that they had no authority to consider the point.

Minnesota's official vote: Hayes, 72,962; Tilden, 48,799; Hayes' majority, 24,163.

Indiana's official vote: Tilden, 213,526; Hayes, 207,971; Cooper, 9533. Tilden's plurality, 5552; Tilden's minority, 3981.

U. S. Senator Ranson, of North Carolina, whose term expires in March next, was re-elected on the 28th.

While Hayes's majority in Florida on the face of the votes, is forty-three, his friends in that State claim to be able to show that he is justly entitled to enough more to give him six hundred over his competitor.

Let not our distinguished Northern visitors, or the democracy, or the country forget that the harsh report made last year by the Hoar committee against the Returning Board was because the latter rejected the majorities claimed by the democrats in five or six parishes—notably Rapides, Lafourche, St. Martin, Assumption, Iberia and Terrebonne—and declared the republican candidates elected. And that this year—the first subsequent opportunity—the republicans have triumphantly carried all of these disputed parishes, thereby completely vindicating the judgment and fairness of the Returning Board, and condemning to everlasting condemnation the old Hoar report and the democratic claims.—New Orleans Republican.

She writes from Vassar College, and she says: The political complexion of this institution is decidedly republican. There are 175 for Hayes, 40 for Tilden, four for Peter Cooper and one for General Jackson, dead or alive. The other evening the 175 Hayes girls took a suit of clothes belonging to a man servant, stuffed it with straw, named it Samuel J. Tilden, and then burned it in effigy. We felt justified in committing this act for the reason that a man who has been willing to travel life's pathway for sixty years with $6,000,000 in his pocket and never offer to divide his joys and sorrows with a wife never ought to have anything to do with the Goddess of Liberty in a Presidential capacity. A bachelor should never be President. A man who has never loved a noble woman should never rule a nation. A man who never felt the kindly impulses of a father until he adopted Hendricks' rag baby is unworthy of the homage of a progressive people.

It weighs heavy upon Governor Tilden after having spent three millions and many sleepless nights in the canvass to discover that he is one vote short. It is the last straw that breaks the candidate's back.

There are no traitors, no revolutionists, no secessionists in the republican party. While the hot-heads of the democracy are counseling armed resistance to the inauguration of Hayes not a word of hostile sentiment has escaped the lips of an intelligent republican the land over. They are quiet and calm, but underneath that quietude and calmness there is a firm determination to inaugurate the man who is honestly elected.

"We will have Tilden or fight," exclaimed an irate democrat. "Take him," said an old white-haired patriarch, "take him, for nobody else wants him. He is in the market now, for Miss Lillian Morse has relinquished her claims on him. George Francis Train don't want him, neither does Dr. Mary Walker nor Susan B., nor do the dear people. Nobody wants him, I say, because he wants one electoral vote of being President."

Hon. L. C. Carpenter, of Columbia, S. C., received through the express a snug parcel. Upon taking off the wrapper there was a box, nicely made, with top screwed on; it was about six by eighteen inches in size. Upon opening it, which was done using all possible precaution, it was found to contain a coffin, just about fifteen inches long, and in it a piece of hemp rope. This was very suggestive, certainly. Mr. Carpenter, a native of Windham county, Conn., was a republican candidate for Congress at the recent election.

Ex-Gov. Wells of Louisiana.

The New Orleans correspondent of the Cincinnati Times, writing of the Returning Board, says of its chairman:

Governor Wells is fifty-six years of age. His hair and beard are as white as snow. He is of medium height, firmly and compactly built, and looking as though he was "holding his age" well. He is plainly but neatly dressed, and his only whisker is a square white tuft upon the chin. The impression that his manner makes upon a stranger is that he is a man who has strong convictions, and will fight for them to the end. He appears to be the kind of a man who will fear nothing and die for an idea. I never saw a face that expresses those qualities so plainly. Every line denotes indomitable courage, unwavering determination, and there is an utter absence of any characteristic to represent in his constitution the knowledge of fear in any form. The jaws are square and massive, the forehead broad, and the heavy brows projecting over the cool, calm gray eyes that look you squarely in the face. The mouth is a straight line, the lips pressed firmly together. When the face is quiet and the deep furrows running down the cheeks from the sides of the nostrils add to the appearance of unconquerable will and fixedness of purpose, that is the whole countenance or will as the manner of the man indicates. His record is that of a man who fears nothing, and steps out of the way for no man when once he starts toward an object. That is the kind of a man who is at the head of a little party of men who, perhaps, will have one of the most important duties to perform that was ever entrusted to five men.

I said: "Suppose, Governor, the Board decide, after investigation, that Hayes has carried the State, as I believe he has by an honest count of the honest vote, and you announce that decision, and that the republican Electors are entitled to their credentials from the Governor, would you not be afraid of personal violence from the enraged people?"

Mr. Wells looked me calmly in the eye and replied:

"Young man, I never was afraid of anything, but I would not be surprised if some of the more turbulent and unreasonable of our people would feel like doing something desperate. However, that is a personal danger and of little account; our duty is national and momentous. That we do our duty is of the mightiest consequence to the whole country; that one or two of us get shot for doing it is not of moment to the Nation. But I don't anticipate any such trouble."

—There is a mine of ferro-manganese in Barton county, Georgia, which is more valuable than Consolidated Virginia or Comstock. It is the only one in the United States, and the product is used in converting iron into Bessemer steel. It is estimated that the mine is worth in the neighborhood of $90,000,000.

Strong Nerves an Attainable Blessing.

There are many who have never known the blessing of strong nerves, having been born with weak ones. Those who have, and through disease or some other cause, have suffered a loss of nerve power, can, by contrast, more fully appreciate the magnitude of that loss. The true way to repair it is to invigorate the system through the medium of improved digestion, secretion, and the establishment of a regular habit of body, three results invariably accomplished by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the thorough conversion of the food into pure, nourishing blood, from which the nerves, in common with every other part of the bodily economy, gain vigor, the grand prerequisite of health. The great objection to stimulants and narcotics is that they not only exert no tonic influence, but are always followed by a painful reaction. Such is far from being the case with the Bitters, the primary action of which is most salutary, and whose after effects are beneficial in the extreme.

JOTTINGS.

Thanksgiving Day, to-day.

No CHRONICLE, to-morrow.

Only twenty cents for a Thanksgiving dinner of roast turkey at the Seaman's Home Restaurant, to-day!

The Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. E. G. Peirce, Jr., will have a drill at the Plains this afternoon at three o'clock, in full uniform.

This afternoon and evening, at the Temple, "Tattered Tom" will be presented by Ford's Theatre Company. See advertisement. The curtain will rise on the afternoon performance at three o'clock; admission, for adults 25 cents, for children 15 cents.

For a Thanksgiving dinner for the county paupers, and the noble army of tramps, drunkards, etc., at the County Farm at Brentwood, generous provision was made, some of the items being as follows: two hundred pies, twenty big plum puddings, one hundred and fifty pounds of turkeys, one hundred pounds of chickens, onions, potatoes, bread, etc.

Market square looked alive on Wednesday. It was fairly crowded with farmer's wagons loaded down with turkeys and chickens, loads of hay, buyers of Thanksgiving-dinner materials, etc. Turkeys sold at from twenty to twenty-three cents a pound, chickens at fifteen cents a pound, geese at twenty cents a pound, ducks at $1.25 a pair. The poultry offered was mostly of excellent quality.

The fourteen prisoners at the jail are to have an old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner with "fixins" to-day, at the hands of Sheriff Kent.

Col. Russell H. Conwell will deliver the second lecture in the Independent Course at the Temple on Tuesday evening next. Subject, "Lessons of Travel." Col. Conwell needs no introduction to the people of Portsmouth, his reputation as a brilliant and eloquent orator being already established.

We have received from Oliver Ditson & Co., "My dearest Heart," a very popular song by Arthur Sullivan; "Wayfarers," by J. R. Murray, a charming sacred lyric, as is "They're beckoning me," by Lyle. Also the bright "Emma Polka," by Bergendahl; very graceful "Bright Butterflies," by Lange, who is always good, and "Good Morning," an instructive piece by Low.

From the Earth to the Moon. We have just received this new book, by Jules Verne, the famous author of "Around the World in Eighty Days," etc. It is a most interesting, indeed exciting, story of a remarkable attempt to hurl a huge hollow projectile containing three persons, viz: Barbicane, Nicholl and Ardan, to the moon! Like all of Verne's works, its pages are charming reading. Although the ordinary price of this book is $2, yet the Lakeside Library edition now before us is sold for only ten cents, complete and unabridged! For sale by all Newsdealers, or sent postpaid by the publishers, Donnelley, Loyd & Co., Chicago.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

P. & D. R. R.--SOME MORE.

It is to be regretted that the citizens' meeting to consider the subject of allowing the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad ring to again invade the city treasury, really afforded no expression of the people upon the contemplated outrage. Out of considerably more than two thousand voters not more than three or four hundred assembled, and of this number only one hundred and ten voted upon the issue. Such apathy upon a question of such vital importance to the interests and financial well-being of the city is passing strange. Yet I state only the truth when I say that the citizens, three or four to one, are really opposed to any further expenditure on the part of the city on this worthless project—indeed, that outside of the ring and their counsel, with the men they in one way and another control, and the corps of railroad deadheads, the citizens are almost universally opposed to it on its merits. But they have been so persistently plied with the gambler's plea that it is necessary to venture more to recover what has been lost, that they have been made to hesitate lest they may be in error. As though that which is absolutely gone can be restored by sinking more upon top of it. It is only upon this desperately hopeless policy, I say, of recovering the lost in this case, by losing more, that any citizen outside of the ring would for a moment think of sinking another dollar in this vortex.

Nevertheless, the meetings and discussion, with the report of the investigating committee, have done good in the way of opening the eyes of the citizens to the magnitude of the outrage which has been perpetrated upon them. Seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars expended in constructing ten or eleven miles of railroad in a level country, or $75,000 a mile, and this without furnishing a single article of rolling stock or building a depot—what ability in railroad constructing! $31,000 for dumping rocks into the river to hold a bridge that had nothing else to secure it—what engineering skill! and $14,000 for this same engineering! $50,000 sacrifice on the bonds of two cities whose credit ought to have stood at par in any market, and did so stand until broken down by this railroad ring—what eminent financial ability! And so on. And now a demand for a hundred thousand more by way of capstone and climax to all this.

From all this outlay the city has received no advantage and can receive none. Nor has it any value or security for its money spent. The report of the investigating committee developed the fact that the lease from which interest is at present derived is already broken and valueless, and that the road is only run at the pleasure of the lessees, to be abandoned at their will. It was built in the interest and by command of the bankrupt Eastern Railroad, as a means of beating the Boston & Maine Road, and has failed of its purpose. Its lessees have failed, and as it costs two or three times its income to run it of course it will not be run long.

This matter of a further endowment of this worthless concern with the city's money is now in the hands of the gentlemen of the City Council. It is to be hoped they will act deliberately and cautiously in the premises. I imagine the case is this—that the men who involved the city in the sinking undertaking have contracted debts which they had no authority to create and for which they may be personally responsible, and they desire very much about this time to unload this responsibility upon the city and go "scot free." Perhaps it would be generous to let them do so, in view of the great favor they have rendered the city in already involving it in $300,000 of debt without charge for their services! But would it be just to the city? Then, too, they want to be entrusted with a further amount to indulge in some more railroad building. Of course their desires in this respect ought at once to be granted, so great have they shown their skill and aptness in this work to be.

Seriously, I repeat, the subject is now before the City Council for consideration and action. The project was grossly wrong in its inception and prosecution as violative of the property rights of the citizen, and cannot but be a perpetual burden upon the city. I trust the gentlemen of the Council will look upon it in the light of the great obligation in which it has already involved the city, from which no return can be hoped for, and of the legitimate wants and requirements of the city, and that they will think many times before the city treasury is again unbarred to an outside ring to squander the city's resources at will.

CITIZEN.

A BUSINESS MAN.

A fellow named Charles Keating has been sent to the House of Correction for three months by a Salem, Mass., court, for obtaining money under false pretences. Calling himself "Capt. Gardner," he contracted with a sailmaker to make a new suit of sails for "his vessel," and then borrowed $5 of the sailmaker. "Capt. Gardner" then effected a contract for calking the deck of his vessel, and tried to borrow another $5 of the calker, but didn't get it. He then left Salem for Newburyport, where he tried on the same game, but was arrested and returned to Salem. A year ago he got $5 from a Newburyport sailmaker in the same way; and it is said he is the same fellow who before that swindled an overcoat and $5 out of a Newburyport shipbuilder, with whom he contracted to build him a new schooner or repair his old one; engaged to buy all the cord-wood and potatoes in Hampton, with which "to load his schooner," on the strength of which extensive business he "bummed" his board at a hotel for a week or more; and then favored this city with his trade, contracted for a suit of sails and borrowed $5 from the contracting sailmaker, under cover to do some heavy business in the trading and borrowing line with Wm. Downs & Son and other firms, but failed to realize anything, and then left for the eastward just in time to escape arrest for his swindling operations in Newburyport.

News and Notes.

Wade Hampton's residence at Columbia, S. C., has not been burned, as reported. It was a summer residence of his in North Carolina.

A newly-made bride and groom named Godey were struck by a train on the Ware River Railroad, Tuesday night, while crossing the track near Three Rivers, Mass., in a carriage with a pair of horses, and the bride received fatal injuries, while her husband was terribly bruised. They were married on Tuesday morning, and were on their way home from the wedding party.

The Cuban insurgents captured a railroad train on which was a million dollars in specie and a large quantity of ammunition belonging to the government, carried off the money and burned the train, on Nov. 23d.

—Some men are good because goodness pays best; some are good for nothing.

—Cunning and suspicion are the inseparable companions of little minds.

—There was a double service in a Methodist church at Nottingham, Manitoba, on a recent Sunday. A feud had rent asunder the congregation, and each faction called a new minister. One of them took possession of the pulpit, and the other sat behind the chancel rail. The man in the pulpit gave out one hymn and the man behind the rail another, and both were sung simultaneously by the rival factions. The man behind the railing gave out his text, and the man in the pulpit began to read a chapter from the Bible. The chapter came to an end before the sermon, and a hymn was interjected; but the preacher went on from point to point without being worried in the least. At the close of the service a deacon explained that it had been enacted "under legal advice, and to further the cause of Christ."

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

This Liniment has cured more Spraained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Sailed Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY BICKLES.

EALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Livermen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and it is pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

A Fruit Dealer's Troubles.

A staid-looking gentleman, apparently a stranger, stopped at an apple stand:

"What is the price of oranges?" he asked, pointing to a collection of very large pears.

"Dees ess not de horange," said the polite vendor. "Dees ees de California paire. Clip for twenty-fi' cent."

"You don't mean to tell me," said the stranger, putting his hand upon an apple, "that this is a pear?"

"Pardo! No! I say dees ees de large paires. Dees is de apple. Thee for de ten cent."

"Well, I must say," continued the gentleman stranger, picking up a handful of chestnuts and examining them critically, "that these are the queerest apples I ever saw."

"Oh, Mon Dieu! no! Dem is de chesey-nut, what grow in your own countree. You roast them on de fire."

"Roast them in the fire! Well, upon my word," fingering a bunch of bananas curiously; "I don't see how such chestnuts as these can be improved by roasting. They seem to be soft enough now. However, I am much obliged. I'll see you later. Good day," and the stranger passed up the street.

"Gentlemen," said the fruit dealer, turning in an appealing manner to the crowd that had gathered, "dat man is one escape from de penitentiary."—Atlanta Constitution.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:
Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.
WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.
WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 20th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.
WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which I owe to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.
Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."
EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another Quintal. My health has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yea, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.
Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.
DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and neck. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for several or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that I have taken something that will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Lena Stovall, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
(Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.
Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.
LACONIA, N.H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all, who know them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the hurry trying climate of New England!
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
— USE —
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

How a Woman Reads a Newspaper.

Somebody says that one who will watch a woman read a newspaper will get some new ideas on the characteristics of the gentler sex. She takes it up hurriedly and begins to scan it over rapidly, as though she was hunting some particular thing; but she is not. She is merely taking in the obsture paragraphs, which, she half believes, were put in out-of-the-way places for the sole purpose of keeping her from seeing them. As she finishes each one, her countenance brightens with the comfortable reflection that she has outwitted the editor and the whole race of men, for she cherishes a vague belief that newspapers are the enemies of her sex, and editors its chief oppressors. She never reads the headlines, and the huge telegraph heads she never even sees. She is greedy for local news, and devours it with the keenest relish. Marriages and deaths are always interesting reading to her, and advertisements are exciting and stimulating. She cares but little for printed jokes, unless they reflect ridicule upon the men, and then she delights in them, and never forgets them. She pays particular attention to anything enclosed by quotation marks, and considers it rather better authority than anything first-handed. The columns in which the editor airs his opinions, in leaded bifalutin, she rarely reads. Views are of no importance in her estimation, but facts are everything. She generally reads the poetry. She doesn't always care for it, but she makes a practice of reading it, because she thinks she ought to. She reads stories, and sketches, and paragraphs indiscriminately, and believes every word of them. Finally, after she has read all she intends to, she lays the paper down with an air of disappointment, and a half contemptuous gesture, which says very plainly that she thinks all newspapers miserable failures, but is certain that if she had a chance she could make the only perfect newspaper the world had ever seen.

Hooking Turkeys.

The following incident occurred in Boston a couple of days before Thanksgiving: One of the most popular insurance companies enjoys the privileges of a back yard, which at this season of the year is generally used as the receiving place of a box of turkeys, which are distributed among the employes of the office. The fowls were handsomely "laid out" in brown paper, and attracted the envying eyes of the clerks of a bank above, who made a successful attempt to share in the spoils. A line was improvised with a hook on the end of it, and while the insurance official was inside, the line descended into the box and grappled a splendid cock bird, who soared at once into the bank apartments. A second grapple took another, when the insurance agent came out and found an error between his list and the number of turkeys on exhibit. Much puzzled, he went back to his desk, and the anglers above repeated their little game, and this count proved more erroneous than the first, and the insurance gentleman was so impressed by the departure of the birds that he looked up to see if they were roosting on the top of the Merchants' Exchange. His eye caught the merry bank clerks, who were indulging in hilarious sport, and the three turkeys were shaken in triumph from the bank windows. The insurance clerk looked up, smiled audibly, and exclaimed: "Just as I expected; I knew I had a fair count, but somebody tampered with the returns."

—Scene at a Connecticut post-office: Lady—"Is there a letter for me?" Clerk—"No'm." Lady—"Why?" Language fails the clerk, and the lady goes off growling about "sassy clerks," and howling for a change in the administration.

—An experienced lady observes that a good way to pick out a husband is to see how patiently the man waits for dinner when it is behind time. Her husband remarks that a good way to pick out a wife is to see whether the woman has dinner ready in time.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1876

The South Carolina Frauds.

In each county in the State three canvassers of elections were appointed prior to the election, two republicans and one democrat. In Edgefield and Laurens counties the democratic rifle clubs assembled on the night of the election and threatened to kill the two republican canvassers, and became so bold and demonstrative that one republican canvasser was forced to fly to save his life. This left one republican and one democrat to canvass the vote, and when this was begun the republican was told that if he did not act strictly in accordance with such orders as would be given him he would be taken out and shot. As the canvass proceeded the republican saw that large numbers of the republican tickets were being taken from the ballot-boxes and democratic ones substituted. He remonstrated, and was told to keep still or he would suffer death. In this way the canvass was made, and the democratic canvasser made up the returns to send to Columbia, changing an actual republican majority of 2000 in Edgefield county to over 3000 democratic. The republican canvasser refused to sign the certificate, and was told that unless he did so his life would be the penalty. Finding that these democratic reformers were determined to execute their threats, he added his signature to the certificate. He was then permitted to depart, and so soon he was out of danger he prepared a protest to the returning board against the votes of his county being counted, and notifying them that he had signed the certificate under duress, and that gross frauds had been perpetrated, which he proceeded to detail. This document was placed in safe hands and delivered to the returning board in Columbia. These scenes, similar almost even in the smallest details, occurred in the counties of Edgefield and Laurens, showing conclusively that the matter was prearranged by the Hampton rifle clubs. When the returning board came to count the votes of these two counties the protests from the two republican canvassers who had signed the certificates under compulsion were read, and the board was unanimously of the opinion that, as one of the two signatures on each certificate had been attached under duress, it was no certificate under the law, which requires the signature of at least two of the three canvassers to be annexed. For this reason the board decided that they could nor count the returns from either county, the law not having been complied with; accordingly they were set aside for the legislature to investigate and settle.

Maine.

The following is the vote for Electors of the State of Maine by counties, as reported by the Governor and Council:

Hayes' majority over Tilden, 16,286; majority over all, 15,621.

South Carolina.

On Thursday, at 11:30 A. M., the democratic members of the House went to the State House in Columbia, entered Representatives' Hall, Wallace taking the chair as Speaker. At a later hour the republicans took their places, Speaker Mackay taking a chair, not being able to get the chair, which was filled by the democratic "pretender." Motions were made by the bodies independently of each other, each claiming to be the only genuine and legal House, and each Speaker presiding over his own followers, and confusion worse confounded prevailed. The democrats considered themselves masters of the situation, but both parties proposed to sit it out in the hall all night. The democrats claiming seats from Edgefield and Laurens counties on certificates from the Moses Supreme Court, were notified by Gen. Ruger that they would be removed from the hall at noon on Friday if they did not previously remove themselves.

A democratic member of the South Carolina legislature in urging the claims of the unadmitted representatives from the districts of Edgefield and Laurens, declared that no contest would be made over the returns for Electors. He stated that the Hayes Electors were fairly chosen, and all that the democrats wished was that Wade Hampton and the other officers whom they think legally chosen shall be sworn into office.

News and Notes.

President Jackson's daughter-in-law, a devoted woman who ministered to his wants, who was by his side when he died, and whom the General loved as his only child, is compelled by narrow circumstances to part with her valuable relics. All who feel disposed to purchase and at the same time assist a worthy woman and honor a noble memory may obtain a list by addressing Mrs. A. Jackson, Hermitage, near Nashville, Tennessee. The carriage presented to Old Hickory at his inauguration by a committee of gentlemen from New York City, and called his State carriage, is also for sale, and can be seen at the shop of the maker, Broadway and Forty-seventh street, in that metropolis.—Phil. Press.

Miss Lizzie Wilkins, daughter of William W. Wilkins of Wilton, Me., died suddenly on Thursday, Nov. 23d, the day fixed for her wedding, under peculiar circumstances. She was taken with laughing immoderately while showing some of her things to a friend Tuesday, and soon went into convulsions, which terminated fatally Thursday morning. She was about twenty years of age and esteemed by all who knew her.

The air of perfection, cleanliness and homelike comfort which is so apparent at the American House, Boston, is one of the characteristic features of that well regulated establishment. To those who are disposed to economise this popular hotel offers an opportunity seldom found at a thoroughly first class house, having reduced some two hundred of its rooms to $3.00 and $3.-50 per day.

Work on the Newburyport silver mines will be prosecuted with vigor during the winter. New and richer veins are being developed as the work progresses, and from present appearances it would seem that an inexhaustible supply lies buried there that will take many years to bring to the surface. The smelting works are nearly completed. There is already 100 tons of ore ready for smelting. When the furnace is completed they will run through twenty tons a day. It requires 600 bushels of charcoal a day to run the furnace.

There is considerable excitement relative to the prevalence of hydrophobia in the north part of Tanton. The horse of Mr. Theo. G. Lincoln developed rabidness Saturday by snapping his legs, etc., and on Monday was uncontrollable, biting his legs, the sides of the stable and posts, so much so as to tear out his teeth and break his jaw. Mr. Lincoln finally had the horse shot; he had previously bitten a hog, which was also killed. It is supposed that the horse was bitten by the dog which ran mad a few days since. The Selectmen of Raynham have taken prompt action by ordering all dogs muzzled, safely confined or killed, to prevent further danger.

An attempt is to be made to start a democratic paper in Washington, with Manton Marble and Mr. Chamberlain, late of the New York World, for editors.

The grave of John Holmes, of Thomaston, Me., who was both Representative and Senator in Congress during the administrations of Monroe, Adams and Jackson, has been so long neglected that it cannot now be identified.

Another slice was blown off Diamond Reef, New York harbor, Nov. 29th, by Gen. Newton.

A great fire has occurred at Jeddo, Japan, and the principal part of the foreign quarter has been destroyed.

The Moscow Gazette says that subscriptions have been opened in Moscow and other Russian towns to buy American privateers to prey upon English vessels in case of war.

A gang of boy thieves, their ages ranging from fourteen to eighteen years, have been captured at Plainfield, N. J. One of them is a son of Councilman Gilligan, and another the son of Councilman Mulford, of Plainfield; a third is Leonard Marsh, son of a New York merchant. They have committed thefts and burglaries enough to take them all to the penitentiary. Dime novels did it.

The almost simultaneous arrival of Boss Tweed and Jeff. Davis in the land of their nativity shows how fierce is the patriotic ardor to have a fair count of the Presidential vote.

A woman's husband is killed before her eyes; her baby's throat is cut in her arms, and she herself is outraged, beaten and covered with ghastly wounds, because her husband is a republican, and her simple story is scoffed at by democratic journals as "bosh," and as "an effort to produce dramatic effect." Not a word of horror is uttered against the fiends who did the butchery. It might hurt the party.

An attempt was made to burn the Unitarian church in Laconia at half-past three on the morning of November 30th. Fire was set in three places. Damage $1000; insured. About an hour later the Congregational church was set on fire, but the fire was discovered in season to prevent damage.

Jan of the Wind-Mill, by Mrs. Ewing, author of "Six to Sixteen." A story written especially for the young, but of great interest to all. Published by Roberts Brothers. For sale by J. H. Foster. Price, $1.25.

Election Notes.

The testimony brought out in a contested election case in Cincinnati leaves no doubt that an extensive system of repeating was adopted by some of the democratic managers to carry the Presidential election. A witness testified that he voted the democratic ticket eight times in the late election, and perhaps more, but that was all he could distinctly remember. He also gave the names of several other persons who to his knowledge voted three times each or more. They were directed by a man from New York, and some of the repeaters were from Kentucky. They all voted the democratic ticket every time. It would be interesting to know all the points where the repeaters piled their nefarious work, but it will hardly be known unless one of Mr. Tilden's managers turns State's evidence.

The New Orleans Republican is convinced that Charles Francis Adams was wrong in refusing to go down there. For, it says, he is a most distinguished citizen of "both political parties."

In Florida, republicans are perfectly satisfied that they have sustained the returns in Archer precinct while they successfully attacked Waldo precinct, which gave a large democratic majority. In this precinct the democrats voted an emigrant train and swore the voters only as they were registered in other States and counties. Even democratic affidavits establish this fact. On the whole the outlook looks favorable for increasing the majorities for the Hayes electors.

Fool Friends,

Nothing hurts a man, nothing hurts a party so terribly as fool friends.

A fool friend is the sower of bad news, of all slander and all base and unpleasant things.

A fool friend always knows every mean thing that has been said against you and against the party.

He always knows where your party is losing, and the other party is making large gains.

He always tells you of the good luck your enemy has had.

He implicitly believes every story against you, and kindly suspects your defense.

A fool friend is always full of a stupid candor.

He is so candid that he always believes the statements of an enemy.

He never suspects anything on your side.

Nothing pleases him like being shocked by horrible news concerning some good man.

He never denies a lie, unless it is in your favor.

He is always finding fault with his party and is continually begging pardon for not belonging to the other side.

He is frightfully anxious that all his candidates should stand well with the opposition.

He is forever seeing the faults of his party and the virtues of the other.

He generally shows his candor by scratching the ballot.

He always searches every nook and corner of his conscience to find a reason for deserting a friend or a principle.

In the moment of victory he is magnanimously on your side. In defeat he consoles you by repeating prophecies made after the event.

The fool friend regards your reputation as common prey, and as common prey for all the vultures, hyenas and jackals.

He takes a sad pleasure in your misfortunes.

He forgets his principles to gratify your enemies.

He forgives your maligner and slanderer with all his heart.

He is so friendly that you cannot kick him.

He generally talks for you, but always bets the other way.—Col. R. G. Ingersoll.

—It is easy to heat a street car in winter, but very hard not to poison the passengers with foul air at the same time. A device has lately been patented by which a red-hot ball weighing 100 pounds is put into a neatly made case, lined with some non-conductor of heat, and fitted with a small air-pipe and register to give out the heat. It is said that a shot will heat a car comfortably for two or three hours on the coldest day. A small furnace is used in heating these metallic balls. The device scarcely seems practicable, but one of the Chicago street railway companies will make an effort to introduce it this winter.

—Self possession is ten points of the law.

Strong Nerves an Attainable Blessing.

There are many who have never known the blessing of strong nerves, having been born with weak ones. Those who have, and through disease or some other cause, have suffered a loss of nerve power, can, by contrast, more fully appreciate the magnitude of that loss. The true way to repair it is to invigorate the system through the medium of improved digestion, secretion, and the establishment of a regular habit of body, three results invariably accomplished by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the thorough conversion of the food into pure, nourishing blood, from which the nerves, in common with every other part of the bodily economy, gathe vigor, the grand prerequisite of health. The great objection to sedatives and narcotics is that they not only exert no tonic influence, but are always followed by a hurtful reaction. Such is far from being the case with the Bitters, the primary action of which is most salutary, and whose after effects are beneficial in the extreme.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, is the only leading first-class hotel that has come down to "hard pan" rates, viz.: reduced from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

To Consumptives.

The advertiser, a retired physician, having providentially discovered, while a Medical Missionary in Southern Asia, a very simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all throat and lung affections,—also a positive and radical specific for Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all Nervous Complaints, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) to all who desire it, the recipe for preparing, and full directions for successfully using, this providentially discovered remedy. Those who wish to avail themselves of the benefits of this discovery without cost, can do so by return mail, by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, DR. CHARLES P. "TRAMP, TRAMP, TRAMP."

What will we do with them—these tramps? Cold weather sends them to warm quarters like unto flocks of wild geese. They multiply like musquitoes in Summer time, and prefer being "sent up" for the Winter to anything else they are likely to obtain. How shall they be utilized? Work can be made for them. Some suggest that they be immediately used for dredging purposes at the South mill-pond. Others, that they be hoisted on ladders to dizzy elevations, and be furnished with paint and brushes with which to paint the public buildings. Other some suggest that they be stationed at regular intervals on the North and South ponds, armed with ropes and books, to prevent little boys and girls from drowning should the ice on which they skate, break. Others would like to have them engaged to stand under dripping eaves as a warning to passers-by that there is dampness about. As shovellers of snow they may yet come into use, and after that be utilized into a corps for the protection of predestrians from rash coasting parties. One enthusiastic citizen desires them to be equipped with lanterns, and wishes them sent out to warm the streets when the weather is too inclement. There is a unanimous desire to make them available, and it is hoped some measure tending to their proper use will be decided on.

Meanwhile, that just Judge Batchelder reviews them by platoons daily, and at the close of the drill provides entertainment for all. There were "present and accounted for" on Friday, a dozen and a quarter, left over from Thanksgiving.

Robert Greenwood, of not as much use as a bay tree, had been warned to leave town some time ago, but did not. Neither will he (unless transferred to Exeter) for sixty days and the additional time he must be immured to settle the costs, $6.90.

Charles Dow spoiled a good name by persistent vagrancy after being warned to leave town. He will enjoy jail fare for sixty days and remain $6.90 longer.

John Lee will leisurely do likewise to the same extent, for neglecting to set sail for another market after due warning.

These tramps are examples. Judge Batchelder, in common with citizens generally, think such fellows do not deserve the good fare that the Brentwood House of Correction furnishes. Other tramps have now the choice of leaving Portsmouth, or bread and water for sixty days, confinement in jail for that time, and $6.90 fine.

John Casey, Frank White, James Brackett, Patrick Hogan, John Brown, Thomas Stacey, John Kelley, John Wall, Frank Cook and James Lane were sent to Brentwood for three months each, and ordered to work out their costs of $6.90 each.

John Flynn and John Briant were ordered to leave town in twenty-four hours, and agreed to.

MEMORIAL

To the Honorable Mayor and Board of Alderman of the City of Portsmouth:

The subscriber, being interested in a highway from Pleasant street over the South Millpond to Langdon Park, respectfully represents:

That the great increase in the number of vagrants or tramps suggests a cheap and effective mode of making the proposed highway, and at the same time of relessing the city and county from the great burden of supporting the tramps.

The whole number of persons who have been sentenced by the Police Court of this city and sent either to the County House of Correction or the Jail from Nov. 13th last to Dec. 1st is forty-one. The aggregate sentences of these forty-one persons amount to sixteen and one-quarter years, including the time required to work out the fines and costs imposed. Computing the board of these persons at three dollars per week, this will make the enormous sum of two thousand, two hundred and thirty-five dollars, to be contributed by the tax-payers of the county for the support of the tramps committed from Portsmouth alone in the short space of nineteen days. By a provision of the law all these tramps may be bound to labor at any place in the service of any person for the term of their commitment. It is presumed that the most of their time, with that of the great number committed from the other towns and from this city during the balance of the winter, will be worthless to the county during the winter months. But it may be utilized by employment on the proposed highway; I therefore respectfully urge you to lay out the highway asked for, and set these idle vagabonds at work to remove the mud, and at the same time remove or destroy the nuisance which arises from the pond in the summer season.

Respectfully, OLIVER M. KNIGHT.

JOTTINGS.

Schooner J. E. Brown has sailed from Prince Edward's Island for this port with a cargo of potatoes for Mr. Samuel G. Hooper.

Schooner Mary Willey, Capt. Williams, sailed from this port on Friday evening, Nov. 24, loaded with apples, for Bangor, and after discharging and loading with a full cargo of lumber, arrived back on Thursday, Nov. 30, in twenty-one hours from port to port, making the round trip in six days.

At the meeting of the Washington Total Abstinence Society on Saturday evening it was resolved that "as it seems evident that the public sentiment of this city is not in harmony with the progressive movements of the temperance reform, and believing no permanent results to our cause can be achieved until public opinion is secured in its favor," that "each temperance organization in the city choose five delegates to meet at Sons of Temperance hall, on Saturday evening, December 9th, at 7:30 o'clock, to take counsel together and adopt such means as will tend to harmony of action in bringing the evils of intemperance in all their aspects more prominently before the public."

Temperature, Friday morning, zero plus seven.

Leavitt's Farmer's Almanac is received from Edson C. Eastman, publisher, Concord. It is a necessity in every family.

George Washington recently used "His X Mark" in signing his name to an affidavit in the District of Columbia. Worse than this happened in this city last week; Daniel Webster (police officer) took Edward Everett (tramp) to the House of Correction at Brentwood.

Old residents say they never before saw so much poultry on Market square at one time as was displayed on the day before Thanksgiving. Most of it was in very good condition for this time of year, though it would not average quite so fat as may be expected for Christmas.

Fine skating at the Rink. Tickets at Preston's.

The Light Artillery assembly in Mechanics' Hall, on the evening of Thanksgiving day, was attended by sixty-five couples, and dancing was kept up until a late hour.

The Reform Club will hold its regular Sunday evening temperance meeting at the Temple to-morrow evening. Rev. J. W. Bell, of Providence, Rhode Island, will address the audience, and if we may judge from the success of his efforts here a few weeks since will draw a good house. The Temple will be well filled, however, no matter who may speak, for the temperance movement is popular enough and strong enough to draw a full house on its own merits.

The Christmas number of Church's Musical Visitor (John Church & Co., Cincinnati, O.,) contains besides the usual editorial matter and contributed articles on musical subjects, the "Grand Centennial March," by Richard Wagner, about which there has been so much talk, and diversified opinion. This work cost the Centennial Committee $5.000 in Gold.

Thomas J. Meservey, of the firm of J. C. Godfrey & Co., New York, died at the Kearsarge House in this city, on Friday morning, of paralysis, at the age of forty years and nine months. His family resides at Hallowell, Maine, where his remains were conveyed. He had been confined to his bed since Monday. He was well known in mercantile circles.

The Thanksgiving services at the various churches in this city were more largely attended than usual.

Rose in Bloom, a sequel to "Eight Cousins," by Louisa M. Alcott, author of "Little Women." The numerous readers of "Eight Cousins" here have an opportunity of renewing their acquaintance with Rose at the advanced age of twenty. As might be expected, in writing a story in which the principal characters are young ladies, the author has made this rather more of a love story than any of her other writings. Published by Roberts Brothers. For sale by J. H. Foster, price $1.50.

The Hillman children, Maud and May, are wonderful actors for ones so young, and they were well received at the Temple on the afternoon and evening of Thanksgiving day, though the audiences were not so large as were deserved. The play, "Tattered Tom," is new, and one of the very best of its class; and it is presented to the public by Ford's Theatre company in a manner deserving commendation and encouragement. The play was repeated Friday evening.

The skating has been fine for several days on the mill ponds. A very high tide overflowed the ice on Friday and the new ice is very smooth.

Schooner Benjamin, of Pembrook, Maine, Capt. L. C. Ayhvard, from Hoboken for South Newmarket, laden with pig iron consigned to the Swampscot Iron Works, was fallen in with about four miles from Thacher's island on Tuesday morning, the 28th, in a disabled condition, having in a heavy squall had mainboom broken at the slings, flying jib torn, foresail split, mainsail torn, and the foremast broken just above the eyes of the rigging. She was boarded by the captain of a Boston schooner, who bargained to take her into port for $600. The Benjamin arrived in the lower harbor Tuesday evening, was towed to Newmarket to be discharged, and returns to this port for repairs.

In the Common Council, Friday evening, the committee having in charge the bill in aid of the P. & D. R. R. were granted another week in which to report.

Vote of Dover.

By the following table it will be seen that at the election in Dover the republican candidate for Mayor, Solomon H. Foye, had a majority in every ward over David H. Gage, the democratic candidate:

	Foye.	Gage.	Scat.	Maj.
Ward One	215	90		125
Ward Two	329	161	2	166
Ward Three	316	108		208
Ward Four	366	157		209
Total	1226	516	2	708

—The happy day had been set. The bridegroom arrived at Macon, Ga., on schedule time and learned, to his utter consternation, that he could go no further. There had been a railroad strike. The Augusta train remained in the depot. Fate winked at him suspiciously and cried aloud, "Stop, bridegroom; stay where you are; telegraph to the bride that they also serve who only stand and wait—at the Macon station." Nay! he went back to Atlanta on the wings of Stephenson's bird and caught a train for Augusta. At Congress the engine gave out, and another strike went into effect on that road. He was not so near his bride by several miles as he had been at Macon. The mother-in-law had a second baking.

—A Maine musical critic says that "Mme. Careno's piano-am was sufficiently self-possessed."

ANTIQUARIAN SUPPER.

THE RYE CONGREGATIONAL SOCIETY will give an Antiquarian Supper and Entertainment at the Town Hall on Tuesday Evening, Dec. 4th. If stormy, the first fair evening following.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak-Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment is better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeniod, Ring-bones and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in as age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fellock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. PARRIS,
Mace, Carrill, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—the Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

—Mr. William Winter's verses in The Galaxy, the Graphic reprints as follows: "Dear heart and true in the seasons fled, Has the world swept by me and left me dead? Have the panses withered I used to know? Are the roses faded of Long Ago? Do the tapers glimmer that lit the feast? Has the pageant passed? has the music ceased? And, musing here on the sea-beat coast, am I living man or a wandering ghost?" To this the Graphic proceeds to make Miss Anna Dickinson reply thus: "Why, yes; you're as played as played can be, like a last ye r's nest in a leafless tree. And the things that you guessed you thought you knew turn out to be wittier far than true. But the lights still glimmer that lit the gloom, and the curtain's up and the people come! Go wrap in a sheet, thou wandering ghost, and play thy role on the sea-beat coast."

—They have captured a fish in Florida, near Cedar Keys, to which the inhabitants have given the name of the carpet-bagger. It has the head of a catfish, the body of an eel, and the legs of a lizard. It is allied to the screw-fish, well known in Florida, and whose habits have been made the study of Pratt, of Palatka. In the summer time, when the St. John's yields its beautiful grasses, it swims up and uncrews its head, which, by the aid of four well-defined legs, goes out on the banks and eats the sweet grasses. When winter comes it goes back, screws the tail on, and makes the water of the lovely St. John's its home. Naturalists have designated it as belonging to the family of Spiratus Archinadeus.

The difficulty now is to find the Southpoll.—Chicago Times.

STATE of NEW HAMPSHIRE

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

SUPREME COURT,
October Term, A. D. 1876.

IN the Action GEORGE BROWN and JOHN T. BRADLEY, of Bangor, County of Penobscot and State of Maine, Merchants and Co-partners in Business, under firm of BROWN & BRADLEY, Plaintiff, vs. Samuel Bradford, John Brabb, A. Owen and of Bangor, John Goodwin, L. Copeland, George A. Goodwin, all of Brewer, County of Penobscot, George W. Hatch, Martin F. Coombs and A. H. Perkins of Holyoke, County of Washington State of Maine; John Gibbs, J. Jones and Jesse Gilmore of Boston, County of Suffolk, State of Massachusetts, and W. H. Parsons of the City, County and State of New York, Merchants, and owners of the Ring called the "Open Sea," now lying in the Port of Portsmouth, Defendants.

In a plea of the case, to recover of said defendants the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, for divers goods, wares and merchandise before this time sold and delivered by plaintiffs to defendants and for said vessel, at their request—also, the further sum of one hundred and ninety-seven dollars, according to the account annexed to plaintiffs' writ, dated November 30, 1875.

At this term the Plaintiffs move to amend their writ, by striking out the word "Samuel" in the fifth line of said writ, before the word "Bradford," and inserting the word "Lemuel."

It having been suggested to the Court that the property of the Defendants in this State has been attached on the writ, and that no personal service has been made on said defendants in this suit, they and being residents of this State at the time of the service thereof. It is ordered by the Court that the action be continued to the next Term of said Court, to be held in Ex. ter, this and on the said County of Rockingham, on the third Tuesday of January next, and that the Plaintiffs give notice to the said Defendants of the pendency thereof, and also of said amendment, by causing the substance of said motion, with a copy of this order, to be published three weeks successively, in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in our County of Rockingham, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days prior to said court, to which this action is continued.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
—IN THE—
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the Doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichoit's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.00.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirty Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 1st, and now you February 22d or their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken four years ago I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I think I shall regain my flesh this summer by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done every thing for me, and I will say to you, advertise the street to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another dollar's worth. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheuma ic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. Would you send him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PI LS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partial relief. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for the last two winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic C ndition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that I could get cured by some trick or cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N.H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. F. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCIDE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative it could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England!

PULMOCIDE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English receipt. And now in daily use by many of the most noted dairies in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it would be, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also renders the breed, flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed etc., and the increased yield of milk more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

THE SITUATION.

The following lines, by Martin Farquhar, T—pp—r, jr., gives the situation just as it is:

Who knoweth who is President?
Doth that mortal live whose Comprehensive perception can tell who?
Nixy, my boy, for the returns haven't turned out
The result of the elective franchise privileges;
Neither hath the court decided
Which is what in the constitutional provisions,
Therefore, be wise, oh man.
And put down thy vest with patience;
Yea, wipe off thy hat with courage,
For the day cometh when thou shalt know
Which is which, and by what majority.

The South and the North.

"Jay Charlton," the New York correspondent of the Danbury News writes:

A Southern gentleman writes me a long letter from New Orleans. He is gratified because I assumed, in a recent letter, a friendly tone toward the South. He is almost sad in his tone when he says that the Southerner delights in the smallest justice. He says my letter seems to be the result of much thought and an honest desire for justice; wherein he is correct as to the desire for justice. He doesn't, however, like that I should have said that Southerners ostracize a Northerner, and says that a gentleman is always welcomed. The carpet-bagger, he says, is excluded. Wherein, this New Orleans gentleman and I agree. Only he adds his own thought, and would make it mine. * * * There are plenty of good republicans who wish an intelligent white should possess an office held by an ignorant black. But they cannot trust the white. I have no enmity against the South. Id Savannah I learned to like its people. In some instances I was treated with great courtesy. When I left, with malaria, the "rebel" paper, with which I had had literary and personal fights, said I was a gentleman at least. I was taken to ride. I was once moved to tears because a once wealthy ex-Confederate General who had before the war drank wine from cut-glass offered me in his office cheap whiskey out of a broken teacup, with a proud, sad apology because it had no handle. But, while I have pleasant memories of the beautiful South, I remember, without bitterness, but with patient reasonableness, that in all the time I was there I was never invited to a house, and that I was never spoken to by a woman. This was well enough. It could hardly have been different. But it does not result well. Time will remedy all such things.

A Thank giving Incident.

Scene, a Highland street railway car. Time, a little after three o'clock yesterday afternoon. The car in question was on its outward-bound trip, and contained but nine passengers. When near Dover street an additional passenger got on, who, as he opened the rear door, pleasantly hailed the conductor, and the latter's remark set the former into a very pleasant frame of mind, his face, as he took his seat beside a Globe reporter, plainly betraying his recent acquintance with the customary Thanksgiving turkey. He was a young man, not exactly handsome, but pleasant-looking, was well dressed, even to the fashionable beaver which he wore. He was in a very happy frame of mind, as was quite evident from the pleased expression which played unconsciously about his mouth. Sitting still was evidently not his general custom, and suddenly thrusting his hand deep into his pantaloons pockets, he pulled out a whole handful of bright silver coins, out of which he selected the necessary change with which to pay his fare to the conductor, who then passed by. With his face still wearing that happy look which almost proved infectious to the other passengers, his eyes rested lingeringly on a little bundle of humanity, fast asleep, curled up, in the opposite corner, who, with streaming yellow hair down her back, with one of her dimpled hands resting on her cheek for support, instinctively grasped with the other hand a little basket. Again the young man's hand went deep into his pocket, and selecting a quarter of a dollar he laid it carefully on the cover of the sleeping girl's basket. He was apparently not satisfied. Another quarter went where the first had gone. Again he seemed perturbed. A third visit to the little stranger, and this time two quarters was the result. Again he returned to his seat, but this time only to go back again with two more halves. Meanwhile his generosity had attracted the attention of all the passengers. The young man appealed to a fellow passenger for charity, saying: "She is sleeping so quietly, I don't like to disturb her. Thanksgiving comes only once a year. Please give me a quarter that I may put it beside that shining silver already on her basket, and when she awakes you will have the pleasure of seeing her utter surprise." The gentleman yielded to his entreaty. The sleeping little girl now had at least three dollars. The gentleman who had contributed the last quarter, took the generous young man to awaken the little girl. This intrigued. It was a long time before he could realize that she was the possessor of so much money. At last the young man left his seat and seated himself beside her, asking her if she knew how much money she had and who gave it to her. Others were upon the great wonder during the time. "I don't know, sir," is all the fairy stories which mamma has told me. Why, (busily counting,) I have $3.00! I wish I knew who gave it to me. I bless him, and I know mamma will when she sees it! Did this money fall? The young man suggested that perhaps the mistress of the house had given it to her. The little girl thought not. The young man left the car, and the little girl, with her money, left for her home. The young man was a stranger to the car, and no one knew his name. He was a stranger in the city, and had come to spend Thanksgiving with his mother, who was a widow, and who had given her all to her boy, that he might be a man among men. He had spent his last dollar for her Thanksgiving dinner, and was on his way home when he met the little girl. He had no money to pay his fare, but was willing to walk home rather than to disappoint the little girl. The conductor, who had heard the story, said he was a good fellow, and he would pay his fare himself. The young man said he was a stranger in the city, and who had just got out, had given all this money. "Oh, I know," said the little girl suddenly, when the young man looked into her face and laughed, "you can't fool me any longer! you are the fairy;" and then she clapped her little hands in such a happy, pleased sort of way, that the young man immediately acknowledged the generous spirit which had temporarily taken possession of him, and, evidently becoming more and more interested in the child, took out his pocket-book, which was stuffed with bank bills, took back all the silver which he and the unknown friend had contributed, and gave a $5 bill in exchange. "Oh, oh, oh," said the little girl, "all this for me? Oh, won't mamma be happy, won't she bless you!" The car had pretty nearly reached the young man's destination, and again taking from his pocket-book a bank bill he arose, stepped to the door, opened it, when, quicker than thought, he threw the bank bill into the girl's lap, and was off the car before she knew it. The bank bill proved to be a $10, which, added to the other, made $15. The young man's parting injunction will probably ring in her ears till next Thanksgiving. It was this: "Try and remember me the next time you see me. Mind, don't forget." And her answer, which every one heard in the car: "Oh, oh, sir! I guess I sh'an't."—Boston Globe.

Manchester Aroused.

The action of the Board of Trade in regard to the reduction of rates on certain kinds of freight to Manchester, and the answer of the Board of Directors of the Concord Railroad Corporation by their President, has brought into prominence the whole railroad question—a question that is most important. Manchester has railroad communication north, south, east, northeasterly and northwesterly by railroads, all of which are operated and controlled by one corporation—the Concord Railroad Company. The coal trade as now carried on is by means of railroad and ocean from the mines to Portsmouth, and from here to Manchester, a distance of forty-one miles, by railroad. The amount of coal per year used in Manchester will not fall short of 60,000 tons The regular rate of freight charged is $2 per ton; a discount of twenty-five cents per ton is allowed on cargo lots. It is announced that it will be reduced to $1 50 a ton cargo rate, after March 1 next. The distance being forty-one miles, and the rate $2 per ton, the rate per ton per mile would be four and eight-tenths cents; at cargo rates, four and three-tenths cents per ton per mile. The total receipts for freight of coal of the year would at the lower rate be $105,000. From the annual report of the Concord Railroad Corporation, March 31, 1876, it may be seen that the total number of tons of freight carried over its road during the year was equal to 20,008,402 tons transported one mile, and the total receipts therefor were $561,382 17. The average receipts upon freight would therefore be two and eight-tenths cents per ton per mile. The coal trade of Manchester is charged an excess over an average rate of one and five-tenths cents per ton per mile. At an average rate, as shown by the report before alluded to, the freight would have been $1 15 per ton from Portsmouth to Manchester, and the year's business would have amounted to $69,000. The excess asked and paid for upon the year's business has been $36,000 above what would have been received had this trade been done upon an average basis. The above statements are claimed as a powerful argument in favor of opening the Manchester and Ashburnham Railroad.

South Carolina.

The South Carolina situation was considered by the Cabinet Friday, and it was decided not to interfere in a dispute which appears to be confined to State matters, unless it should become necessary to prevent revolution. General Ruger's original orders were simply to uphold Governor Chamberlain as governor of South Carolina until his successor has been legally and peacefully inaugurated; to see that there was no bloodshed, and to secure the protection of all citizens and officials. His orders did not include the recognition of either branch of the legislature, but he was to see that both settled their differences amicably. It is not true, as stated in the press despatches from South Carolina, that General Ruger has asked which faction of the legislature he should recognize. It is not necessary that he should recognize either, but compel both to keep the peace; and his original orders have not been altered or modified.

Gen. Ruger informs the department that he placed the troops in the State House on the opening day to keep the peace, but not in either the Assembly or Senate rooms; that the subordinate officer in charge, on application of a doorkeeper, placed soldiers at the entrance to the Assembly room, which soldiers Gen. Ruger ordered withdrawn as soon as he was fully informed of the circumstances.

The double-barrelled legislature remained in session Thursday night and all day Friday, and on Friday night the prospects of an adjournment or agreement were faint.

Florida.

Congressman Kasson of Iowa, who has been in Florida and Louisiana for two weeks, has arrived in Washington direct from Tallahassee. He says there can be no doubt that the electoral vote of Florida will be fairly for Hayes. In regard to the returning board, he says that great injustice has been done them in the opposition newspapers. The republican members are men against whom no one there dares breathe a word; they are native Southern men, have large property interests, and, aside from all honorable motives, their self-interest demands that a fair count be made. He says that for two days after the election the democrats gave up the State, but, on Thursday evening after the election, despatches were received from New York saying that the vote of Florida was absolutely essential to Tilden's election, and the democrats at once began to change their opinions and cry republican fraud. Very soon Tilden's agents began to appear, with plethoric purses, and messengers were sent in all directions to distribute money where it would do the most good. Republicans who were coming to the State capital were waylaid, in some instances, and several were murdered; in other cases irresponsible messengers were bribed. A count of the returns on their face, including all that was claimed by the democrats, gave from forty-eight to eighty majority for every candidate on the republican ticket. When the illegal votes are sifted out, that majority will be increased to one thousand or more. In one county which he mentions the democrats claimed more majority than there were legal voters of both parties in the county.

On Tuesday, Nov. 28th, the Returning Board of Florida adjourned to attend the funeral of the Sheriff of Hernando county, who had come to Tallahassee with the messenger who brought the proof of democratic frauds in that county, and who dared not make the journey alone. Compelled through fear of assassination to conceal themselves during the day, and to sleep in the swamps at night, the exposure for a week brought on a sickness which resulted in the death of the Sheriff. That is to say, the executive officer of a county in Florida dared not travel in the usual manner, and lost his life because he was accompanying a messenger who was carrying legal proof of democratic dishonesty and violence.

Louisiana.

It turns out that that affidavit dated the 25th, which was found in the De Soto parish returns, which were marked as having been received at New Orleans on the 18th, was placed in the envelope by the supervisor after he reached New Orleans, and that the Returning Board and its clerk had nothing to do with the returns until they opened them. The supervisor took the returns to New Orleans instead of sending them by mail, put in his affidavit, and then stupidly dated back his envelope several days.

News and Notes.

Congress meets to-day.

The republicans of Boston have nominated Hon. Nathaniel J. Bradlee for Mayor.

Schooner Ada W. Gould, of Bangor, was wrecked off Bermuda in a hurricane, Aug. 27th. Two men were lost, but the others were rescued after suffering terribly for fourteen days.

A great inundation has occurred at Adrianople, Turkey. One thousand houses have been swept away and great distress prevails there. It is supposed that a number of lives have been lost.

The schooner Equal, Captain Titus, of Rockland, Me., from New York with corn, was run into by the schooner Hortensia of Boston off Cape Cod on the night of Nov. 27th. The Equal sunk and Captain Titus was drowned; but the crew were saved. The Hortensia made no effort to render assistance.

The International Exhibition has purchased the Main Building of the Philadelphia show for $250,000.

In the present National House of Representatives the republicans have but 16 of the 38 States. In the next House they will have 21 and perhaps 23.

The official vote elects three republicans and four democrats to Congress from New Jersey.

One hundred and twelve houses and a church were burned by an incendiary fire in New Orleans on Friday.

Full details of the McKenzie fight with the Cheyennes show that the engagement lasted nearly all day. A count of the tepees after the fight showed that the village contained between 180 and 200, and the warriors are estimated at between 400 and 500. General McKenzie reports 25 Indians killed, but fully 50 must have fallen. Our killed numbered six and our wounded 25. "In the captured tepees were found several articles showing beyond doubt that the Cheyennes of this village were in the Custer massacre and the Rosebud fight. We have captured about 500 ponies, and totally destroyed all the tepees and most of their contents, including the winter supply of dried meat. Besides what was destroyed, over fifty pack horses were loaded with buffalo robes, etc., taken from the lodges by our enlisted Indians. A quantity of ammunition which the hostiles had no time to take off with them was also destroyed. Among the Indian dead were said to be three sons of Dull Knife, one of the leading warriors of the Cheyennes, who was heard on the bluffs encouraging his men to be brave during the fight. The hostiles are now without food or shelter and almost naked in the hills. One morning they killed six horses for food. The weather is growing colder and a heavy snow storm is gathering overhead."

At South Boston, Thanksgiving night, Mr. James Noonan was married to a Miss Buckley, and the wedding feast was spread at the residence of the bride's mother. The festivities were interrupted by the entrance of police officers, who arrested Mr. Noonan and three of his friends for various thefts, and locked them up. It is probable that some time will elapse before the loving hearts will be reunited.

It is evident that Alexander II. will for better cause do as Napoleon III. did to provoke war. The latter, it will be remembered, had the audacity to ask King William to promise that the attempt to place the Hohenzollern prince on the Spanish throne should never be renewed. The Prussian King of course peremptorily refused, and Napoleon had the pretext he desired. The Czar is about to demand at the Conference home government for Bulgaria. In order to insure its establishment he will propose to occupy the province with his troops. The Turks, with the blind fatuity which has lost them other provinces, will reject the Russian proposals, and a state of war will ensue. This is the opportunity the Russian people seek.—N. Y. Tribune.

The United States ship Gettysburg, on her voyage from Fayal to Gibraltar, discovered a coral bank heretofore unknown. The Gettysburg anchored on it and partially surveyed it, but being short of coal and her machinery needing repairs was compelled to proceed without completing the job. The bank is said to be rich in valuable coral of delicate light pink shades, and is a commercial discovery. There seems to be "millions in it." The observations taken locate the bank in latitude 36.30 N., longitude 11.28 W.

Senator Morton has arrived in Washington, making the journey from San Francisco in the quick time of six days and fifteen hours.

Hannibal Hamlin is again talked of for President of the Senate, because of his "Presbyterian rigor and cast-iron will and determination."

Justice Johnson of the United States circuit court has rendered an opinion in the suit of the United States against H. B. Claflin & Co., of New York, for the recovery of $1,500,000 duties on alleged smuggled goods, affirming the decision of the lower court, in favor of the defendants.

Aimee has created a furore in Havana, in Leocq's "La Petite Marie."

Delehanty and Hengler, the song and dance men, have come together again, after a two years' separation. They never ought to have parted.

The five cent barber shop movement, which originated in New York, is spreading, but it has not reached Boston. Ten cent shops are the rule in the latter city, and particular people seek those shops where a fee of fifteen cents secures an artistic shave.

The Indianapolis Sentinel gets into a terrific fume over the situation and exclaims: "If the voice of the people is the voice of God, then, in the name of all that Americans cherish, let God speak." The Sentinel is a leading democratic organ of Indiana, and was last week sold for $5 net, the purchaser taking the whole concern, debts and all.

The Boston Journal asks: "Does Wade Hampton when he declares that not one drop of blood has been shed in South Carolina during the late campaign, except by republicans, forget that his friend Gen. M. C. Butler opened the campaign with the Hamburg massacre?" Not a bit of it. He merely declares the truth, that the only blood shed has been by the republicans,—from their own veins, through wounds inflicted by the Hampton-Tilden-Butler democracy in the interests of peace and reform.

We give you the health of Samuel J. Tilden, the name of all that presided of the United States. All up!—Boston Post, Nov. 20th.

Yes, we think it is "all up" with Tilden!

Strong Nerves an Attainable Blessing.

There are many who have never known the blessing of strong nerves, having been born with weak ones. Those who have, and through disease or some other cause, have suffered a loss of nerve power, can, by contrast, more fully appreciate the magnitude of that loss. The true way to repair it is to invigorate the system through the medium of improved digestion, secretion, and the establishment of a regular habit of body, three results invariably accomplished by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the thorough conversion of the food into pure, nourishing blood, from which the nerves, in common with every other part of the bodily economy, gather vigor, the grand prerequisite of health. The great objection to sedatives and narcotics is that they not only exert no tonic influence, but are always followed by a baneful reaction. Such is far from being the case with the Bitters, the primary action of which is most salutary, and whose after effects are beneficial in the extreme.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, is the only leading first-class hotel that has come down to "hard pan" rates, viz.: reduced from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtf27 77

CITY AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Friday evening, Dec. 1st.

Petition of Miss A. M. Judkins for driveway on Rogers street was referred to the Street Commissioner.

Committee on streets were asked to repair the pump on Meetinghouse hill.

Subject of a new wood shed at the Plains school-house was referred to committee on school-houses to report cost, etc.

Committee on school-houses received permission to remove the ventilators from the School street school-house.

The use of the Common Council Room was granted to the S. P. C. A. on Monday evening, Dec. 4th.

Joseph F. Moore was appointed special police without pay at the Custom House and grounds.

Committee on police, to whom was referred the bill of Dr. D. W. Jones for attendance upon prisoners in the station house, reported the opinion of the City Solicitor. Voted, that the bills be returned to Dr. Jones for names of patients.

The memorial of O. M. Knight concerning the employment of tramps sentenced by the Police Court was referred to the special committee to whom was referred the petition for a new highway from Pleasant street to Langdon Park.

In Convention: Hon. John R. Reding presented and read a supplementary report of the agents appointed to examine the accounts of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad.

The Convention then rose, and the Common Council adjourned to the first week in January.

In Mayor and Aldermen: The first report submitted by Mr. Reding was taken from the table. The two reports were then accepted, and the agents discharged.

Adjourned for one week.

PORTSMOUTH & DOVER RAILROAD.

The following is the supplementary report on the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad presented Friday evening before the City Councils by the committee appointed to examine its accounts:

To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen—Gentlemen:—Your agents to investigate the affairs of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, desire in this, a supplemental report, to state to you a matter that we omitted in our report dated Nov. 17, and laid before you on the evening of the 24th.

We found that a stock certificate of 750 shares of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad had been issued to the Eastern Railroad, and that the Eastern Railroad had passed over to the Portsmouth & Dover Road, seventy-five thousand dollars' worth of bonds of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad; that this transaction took place in December, 1873; that both the above-named stock and bonds had been reported upon as collateral; that the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad had made such use of the bonds as seemed good to its officers to do; that nine thousand dollars of these bonds have been disposed of, and that the balance of sixty-six thousand dollars are now on hand.

We have sought in vain for a clear and satisfactory explanation of the transactions of the two roads in relation to this stock and these bonds. If such are held as collateral why are they not exchanged and this matter settled? If the bonds of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway were intended as payment for the 750 shares of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, why did not the last named company dispose of them at an early day and use the proceeds in the construction of the road?

If the President of the Eastern Railroad authorized the subscription for this number of shares of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad stock and had no authority thus to do, why is he not personally liable for the same?

During the present week the subject of the bonds issued by the two cities of Portsmouth and Dover has assumed a new phase. It had been supposed that these bonds were issued directly to the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. But it now seems by papers on file in the offices of the clerks of said cities that they were sold by said cities to the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Company at par in money, and said Trust & Guarantee Company receipted for said bonds at their full value as so much money, and agreed in consideration thereof to pay the same amount to the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad as the assessments became due and payable on the shares subscribed for by said cities in the capital stock of said railroad.

The Trust & Guarantee Company according to their agreement furnished to the said cities the certificates of stock to the amount by them respectively subscribed for. In the final disposition of these bonds, $50,000 in round numbers was lost, and the Directors either having made good this deficiency to the Trust & Guarantee Company, or request having been made on the railroad to make the deficiency good, and the Railroad conceiving it to be a legal claim, state it as an item going to make up the capital stock of the railroad, and ask the two cities to pay it by subscribing for as much new stock.

Whether the Railroad has paid this deficiency we do not know, but if they have done so they have simply made a gift of so much money to the Trust & Guarantee Company, and a use of the funds of the railroad which its Directors had no authority to make. The two cities owed the Trust & Guarantee Company nothing. That Company had bought their bonds and the cities had received their pay for them in full.

True, the Trust & Guarantee Company seem to have lost something in this trade, but they had no more claim on the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad to make good their loss than the Railroad would have had on the Trust & Guarantee Company for any advance above par that the Trust & Guarantee Company might have sold these bonds for.

If the Directors have by mistake paid this price to the Trust & Guarantee Company, their first duty, it seems to us, is to recover of them so much money paid by mistake.

If the Trust & Guarantee Company have not been paid this $50,000, but only claim it, all we can say is that the original papers on file show that their claim is a groundless one, and one which the railroad can in no event be made to pay.

Your committee will venture to suggest whether before this city takes additional stock in the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad it should not insist that the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire and the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad fix the capital stock of the latter road, that the tax payers may know before making a second contribution, what capital they may expect any return of interest upon—otherwise we may be left to the mercy of a corporation whose interest will be to cut down our interest to the lowest possible figure without regard to the equity of the case.

There are still not a few unsettled accounts and claims in favor and against the road that should, in the judgment of your committee, be settled, these amounting to some $20,000. Respectfully submitted.

J. R. REDING,
CHAS. W. BAILEY.

JOTTINGS.

Miss A. C. Morgan announces that she has secured the services of Prof. C. A. Pitkin, instructor at the United States Torpedo Station at Newport, R. I, to deliver a course of four lectures on Natural Science at her school. Prof. Pitkin comes highly recommended, and we doubt not that as many citizens as can be accommodated will gladly avail themselves of the opportunity thus offered. The lectures will be delivered on Dec. 5th, 6th, 12th and 13th inst., at three o'clock, P. M. The subjects will be Mechanics, Heat and Electricity, and numerous experiments will be performed during each of the lectures. See advertisement for terms.

The lecture in the Independent Course, by Col. Russell H. Conwell, on Tuesday evening, on "Lessons of Travel," will be one of the most interesting delivered here for a long time. Col. Conwell has the happy faculty of interesting audiences and getting them in full sympathy with himself, and with his rare faculty of description will furnish a feast to those who are so fortunate as to be present. One of the most eloquent addresses to which we ever listened was that delivered by Col. Conwell on the evening of Memorial Day, last May, and the large audience then in attendance were more than delighted with it. Col. Conwell is gifted and eloquent, and will doubtless be greeted by a full house.

Hon. William H. Y. Hackett of this city and Hon. Daniel Clark of Manchester are prominently spoken of as President of the New Hampshire Constitutional Convention.

Coroner Samuel C. Whittier, M. D., has by order of the Mayor and Councils, and at the request of Mr. Thomas Dudley, of No. 12 Langdon street, summoned a jury consisting of Col. William H. Sise, Nathan F. Mathes and Dr. John W. Parsons, to hold an inquest on the body of Abraham Dudley, a six-year-old son of Mr. Dudley who died on Wednesday, Nov. 29th, supposed by violence or casualty sustained on Field day, October 24th. The jury were in session on Saturday afternoon. The post mortem examination of the child's body was made by Dr. Folsom.

Charles H. Rollins, Esq., who has been Treasurer of the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee company, since its organization in 1871, has resigned on account of ill health, and George L. Treadwell has been appointed to the position. Ezra H. Winchester has been chosen President, and Dr. Jeremiah F. Hall Vice President.

The Kearsarge Mills will this week (and until further notice) run for eight hours a day,—from 7:30 A. M. to 4:30 P. M. with one hour's "nooning."

Election Notes.

The Rhode Island General Assembly met in special session on Friday, and elected William S. Slater of North Smithfield, a republican, as Presidential Elector, in place of Hon. George H. Corliss, declared ineligible. Slater received 81 votes and Charles R. Cutler (democrat) received 19 votes.

Dispatches from South Carolina state that threats are openly made to assassinate Chamberlain; also the Lieutenant Governor. There is good reason to believe that the attempt will be made. The streets on Friday were filled with drunken men, flourishing revolvers, yelling for "Hampton, Butler, Jeff Davis, and death to all Northerners."

The proofs of illegal voting in Hamilton county, O., particularly in Cincinnati, last October, are of the most convincing character. The frauds are now being investigated. On Tuesday, Nov. 28th, one man was compelled to testify that he was paid $25 for voting five non-residents in eight different precincts. When five men cast forty votes for honesty and reform the cause is bound to prosper.

The attempt by fraud to count in Frost, the democratic candidate for Congress in St. Louis, has signally failed, and Mr. Metcalf, who was elected, will receive his credentials. The attempt to seat Frost was a piece of brazen-faced dishonesty, too palpable to succeed.

A man who would buy votes by the thousand on election day would not hesitate to buy an Elector if thereby he could attain the Presidency—and don't you forget it!

Wade Hampton has telegraphed President Grant that the Electoral votes are not to be contested.

Florida has joined South Carolina—republican on the face of the returns, without throwing out a vote.

Two weeks ago the World claimed 367,500 majority for Tilden over Hayes. The official figures reduce this majority to 143,606—a loss of 14,000 a day.

The wounds of the woman Pinkston seem to have made some of the democrats sick.

In the Eighteenth Illinois Congressional District Hartzell (dem.) was elected by 20 majority, in a total vote of more than 29,000.

We shall hear more about North Carolina in due time. Possibly this stolen property may yet be recovered by the rightful owner. The old North State was usufructed by the Tildenites. The republican vote was fully 10,000 larger than ever before, and should have given them the State by 20,000 majority. But, in over twenty counties the democrats fixed up the returns to suit themselves, and there is no doubt that as many as 25,000 of their so-called votes were fraudulently obtained. In some precincts their majority—majority, mind you—is larger than the whole population of the precinct! Full proofs of these gigantic frauds have been quietly obtained by the republicans, and the Nation will ring with the exposure.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the cause Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

THE Liniment has cured more Sprained, Screened, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Livery men, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Petitions are in circulation in Nashua, addressed to the Governor and Council, praying for the commutation of the sentence of Edwin W. Major, the Wilton wife poisoner, from death to imprisonment for life.

An Irishman named Daley has been arrested in Manchester for wholesale clothes-line robbing and other petty pilfering, carried on for two years past. In his house was found an immense amount of stolen property, including buffalo robes, clothes baskets, Paisley shawls, horse blankets, carriage robes, cloaks, coats, bed blankets, quilts and sheets of all grades, table spreads, rugs, door mats, small carpets and an endless variety of men's, women's and children's underclothing of all styles, fashions, makes and materials.

There will be a meeting of the Republican State Committee at Union Hall, in White's Opera House, in Concord, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 6, for the purpose of fixing the times and places for holding the State, Congressional, Councilor, Senatorial and County Conventions. It will be an important gathering, and a large attendance of members of the committee and others is expected.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

SUPREME COURT, October Term, A. D. 1876.

IN the Action GEORGE BROWN and JOHN T. BRADLEY, of Bangor, County of Penobscot and State of Maine, Merchants and Co-partners in Business, under firm of BROWN & BRADLEY, Plaintiffs, vs. Samuel Bradford, John Brown, A. Coom s of Bangor, John Goodwin, L. Copeland, George A. Goodwin, all of Brewer, County of Penobscot, George W. Hatch, Martin F. Coombs and A. H. Perkins of Isleboro', County of Waldo, State of Maine, Nehemiah Lord, James Hiss of Boston, County of Suffolk, State of Massachusetts, and W. H. Parsons of the City, County and State of New York, Merchants, and owners of the Brig called the "Open Sea," now lying in the Port of Portsmouth, Defendants.

In a plea of the case, to recover of said defendants the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, for divers goods, wares and merchandise before that time sold and delivered by plain tiffs to defendants and for half wages, at their request—also, the further sum of one hundred and ninety-seven 92-100 dollars, according to the account annexed to plaintiffs' writ, dated November 30, 1875.

At this term the Plaintiffs move to amend their writ, by striking out the word "Samuel" in the fifth line of said writ, before the word "Bradford," and inserting the word "Lemuel."

It having been suggested to the Court that the property of the Defendants in this State has been attached on the writ, and that no personal service has been made on said defendants in this suit, they not being residents of this State at the time of the service thereof. It is ordered by the Court that the action be continued to the next Term of said Court, to be holden at Exeter, within and for the said County of Rockingham, on the third Tuesday of January next, and that the Plaintiffs give notice to the said Defendants of the pendency thereof, and also of said amendment, by causing the substance of said declaration, with a copy of this order, to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in our County of Rockingham, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days prior to said Court, to which this action is continued.

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Female Complaints, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I gave taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 20th of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty-two. As I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my health this summer by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done every thing for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or to any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from his rheumatism for Twenty years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, REV. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, NOV. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried to get know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent nostrums with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One bottle of your medicine set me well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five families around me, and the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative, and probe scribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, greatly stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious trying climate of New England;

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

MAMMOTH HAND PRESS.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP! For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to your selves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT PROVED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know a child to be injured by its action by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in the matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. dtfeb15

INCREASES THE QUANTITY IMPROVES THE QUALITY ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER. Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round. BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

A Born Journalist.

We learn that Mr. Montague Browne, who for a period of over two years has filled the sub-editorial chair of the New Zealand Herald, is about to leave Auckland for Dunedin, to fill an engagement on the Guardian, a leading daily morning paper. Although young in years, Mr. M. Browne ranks among the smartest newspaper men in the colony, or any of the neighboring colonies, and from our personal knowledge of that gentleman, if he did not possess all the qualifications for newspaper work, we should say, More shame to him! Mr. M. Browne was born, somewhat prematurely, in an editor's room adjoining a newspaper printing office, and has been connected with the newspaper press from that hour to this. At three weeks old a girl, to whom the child had been committed, let him fall into a keg of printer's ink, and it was days and days before he could be restored to his original complexion. At twelve months old nothing would pacify him so quickly as to give him a pot of paste, a pair of scissors, and an old newspaper. At three years he escaped from his nurse, got into the printing-office, and "pied" seventeen galleys of type. At seven he coaxed his little sister to be placed on a double-demy Albion printing-press, and was about taking an impression from her, when he was discovered by his mamma, who did not fail to make an impression on him. At twelve years old our youthful journalist did this first atrocious murder, in which he caused a mother, the keeper of a sausage establishment, to slay her child and convert it into sausages, the whole of which she disposed of to customers. This murder sold five hundred additional copies of the newspaper it was printed in. A month after this he perpetrated the great bank robbery, which will not yet have died out of the memory of our readers. This was followed by a dreadful conflagration, and afterward by a miraculous escape of a young lady being carried off by a female disguised as a man, in a fit of jealousy, for having attempted to wean the affections of the gentleman to whom she was engaged. It was a thrilling tale. The falling of a child down a three-hundred-feet shaft, the mother jumping down after her, and both being brought out alive, was a most affecting narrative. Since that time Mr. Montague Brown has filled various appointments in the literary department of a newspaper, and has written more sin and crime and villainy than any man of his age. As a sub-editor, or an all-round journalist, Mr. Brown has few superiors to him, and he has never failed in preserving its tone and maintaining its character for thorough honesty and independence. And as for the very latest intelligence, if it is to be got, he will get it; and when it's not to be got—even then he'll get it.—Coromandel (N. Z.) Mail.

A Faithful Wife.

Years ago, in the days of the old State banks, a mechanic named Bryerton moved from New York out into Ohio. He had been his own master of transportation in the removal of his goods, and when he found himself settled in his new home, he had on his hands a pair of strong horses for which he had no use, and he sold them to a stock trader named Slatter, receiving pay in five and ten dollar bills of an Indiana bank. A few days later Bryerton offered this money in payment of a lot of land, when it proved to be counterfeit. He was arrested and offered in defense that he had received the bills from the stock trader, and supposed them to be genuine; but Slatter, when called upon to testify, swore positively and with solemn earnestness that he had never before seen those bills. He had paid the accused for his horses in bills of a Kentucky bank with which he was in the habit of doing business.

Those were times when a vast amount of counterfeit money was in circulation; when business confidence was becoming sadly weak and demoralized; and when it was deemed necessary that punishment for crime should not only be swift, but sure; so Bryerton was sentenced to the penitentiary, the tears and entreaties of his wife, and his own solemn pleading, failing to move his judges.

Mrs. Bryerton visited her husband in jail, and having received from him the direct and emphatic avowal of his innocence, she set herself at the work of rescue, determined not to rest until she had conquered. She hung upon the horse dealer's track, seeking for evidence that he was a counterfeiter. For two long years she worked, thinking never of failing or shrinking, and at length success crowned her efforts. In New York State, close upon the Canada line, Slatter was taken sick. The faithful wife told her story to the physician in charge. The physician, anxious to help in the righteous work, gave to his patient a treatment that brought him to a point of sickness not to be long borne. He was frightened, and the dreadful sinking of every atom of life made him weak and childish. Under the careful manipulations of the man of medicine, and the spiritual guidance of a preacher, he made a full confession of all his sins—all he could remember. He had been for many years connected with a band of counterfeiters, it having been his part to put the base money in circulation. Furnished with the confession of the real culprit, and accompanied by an officer who was able and willing to give his time, the jubilant wife returned to her home, where her husband was very soon restored to her. It was hard—the unjust imprisonment and the two years of incarceration—but a generous public did all they could to make amends.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1876

Florida.

A special from Tallahassee says: Official returns from Dade County have arrived, and show nine votes for Hayes to five for Tilden, making the total majority for the republican electoral ticket in the whole State forty-seven on the face of the returns. One precinct in Dade County was thrown out by the County Canvassers for irregularity. But it gave five majority for Hayes. If the Board decide that it was improperly thrown out, it will make a republican majority of fifty-two.

South Carolina.

The two legislatures of South Carolina remained in session all Saturday night. The special order for two o'clock Saturday afternoon (the counting of the vote for Governor and Lieut. Governor) was postponed to two o'clock Monday afternoon.

A motion was made in the Moses Court in behalf of Wallace, the Speaker of the democratic House, for a mandamus on Mackey, Speaker of the republican House, to compel him to deliver the returns for Governor in Mackey's possession to Wallace as the legal Speaker of the legal House; also a motion for quo warranto on the Hayes electors.

Louisiana.

The N. Y. Herald's New Orleans dispatch of Sunday night says: The Returning Board were in secret session at Well's private room until two o'clock this morning and resumed their sessions to-day. It has leaked out that they decided to throw out the following parishes: East and West Feliciana, East Baton Rouge, Ouachita, Richland, Morehouse, Union, Claiborne and Winn. This will give the State to Hayes by about 1200 majority.

Those Last Ditch Fellows.

At Columbia, S. C., on Monday, after the two Houses were called to order, Mr. Wallace announced that as there were one hundred special constables in the State House to eject the democratic members, and as he feared such movement would be resisted and bloodshed would ensue, he adjourned the legally elected House to meet at Carolina Hall. The democrats in a body withdraw to Carolina Hall, where they went into secret session. The republicans then went into secret session in the State House. The town was full of people and great excitement prevailed.

Hewitt on Grant.

Abram S. Hewitt, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has had an interview with President Grant concerning which the Washington correspondent of the Boston Post sends the following account:

The sensation here has been a long interview which Congressman Abram S. Hewitt had to-day with President Grant. Of that meeting Mr. Hewitt, in an interview with your correspondent at a late hour to-night, said as follows: "I did have a long interview with the President to-day. It was an interview between two private gentlemen, which neither intended to make public. I have no right to make it public without the President's permission, and I have not the permission. I am free to say, however, that the interview was a very satisfactory one to me. I feel free to say that the President reiterated what he has before said publicly, that he was anxious simply to do his duty; that he did not think any man who was fit to be President would take the office under a cloud; that it was no part of his duty to decide who had been elected, but only his duty to preserve the peace and see that the laws were enforced; that those who said he was plotting to remain in office himself after his term expired or to stir up any commotion which should force him to hold over did him cruel injustice; that he longed to get back to private life, and was counting the hours to the time when he might lay down the cares of office."

Correspondent—"Is it your own individual opinion, Mr. Hewitt, that the President was in genuine earnest and meant just what he said?"

Mr. Hewitt—"I am free to say that I have no words but words of praise for the attitude of the President as he declared it to me. Of course he will have sooner or later to decide in some measure who has been legally elected. Of course he views the situation from a republican standpoint. No one can blame him for that. Of course he may do wrong through an error of judgment, but I am free to say for myself that I do not believe he is intentionally plotting to do any wrong. I think that much ought to be said in justice to the President."

Election Votes.

Even Watterson gives it up. He says—not in the best-natured language—that South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana will give their electoral votes for Hayes, and that this has been a foregone conclusion from the first. And so Watterson's little trip to New Orleans and his alarming and warlike proclamations were of no avail. This is one of the saddest of the melancholy events of this mournful democratic canvass.—Boston Traveller.

Abram S. Hewitt, Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, has written a letter to the democratic Electors in South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana, telling them to meet on Wednesday next and cast their votes for Tilden the same as though they had received certificates of election from the Returning Boards of their respective States. This step shows conclusively two things; first, that Mr. Hewitt and the democratic leaders are satisfied that Hayes will receive the electoral votes of South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana; and, second, that these same democratic leaders have determined not to abide by the result, but will attempt to prevent the votes of those three States from being counted in February for Hayes.

A correspondent of the New York Times calls attention to the record of Abe Hewitt, in the case of Platt vs. Goode, of the Second District of Virginia, at the last session of the House. It is a very shameful one, Mr. Platt was clearly elected. There was not a bit of doubt on that point. He had a good majority in the returns of votes actually and legally cast. But the State Board of Canvassers, exclusively democratic, threw out all the votes of Prince George county, because the name of the clerk was not written in one place on his return, where it might have been written, though another return, under the seal of the County Court, perfect in every respect, and containing the word omitted from the first, was at the time before the Board. On this flimsy technicality, the Board based a deliberate, intentional, and outrageous fraud. When it came before the House, on a majority report in favor of the rightful claimant, a leading democrat (Thompson, of Massachusetts,) declared that to give the seat to Goode would be "the boldest outrage on the people of a Congressional district ever perpetrated." But it was perpetrated, and Hewitt voted for it. But as chairman of the democratic National committee Mr. Hewitt is red-hot for Tilden and reform, and a fair count of votes.

Peter Cooper owes it to the country to withdraw. "No gentleman who is worthy to be President of the United States could," etc.

There seems to be no doubt that several bloodthirsty Northern democrats received a vigorous snubbing from their Southern friends when the prospect of conflict in the doubtful States was threatening. It is said on good authority that when the Northern warriors telegraphed to New Orleans, "Resist all attemps to deprive you of your rights, and we will stand by you to the last," the answer came back, "No, thank you; we tried that plan once, trusting to your promises, and we don't care to do so any more. You do the leading this time and let us do the reenforcing."

If a President of the United States can be elected by fraud, violence and murder, and these proving not quite enough, can be counted in by bribery, the democrats have furnished to the enemies of free government the strongest argument ever yet put into their hands.

News and Notes.

Congress met on Monday. For Speaker, Samuel J. Randall of Penn. received 161 votes, Gen. Garfield 82, Scattering 8. Gen. Banks moved that Representative Belford of Colorado be sworn in. The democrats objected and Gen. Banks proceeded to speak on his motion. The Senate admitted the Colorado Senators, and adjourned.

An Aberdeen newspaper states that the captain of the whaler Jan Mayen, of Peterhead, recently encountered an Esquimau, who informed him that a tribe of Esquimaux living far to the northward of Cumberland Gulf many years ago massacred Captain Crozier, second in command of the Franklin expedition, and five other whites because they refused to surrender their guns and ammunition.

Gen. F. E. Spinner will spend the winter in that sunny, beautiful clime, where the orange blossom vies with the Cherokee rose, where the alligator snaps off the youthful negro's toes, where the Atchafalaya sparklingly flows—by the way, Florida.—Tribune.

Irene A. V. House, acquitted about a month ago on a charge of having murdered her husband, Orson A. House, has become insane, and been placed in the State Lunatic Asylum of New Jersey.

It was a good year for murders in Louisiana—nineteen in one parish.

Schooner "Gale" was lost in a storm on Lake Erie on the 1st inst., with all hands. She was seen to go down by people on shore, but no aid could be rendered.

The London Times has a Calcutta despatch saying that the eastern districts of Bombay are reported to be rapidly recovering from the effects of the cyclone. The damage to the crops is less than was expected, but the loss of life has probably been underrated. Ninety per cent of the plough cattle have been lost. Sickness prevails, but fears of destitution are removed.

A large illicit distillery was seized in New York on Saturday and the property, valued at $25,000, belonging to Edward Roche, was confiscated. The proprietor and workmen escaped. That night a gang of disguised men overpowered the official in charge, and carted away forty-five barrels of whiskey.

Sixteen Icelanders and fourteen Indians have died at White Mud river, Manitoba, of small-pox. Between there and Gimli, a distance of thirty miles, the disease is in every house. At Gimli there have been over one hundred cases and twenty-two deaths. The Government store-house was converted into a hospital and the patients were removed to it. Their dwellings were burned out, and not a single case has appeared in Manitoba as yet, owing to the quarantine.

The democratic Congressional caucus, Saturday evening, resulted in the choice of Samuel J. Randall for Speaker of the House, he having seventy-three votes to sixty-three for S. S. Cox.

It is now considered certain that in view of the fact that Senator Ferry's term expires on the 4th of March, the Senate will, within two or three weeks after the opening of the session, choose a presiding officer who will hold over. In making the selection reference will of course be had to his qualifications for the important duty of opening and counting the electoral vote. The Senators most spoken of as possible candidates are Mr. Morton and Mr. Hamlin. The choice seems likely now to fall upon one or the other.

A freight steamer, the Prince, foundered off Shields, England, in a storm on Sunday, and all on board, fourteen in number, were lost.

Rev. L. N. Phillips, pastor of the Methodist church at Monticello, Iowa, eloped with the wife of a leading man in his congregation, but before going he wrote the following in a letter to his wife: "May the widow's God and the Father of the fatherless abundantly bless you and your children in all things and make you happy all through life. I want you every morning and evening to read with the children in the New Testament. Please read a verse first, and then have each one read in turn, and then all kneel and repeat the Lord's Prayer. Oh, Paulina, do keep up the family altar as long as you have a family. Do live nearer and nearer to God daily, and ask Him for all-sufficient grace." The first thing Paulina did was to send an officer after him.

The schooner Florilla, at Provincetown, Mass., from Philadelphia, reports that on Sunday morning, off Race Point, Elias Brooks of New Hampshire was knocked overboard by the main boom and drowned.

An English Estimate of President Grant.

Grant is to retire, we fear, after a long public life to taste the bitterness that an ungrateful country drives into the heart of a public servant. His services to the country are priceless. He rallied and led a discouraged army, and by his iron will and unfaltering courage saved the country. Although stern in the field, he became modest and kind afterward. He prevented the trial of Lee as a traitor, holding him as his prisoner of war under parole. Although he cannot be held guiltless of grave errors during the Presidency, his enemies cannot deny that his self-reliant, unbending character has led American legislators and journalists, smarting under his disdain, to treat him unjustly. The fierce light which beats upon a throne is mild moonshine compared with the glare under which the President of the United States walks and sits and sleeps. Wounded and dejected by unjust and ungenerous men, General Grant has a care-worn face and dejected manner. He will be glad when his time comes to turn his back upon the White House. In his retirement he will find solace for the public contumely, which is the return for his heroic service as a soldier. Time will do him justice. It will probably be over his tomb that the first words of national repentance for wrong done to this great citizen will be heard.—Lloyd's London Weekly.

Strong Nerves an Attainable Blessing.

There are many who have never known the blessing of strong nerves, having been born with weak ones. Those who have, and through disease or some other cause, have suffered a loss of nerve power, can, by contrast, more fully appreciate the magnitude of that loss. The true way to repair it is to invigorate the system through the medium of improved digestion, secretion, and the establishment of a regular habit of body, three results invariably accomplished by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the thorough conversion of the food into pure, nourishing blood, from which the nerves, in common with every other part of the bodily economy, gathe vigor, the grand prerequisite of health. The great objection to s datives and narcotics is that they not only exert no tonic influence, but are always followed by a hurtful reaction. Such is far from being the case with the Bitters, the primary action of which is most salutary, and whose after effects are beneficial in the extreme.

P. & D. R. R.,--SOME MORE.

Messrs. Editors:—The committee upon the P. & D. Railroad, in their supplemental report published in your issue of Monday morning, put some very pertinent and suggestive questions, but omit, as it appears to the writer, one of equal moment, and that is: "Are not the President and Directors of the P. & D. Road personally liable for neglect of the plainest duty, inasmuch as after selling 750 shares of stock and taking as security for the payment for it an equal amount of bonds as collateral, they did not, when the value of these bonds began to depreciate, call for further collateral or for full payment for the stock, or sell the bonds?" In calling for subscription to new stock, why was this transaction concealed? And why did this committee "seek in vain for a clear and satisfactory explanation of it?"

Yours, W.

Don't forget the lecture at the Temple this evening by the brilliant and eloquent orator, Col. Russell H. Conwell. The subject is "Lessons of Travel," and is treated in such a manner as to convey an immense amount of information concerning foreign lands, men and manners, in the most interesting and entertaining form. Green and Higgins, General Agents for Maine and New Hampshire for Garland's Patent Gas Burner and Opal Shade, are stopping at the National Hotel, and are desirous of furnishing our citizens with a burner and shade which they guarantee will make a saving of thirty per cent to the consumer over the common burner. Persons desirous of testing these burners can have them put on by leaving their orders with the agents at the National Hotel.

The Dover Democrat, which at first pretended there was no opposition of any account in that city to the project to give additional aid to the P. & D. R. R., now says: "It is easy to see the mischievous influence of the B. & M. Railroad" to prevent its being done. O-oh!

The Washington National Republican of last Saturday has the following among its interviews with democratic members of the House, on the contest for the Speakership:

Representative Jones, a very cautious member from New Hampshire—I don't know anything about it. I don't know for whom I shall vote. I suppose I shall have to vote for somebody, but who that somebody is it's more than I know. He will be the best man. (And the winning man, too, thought the Reporter.)

A fire broke out in the Merrimac county jail at Concord, Sunday morning. The roof was destroyed and the second story was badly damaged. Loss on building about $2000; insured. Loss on furniture owned by High Sheriff Frank S. Dodge, $500; insured. The fire caught from the chimney.

The barn of William Titcomb, in Raymond, was set on fire by a boy playing with matches on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day, and consumed, with three or four tons of hay. Mr. Titcomb's house was saved with difficulty.

An attempt was made on Friday evening of last week to wreck a mixed train over the Suncook Valley Railroad. As the train was leaving Suncook village it ran against a sleeper laid across the track, and another placed across that, with one end against an imbedded tie and the other end raised pointing toward the train. The obstruction was pushed for a long distance without throwing the cars from the track.

Smiler's Health-Lift.

They are in the midst of a big lawsuit down in my village between Dr. Smiler and the rest of the population of the town of Pencader. The doctor, it seems, had a large tank placed on the top of his house from which to supply his bathroom, and so forth, with water. The water had to be pumped up about fifty feet from the cistern in the yard, and the doctor found it to be a pretty good-sized job, which would cause him constant expense. So after thinking the matter over very carefully, one day an idea struck him. He built a room over the cistern and put "Sanitarium" over the door. Then he concealed the pump machinery beneath the floor and he rigged up a kind of complicated apparatus with handles, and hinges and a crank, so that a man by standing in the middle of the machinery and pulling the handle up and down would operate that pump.

Then the doctor got out circulars and published advertisements about "Smiler's Patent Health-Lift," and he secured testimonials from a thousand or so people who agreed that the Health-Lift was the only hope for the physical salvation of the human race. Pretty soon people began to call to see about it, and old Smiler would rush them out to the "Sanitarium" and set them to jerking the handles. And when a customer had pumped up fifty gallons or so, Smiler would charge him a quarter, and tell him that three months of that kind of thing would give him muscles like a prize fighter.

And he would push the project among his patients. If a man was bilious, or had the toothache, or was afflicted with rheumatism, or membranous croup, or measles, or yellow fever, or cholera morbus, Smiler would turn him in at the Health-Lift and get a quarter each time. The thing became so popular that he had to enlarge his tank and put in a smaller pump; and he not only got all his pumping done for nothing, but the people who did it paid him about $1500 a year for the privilege. It began to look like an uncommonly soft thing, and everybody was contented and happy.

One day, however, old Mr. Maginnis, who had been practising at the Health-Lift every day for months in order to cure himself of indigestion, jammed the handles down a little too hard, and broke the board upon which he was standing. As the board gave way it plunged Mr. Maginnis into the cistern, and just as he was sinking for the third time Smiler fished him out with a crooked nail in the end of a clothes-prop. As soon as the water was drained out of him Maginnis said:

"I didn't know you had a cistern under that floor. What did you do that for?"

"Why, to keep to the air moist. It is healthier than dry air."

"It looks to me as if there was some kind of a pump under there."

"Oh, no," said Smiler, "those are only the levers of the Lift."

"Mighty queer," said Maginnis thoughtfully. "If that isn't a pump then I don't know one when I see it."

So a few days later Maginnis came around with a lot of other patients, and found the doctor out. They determined to investigate. They pulled up a couple of boards, and ascertained the facts about that pump. Then they cross-examined Smiler's servant girl, and learned about the truth, and then they went home mad. A consultation was held, at which every bilious and rheumatic individual who had been working the doctor's pump used violent language, and talked about murder and sudden death. Finally they resolved to prosecute Smiler for damages and for obtaining money under false pretences. It is thought by good judges that by the time court gets through with Smiler that will be about the unhealthiest Lift for him he was ever interested in.—Max Adeler.

No Color Line in Louisiana.

Nasby went to Louisiana to investigate the question of frauds there, and narrowly escaped with his life. He tells how he was spared in the Toledo Blade: "To settle a grate trouth, ther ain't nothin like practicle demonstrashen. The day I got into East Felisiana Parish, Louisiana, I went into the biggest bar-room, knowin that I'd find the most dimokrats ther, and I santered up to the bar, determined to risk my life to see whether the dimocrisy killed niggers merely becoz they wuz niggers. "Ror for Hayes!" I yelled. 'Kill the d—d emissary!' shoutid a dozen uv em, droring ther revolvers. Fortunately an old man come in, and regardin me a moment stopped em. 'Kill thet man for a Ablishnist!' sed the old man indignantly. 'Pretty judge uv buman nacher you are. You are very young. Look at his nose!' And he rebooked the young men, and asked me to take suthin; and ez he kept on askin he wuz soon entirely satisfied uv the soundnis uv my dimocrisy. Thet nose uv mine bez often injoored my credit—this time it saved my life. I intervend mor'n a dozen of the leedin citizens uv the parish, and the result was in every case like this. There hed bin no intimidashen—the niggers were as free to vote ez anybody ef they chose to take the chances of hevin their heds blowd off, which every man takes here who happens to hev noshuns contrary to them entertained by the original natives, that is the original white natives. Uv coarse the proud Louisianian wusn't agoin to hev no radikle ballots cast in these parishes ef he cood prevent it, but whoever sez the line wuz drawd on color lies. The fact that only niggers wuz killed wuz easily accountid for—it wuz only niggers wich outraged the sense uv the parish by presoomin to vote the radikle ticket."

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westaker, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism was so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am recovering rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

IT is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeney, Ring-bone and Gall Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. I can send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol nor is it as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. In regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Causes for Thankfulness.

Among other things the New York World finds to be thankful for are these:

That things are no worse than they are;

That coal has gone down;

That Boss Shepherd has gone up;

That Tilden is likely to be in;

That Green is certain to be out;

That Tweed is in jail;

That the whiskey thieves are not;

That there won't be another Centennial till 1976;

That we are going to have a fair count;

That Miss Martinez got $50 damages;

That she didn't get any more;

That there's an end to the Brooklyn scandal;

That any Presidential Elector isn't ineligible;

That we have saved our Ulsters since last winter;

That the Serbs have given us a rest;

That we'll know who's elected some time;

That Hell Gate has been blown up;

That Mr. Evarts will soon have all the facts before him, and

That it's four years to the next national election.

—Napoleon III. had immense veneration for the founder of his house. An artist who painted his portrait shortly before his death, says: "He spoke with the liveliest interest of the various portraits of his uncle extant, at the same moment placing in my hands an oval miniature in an exquisite setting, remarking: 'This I prize so highly that I always carry it about with me.' Perceiving that it bore evidence of having been painted from life, I ventured to ask His Majesty its history. The answer was an exceedingly characteristic one. 'Its history,' replied His Majesty, 'is extremely short; the Emperor, from whom it was painted, gave it to my mother, and she gave it to me.' The Emperor's reference to his mother, the beautiful Hortense, reminded me of a circumstance I had met with somewhere relative to his childhood—how he was wont to hide himself beneath the long and luxuriant hair for which she was so famous; and upon referring to the story he replied with a somewhat saddened smile: 'I remember it distinctly, and it seems but yesterday. She was, indeed, the most beautiful of women, and the best of mothers. 'This,' pointing to the third finger of his left hand, 'was her wedding ring; and this, pointing to another upon the same finger, 'was the Emperor's.'"

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y.
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DISEASES.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years his affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Females out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to DR. S. Y. R. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their publicity is on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 23, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later: Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and I thank you February 23d for their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but as I am gaining in strength, I have hopes I shall regain my flesh this summer by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them, and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N.H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
— USE —
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

A Good Story of Grant.

At a meeting of the Independent democratic committee in Brooklyn, N. Y., just after the election, Gen. Slocum made a speech in the course of which he told this story of President Grant:

A few months after I was sent West, during the late war, I met one of the most accomplished generals who ever wore the American uniform—I refer to General McPherson. We had been at West Point together and this was our first meeting since we had left the academy. In talking over the scenes through which we had passed since we parted at West Point our conversation turned upon the battle of Pittsburg Landing, where McPherson acted as Chief of Staff to Gen. Grant. McPherson described to me the disasters of the first day of that great battle—of how he had been compelled from hour to hour during the whole day to be the bearer of bad news to his chief. It was a succession of reverses from morning till night. When night came on and it was becoming too dark for the enemy to continue the fight, McPherson rode up to Grant who coolly said to him, "Well, Mac, how do things look?" "Bad enough, General. We have lost, I think, about one-half of our artillery and at least a third of the infantry. Our line is broken in several places, and we are pushed back, as you see, pretty near the bank of the river." Grant made no reply, and McPherson becoming a little impatient, finally said to him, "Well, General, under these circumstances, what do you intend to do?" "Do! Why, I shall reform the line and attack them at daybreak. Lord! won't they be surprised." Grant executed his plan to the letter, and before nine o'clock next morning the enemy was flying in every direction. Whatever may be a man's occupation, if he meet with disaster, I know of no better motto for him to adopt than the words of General Grant: "Reform the lines and attack them again at daybreak."

A Strange Battle.

A. W. Chase, of the United States coast survey, in a note to the editor of the Popular Science Monthly, describes as follows a contest which he and a brother officer witnessed in 1867 on the Purissima, a small trout brook about twenty-four miles south of San Francisco:

"We had been fishing on the stream, and came to a high bank which overlooked a transparent pool of water about ten feet in diameter and four feet in depth. This pool was fringed with willows, and had on one side a small gravel bank. The trout at first sight was lying in mid water, heading up stream. It was, as afterward ascertained, fully nine inches in length, a very desirable prize for an angler. While studying how to cast out flies to secure him, a novel fisherman appeared and so quick were his motions that we suspended our own to witness them. This new enemy of the trout was a large water-snake of the common variety, striped black and yellow. He swam up the pool on the surface until over the trout, when he made a dive, and by a dexterous movement seized the trout in such a fashion that the jaws of the snake closed its mouth. The fight then commenced. The trout had the use of its tail and fins, and could drag the snake from the surface; when near the bottom, however, the snake made use of its tail by winding it around every stone or root that it could reach. After securing his tail-hold it could drag the trout toward the bank, but, on letting go, the trout would have a new advantage. This battle was continued for full twenty minutes, when the snake managed to get its tail out of the water and clasped around the root of one of the willows mentioned as overhanging the pool. The battle was then up, for the snake gradually put coil after coil around the root, with each one dragging the fish toward the land. When half of its body was coiled it unloosed the first hold and stretched the end of its tail out in every direction, and, finding another root, made fast, and now using both dragged the trout out on the gravel bank. It now had it under control, and, uncoiling, the snake dragged the fish fully ten feet up on the bank and I suppose would have gorged him. We killed the snake and replaced the trout in the water, as we thought that he deserved liberty. He was apparently unhurt, and in a few minutes darted off. That the water snake of our California brooks will prey upon the young of trout and also smaller and less active fishes, I have noticed, but never have seen an attack on a fish so large or more hotly contested."

Unsuccessful as a Corpse.

About the sharpest dodge attempted by imposters in the charity line was almost successful a few days since in this city. A female of good address, but poorly clad, called on the rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, and stated that she had been a member of that church and attended there, when she could get respectable clothing, but that now she was reduced in circumstances, and what was worse than all, her sister was a corpse in her house, and she had no means wherewith to bury her. She gave her address, a house on New Jersey Avenue, southeast, and so moved was the pastor by her appeal, that through his efforts and others charitably disposed, a sum of money was raised by the day following. This sum, together with the address of the supposed sufferer, was handed to some ladies, who, proceeding to the place indicated, were shown to a second story room, wherein was the body of a woman on a bed, apparently dead, and motionless as a corpse, with the side scenes of a child crying, and the woman who made the appeal leaning her head on the window-sill overcome with grief. The scene was so solemn and impressive that the ladies soothing the grief of the latter handed her the amount collected and left, each thinking how little one-half the world knew of the sufferings of the other half. One of the party, through having left her gloves in the apartment, returned, when what should she see to her astonishment, but the corpse sitting up in bed counting the money they had left! The scene which followed and the ruse need no explanation, and it is unnecessary to say that the donors immediately repossessed themselves of the funds of which they were well nigh defrauded.—Washington Chron.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1876

News and Notes.

The President sent his message to Congress on Tuesday. It contains an elaborate review of his eight years' administration.

Mr. Tilden is sick at his home in Gramercy Park, New York.

The rifle clubs of South Carolina have been assembling at Columbia for two days, for the purpose of preventing the Electors from casting their votes for Hayes and Wheeler.

It is announced that after a long correspondence between Secretary Fish and the British Government the extradition question has been rearranged. As a consequence of this solution of the long unsettled difficulty, immediate steps were taken to secure the arrest of the forgers from the United States who some months ago were arrested in England, and finally discharged on the two governments disagreeing on points involving their surrender to the American authorities. Charles Brent, the Louisville forger, was found and placed under arrest. Gray, the Wall street forger, and E. D. Winslow, the Boston forger, have fled the country, and their whereabouts are unknown. Steps will be taken for their apprehension.

The Government has been compelled to close the post-office at Grenada, Miss., on account of the outrageous conduct displayed by the democrats of the place against Mrs. Price, the postmistress. A special agent was appointed some time since to look into the case, and he reports that Mrs. Price, who is a cultured and respectable lady, has been subjected to numerous insults because she is a federal officer and was the wife of a leading republican now dead. Among the insults to which this lady has been subjected this one is narrated. A day or two after the election the leading democrats of the place dressed up a couple of drunken negroes in red shirts and caps, mounted them on mules, and led the mules into the post-office. The negroes sang for about an hour disgusting songs, filled with all sorts of vulgarity and obscenity. By the abolition of the post-office, the people of Grenada will have to go six miles for their mail. They would deserve no sympathy if they had to go sixty.

Election Notes.

It is said that the Hayes Electors, and the republican candidates for State officers are chosen in Louisana by about 1300 majority. The republicans elected five of the six Congressmen.

I. Waitzfelden, a clerk in the employment of the New York Democratic State Committee, makes affidavit that the bids at Morrissey's pool room, which put Tilden's chances ahead of Hayes', were made by agents of the committee for the purpose of affecting the doubtful vote through the country. The story is not unlikely. It was mentioned at the time that the betting was generally started with a heavy sum, at odds on Tilden, by one or two men, who then fell out, leaving the rest of the betting to the little capitalists.

A secession democratic paper having called Gov. Hayes a "tool," the Providence Journal comments as follows: In what way has Gov. Hayes been a "tool" of anybody or any party, before, during or after the Presidential election? He received the nomination at Cincinnati without having worked to secure it; his letter of acceptance was an independent production; it set forth his views upon national questions, not with reference to the popular sentiment of the moment, but in accordance with his long-maintained and aforetime acted upon convictions. Since the nomination he has held a dignified silence and inaction. He has made no political speeches, he has inspired no political bureaus, he has subsidized no weekly and weakly newspapers, he has spent no money, and has been only and simply Rutherford B. Hayes, and not the head of a party working above and under ground, and with the whip, the rifle and the railroad train-wrecker to get an electoral college, "on the face of it," without regard to the body or the soul of things.

The way in which Gov. Chamberlain drifted to South Carolina is described by a correspondent of the Boston Journal: "An old college friend of his was drowned in Charleston harbor. He went there to settle his affairs. That visit ended in his leasing an abandoned plantation, and in entering upon the untried life of a planter. He was soon elected a member of the convention which formed the present Constitution of the State."

Mr. Redfield thus sums up in the Cincinnati Commercial his conclusions about the verdict in Louisiana: "My impression is that the Returning Board will count in Hayes. I have thought so all the time. And that there have been gross intimidation and outrages, and much political murder in the five bull-dozed parishes, I am also satisfied. But the throwing out of all these parishes, or any parts of them, will not quite give the State to Hayes, as the figures stand now. But I believe the board will find excuses in other parts of the State sufficient to satisfy themselves that Hayes should be counted in. And to cover up the matter and make that which is questionable appear justifiable, the republicans will give the country the details of the barbarous political murders in the five bull-dozed parishes. They are making out a very strong case. I go to the Custom-house daily, talk with the witnesses, and read their sworn statements, and know pretty well what is going on there. Their case—the numerous horrible murders, the whipping and barbarities inflicted upon the republican blacks—will command the attention of the nation. Slight irregularities of the Returning Board will be overlooked and excused by fair-minded, candid and humane men, when they see how cruel and bloody has been the war of the bull-dozers against the republicans in the five disputed parishes. The testimony already adduced is such as to command attention, and more is added daily. It is not the ordinary bloody shirt run of exaggerations, but names, dates, specifications and details are given with painful minuteness. These will be submitted to the country along with the verdict of the Returning Board, and the barbarity of the one made an excuse for the action of the other."

Ordnance Bureau Report.

The chief of the ordnance bureau of the Navy department, Commodore Jeffers, discusses in his annual report to the Secretary the subjects of rifled cannon, improved gun carriages, breech-loading howitzers, revolver cannon, machine guns, small arms, torpedoes, magazines and gunpowder. He says the sloop-of-war Trenton has been supplied with a battery of rifled guns mounted on improved carriages worked by mechanical gearing, which materially reduces the number of men required to manage the guns. The bureau also converted two Parrott guns into breech-loaders on the screw breech system, which has been tested with entire success. A breech-loading howitzer has been completed, a battery issued to the Naval Academy, and they will presently begin to be supplied to all ships. They have proved to be quite successful. The bureau, in its desire to obtain every new improvement, has purchased a Hotchkiss gun, which has been proved by experiments in Europe to be a useful weapon, especially against the surface torpedo boats. It fills a gap between howitzers and machine guns. Trials have been made of several machine guns, the Gardner, the Bailey and the Lowell battery gun. The Gatling is already in the service, and has been issued to all ships. On the subject of small arms the report says it is desirable to change the calibre from that of 1869 to the calibre recently adopted, and in so doing the chief of the bureau is of opinion that the magazine is best adapted to the naval service. The subject of torpedoes has engaged the attention of the bureau, and continuous experiments have been made to develop the best offensive and defensive system. Experiments have been made with locomotive torpedoes and much progress has been made during the year. Those of Ley & Ericsson were sent to the Centennial Exhibition as a part of the naval exhibit. This subject, the chief thinks, is of the greatest importance, and "we hope," he says, "to develop the torpedo into the most useful and important adjunct to our ships." The stock of gunpowder has been allowed to get quite low, pending the experiments for improvement. These are now completed, and it is desirable that the stock should be augmented.

—At the opening of the medical session of Glasgow University, Professor McCall Anderson said few could doubt that a preliminary examination of candidates for admission to the classes was called for, but if proof were required it might be found in the answer given to the following questions submitted to candidates by one of the examining Boards: "What is meant by the antiquity of man?" Answer—"The wickedness of man." "The letters of Junius?" "Letters written in the month of June." "The Crusades?" "A war against the Roman Catholics during the last century." "The first meridian?" "The first hour of the day." "To speak ironically?" "To speak about iron." "A Gordian knot?" "The arms of the Gordon family." "The Star Chamber?" "Place for viewing the stars." "To sit on the woolsack?" "To be seated on a sack of wool." "A solecism?" "A book on the sun." "The year of jubilee?" "Leap year." They could, the Professor added, have appreciated this last answer all the more heartily had it emanated from one of the female medical students.

—It was a Frenchman—the famous Carlino—who, contentedly laying his head upon a large stone jar for a pillow, replied to one who inquired if it was not rather hard: "Not at all, for I have stuffed it with ha." It was an American lecturer who solemnly said one evening:—"Parents, you may have children, or, if not, your daughters may have." It was a German orator who, warming with his subject, exclaimed: "There is no man, woman or child in the house who has arrived at the age of fifty years, but what has felt the truth thundering through their minds for centuries."

—A Yankee in Paris, who was listening to the boasts of a lot of English and French artists about the wonderful genius of the respective countrymen, at last broke out, saying, "O, pshaw! you git out! Why, there's Bill Divine, of our village, who kin paint a piece of cork so exactly like marble that the minute you throw it into the water it will sink to the bottom, just like a stone."

—"A cast-iron grandmother" is not a term of reproach, but only a new machine for darning stockings.

—Samuel Eliot says Boston has two classes of teachers to get rid of, the stepping-stones and the rolling stones. The former teach till they find a husband or some more profitable business, and the latter change from one school to another whenever more pay can be obtained. If Dr. Eliot were a handsome young lady with a considerable human nature and no money, wouldn't he teach for a living till some nice young man should offer a more eligible situation? Schools are not nunneries, and there is no sense in insisting that teachers shall be celibates. Graphic.

—The American plan for sending fresh meat to Great Britain is succeeding admirably. A system has been organized by which 3,000 quarters of fresh beef can be sent over in each steamer, not frozen, but cooled to a safe temperature by air which has passed through ice-chambers. It spite of opposition from the butchers, a cargo was sold in Liverpool a fortnight ago at from 6d. to 8d. a pound. The meat has fetched 8d. per pound in Glasgow for some time.

—Here is a retort in court by Judge John K. Porter. He had spoken of "tubular roads and railways," and was taken up thereon by the opposite counsel, who wished to be informed whether his learned friend was to be understood as talking about "tubular railways." To which reponded Mr. Porter, "If I should speak of white men and Indians my learned brother, no doubt, would take me up as talking of white Indians."

—A Texas man suffered a singular accident recently. While walking along the street he suddenly felt a stinging sensation in his right hand, and raising it, found it bleeding badly and the forefinger gone. He found the finger upon the ground, and afterward learned that some one beyond a close board fence, examining a Winchester rifle, had accidently discharged it—he being so intent in thought that he did not hear the report.

—A reporter in Indiana describes a fight which recently took place between the exhibitors of a panorama of Switzerland, in which he says "the muscular turner of the crank knocked the elegant delineator of the moving scenes clear through the great glacier of the Alps into the Lake of Geneva."

Strong Nerves an Attainable Blessing.

There are many who have never known the blessing of strong nerves, having been born with weak ones. Those who have, and through disease or some other cause, have suffered a loss of nerve power, can, by contrast, more fully appreciate the magnitude of that loss. The true way to repair it is to invigorate the system through the medium of improved digestion, secretion, and the establishment of a regular habit of body, three results invariably accomplished by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the thorough conversion of the food into pure, nourishing blood, from which the nerves, in common with every other part of the bodily economy, gather vigor, the grand prerequisite of health. The great objection to sedatives and narcotics is that they not only exert no tonic influence, but are always followed by a hurtful reaction. Such is far from being the case with the Bitters, the primary medicine of which is most salutary, and whose after effects are beneficial in the extreme.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, is the only leading first-class hotel that has come down to "hard pan" rates, viz.: reduced from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

THOSE ACCRETIONS UPON THE SCALP which are termed dandruff are promptly removed by GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which by opening the pores promotes the natural moisture of the hair.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented, since eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. Meredith, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the Living Age cooks a still dearer offer, viz.: to new subscribers, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 magazines, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthly s, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in possession of the whole situation.

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the period to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best thinkers of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

JOTTINGS.

The Newcastle bridges, having been thoroughly repaired by the lessee, Mr. Urch, are now open for public travel.

We have received from the Publishers, S. R. Wells & Co., New York, a work entitled "Self Culture and Perfection of Character, with Management of Children." If parents would read it and follow its precepts we would soon have a different race of men and women from what we now have. It is simple, practical, in short, a common sense guide for the proper culture of children and grown people. But we would commend it particularly for parents to study. Send $1.25 to S. R. Wells & Co., publishers, 737 Broadway, New York, and the return mail will bring a copy.

At a meeting of the New Hampshire Poultry Association, held in Manchester on Monday evening, Warren Brown of Hampton Falls was chosen a Vice President, and Aaron Young an Auditor.

Thieves broke through and stole in the house of Mr. Frank P. Coleman, of Newington, Thanksgiving night. A gold watch and chain, some silver ware and jewelry were stolen. The family were absent, and an entrance was effected by breaking a pane of glass and unfastening a window.

Messrs. C. E. & J. E. Dixon, having purchased of the administratrix of the estate of the late G. F. Melcher his stock of jewelry, watches, clocks, etc., will continue to do business at the old stand, No. 7 Congress street. Both members of the new firm are well known to most of our citizens. The junior partner, having served five years in a leading establishment in this city, and for the last two years on Washington street, Boston, is a practical watchmaker; and we have no doubt that under the new firm, as for many years past, the business at No. 7 Congress street will be so conducted as to merit and receive a liberal share of the patronage of the citizens of this and neighboring towns.

Faith Home for aged women now has four permanent inmates.

While Mr. John Bragg was in Dr. Potter's office on Tuesday, he ruptured a blood vessels while coughing and died almost instantly. He was about fifty years old, and leaves a family.

The boot and shoe stock of Hill & Carr, bankrupts, in store No. 34 Market street, appraised at $6616, was sold at auction on Monday to William W. Cotton, for 78 1-2 per cent. of appraisal. The store was knocked down to Messrs. C. H. Mendum and Matthew B. Vennard for $1975 over and above incumbrances, making the actual cost of building $5615, subject only to dower. The house No. 18 Islington street, occupied by James M. Carr, was bought by Mr. Thomas K. Locke for $3150.

The house of Mr. James Boardman, at Kittery, was slightly damaged by fire which caught from a defect in the chimney, on Monday.

COERCION.

Messrs. Editors: In order to avoid injustice you must have a little more patience. [We have an idea that we have had all the patience necessary on P. & D. R. R. matters. — Eds. Chronicle.] Persistency in character as to what one knows or believes to be right is most highly commendable as being the bulkhead of individual and social welfare. [Score one for the "bulkhead."—Eds. Chron.] Nevertheless in a final award there will be merit exactly in accordance with real deserving. [Good—as far as it goes, if all the returns are in.—Eds. Chron.] It would be no disparagement of my character to say that I should "be lost" in a locomotive engine room, nor is it in regard to Messrs. Reding and Bailey to say that the way it was necessary to "boost them through the late undertaking" was a real ground of fear that they would in the end give the Railroad every possible disadvantage of their ignorance and want of comprehension; [Pistols and coffee for three?—Eds. Chron.] this Mr. Bailey has done in his talk or talks to enlighten the public as to the definition of "watered stock," and this they both did by the supplement to their highly creditable report. [Complimentary — or otherwise? — Eds. Chron.] This as well as a great deal of what has been said by others would "taint" the bonds in case of issue. ["The shackles ne'er again shall bind the arm that now is free."—Eds. Chron.] It would of course be better for our city if there could be more unanimity as to the course to be pursued, but as it is we must leave it to time to discover which "leap in the dark," is nearest the light. [Unanimity is better than two in a bush.—Eds. Chron.] Lo.

Another Nathan Murderer.

A man now confined in the jail at Portsmouth, N. H., if he tells the truth, is a prisoner of some importance. He claims to have been born in one of the mountain towns of Maide thirty-five years ago, which place he left when sixteen years old, with his father, and located in Iowa. He also claims to have kinsfolk of distinction in Illinois, whose names and residences he gives, and to have a kinsman in New York city of wealth and standing, whose name he gives. If he is to be believed, at the commencement of the war he enlisted and deserted, continuing to do so until he had served in eight different regiments, one of which was a New Hampshire regiment, from which he says he deserted, was captured and convicted of desertion and imprisoned for one year in the Norfolk slave pen. He states that he has been confined in Charles Street Jail, Boston, and has been to Deer Island twice; has been arrested in New York and other places, but for no other offence than desertion and drunkenness. He claims the knowledge, if not the acquaintance, of the senior member of a popular and distinguished publishing house in Boston, and recites with a good deal of familiarity the pedigree and history of this gentleman and his family connections. The prisoner claims to have been named after his uncle, for many years the president of a theological school in the West. A short time since he informed the Sheriff that he was in possession of some valuable information relative to a notorious murder which had been committed in New York city. Col. Kent placed no reliance in the statement, and gave it little heed; but not withstanding this the prisoner sent to Sheriff Kent a lengthy and detailed statement of the Nathan murder, in which he makes himself more or less an innocent participant, he being accessory to it, without any knowledge of it until after the act had been committed, learning of which he immediately fled the city. The Sheriff declines to give further details at present and is incredulous as to the truthfulness of the statement. He believes the prisoner became familiar with the Nathan murder by reading or hearing of it.—Boston Globe.

New Hampshire Items.

Russell Miller, of New Durham, recently killed a pig aged seven months and twenty days, which weighed when dressed 357 lbs.

The New Hampshire Electoral College organized on Tuesday with Hon. John M. Brackett as President, and Hon. Benj. F. Prescott as Secretary.

The opening of the Dover schools is postponed until December 26th, on account of the prevalence of diphtheria.

A wild-cat was caught in Erving, Mass., and which weighs forty pounds, is on exhibition at the City Hotel in Keene.

Daily, the Manchester clothes-line thief, was arraigned before the Manchester Police Court on Saturday, on ten complaints, and was fined $175.30. There are at least fifty cases more against him.

In Warner, Monday afternoon, Henry Jepson was driving down the road near his house, and about two and a half miles from Warner Village, he met Clarance Hurd of Henniker and William M. George of East Concord. He asked them to go back with him and have some cider. This request they complied with. They went into his house, and a quarrel ensued, when Jepson ordered Hurd and George to leave the premises. They left, but soon returned, and began to break in the doors, windows, etc. Jepson then came out with a shotgun, which he fired at Hurd and George. Hurd received the bulk of the charge in his thigh and George received two shots in the back. A fight then ensued, in which Hurd received a cut with a knife, in his groin, three inches deep and one and a half inches long, and another cut one and three-fourths inches long in the pit of his stomach. George's left ear was cut entirely open. Jepson was badly beaten and very badly bruised, is in a delirious state and will not survive his injuries. Jepson sustains a hard reputation among his townsmen, and has had considerable trouble with his wife. All the ruffians are under arrest.

—A Detroiter, who had been married but three months, was the other day tossing over the things in his wife's sewing basket, when he came across a little roll of newspaper articles about Laura Fair and Irene House. "How did you come by these?" he asked, as his wife entered the room. "Those? Why, I took great pains to cut them out and preserve them," was the reply. "But how can you take and interest in reading of such women, one of whom shot a friend and the other a husband?" "Oh, I merely cut them out," was her evasive reply. There was a painful silence for two or three minutes, when she crossed over to him and tenderly said: "George, you need not be afraid of me. I know I could shoot you and then secure a star lecture engagement, but I love you too well, and beside, I want you to fasten on my skates this winter!"

—Soon the annual crop of drownings from ventures on thin ice will begin to come in.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak-Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Maryaville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Printer, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment is the better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.
REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. P ease send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses.
RILEY SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Foll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted — like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Toiter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria coats the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 45 Dey St., N. Y.

Nervous Cows.

A recent writer says: "No observing persons can have the care of a herd of cows long without noting a great difference in the character and disposition of the different animals. In fact as Mrs. Partington observed about folks, there is as much difference in cows as there is in anybody, and the feminine peculiarities that we are apt to note in our own kind may, many of them, be detected among the domestic animals. Some cows are so phlegmatic and good-natured that a moderate amount of ill-treatment does not seem to disturb their equanimity. Others are naturally vicious, and will kick and hook without provocation. There is another class that, while not vicious, are so nervous that they may easily be made to appear ugly, and in time become really so, in consequence of rough handling or careless usage. It requires a considerate and good-dispositioned man to manage such cows and get along with them. They must be humored, spoken kindly to, and gently handled in milking. Swearing at them or beating them demoralizes them fearfully and makes them almost useless in a short time. It is often among the very best milkers and butter-makers that these nervous animals are found, and we cannot afford to have their value thus impaired. No violence should be allowed among the cows at any time; but, if you should have impatient help or are quick-tempered yourself, let some person who don't get mad so easily milk the nervous cows."

— A Newark saloon-keeper separated from his wife, agreeing to supply her with five dollars a week; but when she dropped into his saloon with a strange man, a few days after, and coolly ordered lager for two, it was too much for him, and there was trouble.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y.
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
ESTABLISHED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1845 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving them of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichel's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and ninety, and I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism, for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been free from the Rheumatism in Condition for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines, but the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and trying medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. McBride, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anything. I have Rheumatism in my feet. Inclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who send them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative so could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
— USE —
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
With a Large Assortment of Display Type.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

INCREASES THE QUANTITY IMPROVES THE QUALITY ARMSTRONG'S LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round. BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the best noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

To the Senate and House of Representatives.

In submitting my eighth and last annual message to Congress, it seems proper that I should refer to, and in some degree recapitulate, the events and official acts of the past eight years.

A PERSONAL APOLOGY.

It was my fortune or misfortune to be called to the office of the Chief Executive without any previous political training. From the age of 17 I had never even witnessed the excitement attending a Presidential campaign but twice antecedent to my own candidacy, and at but one of them was I eligible as a voter. Under such circumstances it is but reasonable to suppose that errors of judgment must have occurred; even had they not, differences of opinion between the Executive, bound by an oath to the strict performance of his duties, and writers and debaters must have arisen. It is not necessarily evidence of blunder on the part of the Executive because there are these differences of views. Mistakes have been made, as all can see, and I admit; but it seems to me oftener in the selections made of the assistants appointed to aid in carrying out the various duties of administering the Government, in nearly every case selected without a personal acquaintance with the appointee, but upon recommendations of the Representatives chosen directly by the people. It is impossible, where so many trusts are to be allotted, that the right parties should be chosen in every instance. History shows that no Administration, from the time of Washington to the present, has been free from these mistakes; but I leave comparison to history, claiming only that I have acted in every instance from a conscientious desire to do what was right and constitutional within the law and for the very best interests of the whole people. Failures have been errors of judgment, not of intent.

THE WORK OF RECONSTRUCTION.

My civil career commenced, too, at a most critical and difficult time. Less than four years before, the country had emerged from a conflict such as no other nation had ever survived. Nearly one-half of the States had revolted against the Government, and of those remaining faithful to the Union a large percentage of the population sympathized with the rebellion, and made an enemy in the rear almost as dangerous as the more honorable enemy in the front. The latter committed errors of judgment, but they maintained them openly and courageously; the former received the protection of the Government they would see destroyed, and reaped all the pecuniary advantage to be gained out of the then existing state of affairs, many of them by obtaining contracts and by swindling the Government in the delivery of their goods. Immediately on the cessation of hostilities the then noble President, who had carried the country so far through its perils, fell a martyr to his patriotism at the hands of an assassin. The intervening time to my first inauguration was filled up with wranglings between Congress and the new Executive as to the best mode of reconstruction. Or, to speak plainly, as to whether the control of the Government should be thrown immediately into the hands of those who had so recently and persistently tried to destroy it, or whether the victors should continue to have an equal voice with them in this control. Reconstruction, as finally agreed upon, means this and only this, except that the late slave was enfranchised, giving an increase, as was supposed, to the Union by Union-loving and Union supporting voters. It free in the full sense of the word, they would not disappoint this expectation. Hence, at the beginning of my first Administration the work of reconstruction, much embarrassed by the long delay, virtually commenced. It was the work of the Legislative branch of the Government. My province was wholly in approving their acts, which I did most heartily, urging the Legislatures of the States that had not yet done so to ratify the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

DIFFICULTIES TO BE OVERCOME.

The country was laboring under an enormous debt contracted in the suppression of the rebellion, and taxation was was so oppressive as to discourage production. Another danger also threatened us, a foreign war. The last difficulty had to be adjusted, and was adjusted without a war, and in a manner highly honorable to all parties concerned; taxes have been reduced within the last seven years nearly three hundred millions of dollars, and the National debt has been reduced in the same time four hundred and thirty-five millions of dollars. By refunding the six per cent. bonded debt for bonds bearing five and four and one-half per cent. interest respectively, the annual interest has been reduced from over one hundred and thirty millions of dollars in 1869 to but little over one hundred millions of dollars in 1876.

THE BALANCE OF TRADE

has been changed from over one hundred and thirty millions against the United States in 1869 to more than one hundred and twenty millions of dollars in our favor in 1876. It is confidently believed that the balance of trade in favor of the United States will increase and not diminish, and that the pledge of Congress to resume specie payments in 1879 will be easily accomplished, even in the absence of much desired further legislation on the subject.

THE INDIANS.

A policy has been adopted toward the Indian tribes inhabiting a large portion of the territory of the United States which has been humane, and has substantially ended Indian hostilities in the whole land, except in a portion of Nebraska, and Dakota, Wyoming and Montana Territories, the Black Hills region and approaches thereto. Hostilities there have grown out of the avarice of the white man, who has violated our treaty stipulation in his search for gold.

The question might be asked why the Government has not enforced obedience to the terms of the treaty, which prohibited the occupation of the Black Hills region by whites? The answer is simple. The first emigrants to the Black Hills were removed by troops, but rumors of rich discoveries of gold took into that region increased numbers. Gold has actually been found in paying quantity, and an effort to remove the miners would only result in the desertion of the bulk of the troops that might be sent there to remove them. All difficulty in this matter has, however, been removed, subject to the approval of Congress, by a treaty ceding the Black Hills and approaches to settlement by citizens. The subject of Indian policy and treatment is so fully set forth by the Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and my views so fully expressed therein, that I refer to those reports and recommendations as my own.

RELATIONS WITH FOREIGN POWERS.

The relations of the United States with foreign powers continue on a friendly footing. Questions have arisen from time to time, in the foreign relations of the Government, but they have been happily free during the past year from the complications and embarrassments which have surrounded some of the foreign powers. The diplomatic correspondence submitted herewith contains information as to certain of the matters which have occupied the Government. The cordiality which attends our relations with the powers of the East has been plainly shown by the general participation of foreign nations in the exhibition which has just closed, and by the exertions made by distant powers to show their interest and friendly feelings toward the United States in the commemoration of of the Nation. The Government and people of the United States have not only fully appreciated this exhibition of kindly feeling, but it may be justly and fairly expected that no small benefit will result both to ourselves and other nations from a better acquaintance and a better appreciation of our mutual advantages and mutual wants.

THE CONSULAR SERVICE.

Congress at its last session saw fit to reduce the amount usually appropriated for foreign intercourse by withholding appropriations for representatives of the United States in certain foreign countries and for certain consular offices, and by reducing the amounts usually appropriated for certain other diplomatic posts, and thus necessitating change in the grade of the representative. For these reasons, immediately upon the passage of the bill making appropriations for the diplomatic and consular service for the present fiscal year instructions were issued to the representatives of the United States at Bolivia, Ecuador and Columbia, and to the consular officers for whom no appropriation had been made, to close their representative legations and consulates and cease from the performance of their duties; and in like manner steps were immediately taken to substitute Charges d'Affaires for ministers resident in Portugal, Denmark, Greece, Switzerland and Paraguay. While thoroughly impressed with the wisdom of sound economy in the foreign service as in other branches of the Government, I cannot escape the conclusion that in some instances the withholding of appropriations will prove an expensive economy and that the small retrenchment secured by a change of grade in certain diplomatic posts is not an adequate consideration for the loss of influence and importance which will attend our foreign representatives under this reduction. I am of the opinion that a re-examination of the subject will cause a change in some instances in the conclusion reached on these subjects at the last session of Congress.

ALABAMA CLAIMS.

The Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims, whose functions were continued by an act of the last session of Congress until the first day of January, 1877, has carried on its labors with diligence and general satisfaction. By a report from the Clerk of the Court transmitted herewith, bearing date November 14, 1876, it appears that within the time now allowed by law the Court will have disposed of all the claims presented for adjudication. This report also contains a statement of the general results of the labors of the Court to the date thereof. It is a cause of satisfaction that the method adopted for the satisfaction of the classes of claims submitted to the Court, which are of long standing and justly entitled, to early consideration, should have proved successful and acceptable.

THE BRITISH BOUNDARY QUESTION.

It is with satisfaction that I am enabled to state that the work of the Joint Commission for determining the boundary line between the United States and British Possessions, from the northwest angle of the Lake of the Woods to the Rocky Mountains, commenced in 1872, has been completed. The final agreements of the Commissioners, with the maps, have been duly signed, and the work of the Commission is complete. The fixing of the boundary upon the Pacific coast by the protocol of March 10th, 1875, pursuant to the award of the Emperor of Germany, by article 34 of the Treaty of Wasnington, with the termination of the work of this Commission, adjusts and fixes the entire boundary between the United States and the British Possessions, except as to the portion of territory ceded by Russia to the United States under the treaty of 1867. The work entrusted to the Commissioner and the officers of the army attached to the Commission has been well and satisfactorily performed. The original of the final agreement of the Commissioners, signed upon the 29th of May, 1876, with the original list of astronomical stations observed, the original official list of monuments marking the International boundary line, and the maps, records and general reports relating to the Commission have been deposited in the Department of State. The official report of the Commissioner on the part of the United States, with the report of the chief astronomer of the United States, will be submitted to Congress within a short time.

THE ENGLISH EXTRADITION DIFFICULTY.

I reserve for a separate communication to Congress a statement of the condition of the questions which lately arose with Great Britain respecting the surrender of fugitive criminals under the treaty of 1842.

RELATIONS WITH TURKEY.

The Ottoman Government gave notice under date of Jan. 15, 1874, of its desire to terminate the treaty of 1862, concerning commerce and navigation, pursuant to the provisions of the twenty-second article thereof. Under this notice the treaty terminated upon the 5th day of June, 1876. That Government has invited negotiations toward the conclusion of a new treaty. By the act of Congress of March 23, 1874, the President was authorized when he should receive satisfactory information that the Ottoman Government or that of Egypt had organized new tribunals likely to secure to citizens of the United States the same impartial justice enjoyed under the exercise of judicial functions by diplomatic and consular officers of the United States, to suspend the operation of the act of June 22, 1860, and to accept for citizens of the United States the jurisdiction of the new tribunals. Satisfactory information having been received of the organization of such new tribunals in Egypt, I caused a proclamation to be issued on the 27th of March last suspending the operations of the act of June 22, 1860, in Egypt, according to the provisions of the act. A copy of the proclamation accompanies this message. The United States has united with the other powers in the organization of these courts. It is hoped that the jurisdictional questions which have arisen may be readily adjusted, and that this advance in judicial reform may be hindered by no obstacles.

THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.

The necessary legislation to carry into effect the Convention respecting commercial reciprocity, concluded with the Hawaiian Islands in 1875, having been had, the proclamation to carry into effect the Convention as provided by the act approved August 15, 1876, was duly issued upon the 9th day of September last. A copy thereof accompanies this message.

[The length of the Message precluding our publication of it in one issue of the CHRONICLE, we shall continue it to-morrow.]

Awful Di-aster in Brooklyn.

THEATRE BURNED!

Over Two Hundred Lives Lost!!

On Tuesday night, while the "Two Orphans" was being acted at the Brooklyn Theatre, and just before the close of the last act, the stage drapery took fire from a gas burner, and the inflammable material about the stage was instantly in flames. A frightful scene ensued. The panic stricken people choked the exits, trampling each other to death for fully a half-hour in their frenzied efforts to get out, the fire spreading all the time and at length reaching the gallery, when an explosion took place, and soon after the galleries fell, taking away the last chance of an escape from those still in the building. The fire was got under control at about one o'clock, but the full extent of the horror was not even suspected until daylight, (when numerous charred and blackened bodies were discovered,) though it was known that several men were burned to death, and that others were severely injured by the flames or by jumping from windows. Over one hundred bodies were recovered by noon of Wednesday, and at three o'clock one hundred and fifty-one corpses had been taken from the ruins. H. S. Murdock, the actor, is among the missing, and there is little hope that he is living. Two hundred and forty bodies had been recovered up to seven o'clock Wednesday night.

Nebraska.

After a full hearing, Judge Savage refused to grant an injunction to restrain the republican Electors from casting their votes.

Florida.

The democrats credit a report that one of the Florida Electors will vote for Tilden.

Governor Stearns telegraphed to Senator Conover, Wednesday afternoon, as follows, from Tallahassee: "Majority for Hayes electors, 930; State officers, 540; both Congressmen elected; Board of Canvassers unanimous." The democrats in Washington had confidently expected a minority report from Cocke, the democratic member of the Board of Canvassers, and his signing the returns is a heavy blow to them. They have cried "fraud" as loudly about Florida as about Louisiana,—and with as much cause and no more.

Louisiana.

The official vote elects the Hayes Electors by 3437 to 4567 majority. Kellogg had 75,135, Beach 75,129, Joseph 74,104, Sheldon 74,027, Marks 74,418, Levissee 74,013, Brewster 74,017, Joffrion 74,736—all republicans. The democratic candidates had the following number of votes: McEnery 70,508, Wickliffe 70,509, St. Martin 70,552, Pachec, 70,335, DeBlanc 70,557, Seay 70,525, Cobb 70,423, Cross 70,556. The republican candidates for State officers and four of the six republican candidates for Congress are elected. For Governor, Packard has 74,624, Nicholls 71,198. For Lieut. Governor Antoine has 74,069, Wiltz 71,093.

Wisconsin.

The official vote elects the ten republican candidate for Electors. The highest majority is 6150; the lowest 1245, owing to a change in one candidate made just before election.

Oregon.

A Portland dispatch says Gov. Grover, democrat, will not issue certificates of election to two of the three republican Electors chosen in that State.

The official vote of Oregon, as canvassed on the 4th by the Secretary of State in presence of a number of prominent men of both parties, gives the republicans a majority of 1,165.

Election Notes.

Despatches to Washington from South Carolina on Tuesday evening say the republican (legal) legislature canvassed the vote for Governor that day and declared Chamberlain elected by 3145 majority. He was to be inaugurated on Wednesday.

The republicans claim four majority in the next House of Representatives.

None can remember that the democratic papers of the North which are now so indignant because troops have been sent to South Carolina to sustain the legal Governor of that State in strict accordance with the Constitution, denounced President Pierce for using "federal bayonets" to crush out the free State party in Kansas at the instance of the slave party. If any person can find such a printed "protest" at that time in any democratic paper, we would like to see it.

The "party of reform" hopes to succeed by a trick or breach of trust, but the chances are it will not be able to do either. The still hunt for that missing elector is growing hotter and hotter. Every State from the Atlantic to the Pacific is scoured for him, and all sorts of influences are used to induce him to appear. Whatever doubt republicans may have felt about the proceedings in Louisiana will be in great measure removed by this brazen attempt of the democrats to cheat the people of unquestioned republican States of their will. The "moral" effect of a victory thus obtained would not be perceptibly great.—N. Y. Tribune.

Missouri, the State in which brigandage is cultivated as a heroic art, in which border-ruffianism is a licensed system, and in the greater part of which popular ignorance is bliss and total depravity the normal condition of society, has given about 60,000 majority for Tilden. Per contra, Iowa, its next door neighbor, with its schools, churches and a popular respect for law, order and the decencies of civilization, gave Hayes nearly 60,000 majority. Could the contrast between the two conditions of society and the effects be more strikingly demonstrated!—Chicago Journal.

The Electoral College of New Hampshire on Wednesday cast the five votes of the State for Rutherford B. Hayes and William A. Wheeler, and appointed Lysander H. Carroll of Concord messenger to carry the vote to Washington.

Lincoln's Assassin Honored.

At Wheeling, W. Va., on the night of the 14th ult., the adherents of "Tilden and Reform" had a grand torchlight procession. Upon one of their banners was seen a life-size portrait of Wilkes Booth, the reverse side of which bore the following poetical effusion:

"Here is to the finger
That pulled the trigger
That killed the man
That freed the nigger."

A Wheeling lady, in a letter to a friend in Washington, says: "As the procession passed the house where I was stopping they cheered lustily for Booth, and whenever the banner was exhibited containing his portrait it was vociferously cheered. The negroes of the city were told that Tilden intended to remand them to slavery, and hereafter they must not ask payment for their labor."—Washington Republican.

—A foolish young man, who had lost about $50,000 on the Pacific coast in various speculations and had gambled as long as he had anything to pawn, took a dose of laudanum in San Francisco on Nov. 25 and died after writing the following letter to the coroner: "In order to save you as much trouble as possible, I beg to inform you that this is a case of laudanum taken with suicidal intent. Reasons concern no one but myself; still, if any one should insist upon having a reason, you may say I was driven to desperation by the Presidential muddle, and, seeing no prospect of ascertaining in this world who was to be the next President, went to the next world, where all things are supposed to be known for the information of the anxious. Please exert your influence with the city fathers to prevent the erection of a monument over my remains; but if you should find a wide-spread feeling on the part of the people to mark my last resting place, you might have it fenced in."

—A Jerseyman put his head too close to a cage in which a wounded snipe was confined, and the bird thrust its bill into his eye, destroying his sight.

Invigorate, and Be Healthy.

The source of nine-tenths of the bodily ills of mankind is a deficiency of vital power. No portion of the physical machinery can efficiently perform its allotted duty if there is insufficient motive force in the system. Invigorate, therefore, in order to regain health. For the restoration of lost vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are the best tonic that can be selected, since they not only impart fresh vigor into the debilitated system, but overcome disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which interfere with the complete assimilation of the food, and thus perpetuate weakness. The Bitters likewise cure and prevent malarious fevers, remedy debilitating urinary troubles, and eliminate from the blood through the kidneys the impurities which originate gout, rheumatism and dropsy. Appetite, digestion, sleep,—in short, every essential condition of health, are promoted by their use.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, was the first leading hotel to reduce and schedule its rates according to the location of its rooms. It now charges $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

"A stitch in time saves nine." A dose of Adamson's Balsam in season may prevent a long cold or fever, and perhaps a resultant death. It cures coughs, colds, asthma, and all lung troubles. Keep it in the house. Price 25 cents.

THOSE ACCRETIONS UPON THE SCALP which are termed dandruff are promptly removed by GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which by opening the pores promotes the natural moisture of the hair.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. Accommodation plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtr1877

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of closely reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness a wide range and variety of choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such prominent authors as Prof. Max Müller, Prof. Huxley, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Gen. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other writers in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while or those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the introductory offer of the publisher, in announcing The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50, With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthly, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in possession of the choicest literature.

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides many valuable serials, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful and attractive serial story, entitled "Kate," appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the period for the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best writers of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same in character as those for the past year. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by fraud in the polling-box and in the counting or voice, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for that purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by robbery and by using the Treasury of the United States for does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of usurpation and power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and may thus, perhaps, enable us to or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

JOTTINGS.

Hon. Frank A. Allen, formerly of the firm of Allen & Paine of this city, was elected Mayor of Cambridge, Mass., on Tuesday, by 650 majority over the present incumbent, Hon. Isaac Bradford.

Rev. E. A. Rand of this city, late pastor of the Congregational church in South Boston, has accepted a call to the First church in Franklin, Mass.

Word was sent from Dover to this city on Wednesday, announcing the death, after a long illness, of Dr. Albion P. Stevens, at the residence of his father in Dover. His loss will be mourned by very many outside the immediate circle of his family.

The mystery and uncertainty which has long prevailed regarding the first settlement of New Hampshire, has been cleared up by John S. Jenness, the well-known local historian of this city, who has discovered early colonial papers which fully establish the day and date of the landing of the Granite State "pilgrims," and show conclusively the priority of Portsmouth over Dover. The brig "Jonathan," of Plymouth, England, was the Mayflower, and Odiorne's Point the Plymouth Rock of the Piscataqua settlements. The papers will immediately be given to the public.—Times.

Chapman's Fifth Avenue Theatre Company, now playing at Portland to large audiences, will visit this city on the 19th inst. and play "Pique" at the Temple.

The Portland papers speak favorably of a petition recently presented to the City Council of Portland. The petitioners, who are leading citizens, representing both political parties, ask to have steps taken for the amendment of the city charter, so as to have the police force appointed hereafter for good behavior, instead of for one year. The intention is to take the force out of politics, and it ought to be done,—not only in Portland but in every other city, including Portsmouth.

Schooner J. W. Roberts arrived at this port on Wednesday from Summerside, Prince Edward's Island, with 2700 bushels of potatoes for J. Stokell & Co.

Foster's Democrat, of Dover, publishes the supplementary report of Messrs. Redding and Bailey on P & D. Railroad affairs, and then says: "At the proper time we shall show just what this transaction was between the city and the Trust & Guarantee Co., of Portsmouth, what came of it, and what the invariable rule and practice has been in cases of loss in the sale of bonds issued to aid in the construction of railroads. But the first thing to be decided is, whether the debt of the P. & D. Railroad is to be paid. There is a debt against the road of some $80,000, and it involves every dollar which our city has expended in aid of that road. That's the simple and only fact now before the authorities." Some people might think the present quite as "proper" a time as any to show "just what the transaction was" and "what came of it," as the question of further aid to the road is now pending in the City Councils of Portsmouth and Dover.

Rev. James DeNormandie will resume the Thursday evening lectures at the chapel on Court street this evening at half-past seven o'clock.

The first annual ball of the Portsmouth Heavy Artillery Company, next Monday evening, promises to be a brilliant success. Gov. Cheney, several members of his staff, and prominent military men of this State and Massachusetts, with their ladies, are expected to be present. The reception tendered by this company to the Salem Cadets recently, proved such a pleasant affair that there can be no doubt of a most enjoyable time on this occasion.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

The annual meeting of this Society was held at the Common Council room Monday evening, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year:

President, Thomas E. O. Marvin.

Vice Presidents, Mrs. Charles Burroughs, Mrs. Stanton Parker, Mrs. Albert L. Jones, Mrs. Ichabod Goodwin, Mrs. Ezra H. Winchester, Daniel H. Pierce, John S. H. Frink, William F. Parrott, William H. Y. Hackett, Frank Jones, Daniel Austin.

Directors, Mrs. John J. Pickering, Mrs. Alfred W. Haven, Miss Eliza Rice, Miss Elizabeth H. Pearson, Mrs. Helen C. Knight, Mrs. Frank W. Miller, Miss Mary A. Foster, Miss Susan E. Christie, Miss Carrie A. Morrison, Miss Mary R. Lyman, Albion P. Stevens, James R. May, Augustus W. Odion, Alonzo F. Craig, Charles V. Gardner.

Secretary, Alonzo F. Craig.

Treasurer, Miss Mary A. Foster.

The annual report of the secretary shows that the number of horses condemned and killed during the year was three; number of horses found exposed to cold and blanketed, eighteen; number of men prosecuted for cruelty, four; number of men arrested for cruelty, four; whole number of complaints investigated and disposed of without recourse to law, fifty-three; amount expended for publications and distribution of same in the city, $35.

DANGEROUS SPORT.

On Wednesday a boy named William Bryant, about thirteen years old, was skating on the North Millpond, and foolishly venturing too near the bridge, where the ice is thin from the effect of the rush of the tides through the flood-gates, broke through. Master George Shannon, a lad of about the same age as young Bryant, hastened to the latter's assistance and would probably have got him out all right had he (Bryant) kept as cool mentally as he was physically.—but in his eagerness to get out of the water he pulled Shannon into it, by which a bad matter was made worse. Young Shannon retained his presence of mind and leaned forward on the edge of the ice for support, the other lad holding on to him vigorously; they could not get out unaided and the ice was too thin to bear a man's weight, but they were finally rescued by Mr. John Lewis, who crawled near enough to reach them with a pole, and pulled them out. Boys who have not got sense enough to keep off thin ice had better fight shy of the millponds, and take to the Rink.

The Constitutional Convention.

The Constitutional Convention assembled in Representatives Hall in the State House at Concord, at 11 o'clock, A. M., on Wednesday.

The Convention was called to order by W. H. Y. Hackett, who was chosen Temporary Chairman; C. C. Danforth, of Concord, was chosen Temporary Clerk. A committee on credentials was appointed, and the Convention then adjourned till 2:30 P. M.

New Hampshire Items.

Benjamin Bowker's farm house, three barns, farm implements, crops, etc., at Charlestown, were burned Monday night; loss $4,000, insured $3,500. It is supposed the fire was an incendiary one.

Perhaps it is not generally known that the two most distinguished democratic leaders now in Florida are New Hampshire carpet-beggars. Drew, the democratic candidate for Governor at the late election, went from Alton, and the somewhat notorious George Nutter was his chief fugler. And both, after being defeated, labored hard to steal the vote of the State from the republicans.

News and Notes.

James W. Comfort, of the firm of Atherton & Co., of Bellows Falls, Vt., left town last week under suspicious circumstances. It is now ascertained that he took with him about $2000 in money belonging to the firm. He has been collecting money for some time and not crediting it on the firm books. He was formerly employed a number of years by the United States and Canada Express Company as messenger between Burlington and Boston, and previous to that time served in the rebel army. He was a native of the South and has taken an active part in the democratic reform campaign.

Schooner Kate E. Rich is having a hard time of it. On Monday, Nov. 27th, she was in collision off Cape Cod with schooner W. A. Pickard, and on the following Monday was run into by schooner Thomas Dixon and badly injured, in Vineyard Sound.

Robbins, the "insane" man who murdered the mate and a seaman of schooner "Annie B." off the coast of Maine some time ago, escaped to the shore in the schooner's boat, was arrested and tried for murder, acquitted on the score of insanity, and who has since been confined in the Insane Hospital of Maine, was discharged Dec. 5th on an order from the Court.

On Wednesday President Grant sent a special message to Congress, including the report of the republican committee on Louisiana. The democrats filibustered to prevent its being read, and tried to force an adjournment; a few democrats voted with the republicans to prevent an adjournment and the message and report were finally read by the Clerk.

—Thirty-eight years ago the 19th of November a great fire broke out at a convent school for young ladies in the town of Limoges, France. At the last moment it was perceived that one of the pensionnaires had been left in her room. There appeared to be no hope of saving her, when a handsome girl, with floating locks and disheveled array, rushed through the crowd, crying "Let me do it." She dashed into the flames, and reappeared carrying the child. A few days afterward Louis Philippe sent the heroine a gold medal, and a captain in the French army who had witnessed her courage asked to be presented to her. That captain is now President of the French Republic, and the heroine is his wife.

—"Mother, have I any children?" asked an urchin of eight summers. "Why, no! What put that into your head?" returned the surprised parent. "Because I read today about children's children," answered the acute juvenile.

—Girls, it would seem, are by nature more inclined to untruthfulness than boys; but this inclination is really very often the result of moral cowardice, a defect which it may be said is as common to boys and men as to girls and women. Among men the practice of falsehood is, perhaps, not more rare than among women, but it is apt to take a less harmful form.—Saturday Review.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine:

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Sevenoaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will be run to the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a rather odd and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A School of Pottery," in the November number, and "Tunnel Lane, Sheffield," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Threepence a Week for the Kind," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place whilst the latest products of American industry will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and more ideal and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any liniment ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Wenlings Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Spindled Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the treatment Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mississippi:

"Centaur Liniment is the better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I consequently him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Moorsville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS.—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Foll-Evil, Ringbone, Sc ratches or Lame neck of any kind, the effects are the same. Livery men, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcoh l and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria sooths the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness; quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the receipt of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d on their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was sick four years ago I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another 5 stamps. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the good qualities of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if you can cure me they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed you find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever used. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative art could prescribe, after, dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the choice of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter counties around Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc.; and the increased yield of butter much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

MEXICAN TROUBLES.

The commotions which have been prevalent in Mexico for some time past, and which unhappily seem to be not yet wholly quieted, have led to complaints of citizens of the United States of injuries by persons in authority. It is hoped, however, that these will ultimately be adjusted to the satisfaction of both Governments. The frontier of the United States in that quarter has not been exempt from acts of violence by citizens of one Republic on those of the other. The frequency of these is supposed to be increased and their adjustment made more difficult by the considerable changes in the course of the lower part of the Rio Grande river, which is a part of the boundary between the two countries. These changes have placed on either side of that river portions of land which, by existing conventions, belong to the jurisdiction of the Government on the opposite side of the river. The subject of adjustment of this cause of difficulty is under consideration between the two Republics.

THE COLOMBIAN INDEMNITY.

The Government of the United States of Colombia has paid the award in the case of the steamer Montijo, seized by the authorities of that Government some years since, and the amount has been transferred to the claimants.

MEXICAN CLAIMS.

It is with satisfaction that I am able to announce that the Joint Commission for the adjustment of claims between the United States and Mexico, under the Convention of 1868, the duration of which has been several times extended, has brought its labors to a close. From the report of the agent of the United States, which accompanies the papers transmitted herewith, it will be seen that within the time limited by the Commission one thousand and seventeen claims on the citizens of the United States against Mexico were referred to the Commission. Of these claims eight hundred and thirty-one were dismissed or disallowed, and in one hundred and eighty-six cases awards were made in favor of the claimants against the Mexican Republic, amounting in the aggregate to four million, one hundred and twenty-five thousand, six hundred and twenty-two dollars, and twenty cents. Within the same period nine hundred and ninety-eight claims on the part of citizens of the Mexican Republic against the United States were referred to the Commission. Of these claims eight hundred and thirty-one were dismissed or disallowed, and in 167 cases awards were made in favor of claimants against the United States, amounting in the aggregate to one hundred and fifty thousand, four hundred and ninety-eight dollars, and forty-one cents. By the terms of the Convention the amount of these awards is to be deducted from the amount awarded in favor of our citizens against Mexico, and the balance only to be paid to Mexico by the United States, leaving the United States to make provisions for this proportion of the awards in favor of its own citizens. I invite your attention to the legislation which will be necessary to provide for the payment.

In this connection I am pleased to be able to express the acknowledgments due to Sir Edward Thornton, the umpire of the Commission, who has given to the consideration of the large number of claims submitted to him much time, unwearied patience and that fairness and intelligence which are well know to belong to the accomplished representative of Great Britain, and which are likewise recognized by the representative in this country of the Republic of Mexico.

VENEZUELA CLAIMS.

Monthly payments of a very small part of the amount due to the Government of Venezuela to citizens of the United States on account of claims of the latter against the Government continue to be made with reasonable punctuality. That Government has proposed to change the system which it has hitherto pursued in this respect by issuing bonds for part of the amount of the several claims. The proposition, however, could not, it is supposed, properly be accepted, at least without the consent of the holders of certificates of the indebtedness of Venezuela. These are so much dispersed that it would be difficult if not impossible to ascertain their opinions on the subject.

NATURALIZATION.

In former messages I have called the attention of Congress to the necessity of legislation with regard to fraudulent naturalization, and to the subject of expatriation and the election of nationality. The numbers of persons of foreign birth seeking a home in the United States, the ease and facility with which the honest emigrant may, after the lapse of a reasonable time, become possessed of all the privileges of citizenship of the United States, and the frequent occasions which have induced such adopted citizens to return to the country of their birth render the subject of naturalization and the safeguards which experience has proved necessary for the protection of the honest naturalized citizen of paramount importance. The very simplicity in the requirements of the law on this question afford opportunity for fraud, and the want of uniformity in the proceedings and records of the various Courts, and in the forms of the certificates of naturalization issued, afford a constant source of difficulty. I suggest no additional requirements to the acquisition of citizenship beyond those now existing, but I invite the earnest attention of Congress to the necessity and wisdom of some propositions regarding uniformity in the records and certificates, and providing against the frauds which frequently take place, and for the vacating of a record of naturalization obtained in fraud. These provisions are needed in aid and for the protection of the honest citizen of foreign birth, and for the want of which he is made to suffer not infrequently. The United States has insisted upon the right of expatriation, and has obtained, after a long struggle, an admission of the principle contended for by acquiescence therein on the part of many foreign powers, and by the conclusion of treaties on that subject. It is, however, but justice to the Government to which such naturalized citizens have formerly owed allegiance, as well as to the United States, that certain fixed and definite rules should be adopted governing such cases and providing how expatriation may be accomplished. While emigrants in large numbers become citizens of the United States, it is also true that persons, both native-born and naturalized, once citizens of the United States, either by formal acts or as the effect of a series of acts and circumstances, abandon their citizenship and cease to be entitled to the protection of the United States, continue on convenient occasions to assert a claim to protection in the absence of provisions on these questions. And in this connection I again invite your attention to the necessity of legislation concerning the marriages of American citizens contracted abroad, and concerning the status of American women who may marry foreigners, and of children born of American parents in a foreign country. The delicate and complicated questions continually occurring with reference to naturalization, expatriation and the status of such persons as I have above referred to, induce me to earnestly direct your attention to these subjects.

CLAIMS OF ALIENS.

In like manner I repeat my recommendations that some means be provided for the hearing and determination of the just and subsisting claims of aliens upon the Government of the United States, within a reasonable limitation, and of such as may hereafter arise. While by existing provisions of law the Court of Claims may be in certain cases resorted to by an alien claimant, the absence of any general provisions governing all such cases upon recognized, fixed and settled principles, either provides no remedy in many deserving cases, or compels a consideration of such claims by Congress or the Executive Departments of the Government. It is believed that other Governments are in advance of the United States upon this question, and that the practice now adopted is entirely unsatisfactory.

THE STATE OF COLORADO.

Congress, by an act approved the third day of March, 1875, authorized the inhabitants of the Territory of Colorado to form a State Government with the name of the State of Colorado, and therein provided for the admission of said State, when formed, into the Union, upon an equal footing with the original States. A constitution having been adopted and ratified by the people of that State, and the acting Governor having certified to me the facts as provided by said act, together with a copy of such Constitution and ordinances as provided for in the said act, and the provisions of the said act of Congress having been duly complied with, I issued a proclamation upon the 1st of August, 1876, a copy of which is hereto annexed.

MILITARY OPERATIONS.

The report of the Secretary of War shows that the army has been actively employed during the year in subduing at the request of the Indian Bureau certain wild bands of the Sioux Indian nation, and in preserving the peace at the South during the election. The Commission constituted under the act of July 24, 1876, to consider and report on the whole subject of reform and reorganization of the whole army in August last, has collected a large mass of statistics and opinions bearing on the subject before it. These are now under consideration and their report is progressing. I am advised, though, by the President of the Commission that it will be impracticable to comply with the clause of the act, requiring the report to be presented through me to Congress on the first day of the session, as there has not yet been time for that mature deliberation which the importance of the subject demands. Therefore, I ask that the time of making the report be extended to the 20th day of January, 1877. In accordance with the resolution of August 15, 1876, the army regulations prepared under the act of March 1, 1875, have not been promulgated, but are held until after the report of the above-mentioned Commission shall have been received and acted on. By the act of August 15, 1876, the cavalry force of the army was increased by 2500 men, with the proviso that they should be discharged on the expiration of hostilities. Under this authority the cavalry regiments have been strengthened and a portion of them are now in the field pursuing the remnants of the Indians with whom they have been engaged during the summer.

The estimates of the War Department are made up on the basis of the number of men authorized by law and their requirements as shown by years of experience, and also with the purpose on the part of bureau officers to provide for all contingencies that may arise during the time for which the estimates are made. Exclusive of the engineer estimates, presented in accordance with the acts of Congress calling for surveys and estimates for improvements at various localities, the estimates now presented are about six millions in excess of the appropriations for the years 1874-75 and 1875-76. This increase is asked in order to provide for the increased cavalry force should their services be necessary; to prosecute economically the work upon important public buildings; to provide for the armament of fortifications and the manufacture of small arms, and to replenish the working stock in the supply departments. The appropriations of those last-named have, for the past few years, been so limited that the accumulations in store will be entirely exhausted during the present year, and it will be necessary to at once begin to replenish them. I invite your special attention to the following recommendations of the Secretary of War:

First—That the claims under the act of July 4, 1864, for supplies taken by the army during the war be removed from the offices of Quartermaster and Commissary-Generals and transferred to the Southern Claims Commission. These claims are of a precisely similar nature to those now before the Northern Claims Commission, and the War Department Bureaus have not the clerical force for their examination, nor proper machinery for investigating the loyalty of claimants.

Second—That Congress sanction the scheme of an annuity fund for the benefit of the families of deceased officers, and that it also provide for the permanent organization of the signal service, both of which were recommended in my last annual message.

Third—That the manufacturing operations of the Ordnance Department be concentrated at three arsenals and an armory, and that the remaining arsenals be sold and the proceeds applied to this object by the Ordnance Department.

RIVER AND HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS.

The appropriations for river and harbor improvements for the current year were $5,015,000. With my approval the Secretary of War directed that of this amount $2,000,000 should be expended and no new work should be begun and none prosecuted which were not of National importance. Subsequently this amount was increased to $2,237,600, and the works are now progressing on this basis. The improvement of the south pass of the Mississippi river under James B. Eades and his associates is progressing favorably.

At the present time there is a channel of 20 3-10 feet in depth between the jetties at the mouth of the pass and 18 1-2 at the head of the pass. Neither channel, however, has the width required before payments can be made by the United States. A commission of engineer officers is now examining the sea works, and their reports will be presented as soon as received.

THE NAVY.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy shows that branch of the service to be in a condition as effective as it is possible to keep it with the means and authority given the Department. It is, of course, not possible to rival the costly and progressive establishments of great European powers with the old material of our navy, to which no increase has been authorized since the war, except the eight small cruisers built to supply the place of others which had gone to decay; yet the most has been done that was possible with the means at command, and by substantially rebuilding some of our old ships with durable material and completely repairing and refitting our monitor fleet, the navy has been gradually so brought up that, though it does not maintain its relative position among the progressive navies of the world, it is now in a condition more powerful and effective than it ever has been in time of peace. The complete repairs of our five heavy ironclads are only delayed on account of the inadequacy of the appropriations made last year for the working bureaus of the Department, which were actually less in amount than those made before the war, notwithstanding the greatly enhanced price of labor and materials, and the increase in the cost of naval service growing out of the universal use and great expense of steam machinery. The money necessary for these repairs should be provided at once, that they may be completed without further unnecessary delay and expense. When this is done all the strength that there is in our navy will be developed and useful to its full capacity, and it will be powerful for purposes of defence, and also for offensive action should the necessity for that arise within a reasonable distance from our shores. The fact that our navy is not more modern and powerful than it is has been made a cause of complaint against the Secretary of the Navy by persons who at the same time criticise and complain of his endeavor to bring the navy that we have to its best and most efficient condition, but the good sense of the country will understand that it is really due to his practical action that we have at this time any effective navy force at command.

Concluded in next issue.

—There are whispered suspicions that Gen. Butler is contemplating a return to the democratic fold. The rumor has travelled so far as St. Louis, and a democrat there was so delighted that he wrote to the General asking him if it were true, and begging, if it were, to tender his congratulations. The sly Benjamin, turning to his well worn Bible, responded with this enigmatical passage: "There is more joy in Heaven over one sinner that repenteth than over ninety and nine just persons." It is pretty difficult to say what this answer means, but if the General should make up his mind to rejoin the democrats, what pen would be capable of depicting the feelings of the Massachusetts republicans who have sent him to the House to "stir up the rebel brigadiers?"—Tribune.

Another Muddle.

By the action of Gov. Grover of Oregon on Wednesday, the 6th, the Presidential question (which all good citizens had hoped would be finally settled by the Electors fairly chosen,) is still further complicated, and the country is compelled to remain in suspense for three months longer, and its business interests are to be injured and its prosperity greatly retarded until the 5th of March shall finally settle all dispute. Those misled voters who for the first time cast their suffrages for the democratic candidates, will do well to take notice that when democrats who make loud boasts of reform attain power, scoundrelism rapidly comes to the front. It was the case in this State when Mr. Weston, then Governor, went beyond his duty and committed a deed of usurpation unparalleled in its history. It was a boldly conceived and audaciously executed crime against the State, which was so boldly sustained by the democratic party, although at the following election the people set their seal of condemnation upon it most emphatically.

Mr. Tilden needed a scoundrel to help him reach the Presidency, and obtained one, not in the republican ranks, not among the poor negroes chosen as Electors in some of the Southern States, but in the person of a democrat, a Governor of a State, and that State Oregon. The official majority of Oregon, counted and declared by this same Governor, gave the HAYES & WHEELER Electors a majority of 1165 votes. There was no pretence of a contest, no charges of fraud or intimidation. The three HAYES & WHEELER Electors were chosen. Yet Gov. Grover, on the pretence that one was ineligible (on account of holding the office of Postmaster, which he resigned before election day,) deliberately gave a certificate of election to the highest candidate on the democratic ticket, who had not received within 1100 and more of a majority or plurality of the votes cast, and refused to give the republican electors whom he deemed eligible their certificates unless they would recognize as one of their number the democrat to whom he had given a certificate. There will be found no democrat of influence who will not heartily applaud this villainy. Gov. Grover had no power by law to fill a vacancy in the Electoral College. It was the province of the Electors, if there were a vacancy, to fill it. But when the duly chosen Electors met, they found a person who had been defeated for Elector, claiming to hold the office to which he had not been elected, declining to show his authority for so doing and refusing them possession of their certificate of election, which had been made out on the same paper with his own!

There may or may not be a remedy for this foul wrong. Gov. Grover's crime is one against the Nation, and he should be obliged to serve a long term in State prison for his unscrupulous villainy. Were Mr. Tilden a man of honor, we should expect him to repudiate promptly such outrageous action; but with the knowledge that the democratic party is always more than willing to connive at any wrong-doing that may promise it a brief lease of power, and that Mr. Tilden is its leader from choice and instinctive sympathy, there is no ground for expectation that he will not hail with delight the opportunity which may give him a vote to which by law and justice he has no right. To creep into the White House, even backwards and up the rear stairway, would be rare felicity to him in contrast to a display of manliness which would lose him the much-coveted Presidency. It remains to be seen, however, the receiver being as bad as the thief, whether such a daring robbery of the rights of a people can be successfully carried out under the guise of law.

Oregon.

The following despatch was sent from Portland, Oregon, Dec. 6th: "Governor Grover to-day issued certificates to two Hayes electors and one Tilden elector, Cronin. The two Hayes electors declined to meet with Cronin, whereupon the latter, who had all three certificates, appointed two republicans to fill their places. The two whom he appointed met with him, received their certificates and then all voted for President, two for Hayes and one for Tilden."

Says the Providence Journal: "This much seems certain: If the ineligibility of which the rebel Gen. Frost could not divest himself in Missouri, did not result in the choice of his republican competitor in his district, then the fact that Postmaster Watts was tardy in his resignation in Oregon ought not to result in the election of Samuel J. Tilden instead of RUTHERFORD B. HAYES. And we guess it will not."

Says the Boston Journal: The duty of the President of the Senate, when the two sets of certificates from Oregon are presented, seems clear. Every consideration of law and equity would compel the counting of the three republican votes, which represent the people of Oregon, and which were cast with all due formality except so far as the arbitrary action of the Governor prevented. A party which has not scrupled to carry elections by violence, and which has felt no shame in offering money to bribe Electors, would not scruple to steal the vote of a State, if it had the chance. Nor have we seen any reason to believe that Mr. Tilden would refuse the Presidency, however desperate and dishonorable the means employed to put him there. But the present attempt at trickery will fail, as the other attempts have. We repeat what we have before said: The republican party is not to be bullied out of its rights. Mr. Hayes has been elected President, and neither bluster nor fraud can be permitted to change that result.

"Webb" telegraphs from Washington, Thursday, that "the President of the Senate" will recognize the voice of the people of Oregon, rather than the infamous treachery of Gov. Grover. * * * The democrats are sullen, and have but little to say except to mutter declarations that Tilden shall be inaugurated, and that the first step towards that is to be the impeachment of President Grant. It is evident that we are to have stirring times here during the coming sixty days. * * * The republicans are having fired one hundred and eighty-five guns in honor of the electoral vote given Gov. Hayes. * * * The self-styled Independent republicans are evidently more disappointed than the democrats at Tilden's failure to legally capture a Hayes vote, and thus throw the election into the House. * * * The most conservative democrats are becoming alarmed at the aggressive attitude assumed by the more excitable members of their party. Particularly is this true as regards the attempt to impeach the President."

The Brooklyn Horror.

Two hundred and ninety-three bodies had been recovered from the ruins of the theatre up to 11 o'clock Wednesday night, and it was then considered certain that the number of lives lost would be found to far exceed three hundred, and possibly reach four hundred. The body of Harry Murdoch was dug out late in the afternoon; another actor, Claude Burroughs, and all the members of the orchestra, are missing. Kate Claxton, who was on the stage at the time the fire broke out, and the other actors, behaved with great coolness and courage, and got out of the building in safety. Murdoch and Burroughs might probably have escaped with the others had they not attempted to save some of their property. The larger number of the bodies recovered are burned beyond identification.

Three hundred and fifteen bodies had been taken out of the ruins up to Thursday noon.

The Constitutional Convention.

On reassembling Wednesday afternoon, the Convention listened to the reading of the report of the Committee on Credentials, after which a ballot for Permanent President was taken, resulting as follows:

Whole number of votes cast	358
Necessary for a choice	179
Daniel Clark of Manchester	134
W. H. Y. Hackett of Portsmouth	100
Jonathan E. Sargent of Concord	88
Scattering	26

and there was no choice. A second ballot was taken, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	339
Necessary for a choice	170
Scattering	4
Jonathan E. Sargent	39
W. H. Y. Hackett	112
Daniel Clark	184

and Hon. Daniel Clark of Manchester, having a majority of all the votes cast, was declared elected.

Judge Clark on assuming the chair thanked the Convention for the honor conferred, and said the duty of amending the Constitution was one of great delicacy, and required great unanimity and wise consideration. The present Constitution was adopted in 1792, and most of its provisions were wise in that day and generation, and are wise now, though some are obsolete. The people are strongly attached to it, and no amendments can be carried unless they are wise and necessary. Neither political party is strong enough to carry any amendment alone, and it is well established that the organic law of the State ought to be adopted by the whole people. Written constitutions founded upon passions of party are as evanescent as the will of that party. He was proud that the people of New Hampshire had clung with such tenacity to their Constitution, rejecting almost every amendment to it. They will cling to it in the future. "What we do," he said, "must be done with almost unanimous wisdom. I trust we shall finish our work wisely and promptly, and return to our constituents as early as possible."

On motion of Hon. John G. Sinclair of Bethlehem, it was voted that a committee of twenty, to consist of two from each county, be appointed by the Chair, to select and report to the Convention the names of persons for Secretary, Assistant Secretary, Sergeant-at-Arms, Chaplain, and three Doorkeepers. The Committee reported as follows: For Secretary, Thomas J. Smith of Dover; Assistant Secretary, A. W. Baker of Lebanon; Stenographer, George W. Manson of Concord; Sergeant-at-Arms, A. N. Quint of Manchester; Doorkeepers, Willard H. Presby of Bethlehem, Clark L. Rowell of Keene, Charles H. Cummings, of Concord; Chaplain, Rev. Leonard H. Coan of Alton. The report was adopted.

Hon. N. G. Ordway moved that the compensation of each member be limited to $37 for the session, and mileage, with a suitable compensation for extra committee work. This resolution was laid on the table. The hours of meeting were fixed at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M. At 4 P. M. the Convention adjourned.

—The Burlington Hawkeye says: "One of the discoveries made by the latest Arctic explorers is that the length of the polar night is 142 days. What a heavenly place that would be in which to tell a man with a bill to call around day after tomorrow and get his money." This is a case of the ruling passion strong in debt.

Invigorate, and Be Healthy.

The source of nine-tenths of the bodily ills of mankind is a deficiency of vital power. No portions of the physical machinery can efficiently perform its allotted duty if there is insufficient motive force in the system. Invigorate, therefore, in order to regain health. For the restoration of lost vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are the best tonic that can be selected, since they not only impart fresh vigor to the debilitated system, but overcome disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which interfere with complete assimilation of the food, and thus perpetuate weakness. The Bitters likewise cure and prevent malarious fevers, remedy debilitating urinary troubles, and eliminate from the blood through the kidneys the impurities which originate gout, rheumatism and dropsy. Appetite, digestion, sleep,—in short, every essential condition of health, are promoted by their use.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, was the first leading hotel to reduce and schedule its rates according to the location of its rooms. It now charges $2.50 and $4.00 per day.

"A stitch in time saves nine." A dose of Adamson's Balsam in season may prevent a long cold or fever, and perhaps a resultant death. It cures coughs, colds, asthma, and all lung troubles. Keep it in the house. Price 35 cents.

THOSE ACCRETIONS UPON THE SCALP which are termed dandruff are promptly removed by GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which by opening the pores promotes the natural moisture of the hair.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtf27

WRECKED IN PORT.

Schooner "Ceres," Capt. Garland, arrived at this port on Thursday from Hoboken, with coal for Charles H. Trickey of Dover; and steamer "Mystic" started to tow her up the river to her destination. After passing the point of Badger's island the tide took full charge of the schooner and swept her against Portsmouth bridge broadside on, the "Mystic" having to abandon her tow in order to save herself. [We are informed that the accident was occasioned by the master of the steamer, who was acting as pilot, telling the helmsman of the Ceres to "starboard" when he meant "port"—a somewhat serious error to make, as the result showed.] She hit the bridge hard enough to knock several of its piles and stringers out of place, and a timber which projected some four feet from the bridge was driven through her side well aft; then careening away from the bridge she filled and went down head foremost until she touched bottom with her bow, her stern being held above the surface by the timber through her side for an hour or more, when she freed herself and settled to the bottom, her cross-trees being then about twelve feet out of water. The Ceres registers one hundred and three tons, was built in 1857, and is owned by Charles H. Trickey, Moses Page and others, of Dover. She has on board one hundred and sixty tons of coal. The bridge was not injured enough to interfere with the passage of trains. The captain of the schooner saved his chronometer and charts, but all else in the vessel went down with her,—except the crew, who took to the bridge without any unseemly delay after she struck.

JOTTINGS.

Vick's Floral Guide, a beautiful Quarterly Journal, finely illustrated, and containing an elegant colored Flower Plate with the first number. Price only 25 cents for the year. The first No. for 1877 just issued in German and English. Published by James Vick, Rochester, N. Y.

The coroner's jury summoned in the case of the death of Abraham Dudley rendered their verdict Thursday forenoon that "the deceased came to his death on November 18th, 1876, from internal injuries received on the 25th day of October, 1876, by being run over by horse and carriage driven by Dr. Potter; also that his death was hastened by a subsequent attack of diphtheria. The jury further find from the evidence that the said doctor used all due care to avoid the accident."

Congress.

There was a sharp and animated political debate in the Senate, growing out of the resolution offered by Mr. Withers to have the President tell the Senate why he sent ten soldiers and a sergeant to Petersburgh, Va., just previous to the election to intimidate the people of Virginia and prevent them from voting.

In the House, Thursday, Mr. McCreary of Iowa, representing the republicans, presented a resolution reciting the impending difficulties and providing for the appointment of a committee of five of the House to act with a similar committee of the Senate to prepare and report without delay such a measure, whether legislative or constitutional, as may be best calculated to accomplish the desired end. Mr. McCreary urged immediate action. The democrats objected, but made the concession that the committee should be directed to report at any time. The resolution was referred to the judiciary committee.

News and Notes.

The body of Baron de Palm was burned in Dr. Lemoyne's cremating furnace at Washington, Penn., on the 6th.

The New York Herald applauds the policy of Secretary Morrill, as declared in his report, which requires that Congress shall authorize the issue of a four and a half per cent. bond, for which he shall exchange greenbacks, as these may be offered, and that an amendment to the resumption act shall command the national banks to lay in a stock of gold in which to redeem their notes in 1880.

The crew of the schooner Mary Louise, of Bucksport, which vessel was reported lost on Tuckernuck Shoals, is safe. The vessel struck on the shoals about nine o'clock on Thursday evening, Nov. 26, and sunk almost immediately. She was in company with several other vessels, all of which passed over safely. The crew of the Mary Louise, five in number, took to the boat, and after three hours' hard work succeeded in reaching the schooner Lucy Orcutt, and were landed on Monday at South Yarmouth. The wrecked schooner was 120 tons measurement, and was bound from Hoboken to Portland with a load of coal. The vessel and cargo are a total loss. The weather on the night of the disaster was thick, and a heavy sea was running.

Secretary Fish is represented as highly indignant at the reports of differences between him-elf and the President. To a reporter who asked him if it were true that he is not in accord with the President's Southern policy and had threatened to resign, he "rose slowly from his chair, stood erect, closed his lips firmly, then relaxed them, and raising his hand, departed from his uniform calmness, and said: 'They lie? I say emphatically, they lie! Can there be plainer English than that?'" That's plain enough to be easily understood, anyway.

Crane, Leland & Moody's extensive stove manufactory in Nashua, in which work has been suspended lately, started up on full time, Tuesday, giving employment to some 300 workmen.

Election Notes.

There has been a good deal of foolish talk because Hayes has failed to carry the city of Fremont, in which his home is situated, at the Presidential election. The Cincinnati Commercial shows how much ground there is for the twaddle: "The majority for Tilden over Hayes in the three wards of that city was 49. The fact is, that Fremont is a democratic city and has been in the habit of giving large majorities, but the following figures indicate that with Hayes as a candidate those majorities have rapidly approached a vanishing point. The vote of that city for several years was as follows: In 1874, Wikoff, republican, 390; Bell, democrat, 709; Bell's majority, 319. In 1875, Hayes, 511; Allen, 669; Allen's majority, 158. In 1876, Hayes, 579; Tilden, 629; Tilden's majority, 49. Hayes' majority over Tilden in the ward of Hayes' residence was 159, the votes standing, Hayes, 291; Tilden, 121."

Murat Halstead, under the heading, "Why this howling at Hayes?" among other things says: "Governor Hayes though is given the benefit of the information that he is an honest man, and must not therefore accept the vote of a State that may be suspected of the taint of fraud. No one seizes Governor Tilden by the collar and tells him the Connecticut vote is tainted with corruption and reeking with fraud. No Christian editors poise their mighty pens to assure Governor Tilden that if he has self-respect it will be impossible for him to accept the vote of Indiana, which was obtained by Kentucky immigrants and the machinery of the Knights of the Golden Circle." Very true; the "independent" editors who have worked so hard to elect Tilden recognize the fact that their favorite is not the kind of man to refuse a prize for no better reason than that it does not belong to him; so they waste no breath in appealing to his "honesty" and "honor."

The Florida Electors cast their votes unanimously for Hayes & Wheeler.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES

FOR 1877.

DEVOTED TO REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES,

And to Reform in Municipal, State, and General Government.

The course of THE TIMES during the Presidential campaign has secured for it hosts of new friends, and has placed beyond controversy its position as the foremost republican journal in the United States. During the political struggle preceding the election the fullness, accuracy, and fairness of its news reports were as obvious as its vigor and breadth of view as an organ of public opinion.

The critical situation in which the country is placed by the disputed result of the election has been promptly recognized by THE TIMES, but it has found no reason to modify the claim which it urged, alone among its contemporaries, that the vote of the 7th of November secured a majority of Elector votes for Hayes and Wheeler. Readers of THE TIMES on the day following the election were placed in possession of returns which were simply the most complete and trustworthy published in any part of the Union. The more thoroughly the facts of the election are disentangled from the mass of democratic falsehood and pretense which has been thrown around them, the more clearly is the justice revealed of the claims made by THE TIMES the morning after election.

Now that the election of Hayes and Wheeler is perceived by impartial observers of both parties to be a certainty, THE TIMES anticipates the fresh responsibilities which this renewal of a great public trust imposes upon the Republican Party. THE TIMES was among the earliest defenders of the principles of purification and reform within the party which triumphed in the election of Hayes and Wheeler at Cincinnati. It will be as prominent and as uncompromising in its demand for the embodiment of those principles in administrative and legislative action. The election has given rise to constitutional controversies, whose discussion may last for months to come, and whose settlement may tax all the good sense, forbearance, and law-abiding instincts of the people at large. It will be our endeavor to present a correct excited feeling by dispassionate arguments, to urge the supreme necessity of moderation and fair dealing, and to place the responsibility for stirring up strife where it belongs. But we shall do without abasing one jot or tittle the principles of a party which stands securely on the right, and of a people the integrity of whose institutions depends on a scrupulous obedience to the decisions of law.

In the agitation of the constitutional questions which have been forced upon public attention by the closeness of the late election, THE TIMES will not cease to insist upon the necessity of some approach to uniformity of rule in the proceedings taken by State and local boards to ascertain the vote cast for Presidential Electors and members of Congress. It will defend the right of individual voters to have the declaration of their will by the recognized authorities of each State protected by all the safeguards which have been thrown around it by the letter of the Constitution and usage sanctioned by its authors. But it will urge the less insistent the duty of Congress to devise means, by constitutional amendment or otherwise, whereby citizens of the United States may be protected against virtual disfranchisement through improper actions in the mechanism provided by any State for securing an honest count of their votes. While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrants in the peaceful possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and amicably must find their return in the enforcement of even-handed justice and scrupulous regard for the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the south.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be strengthened by all that is needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, it will profit by hints, as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No theories subversive of the principles on which the sacredness of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No republican newspaper approaches it in circulation, and it will be the aim to its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure inflammation of the lungs, a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the heartrom Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Centaur Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. BILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. It regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., by the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22nd of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have been to other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE:—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to try some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the cause. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Mr. H. S. Mobley, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anything. I have purchased five dollars' worth of the pills. Enclosed pl ase find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N.H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted; they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative it could prescribe; after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before use was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT PROVED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, INJURIOUS TO THE CHILD, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE, in almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

LINCOLN BUTTER POWDER.

Good Fresh Butter All The Year Round.

BUTTER IN 20 MINUTES.

Lincoln Butter Powder is an entirely harmless article made from a celebrated English recipe, and now in daily use by many of the most noted farmers in the butter producing counties of Philadelphia.

In hot weather this Powder makes butter much firmer and sweeter than it usually is, and keeps it from turning rancid. It also removes the strong flavor of turnips, weeds, corn stalks, cotton seed, etc., and the increased yield of butter pays much more than pays the trifling expense of using it.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

Concluded from last issue.

THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

The report of the Postmaster-General shows the excess of expenditures, excluding expenditures on account of previous years, over receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1876, to be $4,151,988.66. The estimated expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1878, are $36,723,432.43 The estimated revenue for the same period is $30,645,165, leaving an estimated excess of expenditures to be appropriated as a deficency of $6,078,267.43. The Postmaster-General, like his predecessor, is convinced that a change in the basis of adjusting the salaries of Postmasters of the fourth class is necessary for the good of the service as well as for the interests of the Government, and urgently recommends that the compensation of the class of Postmasters above mentioned be based upon the business of their respective offices as ascertained from the sworn returns to the Auditor of stamps cancelled.

THE SERVICE IN THE SOUTHERN STATES.

A few Postmasters in the Southern States have expressed great apprehension of their personal safety on account of their connection with the postal service, and have specially requested that their reports of apprehended danger should not be made public lest it should result in the loss of their lives. But no positive testimony of interference has been submitted, except in the case of a mail messenger at Spartanburg in South Carolina, who reported that he had been violently driven away while in charge of the mails on account of his political affiliations. An assistant superintendent of the railway mail service investigated this case, and reported that the messenger had disappeared from his post, leaving his work to be performed by a substitute. The Postmaster-General thinks this case is sufficiently suggestive to justify him in recommending that a more severe punishment should be provided for the offence of assaulting any person in charge of the mails or of retarding or otherwise obstructing them by threats of personal injury. A very gratifying result is presented in the fact that the deficiency of this department during the last fiscal year was reduced to $4,081,790 18 as against $6,169,938.88 of the preceding year. The difference can be traced to the large increase in its ordinary receipts (which greatly exceeded the estimates therefor) and a slight decrease in their expenditures. The ordinary receipts of the Post-office Department for the past seven fiscal years have increased at an average of over 8 per cent. per annum, while the increase of expenditures for the same period has been about 5.50 per cent. per annum, and the decrease of deficiency in the revenues has been at the rate of nearly 2 per cent. per annum.

THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

The reports of the Commissioner of Agriculture accompanying this message will be found one of great interest, marking as it does the great progress of the last century in the variety of products of the soil, increased knowledge and skill in the labor of producing, saving and manipulating the same to prepare them for the use of man, in the improvements in machinery to aid the agriculturist in his labors and in a knowledge of those scientific subjects necessary to a thorough system of economy in agricultural production, namely: chemistry, botany, entomology, etc. A study of this report by those interested in agriculture and deriving their support from it, will make it of value in pointing out those articles which are raised in greater quantity than the needs of the world require and must sell therefore for less than profit over the cost of production, and those which command a profit over the cost of production because there is not an over production. I call special attention to the need of the Department for a new gallery for the reception of the exhibits returned from the Centennial Exhibition, including the exhibits donated by many foreign nations, and to the recommendations of the Commissioner of Agriculture generally.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The reports of the District Commissioners and the Board of Health are just received, too late to read them and to make recommendations thereon, and they are herewith submitted.

THE CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION.

The International Exhibition held in Philadelphia this year in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of American independence has proved a great success, and will, no doubt, be of enduring advantage to the country. It has shown the great progress in the arts, sciences and mechanical skill made in a single century, and demonstrated that we are but little behind older nations in any one branch, while in some we scarcely have a rival. It has served, too, not only to bring peoples and products of skill and labor from all parts of the world together, but in bringing together people from all sections of our own country, which must prove a great benefit in the information imparted and pride of country engendered.

A PERMANENT NATIONAL EXHIBITION PROPOSED.

It has been suggested by scientists interested in and connected with the Smithsonian Institution, in a communication herewith, that the Government exhibit be removed to the Capital, and a suitable building be erected or purchased for its accommodation as a permanent exhibit. I earnestly recommend this, and believing that Congress would second this view, I directed that all the Government exhibits at the Centennial exhibition should remain where they are, except such as might be injured by remaining in a building not intended as a protection in inclement weather, or such as may be wanted by the Department furnishing them, till the question of a permanent exhibition is acted on. Although the moneys appropriated by Congress to enable the participation of the several executive departments in the International Exhibition of 1876 were not sufficient to carry out the undertaking to the full extent at first contemplated, it gives me pleasure to refer to the very efficient and creditable manner in which the Board appointed from these several departments to provide an exhibition on the part of the Government have discharged their duties with the funds placed at their command, without a precedent to guide them in the preparation of such a display. The success of their labors was amply attested by the sustained attention which the contents of the Government building attracted during the period of the Exhibition from both foreign and native visitors. I am strongly impressed with the value of the collection made by the Government for the purposes of the Exhibition, illustrating as it does the mineral resources of the country, the statistical and practical evidences of our growth as a nation, and the uses of the mechanical arts and the applications of applied science in the administration of the affairs of the Government. Many nations have voluntarily contributed their exhibits to the United States to increase the interest in any permanent exhibition Congress may provide for. For this act of generosity they should receive the thanks of the people, and I respectfully suggest that a resolution of Congress to that effect be adopted.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

The attention of Congress cannot be too earnestly called to the necessity of throwing some greater safeguard over the method of choosing and declaring the election of a President. Under the present system there seems to be no provided remedy for contesting the election in any one State. The remedy partially, no doubt, is in the enlightenment of electors. The compulsory support of the free school, and the disfranchisement of all who cannot read and write the English language after a fixed probation, would meet my hearty approval. I would not make this apply, however, to those already voters, but I would to all becoming so after the expiration of the probation fixed upon. Foreigners coming to the country to become citizens who are educated in their own language would acquire the requisite knowledge of ours during the necessary residence to obtain naturalization. If they did not take interest enough in our language to acquire sufficient knowledge of it to enable them to study the institutions and laws of the country intelligently, I would not confer upon them the right to make such laws, nor to select those who do.

PAST RECOMMENDATIONS.

I apppend to this message, for convenient reference, a synopsis of administrative events and of all recommendations to Congress made by me during the last seven years. Time may show some of these recommendations not to have been wisely conceived, but I believe the larger part will be no discredit to the Administration. One of these recommendations met with the united opposition of one political party in the Senate and with a strong opposition from the other, namely, the treaty for

to the United States, to which I shall specially refer, maintaining as I do that if my views had been concurred in the country would be in a more prosperous condition to-day, both politically and financially. Santo Domingo is fertile, and upon its soil may be grown just those tropical products of which the United States use so much and which are produced or prepared for market now by slave labor almost exclusively, namely: Sugar, coffee, dyewoods, mahogany, tropical fruits and tobacco. About 75 per cent. of the exports of Cuba are consumed in the United States. A large percentage of the exports of Brazil also find the same market. These are paid for almost exclusively in coin, legislation, particularly in Cuba, being unfavorable to a mutual exchange of the products of each country. Flour shipped from the Mississippi river to Havana can pass by the very entrance to the city on its way to a port in Spain, then pay a duty fixed upon articles to be re-exported, be transferred to a Spanish vessel and brought back almost to the point of starting, paying a second duty, and still leave a profit over what would be received by direct shipment. All that is produced in Cuba could be produced in Santo Domingo. Being a part of the United States, commerce between the island and main land would be free. There would be no export duties on her shipments, nor import duties on those coming here. There would be no import duties upon the supplies, machinery, etc., going from the States. The effect that would have been produced upon Cuban commerce with these advantages to a rival is observable at a glance. The Cuban question would have been settled long ago in favor of "free Cuba." Hundreds of American vessels would now be advantageously used in transporting the valuable woods and other products of the soil of the island to a market, and in carrying supplies and emigrants to it. The island is but sparsely settled, while it has an area sufficient for the profitable employment of several millions of people. The soil would soon have fallen into the hands of United States capitalists. The products are so valuable in commerce, the emigration there would have been encouraged. The emancipated race of the South would have found there a congenial home, where their civil rights would not be disputed, and where their labor would be so much sought after that the poorest among them would have found the means to go. Thus in cases of great oppression or cruelty, such as have been practised upon them in many places within the last eleven years, whole communities would have sought refuge in Santo Domingo. I do not suppose the whole race would have gone, nor is it desirable that they should go. Their labor is desirable—indispensable almost—where they now are; but the possession of this territory would have left the negro master of the situation, by enabling him to demand his rights at home on pain of finding them elsewhere. I do not present these views now as a recommendation for a renewal of the subjects of annexation, but I do refer to it to vindicate my previous action in regard to it.

CONCLUSION.

With the present Congress my official life terminates. It is not probable that public affairs will ever again receive attention from me further than as a citizen of the Republic, taking a deep interest in the honor, integrity and prosperity of the whole land. U. S. GRANT.

Executive Mansion, Dec. 5, 1876.

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1876

Convinced at Last.

Mr. H. V. Redfield, the widely-known correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, is a democrat, though that paper is "independent" republican. Mr. Redfield was sent to Louisiana to get at the "bottom facts" regarding the election there if possible, for the Commercial, and his earlier letters were widely quoted by the northern democratic press as "republican evidence" (though he is a democrat) that the republican stories of wholesale murders by the Louisiana democrats were false. But Mr. Redfield confesses that the evidence of horrible intimidation in Louisiana is fast overcoming his skepticism on the subject. He writes to the Commercial, under date of Nov. 29:

"The republicans are proving the charges of violence, murder, and intimidation in the five bulldozed parishes straight out. The revelations are horrible. It is not worth while to try to deny or cover up the facts, however disgraceful to humanity they may be. Sworn testimony shows that the parishes were carried by murder, assassination, whippings, and the establishment of a reign of terror. I have been skeptical as to there having been as much violence and intimidation in the disputed parishes as charged by the republicans, but I am fast being convinced. The testimony brought out yesterday, and that contained in the sworn statements of other witnesses, who have not yet been before the board, convinces me that the reign of terror has been equal to that which the republicans have charged. Here are the names, details, and specifications given with startling distinctness. If the men reported dead are still alive, where are they? Why are they not brought forward in refutation? The trouble about these stories is that they are mainly true. There was a reign of terror, and the election was carried by murdering men for opinion's sake. The testimony and rigid cross-examinations are clearing away the fog wonderfully. The country will get the truth in time."

Republican Conventions.

At a meeting of the Republican State Committee, in Concord, on the evening of the 6th, the following times and places were fixed upon for the holding of the various conventions:

State,—at Opera House, Concord, January 10, 1877, at 11 A. M.

Congressional,—District No. 1, Dover, January 17; District No. 2, Concord, January 17; District No. 3, Concord, January 20th.

Councillor,—District No. 1, Portsmouth, January 19; District No. 2, Concord, January 17; District No. 3, Manchester, January 24; District No. 4, Claremont, January 16; District No. 5, Woodsville, January 17th.

Senatorial,—District No. 1, Portsmouth, January 3; District No. 2, Exeter, January 16; District No. 3, Manchester, January 24; District No. 4, Concord, January 24; District No. 5, Somersworth, January 19; District No. 6, Alton, January 18; District No. 7, Nashua, January 16; District No. 8, Warner, January 17; District No. 9, Keene, January 17; District No. 10, Newport, January 18; District No. 11, Grafton, January 18; District No. 12, Woodsville, January 17.

County,—Rockingham, Exeter, January 16; Strafford, Rochester, January 22; Belknap, Laconia, January 16; Carroll, Tamworth, January 18; Merrimack, Concord, January 24; Hillsboro, Nashua, January 16; Cheshire, Keene, January 17; Sullivan, Newport, January 18; Grafton, Woodsville, January 17; Coos, Lancaster, January 11th.

A Brilliant Democratic Canard.

Democratic papers give an account of an interview between Abe Hewitt and the President. They say:

"The President was very emphatic in declaring that there had been no legal election in Louisiana. He said there had been no legal election in the State for eight years, and the last one was no exception. He holds that it was void and consequently that its vote should not be counted for President."

And the democratic papers add:

"This declaration by Grant is the most important development of the day. The President's declaration will make it impossible for the republicans to insist on counting the eight electoral votes of that State for Hayes."

Will it, indeed? How long is it since the President of the United States was appointed Umpire of Presidential Elections? We have never before seen any intimation that the President's permission had to be obtained before the electoral vote of a State could be counted. And the assumption that such is the case is rather a "new departure" for the extreme State Rights secession democracy to take.

Of course President Grant never said anything of the kind, nor anything that could be tortured into such a statement as that attributed to him, [let those who think he may have said it read his recent message to Congress,] but that makes no difference to the democracy. The Boston Post, a day or two after the election, published a bogus telegram from Hon. Zach. Chandler to the Florida republicans, to the effect that "we must have Florida at any cost." No one but an idiot would have sent such a despatch over wires controlled exclusively by democrats, (for all the telegraph operators in the South are Tilden reformers,) even if he were rascal enough to wish it sent; that no such message was ever sent was promptly shown; but neither the Post (so far as we know) nor any other democratic paper ever retracted the ridiculous charge,—nor the equally ridiculous and equally false assertion that Mr. Chandler in conversation stated that he had "sent a man to Florida to fix things, and the democrats would find it hard to beat him." These yarns were known to be false at the first, and were instantly proved to be false; but they are repeated just the same by the democratic press, even now.

All in the interest of Tilden and true reform, you know.

The Constitutional Convention.

On Thursday a definite plan of work for the Convention was laid out and adopted.

The word "Protestant" was stricken out of article six of the Bill of Rights.

Article twenty of the Bill of Rights was amended so as to make exception in the right of trial by jury in cases in which the value in controversy does not exceed $100, titles to real estate not being in question.

On Friday, it was voted that the House of Representatives be diminished in members, and it is proposed to make the basis of representatives on population instead of ratable polls. Several propositions of plans to do this were submitted, but the committee rose without deciding on any, and the Convention adjourned.

Oregon.

The New York Times heads its Oregon despatch: "The Darkest Political Crime in History."

The republicans say that Gov. Grover of Oregon, who violated his oath of office by giving the certificate to the democratic Elector, will find it difficult to secure his seat in the Senate next March. There have been grave charges made that his election was secured by bribery of the Legislature. These charges will be very likely to receive thorough investigation before Grover is seated. Senator Mitchell and ex-Attorney General Williams of Oregon express unbounded surprise at Grover's acts.

A Portland (Oregon) dispatch to the N. Y. Times says the action of Cronin in fraudulently and illegally retaining the certified lists will avail nothing, since the republicans have obtained duly certified copies of the original canvass of votes and all necessary proofs, which they have attached to the returns, and will forward them with the electoral vote, which will make the case complete.

Even the partisan, dyed-in-the-wool Boston Herald says "No doubt the Oregon vote or Tilden is an outrage."

The Herald states that the news from Oregon was the main topic at the democratic headquarters at the Everett House. Mr. Groesbeck of Cincinnati, Ohio, is of the opinion that the democratic party would lose caste by forcing its claim to the 185th vote from Oregon as deciding the election. He rather regards it as an important strategic movement to enforce an inquiry beyond the certificates issued from South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana to the Hayes Electors. In this opinion he was seconded by a majority of the democratic leaders, and it is not at all probable that the election of Tilden will be insisted upon by reason of this vote.

News and Notes.

Cornelia Hersome was found dead in her room in a Malden, Mass., hotel on Thursday morning, and her husband, Calvin Hersome, is under arrest on suspicion of murder.

John W. Murphy, who murdered John Bullard at Shrewsbury, Mass., has confessed the deed, but claims it was done in self-defence and that he robbed the body as an afterthought.

Persons visiting Boston, either on business or pleasure, cannot find better accommodations than at that long established and popular first class hotel, the "American," on Hanover street. It is located in the centre of the city, and convenient to all points of interest.

The actor, Murdoch, who perished in the flames through his unselfish zeal for the salvation of his fellow men, will put a profession into mourning—a profession which he adorned in life and shed a glory on in death.

John Kelley, Boss of Tammany, has been appointed Comptroller of New York.

Imagine the sarcastic shrugs with which the Confederate brigadiers in Congress greet their democratic associates of the North when the latter threaten to fight if Tilden is not declared elected. What an opportunity for Nast!

Mr. Fernando Wood made some feeling remarks in Congress about his heart, and the indignation that swelled within it. Mr. Wood has all the tender susceptibility of a graven image, and when his heart swells it is a serious matter.—Tribune.

The Tribune calls the Confederate House "the same old sixpence."

A "fool-friend"—Congressman Seelye of Massachusetts.

New Hampshire Items.

On Thursday morning the stable camps of G. Soule & Co., on Nash stream, in Northumberland, were burned, together with six large team horses worth $1200.

The funeral services of Magoon, the wife poisoner, at Raymond, were conducted by three ministers. Although people attended from curiosity, the son of Magoon kept the coffin lid closed, and ordered the burial to proceed quickly.

Elder E. Owen, who has been preaching at Milton for about nine months, was with Mrs. Owen agreeably surprised last Saturday evening, on an invitation to the vestry of the church, by a present of a liberal purse of money; Mr. Luther Hayes, one of the wardens, making the presentation address.

Election Notes.

John Morrissey has declared all bets off that were made in his pool room on the Presidential election.

The republicans will have about twenty majority in the Louisiana Legislature, thus securing two United States Senators.

Gov. Chamberlain was inaugurated at Columbia, S. C., on the 7th.

The "independent" Boston Globe goes into a very mild rage over the partisan scoundrelism of Gov. Grover, of Oregon, and manifests its gentle indignation as follows: "We do not really think the democrats have any right to that one vote from Oregon any more than to the one from Vermont." Had the disregard of law and justice displayed by the democratic governor of Oregon been displayed by the republican governor of North Carolina, or any other republican governor, in attempting to cheat Tilden of an electoral vote, the Globe would have boiled over in a half-column of virtuous wrath at republican dishonesty, and would have been hard pressed to find words sufficiently expressive to set forth its lofty scorn of such infamous trickery.

—"The way it is," said little Johnny, describing a raffle at a church fair, "you see somethin' and you give half a dollar for a chance to win it, another fellow always gets it, and they never offer you your money back."

—At the Assizes in Burgundy a provincial advocate is pleading the case of a prisoner charged with theft, and thus concludes his impassioned address to the jury: "My client, the prisoner, is accused of theft. Suppose he has stolen. Remember, gentlemen of the jury, the words of our Saviour to the Magdalen, and let that one of you who is without sin cast the first stone." The jury find a verdict of guilty without leaving the box.—Paris Paper.

Invigorate, and Be Healthy.

The source of nine-tenths of the bodily ills of mankind is a deficiency of vital power. No portion of the physical machinery can efficiently perform its allotted duty if there is insufficient motive force in the system. Invigorate, therefore, in order to regain health. For the restoration of lost vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are the best tonic that can be selected, since they not only impart fresh vigor into the debilitated system, but overcome disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which interfere with complete assimilation of the food, and thus perpetuate weakness. The Bitters likewise cure and prevent malarious fevers, remedy debilitating urinary troubles, and eliminate from the blood through the kidneys the impurities which originate gout, rheumatism and dropsy. Appetite, digestion, sleep,—in short, every essential condition of health, are promoted by their use.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, was the first leading hotel to reduce and schedule its rates according to the location of its rooms. Its now charges $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

"A stitch in time saves nine." A dose of Adamson's Balsam in season may prevent a long cold or fever, and perhaps a resultant death. It cures coughs, colds, asthma, and all lung troubles. Keep it in the house. Price 35 cents.

THOSE ACCRETIONS UPON THE SCALP which are termed dandruff are promptly removed by GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which by opening the pores promotes the natural moisture of the hair.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

CITY AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Dec. 7th:

Petition of Kearsarge Engine Co., No. 3, for an advance of $100 on their pay, was granted if in funds.

Petition of A. T. Walker for removal of apparatus for sprinkling streets from present situation on Brewster street, was laid on the table for one week.

Communication of A. T. Penhallow, relative to the supplementary report of the agents to examine the accounts of the P. & D. Railroad, was received, and it was Voted, that the communication be laid on the table and that Mr. Penhallow be notified that the agents appeared before the Board and made a satisfactory explanation.

Voted, that if Mr. Penhallow has any communication to make to this Board relative to the $75,000 in bonds of the Great Falls & Conway Railroad held by the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, he be permitted to do so in writing.

Petition of the heirs of Timothy Tucker, asking the privilege of removing trees in front of their dwelling house, No. 46 Middle street, was received.

Petition of Rev. Mr. Holbrook asking for the use of the Police Court Room in the Court House to prepare decorations, was referred to the committee on city lands and buildings, with power.

The committee to whom was referred the application of H. W. Mason for purchase of lots numbered eight and nine on the plan of the City Farm, reported that in their opinion it is not expedient to dispose of the lots referred to except in connection with lot numbered ten, which adjoins them on the North. They think it would be advisable to sell together the three lots numbered eight, nine and ten, containing about twenty-nine acres, for the sum of six thousand five hundred dollars ($6500), reserving the barn to be removed.

The committee on accounts recommended the usual batch of bills to be paid.

Proposal of Frank W. Miller for building the extension of Union street from Hawthorne street to South street, was received.

Voted, that the subject of accepting said street be referred to the full Board for personal inspection of the premises, at the call of the Mayor.

Subject of sewer on Union street, 238 feet from Austin street to main sewer, which Mr. Shea offers to lay (furnishing eight-inch pipe) for $125, was referred to the committee on laying out streets and laying drains, with Mayor added, with power.

The committee on school-houses, to whom was referred the subject of building a shed at Plains School House, reported that to build a suitable shed, thirteen feet by twenty-two, would cost about $200. Subject referred to the committee, with power.

Voted, that a special committee to examine the receipts, etc., of the P. & D. R. R., be appointed.

Ald. Yeaton, Norton and Hoyt were appointed.

Adjourned for two weeks.

PROF. PITKIN'S LECTURES.

Quite a large audience gathered at Miss Morgan's school on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week to hear the lectures on Natural Philosophy delivered by Prof. Pitkin of the United States Torpedo Station. The lecture of Tuesday was on the subject of Mechanics; that of Wednesday was devoted to Heat, considered as Force. To cover so wide a field as each lecture presented, in the time available and in a popular manner, was a formidable undertaking, but Mr. Pitkin succeeded admirably, both in touching a great number of points and in popularizing the naturally abstruse parts of the science. His experiments were numerous and varied, and many of them striking and original. Those who have attended thus far will look forward with pleasant anticipations to the remaining two lectures, which take place next Tuesday and Wednesday, and will be devoted to Electricity and Electro-magnetism.

THE LATE DR. A. P. STEVENS

Was born in Dover June 28, 1837. He was a member of the High School Class of 1857, and completed his Academic education at New London. He studied Dentistry with Dr. Young of Dover and subsequently graduated at the Philadelphia Dental College. Since then, although actively engaged in his profession the most of the time, he travelled a great deal and visited various parts of the world. At one time he visited Labrador and on his return wrote a series of interesting sketches. In 1862 he removed to Portsmouth and permanently established himself in his profession. He married a daughter of the late Capt. William Pettigrew, and became one of the most respected and honored of our citizens. He was enthusiastically devoted to his profession, in which he was very successful and acquired great distinction. He was the author of several treatises of rare merit upon his favorite professional theme, and delivered several important lectures. On account of his constant labors his health became impaired and he went to Europe, where he spent the most of the season. During his presence there he wrote occasional letters to this paper, replete with information and interesting in details. On his return, finding that his health was not improved, he went to California and remained three months. But not improving by the change, he returned, and in July last gave up all business, and returned to the old homestead in Dover. Dr. Stevens was for two years President of the Common Council, and was a member of the Board of Aldermen from the middle Ward when he removed from the city. He was a gentleman of refined manners and great natural gifts, which he improved by a generous course of reading, in the selection of which his keen judgment was especially shown. In the home circle he was a cherished companion, and among his intimate friends was held in high esteem. Possessed of a liberal fund of practical knowledge, he was always a leader in associations of which he was a member, and a most pleasing conversationalist. Society loses an earnest co-worker and enthusiastic and conscientious citizen by his decease, and he will be sadly missed by those who tenderly loved and watched over him to the last.

P. & D. R. R.

The Dover Democrat publishes statistics to show the value, to the people of Dover, of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. It shows that the construction of this road has forced the Boston & Maine to reduce freights between Boston and Dover to a very great extent; flour, corn, oats, etc. formerly $22 per carload, are now but $6, and freight charges on other articles are much lower than before the P. & D. Road was built. It says: "We affirm without fear of contradiction, that if the city should actually lose every dollar it has invested, at the end of twenty years our people would be gainers, always provided that there shall be no such thing as consolidation in any form, of the P. & D. with the B. & M. road. * * Now, the time may come when we will have the interest to pay, and the principal also, with the stock a dead loss on our hands. And so lightning, in the judgment of God, may strike every square foot of our territory and burn us all up together, or an earthquake may swallow us all into the bowels of the earth. But so long as lightning has not hit us and the earthquake is indefinitely postponed, what is the use to live in tormenting fear all the time? The Eastern has kept its faith so far to the very letter, and what are the growlers growling about? When we get hurt it will be time to whimper and cry. We allude to this matter now, because of the ridiculous clatter in certain quarters about the city bonds, the Eastern Railroad and the Portsmouth & Dover debt, for which a further stock subscription is asked." The City Council of Dover, Thursday night, voted almost unanimously to issue bonds to the amount of $33,000, this being its share towards the new subscription asked in aid of the P. & D. R. R.

JOTTINGS.

The Temperance Reform Club will hold its regular Sunday evening service at Rechabite Hall to-morrow evening, commencing at half-past seven o'clock. B. F. Thorndike will address the meeting, and from what has been hinted it is safe to assert that the talk will possess a peculiar interest to all. Don't fail to hear it. All are invited. Admission free.

A meeting of the Portsmouth Music Society was held at Mercantile Hall on Wednesday evening, the 6th inst., and after due deliberation and discussion of various matters connected with the welfare and progress of the Society, it was voted to meet again at the same place on Thursday evening, Dec. 14th, for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of other business. The Society is in good condition financially, and it would seem should be able to continue its good work for the improvement of our home music.

Schooner Watchful, Capt. J. R. Gill, which arrived at this port from New York on the 6th, used up thirty days on the passage, having had head winds all the way. The captain reported seeing twenty-eight schooners bound here, on the passage.

Dr. Goodall will conduct a Praise Meeting at the Temple on Sunday evening, in the interest of the Bow Mission. The "Esther" chorus will take part. Admission ten cents.

A "Citizen" recommends the appointment of a committee on the P. & D. R. R. matter, to consider the general condition of the Road and its immediate requirements.

Navigation on the Squamscott closed December 1st. In consequence a cargo of coal (300 tons) to E. O. Lovering, the balance of his winter's stock, is detained here. The river closed last year November 30th.

Messrs. Mendum, Whidden & Co., the popular furniture dealers of Nos. 1 to 9, Washington street, Boston, not only advertise largely through the papers—the most effective of all advertising—but supplement their endeavors in that direction by other devices. Thousands of "multiplication tables" have been issued by them, with their advertisement printed on the cover, for gratuitous distribution among the pupils in infant schools; and they are now passing around barrels of pincushions, with the firm's advertisement on each side and a dozen or so pins stuck in each one, all ready for the vest pocket.

Mr. James W. Carr, oldest son of James M. Carr, Esq., of this city, died in Denver City, Colorado, on the 4th inst. Mr. Carr left this city when a young man, and has since been engaged in the leather business in New York, until a few weeks ago, when his physician advised a change of climate on account of his failing health, and he removed with his family to Colorado, but only to die. His disease was consumption. The surviving companions of his boyhood and early manhood in this city will have pleasant memories of the kindly disposition and light-hearted cheerfulness he exhibited in his early years, and which we believe he retained to the last.

Our readers will do well to read carefully the announcement of Hutchinson & Connell in our advertising columns. They always mean what they say, are well known to our citizens, and offer holiday goods at bargains.

The Heavy Artillery Ball, Monday evening, will be a big affair unless all the signs fail. Many prominent military and civil officers, with their ladies, are expected to be present.

Our citizens will be more than pleased to know that James M. Carr, Esq., has resumed the boot and shoe business at the old stand of Hill & Carr. Mr. Hartshorn and many of the former workmen are also in their places, and our citizens will take pleasure in renewing the trade which has for several months been broken.

Fishing schooner Mary S. Hontvet, while going out of the harbor on Thursday, carried away her foremast head and had to put back.

A four-year-old daughter of Frank Trafton, of York, Me., was burned to death on Wednesday, the 6th, through her clothes taking from a fire she was trying to kindle, to pop corn. Her mother was absent at a neighbor's house for a short time, and the first notice she had that anything was wrong was the appearance of the child out of doors, in flames and shrieking for its mother. Mrs. Trafton was badly burned about the face and hands in her endeavors to extinguish the fire.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES
FOR 1877.

DEVOTED TO REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES,

And to Reform in Municipal, State, and General Government.

The course of THE TIMES during the Presidential campaign has secured for it hosts of new friends, and has placed beyond controversy its position as the strongest Republican journal in the United States. During the political struggle preceding the election the fullness, accuracy, and fairness of its news reports were as obvious as its vigor and breadth of view as an organ of public opinion.

The critical situation in which the country is placed by the disputed result of the election has been promptly recognized by THE TIMES but it has found no reason to modify in any material degree, alone among its contemporaries, that the vote of the 7th of November secured a majority of Electoral votes for Hayes and Wheeler. Readers of THE TIMES on the day following the election were placed in possession of fortunes which were simply the most complete and trustworthy published in any part of the Union. No more thoroughly the facts of fair election are disentangled from the mass of demoralizing falsehood and pretense which has been thrown around them, the more clearly is the justice revealed of the claims made by THE TIMES the morning after election.

Now that the election of Hayes and Wheeler is perceived by impartial observers to be what it is, to be a certainty, THE TIMES recognizes the fresh responsibilities which this renewal of a great public trust imposes upon the Republican Party. THE TIMES was among the foremost defenders of the principles of purification and reform within the party, which triumphed in the nomination of unimpeachable Hayes at Cincinnati. It will be as prominent and as uncompromising in the advocacy of the embodiment of those principles in administrative and legislative action. The election has given rise to constitutional questions, whose discussion may lead to momentous results to come, and whose settlement may tax all the good sense, forbearance, and law-abiding instincts of the people at large. It will be our core and endeavor to correct excited feeling by dispassionate argument, to urge the supreme necessity of moderation and fair dealing, and to place the responsibility for stirring appeals where it belongs. And we shall do without abating one jot of the just demands of a party which stands securely on the right, and of a people the integrity of whose institutions depends on a scrupulous obedience to the demands of law.

In the agitation of the constitutional questions which have been forced into public attention by the closeness of the late election, THE TIMES will continue to insist upon the necessity of some approach to uniformity of method in the proceedings taken by State and local boards to ascertain the votes cast for Presidential Electors and members of Congress. It will defend the right of individual States to have the declaration of their will by the recognized authorities of such States protected by all the safeguards which have been thrown around it by the letter of the Constitution and the spirit manifested by its authors. But it will none the less insist on the duty of Congress to devise means, by constitutional amendment or on the part of every citizen of the United States may be protected against virtual disenfranchisement through inequalities in the machinery provided by any State for securing an honest count of their votes. While carefully avoiding all that may tend to promote sectional animosity among our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Southern immigrants in the south in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. It will do all in its power to promote the policy of peace and conciliation between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that Northern confidence and amnesty must find their return in the enforcement of even-handed justice and scrupulous regard for the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the south.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be more widely felt than it could be needful to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. In the sphere of letters and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, it will address itself, as heretofore, to the appreciation of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being coarse; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in the championship of the right. No theories subversive of the principles on which the sacredness of family ties and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does selected editorials on topics of national and general interest from the columns of the daily issue, as well as a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, is a paper admirably fitted to circulate in every portion of the United States. No republican newspaper is more widely quoted in circulation, and it will be the aim of its conductors to use every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make its popularity still more decided.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Joseph Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment is a household word, gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Swenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS.—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame neck of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria costs the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mother can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 23, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I remain, &c.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Three Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years or more, and had everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was going to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N.H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend them pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtherin,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL MESSAGE.

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I have the honor to transmit herewith a letter, accompanied by testimony, addressed to me by John Sherman and other distinguished citizens, in regard to the canvass of the vote for Electors in the State of Louisiana. U. S. GRANT.

Executive Mansion, Dec. 6, 1876.

THE LETTER.

Transmitted by the President is as follows:

To the President of the United States:

In pursuance of your request that several of the undersigned should proceed to New Orleans and there witness the canvass by the Returning Board of Louisiana of the votes cast in that State for electors of President and Vice President of the United States, we have performed that duty, and now most respectfully report that on our arrival in that city we found several gentlemen from other States, who had proceeded there at the request of the National Democratic Committee; and we also found there several gentlemen who came representing republican State organizations, who have throughout co-operated with those who went at your request, and whose names are appended to this communication.

Between the gentlemen representing the democratic party and ourselves a correspondence in writing ensued, a copy of which is appended hereto. Reference to it will disclose that a conference with us for the purpose of exercising an influence upon the Returning Board was declined, upon the ground that the only duty devolving upon us was to attend before the Board, carefully note its proceedings, and, finally, to report a faithful history thereof, with such opinions concerning the same as truth and justice should demand.

THE COURTESY OF THE RETURNING BOARD RECOGNIZED.

Such report we are now able to present, and we take pleasure in stating that our ability to do so is due to the exercise of a courtesy and kindness by the Returning Board, which entitles its members not only to our thanks, but to that confidence which a just public extends toward every tribunal which desires that all its proceedings should be duly presented to public scrutiny. It was our earnest wish that this publicity should be attained, but we should have felt a delicacy in requesting any privilege not in harmony with the usage of the Board.

We were, however, relieved from all embarrassment by the acceptance of its formal invitation hereto annexed, delivered to us and to the gentlemen who attended, at the request of the Chairman of the democratic committee, inviting the attendance of five gentlemen from each delegation as spectators and witnesses of the proceedings of the Board, and this invitation was accompanied with an offer to permit stenographic reporters, selected by each committee, to make a full report of all the proceedings and testimony, and to secure the daily publication thereof by the press. The undersigned made arrangements for that purpose with the proprietors of one of the daily newspapers printed in New Orleans. Thus, perhaps, there and elsewhere, we have been enabled to give such proceedings and testimony the widest circulation.

In justice to the Board it should be stated that this privilege was freely recorded by its members without solicitations, and that they cordially united with us in the desire to have all their proceedings published throughout the country.

THE WIDEST PUBLICITY GIVEN TO THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD.

The scrutiny invited by the Board was constantly exercised day by day. Both Committees have been in attendance before the Board with their stenographic reporter, and in addition a privilege tendered to both Committees of inviting gentlemen from States other than Louisiana has been several times availed of, as returns were opened, whether contested or not. The papers enclosed have been freely tendered to the Committees for examination, and have usually been carefully inspected, as a means of detecting any possible change in the returns after leaving their respective parishes.

Both committees were furnished by the respective parties with statements of the vote as claimed by them respectively, that by comparison it might be known if any alteration be made in the returns to be passed upon by the board, with which statement the returns usually agreed. Whenever it was known to the board that a return was to be contested the attorneys for the candidate interested were sent for to be present at the ceremony of opening, and when such knowledge was attainable by the inspection of the inside of the package containing such returns, these attorneys were invited to be present before any action was taken upon it.

There was secured in the manner mentioned publicity of all the proceedings of the Board, the most careful scrutiny of every package of the returns by it opened, and an opportunity for candidates insisting upon the validity of the returns to appear personally, or by counsel, before the Board in many instances before the returns were opened, and in every instance before action was taken.

It has been, we believe, quite unusual to give such full and widespread publicity to the proceedings of a Return Board, nor do we think that better means for permanently recording every word and act of its members while engaged in the discharge of their duties, could have been afforded than enjoyed.

CAUSES WHICH LED TO THE ORGANIZATION OF THE RETURNING BOARD.

Having thus presented a statement of the means accorded of witnessing the canvass, it may be well to state, briefly, the causes which led to the creation of such a board in Louisiana, and call attention to the statute which devolves on it powers and duties of great public importance. The white people of that and other Southern States had by their rebellion forfeited all right to representation in Congress, or to any participation in the government of the Union, and had been compelled, as a condition of resuming their former political rights, to assent to the Constitutional amendments by which, in hostility to their will, those who had been but late their slaves were made citizens; and, although it was their duty to submit to this political reorganization, the annals of the South, and especially of Louisiana, disclose a widespread and persistent determination of its ruling white people to prevent the exercise of the elective franchise by the colored race, except subject to their will. This was manifested by the violence, outrages and murders perpetrated in the State just preceding the Presidential election of 1868. They will be found stated in various Congressional reports.

A FEW OF THE OUTRAGES COMMITTED IN 1868.

From these it appears that over 2000 persons were killed and wounded and otherwise injured in that State within a few weeks of the Presidential election of that year, that half of the State was overrun by violence, midnight raids, secret murders and open riots, which kept the people in constant terror until the republicans surrendered all claims, and then the election was carried by the democracy. The parishes which were colored, and which in the spring had given 13,973 republican votes, in the fall cast for General Grant but 1178, a falling off of 12,795 votes.

Riots prevailed for weeks, filling New Orleans with scenes of blood and Ku-Klux. Notices were scattered throughout the city warning the colored men not to vote. In the parish of Caddo there were 298 republicans, who in the spring of 1868 carried the parish, which in the fall gave to General Grant but one vote, and there also bloody riots occurred. In the parish of St. Landry, the republicans had a registered majority of 1071 votes, and in the spring of that year carried it by 678 votes, while in the fall not a vote was cast for General Grant, while for Seymour and Blair the democrats cast the full vote of the parish, 4787 votes, and there occured one of the bloodiest riots on record, in which the Ku-Klux killed and wounded over 200 republicans, hunting and chasing them for two days and nights through the fields and swamps. Thirteen captives were taken from the jail and shot and a pile of twenty-five dead bodies was found buried in the woods. Having thus conquered the republicans and killed and driven off their white leaders, the masses were captured by the Ku-Klux, marked with badges of red flannel, enrolled in clubs, led to the polls and compelled to vote the democratic ticket, after which they were given certificates of that fact.

THE NATURAL POLITICAL PREFERENCES OF THE BLACKS.

These are some of the outrages which marked the pathway to the political supremacy of those who, but a few years before, had obtained the mercy of a Government under whose laws the black republican and the white democrat were entitled to equal protection. It was but natural and just that the colored race should unite with and cling to the party to whose principles they owed their freedom and protection; and this seems to have marked their political course from the time they were given their electoral franchise, and their history in Louisiana has but illustrated this whenever they have been left free to vote as they pleased.

Bull-Dozing in Iowa.

"My son, my son," mildly exclaimed a reproving West Hill mother, one morning, "untie that cat from the gate-latch, take in that rope you've stretched across the sidewalk, let your little sister out of the woodshed, unfasten the cellar door and let the hired girl come up and get to her work, take that sign of 'boarders wanted' off of Mr. Ponsonby's front door, let Mr. Jasper's dog out of that barrel, throw that paper of gunpowder in your pocket out into the street, and then come here and tell me where you were Friday and Saturday that you weren't at school." The boy said he wasn't prepared to answer just then, but he would insist on throwing out the report of the school teacher on the ground that he (the boy) had been unduly intimidated from attending school by the terror of long, hard lessons, and further by the practice of bull-dozing in the parish, as he could establish by reliable witnesses. Pending the decision of the board he filed a number of protests, but his mother pronounced his attitude revolutionary and sent to his father's office for troops, which arrived about ten-time, and the local government was at once supported and ordered enforced, and as the boy went up to bed without any supper, and in custody of the troops, throes of a free people, struggling in the iron grasp of a domestic despotism, could be heard away down on the next street, where the other boys were lifting gates off their hinges and carrying them down to the creek.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Daily Chronicle.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1876

"Come Over, Boys,

AND SEE ME

Count the Electoral Vote!"

Senator Ferry, in view of the Oregon trick by the democrats, says that the Senate will not go over to the House to count the Presidential vote, there being no rules between the two Houses to this effect. At the proper time he will give the House notice that he intends to proceed with his duty in this respect under the Constitution, and members of that chamber will be invited to be present. He thinks the President of the Senate should simply count the vote, and that no teller need be appointed, and probably no debate will take place. The idea that Cronin had the power to elect himself and two others is scouted as absurd and revolutionary. Senator Morton and General Garfield coincide in this view, and even democrats like Lord and Clymer declare their belief that Grover was simply a tool utilized by Tilden.

Impeachment of the President.

Our democratic brethren are relieving their feelings of chagrin over the defeat of Uncle Shammy for President, by much cheap talk of impeaching President Grant. There is a deal of this impeachment twaddle, but it mostly comes from the northern democrats, the southerners, when sober, generally maintaining a discreet silence on the subject. In the democratic Congressional caucus at Washington last week, when the question was "gassed" over a good deal, Congressman Henry Watterson, the brilliant ex-rebel Colonel who runs the Louisville Courier-Journal, spoke strongly against any such move; whereat Salary-grabber Randall, the Speaker of the "reform" House, got angry, and asked Watterson if he had not urged him (old Salary-grab) to introduce such a measure, and Watterson was compelled to acknowledge that he did do so. Mr. Watterson was undoubtedly sober, or very near it,—in the caucus.

The Boston Post wants Secretary of the Treasury Morrill to be impeached for the manner in which he worked to prevent Tilden's election; and the idea of impeaching Secretary of the Navy Robeson is chronic with the democratic party. But President Grant is the official who is to be impeached the most. He is to be impeached for sending an army of ten men, under command of a presumably blood-thirsty and overbearing third lieutenant, into Virginia just before election, to over-awe the mild and timorous ex-Confederates of that State, and so intimidate them that they would not dare to vote for Tilden and reform. He is also to be impeached for doing what he swore he would do when he was inaugurated—obeying the Constitutional provision that when the Governor of any State calls on the General Government for aid to check domestic violence the State authorities have not power to quell, such aid shall be given. The ex-rebel brigadiers in Congress are much less mouthy over these "federal bayonet" proceedings than the northern democrats; possibly because the former remember that for four years Gen. Grant's regular business was to direct the movements of United States troops in the Southern States, and they do not wonder that he should take up his old trade again on occasion demanding it.

There is an old story about a little bit of a woman furiously pulling her gigantic husband's hair, to which the latter unresistingly submitted, and on being asked why he did so replied, "Oh! it pleases her and don't hurt me any." Just so with all this democratic spouting about impeachment,—it pleases the democrats and don't hurt anybody, so let them talk about it all they want to. Who cares? Not Ulysses S. Grant, assuredly.

The Constitutional Convention.

On Friday, the following committees were appointed:

On Bill of Rights, Executive Department and Religious Test—Stickney of Exeter, Marcy of Portsmouth, Wheeler of Dover, Berry of New Durham, Dickerman of New Hampton, Brown of Tilton, Coleman of Bronsfield, Abbot of Conway, Davis of Amherst, Jackson of Manchester, Ordway of Warner, Blodgett of Franklin, Ambton of Hinsdale, Buffum of Walpole, Walker of Claremont, Sturtevant of Sunapee, Shaw of Lebanon, Sinclair of Littleton, Harvey of Columbia, Burns of Lancaster.

On Legislative Department—Healy of Strafham, Clarke of Atkinson, Smith of Strafford, Burleigh of Somersworth, Whipple of Laconia, Cole of Gilford, Pitman of Bartlett, Hubbard of Tamworth, Smith of Mount Vernon, Briggs of Manchester, Flanders of Wilmot, Colby of New London, Burns of Harrisville, Albee of Winchester, Adams of Springfield, Pike of Cornish, Bingham of Littleton, Johnson of Enfield, Bedel of Colebrook, Brown of Whitefield.

On Judicial Department—Dow of Hampton, Sawyer of South Hampton, Eastman of Farmington, Woodman of Lee, Marsh of Gilmanton, George of Barnstead, Quarles of Ossipee, Wentworth of Sandwich, Ramsdell of Nashua, Sargent of Hudson, Sargent of Concord, Whittemore of Concord, Faulkner of Keene, Vilas of Alstead, Barton of Newport, Moulton of Plainfield, Parker of Hanover, Putnam of Warren, Benton of Lancaster, Howard of Gorham.

Committee on Future Mode of Amending Constitution and other Miscellaneous Matters—Frink of Greenland, Eastman of Hampstead, Woodman of Somersworth, Whitehouse of Rochester, Perkins of Centre Harbor, Woodman of Alton, Mason of Moultonboro', Whitton of Wolfeboro', Hutchins of New Boston, Scott of Peterboro', Shirley of Andover, Harvey of Hopkinton, Falconer of Swanzey, Parker of Fitzwilliam, Perkins of Unity, Larrabee of Charlestown, Burrows of Plymouth, Murray of Canaan, Perkins of Jefferson, Twitchell of Milan.

The Convention considered that part of the Constitution relating to the General Court, the discussion being on a reduction of the House. In committee of the whole on Part II. of the Constitution, relating to the General Court, Mr. Smith of Peterborough offered an amendment to section five in the first line, by striking out the words "every year" and inserting "biennially." The amendment was carried. The word "annually" was stricken from article five. Mr. Hardy of Keene moved that article five be further amended by adding "No town or incorporated place shall have the right, either directly or indirectly, to suffer its credit to be used for the special benefit of any corporation thereof, or to raise money for the purpose of loaning the same to any corporation, or taking stock therein, or bonds thereof;" carried. Mr. Smith moved to amend section nine by making the election of Senators and Representatives to occur every second year; this was carried by 241 yeas to six nays. A spirited debate followed on the question of reducing the number of Representatives, in which several propositions were made; but pending further consideration the committee arose, and the convention adjourned.

Political.

There was general surprise among the republicans over the very quiet manner in which the democrats received the news from Oregon. It now appears that their general exultation the night before the Electoral Colleges met, was owing to the private information they possessed that the Governor of Oregon would certify the election of one democrat. It now comes out that Cronin, the democrat, failed to comprehend or obey the instructions sent. It was reported that he would appear with the republicans and insist upon voting, and in case he was not received, the democrats then relied upon the Governor refusing to attach the seal of the State to the returns of the Electoral College. But Cronin, through his stupidity, declared the vacancies which even the Governor had not attempted and proceeded to fill vacancies, while he had the Governor's certificate for the two duly-elected republicans in his pocket, and while they were close at hand demanding the certificates, and were neither actually nor constructively absent. This the democrats plainly see here has brought the whole proceeding into contempt. Further than this, the card telegraphed by Gov. Grover to the Herald shows that he had been misinformed in regard to the practice of both Houses, which he declares to be that of instating a minority candidate in case of the ineligibility of the one receiving the majority vote, the fact being that both Houses with the concurrence of all democrats in recorded votes have taken exactly the opposite ground, and decided that minority candidates have no claims whatever. A few reckless democrats are chuckling over the acts of Grover and Cronin, but the democratic managers are seriously troubled.

The hot-headed democrats are badly disturbed over the result of their caucus. The idea of the South-ru element raging itself so mightily against extreme measures seems to have utterly astonished the Northern democrats. The latter are also continually obliged to recognize the fact that the Southern men who fought for their belief entertain decided contempt for most of those who in spite of their present loud talk were non-combatants in the last war. The caucus has put a decided dampness upon war threats.

The democrats of both houses have combined to give the President exactly the opportunity he desired to inform the country why he deemed it necessary to employ troops to keep the peace in the South. His response to the resolution of Senator Withers in regard to what the latter styles the occupation of Petersburg by United States troops, and to the resolution of Fernando Wood, will be sent in at once, and by the time the democrats have heard it, they will all wish they had not asked any questions. It is well known that the evidence of the necessity for troops furnished the President is such as the republicans will be very glad to have before the country.

The democrats of the Senate are at variance with their brethren of the House upon the 22d joint rule. Only four of them voted in favor of Mr. Merriman's appeal from Mr. Ferry's ruling that the joint rules were not in force. These were Maxey, Withers, Merriman and Wyte. The latter at the last session, in a very pointed speech, spoke of the rule as annihilated by the action of the Senate, and expressed his great pleasure thereat. The vote against the appeal was fifty to four. The democrats voting against it were Bayard, Cockrell, Dennis, Eaton, Kernan, McCreery, McDonald, Price, Randolph and Wallace. Many of the House democrats are far from pleased with the vote in the Senate, as it practically ends the hope of accomplishing anything by means of the 22d joint rule.—Providence Journal.

Election Notes.

In Oregon there is a tangle of an amusing kind. One democratic elector having been counted in on the ground of the ineligibility of the republican postmaster, the republicans refused to act with him, and he began, in his solitary grandeur, to "fill vacancies." The dispatches do not state whether the republicans joined in the ballot in which Tilden received one vote, or whether the democratic elector, in the goodness of his heart, filled the vacancies with republicans. The one fact of importance is that the Tilden elector has the Governor's certificate. It is not likely, however, to be of much service to him. In Vermont there was a democratic lunatic loose. He wanted Mr. Sollace's place, fixed his protest, voted for Tilden, signed his own certificate, appointed himself his own messenger to Washington, and is probably already on his way, with the charitable design of making it hot for Congress. This episode has none of the serious character of the democratic maneuver in Oregon. That attempt to defeat the clearly expressed will of the people by a party which loudly demands that that will by allowed expression elsewhere, lays bare its grasping and unscrupulous insincerity. But even this is of minor importance compared with the definite statements made of attempted bribery of electors. They come from States where Gov. Tilden's friends have been trying to secure votes, and are entitled to serious attention. There are facts within the knowledge of the proper authorities which leave little room to doubt that deliberate efforts of this kind have been made, that they were instigated from New York, and that the money to carry them out was provided in this city. The acceptance of such a bribe would be an appalling crime; what shall we say of the offer of it?—Tribune.

Senator Thurman of Ohio was tripped up Thursday, in the Senate, by Gen. Logan of Illinois. The former expatiated for a long while on the legality of Gov. Grover's action in Oregon, and when he concluded, Logan read from the records a brilliant report signed by Thurman some years ago, in which he took directly opposite ground. Thurman subsided, and joined in the general laugh.

The democrats at Washington are greatly demoralized at the vote of the Senate whereby the 22d joint rule was declared abrogated.

President Grant sustains the Chamberlain government in South Carolina, and declares he will send more troops there if they are needed.

The Boston Herald, democratic, declared in Friday's issue that the action of Gov. Grover of Oregon was an "outrage." Next day the same paper said the same affair was especially "fortunate."

The democrats in Congress are not united on a policy. Mr. Morrison, the "tin whistle statesman of Illinois," does not approve of Mr. Hewitt's scheme to discredit the status of Colorado, and Senator Bayard announced in the Senate that the plan of sending commissions into the South is unconstitutional and against State rights.

The republican vote in Kentucky was 8000 larger in November than ever before.

The democratic Governor of Oregon throws out a republican elector because he was a Postmaster at the time of his election, while the democratic Governor of Missouri refused to declare a republican elector chosen in the place of a democrat who had not had his disabilities removed for participation in the rebellion after being in the service of the United States. In the opinion of these democratic leaders it is a greater offence to be a Federal Postmaster than a perjured ex-rebel General.

The action of Governor Grover of Oregon, in refusing to grant certificates of election to the Hayes electors chosen by the people of that State by an unquestioned majority of over one thousand, was an arbitrary proceeding, and weakens instead of strengthens Mr. Tilden's case. The democrats, in trying to steal a vote in such a manner, bring discredit upon themselves and virtually acknowledge that they have no power to go back of the vote of the Electoral College. This is inconsistent with the position they have assumed all along, and injures them in the eyes of the independent voters.—New Haven Union (Greenback).

While the committee of the House of Representatives appointed to investigate the recent election in South Carolina are engaged in the duty assigned them, it is hoped they will turn their attention to the poll of 6,000 democratic and 3,000 republican votes in Edgefield county, and inform the country how such a vote was possible in a county in which the total male population over the age of twenty-one years was, one year since, by a census then taken, ascertained to be in the neighborhood of 5,000—an aggregate which South Carolina democrats then thought too great.

Invigorate, and Be Healthy.

The source of nine-tenths of the bodily ills of mankind is a deficiency of vital power. No portion of the physical machinery can efficiently perform its allotted duty if there is insufficient motive force in the system. Invigorate, therefore, in order to regain health. For restoration of lost vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are the best tonic that can be selected, since they not only impart fresh vigor into the debilitated system, but overcome disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which interfere with complete assimilation of the food, and thus perpetuate weakness. The Bitters likewise cure and prevent malarious fevers, remedy debilitating urinary troubles, and eliminate from the blood through the kidneys the impurities which originate rout, rheumatism and dropsy. Appetite, digestion, sleep,—in short, every essential condition of health, are promoted by their use.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, was the first leading hotel to reduce and schedule its rates according to the location of its rooms. It now charges $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

"A stitch in time saves nine" A dose of Adamson's Balsam in season may prevent a long cold or fever, and perhaps a resultant death. It cures coughs, colds, asthma, and all lung troubles. Keep it in the house. Price 25 cents.

THOSE ACCRETIONS UPON THE SCALP which are termed dandruff are promptly removed by GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which by opening the pores promotes the natural moisture of the hair.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtf277

—A famous usurer of Paris being on his death-bed, his confessor presented a silver crucifix to him, with a view to awaken him to a sense of his situation. The dying miser, after examining the cross with the most minute attention, suddenly exclaimed: "Sir, I can lend you but a very small sum on such a pledge."

—This is what the Baptist clergyman of Boston, G. F. Pentecost, says of the liberal clergy in that city, according to an editorial statement in the Boston Times: "Well, Murray, and Hale, and Savage, and such men, are able, smart men, but they have no religion. It is not Christianity," rejoined Mr. Pentecost. "You admit they are able men," we timidly remarked. "Yes, they are smart, but Satan is smart."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a special meeting of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, held Friday, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals receives with profound emotions of sorrow the sad intelligence of the death of an honored and influential member, Dr. Albion P. Stevens.

Resolved, That in this calamity the Society mourns the loss of an able, judicious and efficient officer, who was always ready with hand and heart to aid in the work of the Society which he helped to establish in our State, and which continued to receive his earnest aid and counsel, unabated even by his declining health.

Resolved, That in deploring the loss of a kind and courteous friend, it is yet a consolation to know that the humane influence of his life and example will live and inspire others to deeds of unselfish kindness and manly courage in behalf of all the weak, abused and defenceless creatures of earth.

Resolved, That by the death of our talented friend the community in which he lived has suffered the loss of an estimable gentleman, one who filled, with honor, the important public offices to which he was called in his adopted city.

Resolved, That we sympathize most sincerely with the bereaved family in their grief for the loss of an affectionate husband and tender father.

P. & D. R. R.

The following resolution was offered by Aldermen Yeaton at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen:

Whereas, The agents of the City to examine the accounts of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, in their last report made reference to several transactions in such a manner as to leave the impression that the parties connected therewith have not fulfilled the trust committed to them faithfully; and

Whereas, The opinion prevails in the minds of many intelligent citizens that the City as a stockholder of said P. & D. R. R. is subject to great loss because their trusts have not been faithfully performed; therefore Voted, That a special committee be appointed who shall be authorized to examine all papers relating to those transactions, and to make all needful inquiries to enable this Board to come to a full understanding of the subject.

On this vote Ald. Yeaton, Norton and Hoyt were appointed a committee.

The Dover Democrat says of P & D. R. R. matters: Councilman O'Neil of Ward 4 has, we hear, been searching the records of the road and digging up some very interesting items of Engineer's expenses connected therewith which are very funny, whether correct or not. We always thought that the Engineer who had charge of the building of the road was an ass, who knew more about bad whiskey and poor tobacco than anything else, and we believe that every officer of the road came to the same conclusion at last. But that is nothing here nor there. He got through finally, got his pay, and went, the Lord knows where, and nobody cares. We hope that no irrelevant side issues will divert the attention of our authorities from the main question. Let there be a fair hearing of all pros and cons, and then act like intelligent, honest men, and do what is right.

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, December 9th.

John Lee, John Higgins and James Holland, tramps, were sent to jail for two months; costs $6.30 each.

Thomas Davidson, vagrant, received an order for his board at Brentwood for two months, and $6.30 worth more.

Henry Moulton, for being drunk, was sent to Brentwood for thirty days; costs $6.90. Moulton pleaded for a fine, but a previous residence at the County Farm was against him, and he had to go up.

JOTTINGS.

The city authorities of Boston have been inspecting the theatres and public halls to see if there is any likelihood of a repetition of the Brooklyn horror should one of them take fire when filled with people. It might not be amiss for a committee of our city government to inspect the means of exit offered the occupants of public halls in this city, in case of a panic in a crowded audience.

"Those weather prophets on Saturday was somewhat like election returns for the month previous; a day or two after the CHRONICLE announced that there was "splendid skating on the North mill-pond," there was just the worst kind of a snowing there one ever did see. A fierce, bewildering snow storm commenced in broad daylight, and raged until near noon, when it as suddenly cleared off, the wind veering in the westward. A half hour of sunshine and fine sky was all there was of the great weather prophet. The heavens PULMC shut in with thick clouds, the temperature went far below the freezing point, and a second boisterous snow storm convinced people that the weather clerk was not quite right in his mind, yet.

The first year of the Seaman's Home under the direction of the Seaman's Aid Society, closed Nov. 1st. Receipts $4342.03; expenses $4320.31. Its accounts were audited by Mr. E. P. Kimball. The restaurant furnished 14,286 meals. Valuable aid has been given on several occasions to shipwrecked sailors. The free Reading Room offers a pleasant resort and profitable recreation to all who wish to avail themselves of it. The institution has greatly aided the temperance reform by its cheap and wholesome table. Tickets are issued for the use of those who wish to help the poor and the stranger. It is now under the care of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stevens of this city. Mrs. H. C. Knight, Secretary.—Journal.

The late Lewis Bruce, was born in Sangus, Mass. May 3, 1786, and removed to Portsmouth in 1807. In the great fire of 1813 his shop on Buck street (now State), near the northeast corner of Pleasant, was burned. In that shop he manufactured the first pair of gaiter boots ever made in Portsmouth, patterned from a pair worn by the wife of Commodore Hull. He married Dec. 28, 1812, Mary C. Drown, daughter of Maj. Joseph Drown. Mr. Bruce joined the Masonic order in 1815, and on the discontinuance of Pythagoras Lodge united with St. John's Lodge in 1834. He was the oldest member of that lodge in this city. In February last, together with the late John Somerby he was complimented with a leave by his brother Masons. Mr. Bruce was also the oldest member of the Mechanic Association, having joined that body in 1812, the next oldest being Eben'r Lord, Esq., who joined in 1815. He was toll keeper at Newcastle bridge from 1821 to 1848, proving one of the most faithful of all men in that position, as well as in whatever trust he assumed, and was strictly upright in all his business transactions.

The ball of the season will be given this evening by the Heavy Artillery Company, in Franklin Hall.

Fair and Baby Show on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. See advertisement.

During the gale of Saturday, schooner J. D. McCarthy, Williamson master, with coal bound to Portsmouth for the Concord Railroad, went ashore on Salisbury beach and became a total loss. The crew were saved. The schooner was valued at $8000 and is probably partially insured in Philadelphia, where she is owned.

Congressmen Jones has secured a private secretary in the person of Ichabod Cole, Esq., of Eliot. Wonder if the New Hampshire democracy could not have finished an efficient man?

Leave of absence has been granted Paymaster Charles F. Guild, attached to this navy yard, for two weeks from the 8th of December.

WENDELL PHILLIPS.

The great treat of this week is Wendell Phillips' lecture. The "silver-tongued orator" will speak on the Political Situation at Franklin Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 15th. Tickets 35 cents, to be had at Preston's, where a plan of the Hall may be found and a choice of seats secured without extra charge. This speech is said to be Mr. Phillips' best one,—praise enough to give any speech.

News and Notes.

The great funeral of the victims of the Brooklyn theatre calamity took place on Saturday.

A boiler exploded in a Salem shoe manufactory on Friday, injuring one man it is feared fatally, and three others seriously.

John W. Murphy was on Saturday found guilty of murder in the second degree for killing John Bullard at Shrewsbury, Mass., and was sentenced to State Prison for life.

Brig Whitaker, of Machias, Me., was wrecked on Wood End bar, Cape Cod, near the light, at midnight on Friday. The crew were saved.

Benjamin March, for many years city clerk of Newport, R. I., and administrator of many estates, is a defaulter and fugitive. Extravagance in his household affairs is said to be the sole cause of his downfall.

Calvin Iverson, of Malden, Mass., is under $35,000 bail to appear to stand his trial for causing the death of his wife, who was found dead in her room.

Mexico has now three Presidents. One of them is Diaz, who was not elected but who drove away Lerdo de Tejeda, who was elected. The third President is Iglesias, who claims the office because he is judge of the Supreme Court. He is very like Moses, of South Carolina.

Additional evidence before the fire inquest in Brooklyn leads to the belief that upward of four hundred lives were lost by the theatre disaster. Between sixty and seventy persons are still missing, and the work of searching for bodies continues with vigor. The unrecognized dead were buried Saturday in one grave at Greenwood.

New Hampshire Items.

The death of Hon. Daniel M. Christie, from a distressing attack of pneumonia, occurred in Dover Friday night. He was about eighty-six years of age, of splendid physical powers and commanding presence. He stood at the head of the New Hampshire bar for twenty-five years, and has been prominently identified with the railroad and banking interests of the State. His property is variously estimated at from $100,000 to a quarter of a million, all of which was acquired by his own exertions.

Augustus Frazier's house in Lincoln was damaged $400 by fire, Friday night.

The barn of John T. Russell, in Claremont, was burned with all its contents Thursday night.

HUTCHINSON and CONNELL'S.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES

FOR 1877.

DEVOTED TO REPUBLICAN PRINCIPLES,
And to Reform in Municipal, State, and General Government.

The course of THE TIMES during the Presidential campaign has secured for it hosts of new friends, and has placed beyond controversy its position as the organ of republican journalism in the United States. During the political struggle preceding the election the fullness, accuracy, and fairness of its news reports were obvious to the friend and friendly of every shade of opinion.

The critical situation which the country is placed by the disputed result of the election has been promptly recognized by THE TIMES but it has found no reason to modify the views which it urged, long among its contemporaries, that the vote of the 7th of November secured a majority of electoral votes for Hayes and Wheeler. Readers of THE TIMES on Friday following the election were placed in possession of reasons which were simply the most complete and trustworthy published in any form in the U. S. The more thoroughly the facts of the election are discussed, the more clear it will be that the charges and pretences which has been thrown around them, the more clearly is the justice revealed of the claims made by THE TIMES touching the election.

Now that the election of Hayes and Wheeler is perceived by impartial observers of all parties to be a certainty, THE TIMES recognizes the responsibilities which this involves, as a great public trust devolves upon the Republican Party. THE TIMES was among the foremost defenders of the principles of reconciliation and reform which put by which triumphed in the nomination of Rutherford B. Hayes at Cincinnati. It will be as prominent and uncompromising in its advocacy of the adoption of those principles in administrative and legislative action. The election has given rise to constitutional conundrums, whose discussion may be for months to come, and whose settlement may tax all the good sense, forbearance, and patriotic motives of the people at large. It will be our endeavor to direct correct excited feeling by the solemnity of the occasion, to allay controversy, to moderate violent leading, and to place the responsibility for solving its state where it belongs—not we shall do it without sharing one jot of the just blame and severity which stands securely on the right, and of a people the in terrify of whose institutions depends on a scrupulous obedience to the demands of law.

In the solution of the constitutional questions which have been forced upon public attention by the closeness of the late election, THE TIMES will be a close to insist upon the necessity of some approach to uniformity of method in the proceedings of the State and local boards to ascertain the vote cast by electors of Presidential Electors and of Congress. It will defend the right of individual States to have the determination of their will by the recognized authorities of such States unimpeded by the safeguards which have been the work of the Congress of the Union, and which have been employed by its authors. But it will none the less insist on the duty of Congress to devise means, by constitutional amendment or in other way, whereby citizens of the United States may be protected against virtual disfranchisement through the defects in the mechanism provided by any State for ascertaining and counting of their votes. While carefully avoiding all dictatorial dogmatism, we will endeavor to impress our people, THE TIMES will urge, with the utmost decision, the national duty of protecting the freedmen and the Northern immigrants in the south in the possession of rights guaranteed them by the Constitution. Any and all efforts to promote the policy of peace and reconciliation between North and South, but will not lose sight of the fact that North ern conciliation and amnesty must find their return in the enforcement of even-handed justice and scrupulous regard for the letter and spirit of the law on the part of the south.

Its influence as a leading exponent of political opinion will be increased by all that it shall do to enhance the value of THE TIMES as a daily record of news. The acknowledged excellence of its correspondence, and of news intelligence from all parts of the world will be fully maintained. In the sphere of literary and artistic criticism, of scientific, social, and general discussion, it will add each itself, as heretofore, to the upper section of the educated and intelligent classes of the American people. It will be lively without being sensational, aggressive without being reckless; at all times it will strive to be fearless and independent in its championship of the right. No thought subversive of the principles on which the success of constitution and the existence of society alike repose will be promulgated in its columns.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, containing as it does a selected edition of its articles on topics of national and general interest from the daily issue, has grown to be a concise summary of political, social, and foreign news, besides other features which recommend it to all classes of readers, the paper continues to be circulated in every portion of the United States. No republican newspaper approaches its circulation, and it will be the aim of its friends to make it, by every means, not only to maintain its well-earned supremacy, but to make it, if it may be decided.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Illustrated Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit, under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are:

by Dr. Holland, his Editor, whose story of "Seven-oaks" gave the highest praise to the readers of the Monthly.

The course of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but when, by the death of his mother, he is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "The Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will be given the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has gained in vitality and drama in power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to Town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experts in Metals in Cooperdale," "A Scotch Lord Provost," in the No. for October number, and "Lord Lonsdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Ill Penny a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated article will be given on "American Sports in Field and Flood," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place whilst the latest product of Aesop's Fables humorists will appear from month to month. The list of short stories, biographic land other sketches, etc., is a long one.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more useful and generous in its influence, and more and more a welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., subscribed to the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest book-seller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

Author of the "Jack Hazard Stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems, and pictures for the holiday, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by eminent artists, the Christmas Holiday Number of ST NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

Among mental instruction, will Fun and Frolic, and Wisdom and Wit be mingled as heretofore. Price $4 a year; $2 for six months; 25 cents for single copy, and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for young folks in the world that can rival this choice production of SCRIBNER'S Press. All the articles, without exception, are thoroughly alive with vitality. * * * The illustrations are both superb."

The Press of Daily Journal says: "We wish we could point out in equal number one periodical fitter than."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS the publication price of ST. NICHOLAS has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in elegant library cases, are sent for $10 (in full gilt, $15), or I shall supply a full set, in uniform cases, as I have volumes contain more attractive matter than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $4 a year. The three bound volumes as a subscription for one year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest news-dealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, each page containing three or eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that has been so well suited to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and knavery in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by fraud and the bulldozer and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will continue to acquaint its readers,—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most concise, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will imply for this purpose a numerous and cautiously selected staff of reporters and correspondents. The reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will double-cross on the secret scheming of the interests which are plundering the Treasury or by usurping with the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of public plunderers.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY SUN will be enjoyed by all subscribers with at the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to take the trouble to get up a club, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expense of paper and printing is so great, and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best.

Daily Chronicle.

The town authorities of Hatfield, Mass., were anxious to exclude all illiterate voters at the last election, and have no "fuss" about it. So they directed such of the foreign element as they knew could not read and write, to slip their votes into a separate box—of the cigar variety,—and when the sun had set they very unostentatiously threw the whole to away.

Mr. James Gordon Bennett's marriage, which was so extensively announced last spring, is probably definitely given up, the breach between himself and his fiancee having been, however, altogether amicable, and the result of a firm conviction on Mr. Bennett's part that he was not fitted for the married state. Whatever presents Mr. Bennett gave Miss May, and they were numerous, have been retained by her at his desire.—Dramatic News.

Discoveries of copper, lead and silver-bearing ore in the towns of Sedgwick and Bluehill, Me., are causing no small stir among the people of that section. Fifty-eight thousand dollars was offered for a farm in Bluehill, supposed to be rich in copper, and $10,000 for another in the same town. Captain Currier of Sedgwick and Captain Charles Deering of Cape Elizabeth have begun to work a vein of silver-bearing ore in Sedgwick. They have a crew of men at work getting out ore for shipping to the smelting works in Newark, N. J.

Parsons of the City, County and State of New York, Merchants, and owners of the Brig called the "Open Sea," now lying in the Port of Portsmouth, Defendants.

In a plea of the case, to recover of said defendants the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, for divers goods, wares and merchandise before that time sold and delivered by plaintiffs to defendants and for the use of said, at their request—also, the further sum of one hundred and ninety-seven 92-100 dollars, according to the account annexed to plaintiffs' writ, dated November 26, 1875.

At this term the Plaintiffs move to amend their writ, by striking out the word "Samuel" in the fifth line of said writ, before the word "Bradford," and inserting the word "Lemuel."

It having been suggested to the Court that the property of the Defendants in this State has been attached on the writ, and that no personal service has been made on said defendants in this suit, they not being residents of this State at the time of the service thereof. It is ordered by the Court that the action be continued to the next Term of said Court, to be holden at Exeter, within and for the said County of Rockingham, on the third Tuesday of January next, and that the Plaintiffs give notice to the said defendants of the pendency thereof, and also of said amendment, by causing the substance of said declaration, with a copy of this order, to be published three weeks successively, in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in said County of Rockingham, that they appear at said Court, if they think proper to do so, at least thirty days prior to said Court, at which this action is continued.

FRANCES A. O'NEIL of Portsmouth, in said County, brings this her libel against JOHN O'NEIL, formerly of said Portsmouth, and says that she has lived in said Portsmouth since her birth, that she was married to said JOHN O'NEIL at said Portsmouth, by Rev. Thomas Walsh, Catholic Priest, December 25th, A. D. 1873, and that said JOHN O'NEIL on the twenty-second day of October, 1875, abandoned your libellant, and has willfully absented himself from her for full three years together, without making any provision for her support and maintenance,—and has since said October 22, 1875, continued down to the filing of this libel, so abandoned her and has been absent three years together, and neglected to depart from; to wit: from October 22d, 1875, down to the time of filing hereof.

O'NEIL, notify the said JOHN O'NEIL to appear at the next Term of said Court, to be holden at Exeter, on the third Tuesday of January next; then and there to plead, if he can or has, why the prayer therein prayed for should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said libel and this Order thereon to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in said County of Rockingham, that they appear at the next Term of said Court, if they think proper to do so, at least thirty days before said Term, and also to cause a copy of the newspaper containing such notice to be forwarded by mail, post paid, to the last known place of abode of the Libellee, and to each near relative or friend of the Libellee as the Court may order.

MR. LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. Stanley Jevons, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, and the fine arts, of the day.

The subscription price ($8 a year), is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while no choice selection of the best home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to one, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American $4 monthlies or weeklies, all at a year, will be sent to "subscribers" who have not been on the list since 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalment of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The Living Age is a weekly magazine of 64 pages, giving nearly as much reading as a monthly of 96 pages, and is the only one of the best works of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Indigestion, Dropsy Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, and as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk one mile without fatigue, and I gain strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he would not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills, He hesitated nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatism in Longer for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I think that you know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines in the same time, and have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and trying medicine for years, and I suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure any disease. Please send me two packages of the pills. Enclosed pl ase find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Tex.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Red Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend these Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative so could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the Editors is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as entertainment in solid and healthful literature.

Each of the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL MESSAGE.

Continued.

It was evident, that a fair election could not be held in parishes containing any considerable majority of colored voters, and hence the act of 1870, acquiesced in by both political parties, and amended in 1872, was passed creating a Returning Board, authorized to sit in New Orleans, having supreme authority to canvass the votes cast throughout the entire State, and authorized, if convinced that riot, tumult, acts of violence, intimidation, armed disturbance, bribery or corrupt influences had prevented voters from registering, or had materially interfered with the purity or freedom of election at any poll or voting place, or had materially changed the result of the election, to exclude votes cast at such polls or voting places from the final count. This law, with some amendments not materially changing its nature, is that under which the present Returning Board of Louisiana is now organized and sits.

INADEQUTE POWERS OF THE BOARD.

That some such independent tribunal was necessary for the protection of the legal voter, and as a check upon the violence and intimidation which had before prevailed throughout the State, no one can deny. It will be seen when the statute organizing this Board and defining its duties is examined how inadequate are its provisions to afford full relief against the wrongs it was desired to prevent. Thus the powers of the Board are limited to the rejection of the votes polled for the causes stated, while it cannot in any case add to the returns votes which would have been polled but for the intimidation, violence etc., mentioned.

THE DISPUTED PARISHES.

To illustrate, the undersigned will refer to the five parishes of East and West Feliciana, East Baton Rouge, Morehouse, and Ouachita, which appear, as the evidence discloses, to have been especially selected for the perpetration of such violence and intimidation as should be necessary to prevent the republicans from casting any considerable vote in either. In each and all of these there is a large republican majority. In all of them the white voters registered for this year numbered 5134 and the colored 13,244—a majority of 8110.

If by intimidation and violence the democrats could secure in each of these parishes a majority, an immense gain would thus be achieved, for if the Board should upon the canvass reject the votes of all, it would be powerless to administer that complete justice which would consist only in declaring for the republicans such a majority in each parish as, but for intimidation and violence, would have been cast for their candidates.

The law, therefore, in this but provides a partial and inadequate remedy for the grave wrongs from which the colored people and white republicans of Louisiana have long suffered; and when the proof taken by the Board is examined and weighed it will be found, as we believe, that the returns by it excluded for the causes mentioned are generally from polling places which, but for intimidation, violence, outrage and murder, would have given republican majorities, thereby greatly increasing that declared by the Board.

In considering its powers and duties this important feature of the law should be borne constantly in mind, for while that tribunal may, upon proof, and in the exercise of judicial discretion, reject votes for the causes mentioned, it cannot, upon so doing, return any not actually cast. It will therefore readily occur to any one that a careful selection of political managers of certain parishes known to have large republican majorities, for scenes of intimidation and violence, in the belief that other parishes within the State would enable them to carry it for their party, even should their majorities in the parishes thus selected be rejected, might well be a favorite method for achieving success, and as we proceed it will be apparent that such was the mode adopted to carry Louisiana for the democratic party, while from the very nature of the mischief to be remedied the law could but partially repair it.

THE STATUTE UMDER WHICH THE BOARD ACTS

Is so framed as to exhibit the rejection of the votes cast, and any poll or voting places, unless certain solemn formalities are first complied with, which must be supplemented by the testimony of witnesses; the statute organizing the Board declared, in substance, that whenever, from any poll or voting place, there shall be received by the Board the statement of any Supervisor of Registration or Commissioner of Election, confirmed by the affidavits of three or more citizens, of any riot, tumult, acts of violence, intimidation, armed disturbance, bribery or corrupt influences, which prevent or tend to prevent a fair, free and peaceful vote of all qualified electors entitled to vote at such polls, the Board shall proceed to investigate the facts, and if from such statements and affidavits they shall be convinced that such courses did not materially interfere with the purity and freedom of such election, or prevent a sufficient number of qualified voters from voting to materially change the result of the election, then such vote shall be canvassed and compiled; but if they are not thus fully convinced, it shall be their duty to examine further testimony in regard thereto, and to that end shall have power to send for persons and papers; and if, after examination, the Board shall be convinced that such acts of violence, intimidation, etc., did materially interfere with the purity and freedom of the election, at such poll, or did prevent a sufficient number of qualified voters from registering or voting to materially change the result of the election, then the Board shall not canvass or compile the votes of such poll, but shall exclude it from their returns.

Nothing can be more simple, more just than these provisions. They are for the reason before stated inadequate to secure the administration of a complete remedy, for it may be fairly said that if by reason of violence and intimidation committed in the interest of one political party, the adherents of another are restrained from voting through fear, an equitable remedy, if practicable for the outrage, would be to allow the vote they lost; the ascertainment of this being, however, difficult, the statute of Louisiana has provided only for the rejection of votes, and it is worthy of remark that the most flagrant cases submitted to the Board have, as proven, occurred in the parishes where the republican registered vote, which would undoubtly have been cast but for the intimidation and violence, largely exceeded the registered vote of the democratic party.

We have thus alluded to some of the causes which led to the creation of this Board, and have also called attention to its duties and the proof upon which it is authorized to act. It is a tribunal established by the laws of Louisiana, entirely independent of the laws of any other State or of the United States. It is empowered among other things to canvass and finally determine the number of votes legally cast for electors of the President and Vice President of the United States, but in the discharge of that duty it acts explicitly under the authority of the laws of that State; and the Constitution of the United States declares that each State shall appoint in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct a number of electors equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress.

Not only is the action of this board independent of State or National laws, other than those of Louisiana, but its determination as to the votes cast and candidates elected, is final and substantially conclusive, as appears from a decision of the Supreme Court of that State, reported in the 25th volume of the Louisiana annual reports, where the Court, on page 268, says:

"No statute conferring upon the Courts the power to try any cases of contested elections or title to office authorizes them to revise the action of the Returning Board. If we were to assume that prerogative we should have to go still further and revise the returns of Supervisors of elections, examine the right of voters to vote, and in short the Court would become in regard to such cases mere officers for counting compilations and reporting election returns.

The Legislature has seen proper to lodge the power to decide who has not been elected in the Returning Board. It might have conferred that power on the Courts, but it did not. Whether the law be good or bad it is our duty to obey its provisions and not to legislate."

THE BOARD ENTITLED TO RESPECT.

It became our duty immediately on arriving in New Orleans to thoroughly understand the constitutional powers and duties of this Board, and to examine with care the statutes under which it was bound to act; and enough has been written to show that a tribunal charged with such duties and invested with such powers, the members of which were originally appointed by the Senate, is entitled to the respect of all citizens until it shall be forfeited by violation of its judicial or ministerial obligations.

THE PERSONNEL OF THE BOARD.

The great national importance of the duties to be performed by the Board invested each member with much intesest, and as many reports had been circulated concerning them, we were led to make some inquiry as to their individual history. Two of them, Hon. James Madison Wells, President of the Board, and Gen. Thomas C. Anderson, next senior member, are Southern-born, and of old and highly respectable families. The father of the former was Hon. Levi Wells of the parish of Rapides, who in 1812 represented it in the convention called to frame the Constitution of the State of Louisiana.

The son received a liberal education and was early engaged in planting and other interests of his father. He was a Union man from the time the war broke out, and although he suffered greatly by it in the loss of property, he never faltered in his devotion to the Union cause. Under the Banks reconstruction scheme he was chosen Lieutenant Governor on the ticket with the Hon. Michael Hahn who was elected Governor, and upon the election of the latter to the Senate, a year after, Mr. Wells became Governor of the State, to which office he was almost unanimously re-elected under the reconstruction plan of President Johnson. His experience in public life has been great and varied, and his capacity to discharge the duties assumed cannot be questioned.

Gen. Anderson was born in Virginia, has resided in the parish of St. Landry for the period of some forty years, is a cousin of Gen. Anderson, who commanded Fort Sumter at the outbreak of the war, was educated as a lawyer, is a farmer and carries on several plantations, is widely known and highly respected throughout the State, has been intimately associated in the promotion of social and industrial interests of his parish, St. Landry, and has represented it in both branches of the Legislature more than 20 years.

Mr. Casanave, the third member of the Board, is a man of intelligence, character and business habits, not dependent on an office for a living, and not seeking it, but a well educated citizen, who has long conducted a prosperous and respectable business in the city of New Orleans.

Mr. Kenner, the junior member of the Board, is a young man born and reared in the city of New Orleans, intelligent and active, who was for some time in charge of the Street Commissioner's Bureau in the Department of Improvements.

New Hampshire.

Everything indicates that in the coming Spring election this State will be the scene of a political contest such as the oldest inhabitant cannot recall to memory. The republicans are to enter the campaign with all the enthusiasm and vigor of their natures, and will take the offensive from the start. Three republican Congressmen can and doubtless will be chosen to represent the State. This can be done only by united effort, and there is evidence that this desirable result will be reached. The important session held by the State committee at Concord on the 6th shows that the organization will be speedily perfected and that even now the glorious army of voters which has won so many successive battles since 1854, is stripping to the buff and will be ready to answer to the word "Forward!" promptly in light marching order when the command comes. The republicans of New Hampshire sleep on their arms. They are veterans keenly alive to every trick of the enemy. Their vigilance is likely to prove the salvation of the Nation. When called on in time of need in the past, they have invariably responded with such vigor and so irresistibly that victory has been assured from the beginning. The democracy hold no vantage ground in the State. There is no convenient State official of the Weston calibre to help them defeat the pronounced will of the people. With such a standard bearer as JOHN J. MORRILL, BENJAMIN F. PRESCOTT or NATT HEAD, they can and will win handsomely over any opponent the democracy can nominate, be he of the Daniel Marcy fossil order, or of the representative young men who desire Warren F. Daniell to lead them. Success is a recognized duty by the republicans of the old Granite State, and that they will achieve it handsomely we do not doubt.

"The Worst Feature of the Case."

"The worst feature of the case as it seems to us, is this: since the morning after the election, when it appeared that the votes of South Carolina, Florida, and Louisiana would elect Hayes, the managers of the republican party have insisted that those States had gone republican. They began to say so before any returns of consequence had begun to come from those States; and when the few returns received indicated large democratic gains they have not varied from that tune."—Boston Herald.

So, "the worst feature of the case" is that the republicans, "before any returns of consequence had begun to come" from three republican States, claimed that those States had gone republican. That the democrats vociferously claimed those same republican States before any returns at all had begun to come in, and yelled that "only fraud" could give them to the party that had always previously carried them, is probably not a bad feature at all from the "independent" democratic point of view. Neither, it seems, was the claim of the Tilden reformers that they had carried Colorado, for a week after the result of the election there had been telegraphed all over the country; or their persistent claims, long after the true result was known, that they had carried Wisconsin and Oregon "by decisive majorities", for Tilden, a "feature" sufficiently objectionable to be worthy attention. It it only the insisting by republicans that republican States gave republican majorities that is to be denounced. Having given one "independent" paper's views, we close with an extract from another one,—the New York Tribune:

"The worst features in the conduct of the democrats are stated as follows: First, they endeavored to bribe a Hayes elector in South Carolina to betray his trust, and made a direct offer to him of a large sum of money. Second, they made a similar corrupt proposition to one of the Hayes electors in Louisiana. Third, they tried to purchase one of the republican members of the Florida Board of State Canvassers, in order to secure a majority on the board, and have the electoral vote of the State returned for Tilden. Fourth, they induced the Governor of Oregon to trample upon the laws of his State and upon his own oath of office, and give a certificate of election to a democrat who had no shadow of legal right to the certificate."

A Columbia, S. C., despatch of the 10th says: "It is reported here to-night that ten negroes, who murdered a white man named Allen and wounded another named Baker, at Lundesville, Abbeville county, and who were discovered to be engaged in a plot to murder whites, were taken from the Sheriff's posse and lynched by Georgians. Thirteen negroes were arrested on warrants issued by a Trial Justice, and owing to threats of lynching were sent under a strong guard to the jail at Anderson, in the adjoining county, for safe keeping. It is supposed they were seized by Georgians, who came across the Savannah river and summarily dealt with them."

The London Times, in its financial article, says that a movement is on foot for an arrangement between the Direct and Anglo-American Cable Companies. Its ostensible originators are the Cable Telegraph and Trust Company. They have issued a circular to the shareholders of the Direct Cable Company, inviting them to have repealed a clause in their constitution, which forbids an arrangement with the Anglo-American Company. The Board of Directors of the Direct Company, acting under the proposition and apparently in harmony with a powerful body of the shareholders represented by the Cable Company have called an extraordinary meeting to consider the advantage of making a joint purse arrangement with the Anglo-American Company, and the expediency of altering the articles of association to enable them to do so.

Simeon C. Smith, a respectable citizen of South Weymouth, Mass., was shot in his yard, a few steps from his door, on Friday night, and died Saturday afternoon. Windows were broken half a mile from where the explosion occurred.

The Act passed at the close of the Session which occasioned so much discussion on the subject of vivisection is to amend the law relating to cruelty to animals. It extends to the United Kingdom, and has immediate operation. The preamble recites that it is expedient to amend the law relating to cruelty to animals, which for medical, physiological, or other scientific purposes are subjected, when alive, to experiments calculated to inflict pain. The law as amended is contained in twenty-two sections. It commences with the declaration that a person shall not perform on a living animal any experiment calculated to give pain, except subject to the restrictions imposed by this Act. Any person performing or taking part in performing any experiment calculated to give pain, in contravention of this Act, shall be guilty of an offence, and liable for a first offence to a penalty not exceeding £50, and for a second or subsequent offence, at the discretion of the Court, to a penalty not exceeding £100 or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months.—Illustrated London News.

After much wrangling, the Chinese authorities have consented to allow the experimental railroad built near Shanghai to remain in British hands for a year, after which it is to be purchased by the Nanking Government. Invigorate, and Be Healthy.

The source of nine-tenths of the bodily ills of mankind is a deficiency of vital power. No portion of the physical machinery can efficiently perform its allotted duty if there is insufficient motive force in the system. Invigorate, therefore, in order to regain health. For the restoration of lost vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are the best tonic that can be selected, since they not only impart fresh vigor into the debilitated system, but overcome disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which interfere with complete assimilation of the food, and thus perpetuate weakness. The Bitters likewise cure and prevent malarious fevers, remedy debilitating urinary troubles, and eliminate from the blood through the kidneys the impurities which originate gout, rheumatism and dropsy. Appetite, digestion, sleep,—in short, every essential condition of health, are promoted by their use.

—The father of a little girl seven years old, was recently taken aback while he was enjoying his evening cigar by overhearing the little maid solemnly remark to her mother that she would never marry a man who smoked, if he possessed all other good qualities.

—Yesterday a prisoner, unrepresented by counsel, was in the dock, charged with a misdemeanor. After the complaining witness had given his testimony, the Judge asked the prisoner if he wished to question the witness. "What shall I ask him?" inquired the prisoner. "You may ask anything you like." "Then, with your Honor's permission," said the prisoner, "I will ask the witness to lend me five dollars."—San Francisco Call.

POLICE COURT.

Monday, December 11th.

John Flynn and his wife Annie were brought up, charged with having "by force and arms," etc., got drunk. The charge was proved; and as the record showed that John and Annie had at least twice previously been sent to Brentwood, for indulging in family drunks, they were on this occasion each assessed $9.90, fine and costs, and as neither happened to have that amount handy both "went up" once more.

Henry Miller, "by force and arms," etc., tramp, Brentwood three months, costs $6.90.

John Riley, tramp, three months, costs $6.30.

JOTTINGS.

Good skating at the Rink. The snow is promptly removed from the ice, and a good fire kept burning in the Rink building.

Prof. Pitkin's third lecture at Miss Morgan's school will be given this afternoon at three o'clock. Subject, Electricity. Closing lecture of the course to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Get your tickets for Wendell Phillips' lecture at Preston's before all the best seats are gone. No extra charge for reserved seats. They are selling rapidly.

There are now confined in the jail here nearly twenty persons, and Sheriff Kent will be glad to receive for distribution among them any old magazines, books or other good reading matter the charitably disposed may have on hand and feel inclined to contribute.

The Wide Awake Pleasure Book. Large Quarto, 400 pages. 200 illustrations. Elegant cloth $2. Boards, cloth back, chromo sides, $1.50. In issuing the Wide Awake Pleasure Book, D. Lothrop & Co. meet the popular taste which demands in a gift-book superb binding, fine paper, beautiful engravings and reading matter which is really entertaining and valuable. Few books, so thoroughly first class, are placed in the market at so low a price. Besides the "Papers on Children's Etiquette," the "Poets' Home Series," the two long stories, "Young Rick," and "The Cooking Club of Tu Whit Hollow," the volume contains many delightful stories. It is a striking characteristic of these stories that they waken all the latent geniality, hope, courage, and helpfulness of the reader's heart. It is this influence emenating from every page, which has made the Wide Awake Magazine so welcome in the household.

The New York Observer claims to publish the best family newspaper, and repudiates all unsound or objectionable teaching. Even its advertising columns are free from all quackery and dangerous advertisements; and the whole paper, both in its religious and its secular department, is filled with pure and entertaining reading. While we commend the position of the Observer in this matter, we also heartily endorse it as one of the most desirable periodicals for any household. The price, $3.15 a year post paid, can hardly be made to return as much good, spent in any other way. S. I. Prime & Co, 37 Park Row, New York.

The Lady's Almanac for 1877, published by George Coolidge, Boston, contains the usual choice selected matter, poetry, pages for memoranda, astronomical calculations, etc., which have made it popular in years past. Handsomely printed on fine paper, bound in cloth, gilt edged; price 50 cents. For sale at the bookstores.

Classics of Babyland. By Mrs. Clara Doty Bates. Illustrated by Mrs. Charlotte Doty Finley, Merrill, and Jessie Curtis. Quarto. Chromo Boards, 50 cents. Boston: D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers. There are a few dear old stories that the mothers of other years used to tell the little ones on their laps, which seem destined to live as long as the English language itself. In one form or another they are continually appearing to delight a new generation. Mrs. Clara Doty Bates is the latest writer to give fresh shape to the favorite old stories of "Silver Locks and the Bears," "Cinderella," "Little Red Riding-Hood," "Jack and the Bean-Stalk," etc., etc. She has told them in easy and graceful verse, and her sister, Mrs. Finley, and one or two other artists, have illustrated them with a multitude of dainty pictures. Nothing handsomer and cheaper can be found for a holiday gift to a child.

Election Notes.

Mr. Redfield of the Cincinnati Commercial, whose letters from New Orleans at the outset leaned strongly to the democratic side, now has this to say in vindication of the Returning Board: "These men who composed the Returning Board have been abused fully as much as they deserve. They are republicans from principle. They endanger their lives by counting in the republican ticket, but are without reward. On the other hand they could get $100,000 each to count in Tilden. It is asserted that $500,000 of democratic money from New York is now here, to be used, if possible, in buying up the board, but so far without success. This money may have been sent by New York betting men. I do not know as to that. But I have reasonably good authority for saying that it has so far been without avail. I am informed that one of the members of the board has been approached in a manner that he could not misunderstand, but the approach was useless. If the board were as black as it has been painted, it seems remarkable that so large a sum should have no influence upon it."

Cronin was altogether too unanimous. Later advices show that he overdid the thing from the start. When the Secretary of State of Oregon, in his dignified way, slipped the certificates through the door, Cronin, in his dignified way, plunged them into his pocket and refused to give them up, though each of the three electors made three distinct demands for them. Then it seems that there was no refusal on the part of the republicans to act with him, but, on the contrary, he refused to act with them because they insisted that his authority should be shown.—N. Y. Tribune.

M. D. Conway has written the Cincinnati Commercial that: "On the first tidings of Tilden's election, American securities fell on Change, and the old Confederate bonds were quoted, for the first time since the fall of Richmond."

From the display of crowers which some of the democratic papers recently made one would suppose they really expected to have their candidate "Cronin" next 4th of March.

The spectacle of a party trying to steal one President and impeach another at the same time has been reserved for the Centennial year. The success of the experiment will undoubtedly be so lamentable that a second trial will not be made for another century.

The republican party, during its 16 years of power, has done many things which history will condemn, but it has never recognized murder as a legitimate means of accomplishing its political ends.—Boston Transcript.

Mr. Hewitt is too ambitious. He ought to have known that he had enough to do in keeping his own party straight and in electing Tilden without attempting to manage President Grant too.

The President's Message is a very practical document, but it doesn't cover the whole ground. He doesn't once allude to the new game of Polo, and the present rage for cardinal in feminine fashions is not discussed at all. These bold omissions invite much criticism.—Norristown Herald.

It is in order now for some of the exquisitely sensitive journalists who have been calling upon Gov. Hayes to withdraw from the contest to make a similar request of Gov. Tilden. This Oregon business seems to be a pretty clear case of fraud.

Mr. Blaine, says the correspondent of the Troy Times, considers himself fully restored to health, remarking that he had not felt so well in ten years. He said his physician objected to his taking an active part in the late campaign, but he told him he might as well die from work as die from chafing. He thinks speaking in the open air strengthened his whole system. He looks able to do valiant service against his old enemy; but unfortunately there is very little chance for a new man to show any prowess in the Senate, or, as Mr. Blaine himself expressed it. "The new Senator can do little but sit at Gamaliel's feet and learn."

The Senate Committee on Elections has voted to recommend the adoption by the Senate of Mr. Mitchell's resolution, directing the committee to investigate the facts attending the appointment of Presidential Electors in Oregon. Senators Morton, Logan and Kernan will as a sub-committee conduct the investigation, and Gov. Grover, together with the Secretary of State and several other persons, will be subpoenaed to come on immediately from Oregon.

Justice W. W. Upham of the Oregon Supreme Court telegraphs: The State statute authorized Cartwright and Odell to fill the vacancies. Their votes are for Hayes, attached to the State canvass, certified under the State seal of Oregon. The Constitution prohibits the Executive from exercising judicial functions, or passing on Watts, disqualifications. Gov. Grover only hoped to throw out the whole vote. He failed.

A New Orleans dispatch says: Affidavits of the attempt to bribe the board and the electors were made and forwarded yesterday. The United States grand jury will investigate the matter and procure indictments. The parties involved are said to be of the highest respectability.

The Florida Canvassing Board decided that the republican candidate for Governor of that State is elected by 458 majority, and that both republican Congressmen are chosen by majorities of 295 and 141 respectively.

—The remains of a balloon have recently been found on the coast of Iceland. In the car were human bones—an incomplete skeleton—and a leather travelling-bag containing papers so moldy as not to be deciphered. It is conjectured that this was the balloon in which the aeronaut Price ascended during the siege of Paris.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugen Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven-oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, is a pathetic and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL,"

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation." "A Scottish Loaf Factory," in the November number, and "Toad Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Ha'penny a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Species by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Wellford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and to make the visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i. e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. "ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining Serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a Story adapted to the Thanksgiving Season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard Stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard; a splendidly illustrated article, "Cats—Do They Say?" by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday-school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Yesterday Of Christmas Tree," by Lucy P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers by Dr. William Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer, with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series on popular science recently given to the public.

Entertainment and Instruction, Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give them good cheer.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this charming production of SCRIBNER'S. All the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throbbing with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own political literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more reading material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $4 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for blow, pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will continue for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by fraudulent majorities and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers,—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will continue to expose to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making clubs. At the same time, for the sake of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself with club copy. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely equal; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the public will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the best. Boston Girl.

The school girl, too, has here an individuality that is remarkable. She knows the fame of Boston girls is already an honor to the land; she feels a due sense of her own dignity; you will not find her "making eyes" or beginning "handkerchief flirtations." She is much too mature for that, but for all that she is the most bewitching flirt in creation. She weareth eye-glasses upon her nose, and she generally carries a watch-coil, or a strap full of books, neatly covered; but the Boston maiden knows well all feminine allurements, and woe betide the youth who dares encounter them. O! these Boston girls! I defy you to find in any other city such troops of glowing cheeks, such armies of snowy temples and brow-Dreheads shaded by such lovely tresses! I rejoice in their beauty, and exult again in New England, with its rare genius for training such wives and mothers as those whose influence has made our land peculiarly a land of happy homes!—Boston Cor. Burlington Hawkeye.

—Our lady readers will be pleased to learn that the fashion plates for gentlemen's Christmas slippers show no changes from the styles of the last fifty years. They will continue to display a breed of dogs having blue ears, cardinal red eyes, and bodies the size of a baboon afflicted with dropsy.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now in its 131st year, and its 35th year of publication) is due to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness also essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Longfellow, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, political economy, and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring more than $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50, with The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will add what will be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best kind of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years. Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 28, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. Inclose $1.50. Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 20, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come. Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been so steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, certainly cure them of aches and pains caused by disease and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"the Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 19, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they do, I take pleasure in giving them my testimony. I have been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and had tried everything that could be thought of to no good. At times it would be so bad that I could not hit myself to be able to work or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial, and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a long yarn. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. FEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head, which has caused me to lose many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been now free from pain for nearly all the time for eight or ten months, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I feel as sound as a dollar. The reason I write here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have received applications to send the pills. Enclosed pl-ase find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N.H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I have taken. I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years agoit was used by one of New England's most eminent physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the humid trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not know ing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor do we know who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim is to present to the ECLECTIC readers the world being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family, it endeavors to recommend itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL MESSAGE.

[Concluded.]

EVIDENCE OF FRAUD, VIOLENCE AND INTIMIDATION.

We will now present such an outline of the proofs as disclose not only such violence and intimidation as prevented a fair election in several parishes and at many polls, but disclose also that these grave offences were committed in pursuance of a preconcerted and settled plan, formed by the democratic leaders, to prevent the republican voters from attending the polls, and that such unlawful purpose was so effectually accomplished as not only to interfere with the purity and freedom of the election, but materially to change its result.

CAREFULLY LAID PLANS.

To illustrate how carefully the political campaign was considered, and the plan mentioned considered by the leaders of the democratic party, it is instructive to refer to a circular issued from the rooms of the Democratic Conservative State Central Committee at New Orleans, marked "confidential," and signed by J. W. Patton, President, and P. J. Sullivan, Secretary, intended for circulation in each parish, and recommending the formation of ward clubs therein.

These circulars urged that in conversation no gloomy forebodings should be indulged in; and that "the result of the election should be spoken of as a foregone conclusion, as we have the means of carrying the election, and intend to do so." But be careful to say and do nothing that can be construed into a threat or intimidation of any character. The circular also recommended that there should be frequent meetings of all the clubs to be formed, and that occasionally they should form at their several places of meeting and proceed thence on horseback to the central rendezvous, stating that "proceedings of this character would impress the negroes with a sense of your united strength;" and it further recommended that on the day of election at each polling place there should be affidavits prepared to the effect that "there has been no intimidation and no disturbance on account of any efforts by the Democratic Conservative party to prevent any one from voting on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

Thus carefully guided from the central democratic authority by this secret and confidential circular, urged to impress on timid blacks by horseback processions a sense of the united strength of their former masters, and warned to prepare blank affidavits in advance that no terrorism had been exercised, the next, and not least important part of the scheme of these leaders, was to select parishes where, having the means to carry the election, and intending to use them, as stated in the circular, they could do so with the most effect.

There were in the State of Louisiana on the day of election 92,996 white registered voters and 115,310 colored, a majority of the latter of 22,314. It was well known that if left free to vote, uninfluenced by violence or intimidation, the blacks would be almost unanimously republican, and that with the white republican vote its majority would be about equal to that above indicated. The plan appears to have been to select for the purpose of intimidation and violence as few parishes as possible (for in 40 out of 57 parishes, where these were not employed, the republican majority was 600), but to select those in which the colored vote as compared with the white would be large unless unlawfully prevented, for, in so doing, it might be expected that should any majority they could thus obtain in any parishes be rejected, they would nevertheless attain their purpose by the suppression of a large republican vote.

In pursuance of this plan five of the parishes selected in which the greatest violence and intimidation were practiced, were East and West Feliciana, which border upon that portion of Mississippi, in which murders and outrages so prevailed during and preceding the election, as to substantially prevent any republican vote in East Baton Rouge, which borders on the southern portion of East Feliciana; Morehouse, which adjoins the State of Arkansas, and Ouachita, which adjoins and lies directly south of Morehouse.

The geographical position of these five parishes was well suited to the purpose to be attained, for it was easy for the members of the clubs to be formed therein, and who usually perpetrated their outrages with masked faces, to pretend that they were committed by border ruffians from Mississippi and Arkansas, where like outrages had been perpetrated. The location of these five parishes was not, however, better suited to the plan to be accomplished than was the great disproportion existing between the number of white and colored voters.

The former numbered but 5134, the latter 13,244, a majority of the latter equal to more than one-third of the entire majority of colored voters in the 57 parishes of the State.

PALPABLE DEMOCRATIC FRAUDS.

The returns of votes actually cast in these five parishes suggest that the clubs to whom was assigned the task of securing democratic majorities therein had performed their work of violence and intimidation effectually, which proof discloses, brief summaries of portions of which are hereunto annexed, that where violence and intimidation were inefficient, murder, maiming, mutilation and whipping were resorted to.

Instead of a majority of 6000 or 7000 which the republicans should have had in these parishes upon a fair election, there was actually returned to the Returning Board a democratic majority for the parishes of East and West Feliciana, Morehouse and Ouachita of 3878, and in East Feliciana, where the registered colored votes number 2127, not a republican vote for electors was cast. In East Baton Rouge, containing 3552 colored registered voters and but 1801 whites, the democrats claim a majority of 617, which but for the rejection of several polls by the Commissioners and Supervisors of Election would have been returned to the Returning Board as votes actually cast.

If to the democratic majority from the four parishes, as above stated, we add the 617 thus claimed and insisted upon before the Returning Board, a democratic majority of 4495 is the result of an election in five parishes containing 13,244 colored republicans and 5134 white democratic voters; the conclusion that intimidation and violence alone could have produced this is almost irresistible, and that such influences were employed and were supplemented by murder when that was thought necessary, is established by the proofs already referred to.

It but confirms this conclusion to refer to the vote cast in these five parishes in 1874, when no special motive existed for the use of cruel means to influence the election; the republican majority therein was then 3979; a result so suggestive of violence and intimidation was this year obtained by means the most terrible and revolting.

BARBAROUS PRACTICES.

Organized clubs of masked armed men formed, and recommended by the Central Democratic Committee, rode through the country at night marking their course by the whipping, shooting, wounding, maiming, mutilating and murder of women, children and defenseless men, whose houses were forcibly entered whilst they slept, and as their inmates fled through fear the pistol, the rifle, the knife and the rope were employed to do their horrid work.

Crimes like these, testified to by scores of witnesses, were the means employed in Louisiana to elect a President of the United States, and when they shall succeed the glories of the Republic will have departed and shame and horror will supplant in the hearts of our people that love and veneration with which they have hitherto regarded the institutions of their country.

THE PROOF OF VIOLENCE, ARMED DISTURBANCE AND INTIMIDATION

In many other parishes is of the same general character, although more general and decisive as to the five parishes particularly referred to. In others these causes prevailed at particular polling places, at many of which a republican vote was, to a considerable extent, prevented. We hope to be able to furnish full copies of all the testimony taken by the Board, that the justice of its conclusions may be appreciated.

It is a tribunal from which there can be no appeal, and in view of the possible consequences of its adjudication, we have closely observed its proceedings, and have carefully weighed the force of a large mass of the testimony upon which that adjudication has been reached. Members of the Board, acting under oath, were bound by the law, if convinced by the testimony that riots, tumults, acts of violence or armed disturbance did materially interfere with the purity and freedom of election, at any poll or voting place, or did materially change the result of the election thereat, to reject the votes thus cast and exclude them from their final return.

Of the effect of such testimony the Board was the sole and final judge, and if in reaching a conclusion it exercised good faith and was guided by an honest desire to do justice, its determination should be respected, even if upon like proof a different conclusion might have been reached by other tribunals or persons. To guard the purity of the ballot, or protect the citizen in the free and peaceful exercise of his right to vote, to secure him against violence, and especially murder, when he attempts to perform this duty, should be the desire of all men and the aim of every representative government.

If political successes shall be attained by such violent and terrible means as were resorted to in many parishes in Louisiana, complaint should not be made if the votes thus obtained are denounced by judicial tribunals and all honest men as illegal and void.

News and Notes.

For a never-say-die political journal we commend to our democratic friends the Boston Post, whose unflinching defence of modern democracy is far more commendable than the slip-shod course of so-called independent papers. The Post is always breezy and bright, maintains its convictions in the most pronounced manner, and for its wit and well selected miscellany has been a favorite for years in the residences of republicans and democrats alike. Its managers know well how to make a most readable paper and its political opponents have always given it the credit of being spicy, newsy and crisp. No well regulated democratic family should be "counted out" of the Post's sphere of influence. Under its new management the "returning board" will doubtless find no diminution of its subscription lists on New Year's Day.

President Grant is having the White House connected with the War and Navy Departments by a telegraphic wire.

President Lerdo, of Mexico, and his cabinet, have been captured by President Diaz, and Gen. Escobedo, Lerdo's Secretary of War, shot. President Iglesias is ruler in the northern part of the "Republic." O, for a returning board!

Schooner Harry Elliott, of Thomaston, Me., was wrecked on Long Island in Saturday's storm, and the captain and mate, and the captain's wife and child, were drowned; the rest of the crew were saved; vessel a total loss. Schooner Fanny Blevin was wrecked near Jones' Inlet, and two of her crew drowned. An unknown schooner sunk in Newark bay, with all hands. An oyster schooner and eleven men were lost in Annapolis roads.

A New York lady who had large ears has had them cut down. Attention, Seelye!

Smith T. Van Buren, the only surviving son of ex-President Martin Van Buren, died at Poughkeepsie, Monday, aged 60 years. He leaves a wife and three children.

European matters look more peaceful.

Republican Senator Cameron of Michigan has introduced in the Senate a bill providing that from and after its enactment the United States shall receive legal-tender notes at par in payment of import duties and all other dues and revenues of every kind.

Bills have been introduced in the House to reduce letter postage to two cents, and to provide for the purchase of silver bullion and its coinage in dollars, which are to be legal tender for all debts, public and private, including duties and coin interest.

South Carolina.

Three of the republican representatives who deserted the House and joined the Wallace crowd, have returned to their seats in the House.

Hon. D. T. Corbin was elected U. S. Senator, on Tuesday, receiving 58 votes out of 66 in the House, and 17 in the Senate to 12 for Gary, democrat. The "Wallace House" voted fourteen times for Senator, the candidate having most votes being "Gen." M. C. Butler, the leader in the Hamburg butchery.

Judge Bond of the U. S. Circuit Court, at Charleston, S. C., has over-ruled the action of the State Court in arresting the Board of Canvassers, and ordered their discharge.

The Tribune's Columbia (S. C.) dispatch has the following: The democratic members of the Congressional committee advise the democrats to go into the House and leave out all the contested delegations, in order to take part in the election for United States Senator. They suggest a compromise by which Chamberlain shall be recognized as Governor and Wade Hampton elected Senator. The Edgefield members are very angry at the suggestion.

Mr. Abbott of Massachusetts was surprised to find the Electoral vote not in doubt here. He thought the Edgefield and Laurens vote was thrown out in order to elect them. When he found that even admitting the vote of those counties Mr. Hayes still had nine hundred majority, he exclaimed, "What are you complaining about?"

Full particulars of the attempt to bribe Senator Nash to vote for Governor Tilden are promised in a few days. The names of a prominent New York insurance lawyer, Smith Weed, and the President of a railroad are mentioned in connection with this matter.

Election Notes.

The Kansas Legislature contains 151 republicans and 14 democrats.

Finding Tilden defeated by Constitutional methods, the democratic papers of the stamp of the Boston Herald and Globe desire a new election. This is on a par with the action of Tilden's right bower, John Morrissey, who finding that Hayes has 185 electoral votes hastened to declare all bets off, because his democratic friends would lose their wagers made at great odds.

The democrats of the Confederate House are endeavoring to pluck up courage to keep on in the blustering manner which characterized them up to the time the Senate sat down on the 22d rule, but it is a difficult job taken in connection with Pat. Cronin's faux pas in Oregon. Each succeeding day shows more clearly the hopelessness of Tilden's cause.

That eminent wind-bag, Wade Hampton, seems to have quietly subsided of late. He talked too much for a man of action.

All the democratic Senators think Congress ought to devise some means which will ensure a peaceable and an honest count of the vote for President and Vice-President.

In the House, Monday, a republican resolution of inquiring into frauds in several democratic States having been defeated for want of a two-thirds vote, a majority (124) voting in its favor and a minority (88) against,—Mr. Cox of New York offered a resolution for the appointment of a Committee of five to proceed to the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Jersey City to examine into any alleged fraudulent registration and fraudulent voting at the late election. Adopted without division.

The Tribune asks: "Is the House of Representatives competent to elect a President, unless three candidates at least have been voted for by the Electoral College?"

The democrats elected Hon. Frederick C. Prince Mayor of Boston on Tuesday by about 1000 majority over Hon. Nathaniel J. Bradlee, citizens' candidate.

The President said to Senator Paddock, on Saturday, that he considered Hayes to be legally elected President, and he expected to turn over the office to him on the 4th of next March.

Senator Henry M. Teller, republican, has been re-elected for six years from the 4th of March next by the Colorado legislature.

There appears to be a growing feeling on all sides, except among the New York and New England democrats, in favor of a harmonious adjustment of the existing muddle. Meanwhile the electoral votes are being received from the different States by Senator Ferry as President pro tem. of the Senate, and he has them deposited in a safe, after indorsing the date of the receipt of each.

It is evident that the Southern politicians in Congress believe that Hayes has been honestly elected, and that he will be inaugurated, as they are coquetting with his friends and intimating that for certain considerations he can have their support. This is very aggravating to Tilden's supporters, who dare not manifest any anger, but who are lavish in their promises of what Tilden will do, if he can be made President, to place the South again in the hands of the ex-Confederates.

A Coal-Dealer's Dog.

A well-known Memphis coal dealer, not long since, had a big dog of wonderful sagacity. He, (the dog) stayed around the coal yard, and whenever a coal cart was hauled on the scales, the dog always took a stand under the wagon like a coach dog. He weighed nearly one hundred pounds, and was weighed as coal thousands of times, and nearly every coal consumer in the city purchased that dog at so much per pound. The practice went on for months, and was only discovered by a funny accident. A negro wanted a barrel of coal, and wheeled a hand-cart with coal on the weighing scales. The clerk in the office worked at the scales, and hallooed through the window, "take out a lot of that coal." The negro did so, and kept on until all the coal was out of the cart. The clerk tried the scales again, but the pea indicated too much. "Take out more coal," shouted the clerk; "d—n it, you have a boat load of coal on that cart" "Look hyar, boss," replied the negro, "the coal is all out, and I'll have to take the wheels off the cart if you want to lighten it." Then the negro looked under the cart, and seeing the big fat dog at his proof, exclaimed: "Look hyar, massa, you's selling me that dog for coal." The dog was missed in a few days, and was found dead on the scales, the animal having taken some poison accidentally, but he came back to die at his post. It was a fine example of "faithful unto death."

Where a Driver Should Sit.

The Scientific Farmer has the following on this subject: "One of the anomalies in American customs is that of the driver of a wagon sitting on the right hand side, while he always turns out to the right when passing another team. It matters not whether he is on the broad, safe thoroughfare, or on a narrow lane, or crowded city street, his seat is the same. Thus seated, it is very difficult to see the exposed wheels in passing, those which require the eye of the driver. Doubtless this is a prominent cause of the many collisions between passing teams, and the wonder is that more do not happen. The custom was brought over by the Pilgrims, but, like a Dutch sentence, the parts got transposed in the translation. Across the pond the driver sits on the right, but always turns to the left. In copying the practice we retained the useless part, and changed the essential, for some unexplained reason. Possibly our fathers thought to be consistent in the matter and, rather than be right-handed in the driving, changed the latter to suit. At all events, the thing as now practiced is every way incovenient, and is a worthy subject of reform in this year when reforms are so much in favor. And since it is easier to change our position on the seat than alter the custom of turning to the right, let us henceforth hand our friends up to the right of the wagon, while we as driver take the opposite side."

Origin of the Polka.

About 1830 a peasant girl, being in service in a tradesman's family at Elbeteinitz, in Bohemia, beguiled herself one Sunday afternoon in her kitchen by endeavoring to invent a new step, which she tried to adapt to a village song. While thus disporting herself, she was surprised by her employer, who quite interested, made her repeat the experiment the same evening in the parlor, where Joseph Neruda, an eminent musician, happened to be present, who noted the air and step. Not long afterward the new dance was danced at a citizen's ball in the town, and in 1835 came into fashion at Prague, where, in consequence of the half step which occurs in it, it was called the Polka, which means in Tcheque, half. Four years later a band of Prague musicians brought the dance to Vienna, where it had a great success, and in 1840 a dancing master of Prague, named Raab, danced it for the first time in Paris.

Invigorate, and Be Healthy.

The source of nine-tenths of the bodily ills of mankind is a deficiency of vital power. No portion of the physical machinery can efficiently perform its allotted duty if there is insufficient motive force in the system. Invigorate, therefore, in order to regain health. For the restoration of lost vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are the best tonic that can be selected, since they not only impart fresh vigor into the debilitated system, but overcome disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which interfere with complete assimilation of the food, and thus perpetuate weakness. The Bitters likewise cure and prevent malarious fevers, remedy debilitating urinary troubles, and eliminate from the blood through the kidneys the impurities which originate gout, rheumatism and dropsy. Appetite, digestion, sleep,—in short, every essential condition of health, are promoted by their use.

The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms, with elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. HUTCHINSON and CONNELL'S.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increase supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, December 11.

William Hannan, uncommercial traveller, otherwise known as tramp. Has footed it from Montreal. Rests his weary limbs for two months in Portsmouth jail, and stops till $6.30 costs are paid.

Thomas Kelly, tramp, Pythias to Mr. Damon whose name precedes. Has shared the cold storms of winter with his mate, but now he must leave the friend of his long journey and repose for three months at Brentwood, and enough longer to work out $6.42 costs.

James Dermody, vagrant, Brentwood, two months; costs $6.30.

Edward Tobin, drunk, discharged.

A TREAT IN PROSPECT.

An amateur dramatic performance, engineered by Messrs. Robert B. Palfrey and J. Albert Sanborn, will be given at the Temple at some time in the near future, in aid of the Reform Club. The play to be performed is called "Artaximmous ye Great," and is founded on the old burlesque of "Bombastes Furioso," which has been entirely re-written by Messrs. Sanborn and Palfrey. The characters of the old burlesque are retained and numerous others introduced; seven new scenes have been written and two of the old scenes rewritten, leaving very little of the old text. The piece abounds in political hits, and as one of the authors is a democrat and the other a republican the raps are pretty equally divided between the two parties. Some original music, written expressly for the piece, is promised by a Boston composer, and a characteristic ballet will be introduced. The play is in two acts, has nine scenes and will require some twenty-five or thirty persons to represent it.

JOTTINGS.

The ball of the Heavy Artillery Company, Monday evening, was "the event of the season" in that line, for a more decidedly successful affair of the kind is not likely to be given this winter. A number of prominent military men were present, including Col. Thompson of New York, Col. Twitchell of Governor Cheney's staff, and Major Dalton, Capt. Dalton and Quartermaster Simonds of the Salem Cadets, with others, and goodly delegations from the local military organizations; and the brilliant uniforms, with the tasteful and elegant dresses of the ladies, made the scene as viewed from the galleries strikingly bright as compared with a civic ball. The refreshment tables were beautifully arranged and liberally supplied, and Harlow's orchestra (six pieces) furnished such music as Harlow's orchestra always gives. The acknowledged belle of the ball was Miss (or Mrs.)—the name has slipped our memory.

Eastern Railroad stock sold at $4.50 on Monday at the Brokers' Board in Boston.

The Woman's Temperance League will by request hold a social meeting at the chapel at Faith Home this (Wednesday) evening. Friends who are not members of the League are invited. Service at half-past seven o'clock.

Go into Franklin Hall this afternoon between the hours of two and four o'clock, and see the Baby Show.

Mr. James M. Carr is selling off the bankrupt stock of Hill & Carr, of which he is Agent, at very low prices, at the old stand on Market street. Just the place to secure good bargains.

Somebody made an attempt to set the Eastern Railroad depot in Newburyport on fire, Saturday evening. A large quantity of combustible material was found ignited on the floor of the water closet. It was extinguished without an alarm.

The Thompson House at "Yellow Rocks," York beach, Me., with its entire contents, and the stable attached, were destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. Loss $5000; partly insured. The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective flue.

The fourth and last lecture by Prof. Pitkin will be given at Miss Morgan's school this afternoon, commencing at three o'clock.

The schooner J. D. McCarthy, Captain Williamson, from Philadelphia for Portsmouth, before reported wrecked on Salisbury beach, arrived off Cape Ann Friday afternoon. The Captain states that at four o'clock Saturday morning the wind suddenly shifted when off Boar's Head, and a blustering snow storm set in. Tacked ship, with the endeavor to crawl off shore, carried on all sail, waist full of water and vessel laboring hard; the sea was breaking heavy over the Hampton ledges, and expected any minute to strike, and had the boat in readiness for a leap for life, knowing that if she struck a ledge she would instantly sink. Continued to carry sail on her until the foresail and jibs were blown out of the bolt ropes. About nine o'clock on Saturday morning, when off the Atlantic House, Salisbury Beach, let go both anchors, and as the sea was making a complete breach over her, the boat was lowered and all hands escaped to the shore. The schooner dragged her anchors soon after and went ashore, and now lies head on on the beach high and dry at low water. She now stands upright, embedded about three feet in the sand. She has five feet of water in her hold at high water, and appearances indicate that she will go to pieces should a northeast storm come. Her cargo, which consists of 300 tons of coal, can, it is believed, be discharged in carts and landed upon the beach.

Political.

Very fortunate is it for the republican party that it is not made up of such people as Prof. Seelye. An uncompromising enemy is far preferable to a treacherous friend. Col. Ingersoll's description of a "fool-friend" applies justly to such "holier-than-thou"-in-politics persons as this Seelye, who so eagerly hastens to "give himself away," without being asked, to a party which scorns the gift and has no use for it except in the role of ass-as-in! The occasion demands MEN to deal with it, not faint-hearted fair-weather people who desert when most needed at the front. The best part of the republican party during the rebellion was composed of those true hearts who never despaired in 1862 when McClellan was driven from the Peninsula, and whose courage shone brightest under the heaviest calamities, when men of the Seelye calibre were doubting, distrustful and ready to give aid to the common enemy. Pliability and vacillation are not characteristics which promise enduring success.

The Philadelphia Times, an "independent" paper that supports Tilden with more vigor than the average democratic organ, is very frank and outspoken relative to Speaker Randall. It says that Mr. Randall "has conspicuously illustrated two epochs in the history of democratic power within a single year." In 1875, when on its good behavior, Mr. Randall was refused the Speakership because of his reputation as an unscrupulous politician. In 1876, he was elevated to the chair because the exigencies of the party demanded an unscrupulous politician.

Minority representation as practised in Illinois is not very satisfactory, as experience shows that it actually gives a minority of votes an opportunity by crafty management to elect a majority of officers to be voted for.

The Boston Globe, democratic, finding that its contemptible conduct has been universally condemned by all people who love honor and despise treachery, is on the defensive, and says it has been "misjudged and accused of being a disguised organ of the democrats." It certainly has not been any more "disguised" than the ostrich which buries its head in the sand and leaves its body wholly exposed to view; but as to the whimper that it has been "misjudged," the editorial columns of the Globe every day give the lie to the denial.

The Constitutional Convention.

In the Constitutional Convention, Tuesday, the Secretary of State was directed to furnish a table of the population, taxable polls and voters. A proposition was offered to divide the State into thirty districts, each to have one Senator and six Representatives. It was tabled, to be brought up in committee. Also, a proposition to reduce the Legislature to between the extremes of 150 and 200 members, and elect by districts.

In Committee of the Whole the religious test was abandoned, with only two or three dissenting votes. A proposition to elect the Governor by a plurality vote was lost by 47 to 133. It was voted that the annual election shall be held in November biennially. Propositions to change the time of meeting of the Legislature from June to May and from June to January were lost.

A proposition to abolish the Executive Council was rejected, and their election made biennial. A proposition to abolish Registers of Deeds and put their duties on Town Clerks was rejected. Propositions to make the offices of Judge and Register of Probate, Solicitor and Sheriff, elective, was carried by 212 to 24. A proposition to make the State Treasurer and Secretary of State elective offices was rejected. It was voted to hold a session in the evening.

New Hampshire Items.

The Constitutional Convention adjourned over on Monday on account of the death of Hon. Daniel M. Christie of Dover. Hon. Samuel Wheeler delivered a feeling eulogy in the memory of the deceased.

It will be seen by a letter which we publish elsewhere, that Hon. Austin F. Pike withdraws from the contest for the republican nomination to Congress in this district. Mr. Pike waived his claims to a renomination two years ago, in a speech made to the State Committee, but a renomination was accorded to him then without a contest. We have never doubted that a fair vote in Manchester among the democrats and a straight vote among the republicans would have secured his re-election, but both were wanting. Had Mr. Pike continued active in politics and remained in the field, we are by no means certain that he would not have been renominated, and we believe his candidacy would have been supported by the republicans of the district with unity and success. A true republican, an upright citizen, and a lawyer of superior acumen, Mr. Pike is sure to hold high and honored rank in the State whether in public life or out of it.—Nashua Telegraph.

"I TAKE BACK MY MONISH!"

Dec. 6, '76.

Thomas Gay, Esq.: This is to inform you, that I have withdrawn my stakes held by Mr. Odlon. You may draw yours when it suits you. I am justified in doing so, for our mutual intent was that it should be a fair and square thing. The amount is too trifling to make much ado about. But were it only ten cents I should not permit myself to be swindled out of it, when the decision depended on the action of a Louisiana Returning Board, composed of men, branded as corrupt and dishonest by the republican candidate for Vice President, whose corrupt and illegal action prolongs a wrangle. I do not believe you would ask me to bet on loaded dice, or against cheating three-card monte players.

Yours Respectfully,
HENRY PEYSER.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven-oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to readers of the Monthly.

The scenes of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Traffton, will be in the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's" by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a strong and ever made power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A second hand Factory," in the November number, and "Good Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Naval Dockyard," "If Twenty a Week for the Child," etc.

A family illustrated series will be given on "American Sports in Field and Flood," by various writers, and each one a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, whilst the latest product in of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of short stories, illustrated and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The Editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from Mr. Stedman, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more useful and genuine in all its utterance and influence, and more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The last numbers of SCRIBNER'S for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, etc., for 15 cents per number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Parlor-school," by Mary Mapes Dodge; "The Peterkins' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer, with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," who it will be likely to surpass in interesting series on popular science recently given to the public.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of SCRIBNER'S press. All the articles, whether in prose or verse, are throbbing with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of vol. 1 has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays eight or twelve pages, or 58 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet eighteen pages in the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity in the Row pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by fraud in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers—a body now not less than one million of souls—with the most varied, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless, and it will continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping with the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are largely repaid, and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident that our friends will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. PULMOCINE.

Daily Chronicle.

—A promising youth of only seven summers, who had been accused of not always telling the truth, cross-examined his father. "Father, did you use to lie when you were a boy?" "No, my son," said the paternal, who evidently did not recall the past with any distinctness. "Nor mother, either?" persisted the young lawyer. "No; but why?" "Oh, because I don't see how two people who never told a lie could have a boy that tells as many as I do."

—Miss Frances Power Cobbe is a writer of good English and sound editorial; she is also a middle-aged woman of the most liberal proportions. Complaining one day that she had a "pain in the small of her back," a spoiled infant of a younger brother cried, rather to her disgust: "Well, Fanny, where is the small of your back?"

—A locomotive engineer, who had just been discharged for some cause, gave vent to his spite, eminently characteristic of American humor. He said it was about time he left the company, anyhow, for the sake of his life, for "there was nothing left of the confounded old track but two streaks of rust and the right of way."

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century, and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "it is futile to blame and useless to praise." Harper's Monthly is marked by the same character, which has gone to circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $4.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 1st, and write you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick, four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I hope to fill I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you testimonial. My family have been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no purpose. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not send them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for nearly twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines, but to the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten weeks, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst in the world, and that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills are good for any thing, they are good for all. I have applications to send for the pills. Enclosed pl ase find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Rev. H. M. Mathis, Sherrill Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 22, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCIDE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ones of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

The ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regulararticles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Realizes the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving—usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $8; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

Buchman's Pulmocine rdial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.
